Registration fatal?

It has recently been proven that the hassles of college registration cause cancer in white laboratory mice.

Laboratory tests conducted at an area university actually prove that cancerous cells were found in mice subjected to the pressures of existing policies of campus registrations. Professors conducting the study are trying desperately to explain the reasons for the cancerous occurrences, which as yet have not proved fatal.

The tests were taken over a two day period in which approximately 3500 mice were placed in a maze and led through almost six different lines (according to sources, no one is sure exactly how many lines there were) before being allowed to see sunlight or breathe fresh air. It is reported that the size of the maze had been reduced considerably from previous tests.

Initial reaction from the mice was a continual head-on collision with walls. After a few hours inside the maze the mice obviously still had not caught on to where they were supposed to go, although they eventually did seem to gain a sense of order and form lines. They soon discovered, however, that they were simply standing in the line to get into standing in line.

In one particular room of the maze the mice would scatter upon entering, only to find themselves in lines again to exit.

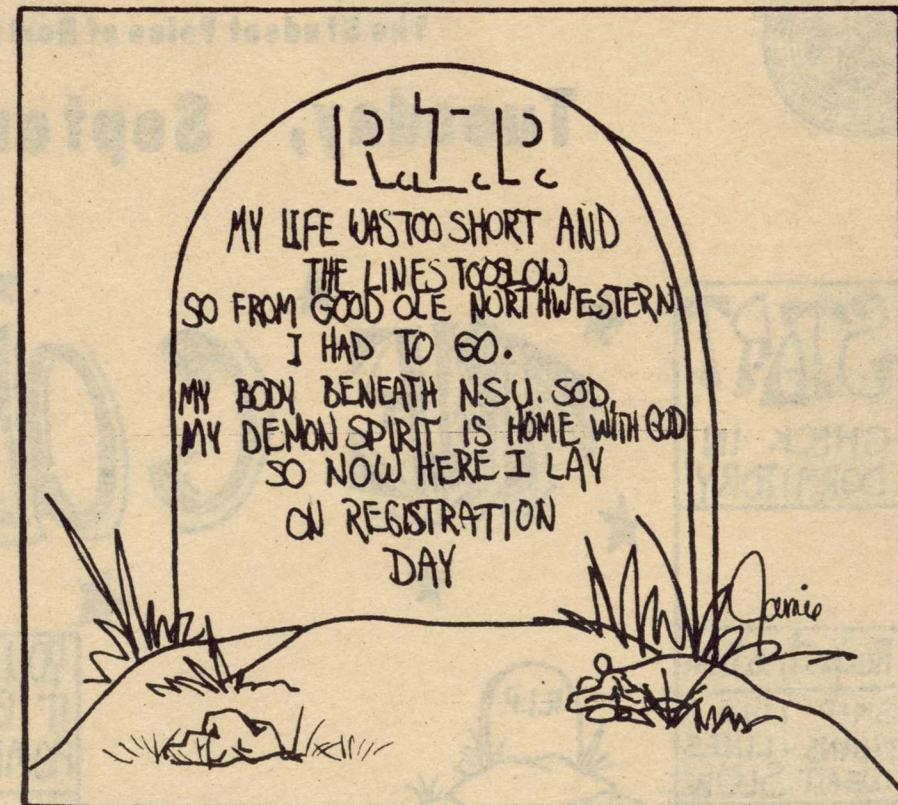

The final two rooms of the maze were possibly the most interesting. In one, the mice entered fluffy and furry and exited with the coats having been literally taken from their backs. In the other, a tiny camera took pictures while the mice yawned, dozed, and scowled. None of the pictures were available for print.

Possible explanations for the cancer were provided by area scientists. Dr. Knowles Itall is trying to establish evidence that the cells were due to fatigue and heat, coupled with the repeated wall collisions. Another reputed professor, Dr. Gedt Downs, believes that it was not the maze itself, but the social activities of the mice that caused the serious illness.

Dr. Min E. Forms is currently trying to prove that the widespread cells were caused, not by registration, but by the red tape fed to the mice prior to registration. He reports that the mice actually ate the tape and the chemical substances in it have already been proven cancerous.

Other professionals insist that confusion was the major agitator of the mice. All professors do agree on one thing: Unlike cigarettes, which have also been proven cancerous, registration is not addictive or in any way habit forming. Those mice who had been previously trained to talk were overheard saying that "they would never go through another such experience as long as they lived..."

It has been suggested that such registration exercises include a warning explaining the hazardous results on health. Late reports from officials indicate that further tests are scheduled to be made in late January of 1979.

Purcell runner-up

Student portraits for the Potpourri, NSU's yearbook, are now being taken in rooms 314 and 315 of the Student Union. Two photographers will be on campus Tuesday, September 5 through Friday, September 15 and one will remain on campus until Friday, September 22. Portraits may be taken 8-12 and 1-5 daily by appointment only. Students who have failed to make an appointment may do so in the Union.

Students should be reminded that the portraits are taken in color and are of no cost to the student. Portraits may be ordered when the proofs are received. Portraits may be taken in street clothes, however senior men should wear a coat and tie.

The Northwestern Recreation Complex is still available for use by Northwestern students, according to Complex director Bill Hochstetler. The Complex is open every day but Monday from 1:00 p.m. to 7 p.m. The complex is located just off of the Louisiana Highway 1 Bypass. Students are admitted free with their ID.

Cheryl Purcell of Natchitoches and NSU was named second runner-up in the Miss Louisiana beauty pageant held recently in Monroe. Miss Purcell, who holds the title Miss Greater Natchitoches, also won the preliminary swimsuit competition.

In addition to winning trophies for her honors, Miss Purcell was given $1,025 in scholarship money and a $25 gift certificate from Beall's in Monroe. Miss Purcell was sponsored by the Natchitoches Area Jaycees.

Two orchestra scholarship recipients will perform this season with the Natchitoches-Northwestern Symphony Orchestra.

BOARD FORMED — An 11-member board of directors has been formed to coordinate the activities of the Louisiana Folklife Center at NSU.

Among the board members are NSU president Dr. Rene J. Bienvenu, Folklife Society of Louisiana president Bill Bacle of Coushatta, and Dr. Donald Hatley, associate professor of English at NSU and director of the Center.

"The board will be concerned primarily with supervising the many activities of the center," said Hatley, who was instrumental in establishing the unique facility at NSU last summer. The board will also be responsible for contacting state and federal agencies for additional funding and will oversee projects undertaken by the center.

TOUR PLANS ANNOUNCED — NSU officials have announced plans for a summer European educational tour to be conducted in 1979.

Mrs. Marion Nesom, associate professor of English at NSU will be the tour coordinator for the five-week summer program which is scheduled to begin in early July.

Countries to be visited during the trip include England, France, Italy, Greece and Egypt. Also included will be a four-day cruise to the Greek islands of Mykonos, Rhodes, Crete, and Santorini and to Ephesus, Turkey.

RECEIVE AWARDS — Eleven cadets in the Reserve Officers Training Corps at NSU received awards at the conclusion of the Third ROTC Region Advanced Summer Camp which was conducted for six weeks at Ft. Riley, Kan.

In addition to the individual accomplishments, the NSU ROTC unit ranked 18th among the 120 colleges and universities which were rated for overall military performance during the summer training program. Schools from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Texas, Arkansas, Alabama and Louisiana were present at the summer camp.

SCHEXNIDER AWARDED — Ray Schexnider, associate professor of speech and director of the University Theatre at NSU, was awarded the Master of Fine Arts degree during summer commencement exercises at the University of New Orleans.

The extension program required Schexnider to conduct research which would be applied to the mounting of productions at Northwestern. The research material was submitted to Shaw, who also visited the NSU campus to view the productions by Schexnider.

Mark Cottrell, Student Chairman of the Lecture Series, discusses Dr. Kenneth Cooper's best selling book 'Aerobics' with the author.

Speakers announced for fall lectures

Pulitzer Prize playwright Josh Logan and former Cleveland mayor Carl Stokes are among the five speakers who will appear during the 1978-79 Distinguished Lecture Series at Northwestern State University.

Stokes, scheduled to speak at NSU on Nov. 6, currently does news commentary on urban and political issues for NBC-TV in New York. He is recognized as an authority in the area of urban problems.

Addressing the Northwestern audience March 21 will be Logan, who won a Pulitzer Prize as the co-author with Oscar Hammerstein II of "South Pacific." Born in Texas and reared in Louisiana, Logan has also directed and co-produced several Broadway shows, including "Mister Roberts" and "Fanny."

Northwestern's lecture series programs, open to the public at no charge, will be conducted in A.A. Fredericks Fine Arts Center Auditorium. The series opens Sept. 12 with a presentation by Dr. Kenneth Cooper, nationally-known advocate of physical fitness.

Other speakers appearing during the lecture series include psychoanalyst and author Dr. Rollo May on Feb.

20 and advertising executive Jane Trahey on March 5.

Cooper, who speaks at 11 a.m., is the author of the best-selling books, "Aerobics" and "The New Aerobics," which describe his new exercise program that has been featured in numerous magazines and has become the basis for the conditioning programs for many professional and college football teams.

Highlighting the fall schedule will be Stokes, who was the first black to be elected mayor of a major American city. In addition to his daily commentary assignment, he also produces a mini-documentary analyzing urban problems in metropolitan New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

May, who received the Ralph Waldo Emerson award for "Love and Will," is scheduled to be the first speaker of the spring and training analyst for the William Alanson White Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology and Psychoanalysis and is co-chairman of the Conference on Psychotherapy and Counseling for the New York Academy of Sciences.

The fourth speaker in the 1978-79 Distinguished Lecture Series is Ms. Trahey, the advertising and sales promotion director for Neiman-Marcus of Dallas and president of Trahey Advertising, Inc., of New York and Chicago. She is the creator of "A Touch of Blass" for Bill Blass and is the author of "Jane Trahey on Women and Power."

Logan, who closes the five-speaker series, directed and co-produced "South Pacific" when it opened at the Majestic Theatre in 1949. He also directed Mitzi Gaynor and Rosano Brazzi in the Magna-20th Century Fox Film release of "South Pacific" in 1958 and directed Lee Marvin and Clint Eastwood in the Paramount Pictures film release of "Paint Your Wagon" in 1969.

presidency of Joseph E. Gibson to last another hundred years.

In 1857 the school building proper, or the Convent Building, was erected. It was a brick structure 170 feet long. It included a study hall, dining room, and a music room.

In late fall of 1875 the convent closed because of lack of funds and the building fell into decay.

On July 7, 1884, the state legislature created a state normal school in Natchitoches, Louisiana. The school was then known as Louisiana Normal School. In 1918, the name was changed to Louisiana State Normal College. This name lasted until 1944 when, in December, the name was officially changed to Northwestern State College. Legislative Act 31 gave the school university standing on June 18, 1970.

The opening date was November 1, 1885. The faculty consisted of the acting president, Dr. Edward E. Shieb, Prof. Earl Grace and Miss Nettie Rousseau. Sixty pupils enrolled in the 2 year course. Each term was six months.

The first three graduates of Louisiana Normal School in April 1886 were Miss Mary Washington, Mansfield; Miss Sallie Phillips, Bienville Parish, and Miss Emma Oswalt, Monroe.

The first president was Dr. Edward E. Shieb who served from 1885-1888. His salary was $2000 per annum and his quarters were unfurnished rooms in the Old Convent Building.

From convent school to thriving university

From a small convent school to the thriving university it is today, Northwestern State University still maintains its high standards and always friendly nature.

Begun by the "Ladies of the Sacred Heart" in 1846, the convent school first stood where St. Mary's Academy stands today. In 1856 the convent was moved to the present-day Northwestern University campus. Their new home was Bullard Mansion, home of Judge Henry Adams and his wife Julia Ann Bludworth Bullard, prominent citizens of Natchitoches. A most charming picture of the mansion were the four smooth, round stuccoed columns (now three columns). These famous columns were later rebuilt under the

The college was admitted to the American Association of Teachers' Colleges in 1925 and to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in late 1926.

In 1894 the Alumni Association was founded. Its first president was Miss Bessie V. Russell and serving as secretary was Miss Scharlie Russell. The Normal Alumni Fund was established in 1908.

The student body government was begun in 1927.

The first "Potpourri" was presented in 1909. The first "Current Sauce" was published in 1914 by the Contemporary Life Club.

Northwestern's first rivalry was in 1895 when the "Seekers After Knowledge" opposed the "Eclectic Literary Society." The school colors were chosen from the two clubs' colors; purple from the former and white from the latter.

Master's Degree program in education was begun.

The Graduate School was formally opened in April 1955 when Dr. John S. Kiser was president. The school was headed by George T. Walker, Dean of Applied Arts & Sciences and Dean of Administration.

The nursing program was sponsored by Mr. Joseph Gibson when it was begun in 1947. By 1949, under President McGinty, the program was solidly rooted in a firm foundation. It became the Department of Nursing in 1958. In Dec. 1959, the School of Nursing gained full national accreditation from the National League for Nursing.

From the desk of President Rene Bienvenu

All of us on the faculty and in the administration extend a warm and sincere welcome to our students and invite you to share with us the dreams and hopes that we have for the future of this great University.

Northwestern has boundless potential to become a giant in higher education, not only in Louisiana, but nationwide—a spacious, beautiful campus, excellent physical facilities, a competent and dedicated faculty, active alumni, and, most

We can all be justifiably proud of our University and its contributions to education through the years, but we are confident that our most memorable and important achievements and accomplishments still lie ahead.

If there is to be a watchword of this administration, let it be pride. We are emphasizing to our faculty that more pride should be taken in classroom instruction, research, publications and all of their other endeavors, and I am confident that our students will join us in creating a greater atmosphere of pride on the campus.

It is our hope that renewed and increased pride will be shown by students, not only in their academic endeavors, but also by participation in student government and other activities, by assisting in beautification of the campus, by joining us in welcoming prospective students and others to the campus and by supporting athletic programs, musical events, dramatic concerts and other programs.

'No second thoughts

Debbie Page
CURRENT SAUCE STAFF

It's 6:15 a.m. In the big house across the road from Chaplain's Lake, an alarm clock goes off. A "poor, tired ole body" drags out of bed and down to the breakfast table and the morning newspaper.

For Rene Bienvenu, the day has begun.

"My breakfast may consist of me, or of Mrs. Bienvenu and me," explained the familiar Cajun voice in an interview during the summer. "Sometimes it may even be a special breakfast meeting—something important I have to work on before the actual work day begins."

The "actual work day" starts at 8:00 in the Roy Hall office. "The parade begins and usually continues till about 5:00 or 5:30 p.m. At that time I try to go to the nursing home to visit my parents. Then, I eat dinner and begin meetings about 7:00. They usually last until about 11:30, and then it is bedtime again," he continues.

Benny Barron grins and pipes up, "By the time the motor runs down it's two-thirty."

President Bienvenu chuckles. The lines of the admired face show traces of fatigue, but otherwise he is still the same enthusiastic, determined and proud man who became Northwestern's president eight months ago.

How have those months affected him? "I haven't had any second thoughts about it—the basis for my going after the position was the belief I could depend on the faculty, staff, students, and alumni groups. I haven't been disappointed in any of them."

"I haven't found that I was wrong in saying it will take time," Bienvenu adds, smiling. "Things are improving day by day, little by little. They are improving because everybody—students, faculty, staff, and alumnus—is moving to improve it. I've been most pleased with student cooperation."

Though the dorm situations were avoided earlier in the new administration, Bienvenu is more at ease with them now.

He states that the "dorm situation is going to improve tremendously. We can't change things overnight, but we have plans that will improve it greatly." The plans are to be announced later, and include the possibilities of reopening some dormant dorms.

No secret to anyone in the state are Bienvenu's plans for re-establishing Northwestern's academic record. He is especially optimistic about this, stating that "I have no reason to doubt that we cannot achieve what we set out to—having an academically superior university that we can enjoy working at and attending."

"I'm the type, I think you solve problems by meeting them, and I've learned that my intuitions are not too far afiel as regards to demands it places on you. I really haven't encountered any rude awakenings."

He still encourages students to stop by the house for a coke, or to enjoy the backyard swing. His office is still relaxed and comfortable (though he claims a big dislike to his desk chair).

He doesn't claim to have all the answers although he believes one of the keys is pride—"a pride we must have in all aspects of our educational program."

And he is still smiling, which is the best thing of all.

SGA makes plans for fall semester

The SGA is readily preparing itself for the busy fall schedule.

John McKellar, a senior from Bossier City, heads the executive council as president.

Other officers include: Jamie Sanders, vice president, from Shreveport— Vicki A. Williams, secretary, from Shreveport— Alton Burkhalter, treasurer from Natchitoches—and Terry McCarty, commissioner of elections, from Tullos, La.

New projects are: To erect a NSU sign on campus, purchase a new demon mascot costume, fund money for the band to get new uniforms, and the Allen and Allen Co. will provide new three-speed washers and dryers and can cokes.

The SGA has also set up a KNWD reform committee.

Right now, homecoming elections, class senator elections, State Fair weekend plans are in the making. There will be NSU day at Hamel's Park in Shreveport, when the NSU demons play the La. Tech bulldogs on Oct. 21.

The Student Governing Association is the basic campus organization that is invested with the responsibility of speaking for the entire student body. It supervises and coordinates student activities and serves as a link between the students and the administration. More importantly, the organization is responsible with keeping itself informed concerning the attitude of the student body with regard to all problems of student interest.

The SGA Student Senate consists of twenty (20) members who are elected for one year terms. Elections are held twice each year with the Senators-at-large and executive officers being elected in the Spring and the Class Senators being elected in the Fall. Two Class Senators are elected from each undergraduate class: two Freshmen, two Sophomores, two Juniors, and two Seniors. The remaining eleven Senators are elected by the members of the Student Body at-large.

Any full-time student who has an over-all grade point average of "C" as certified by the Registrar is eligible to run for the SGA.

A student desiring to be a candidate for any of the various SGA offices must file a written "Notice of Intention" with the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs prior to the deadline set by the Elections Board for each election.

If for some reason a student wishes to become actively involved in the SGA, but does not desire to run for an office.

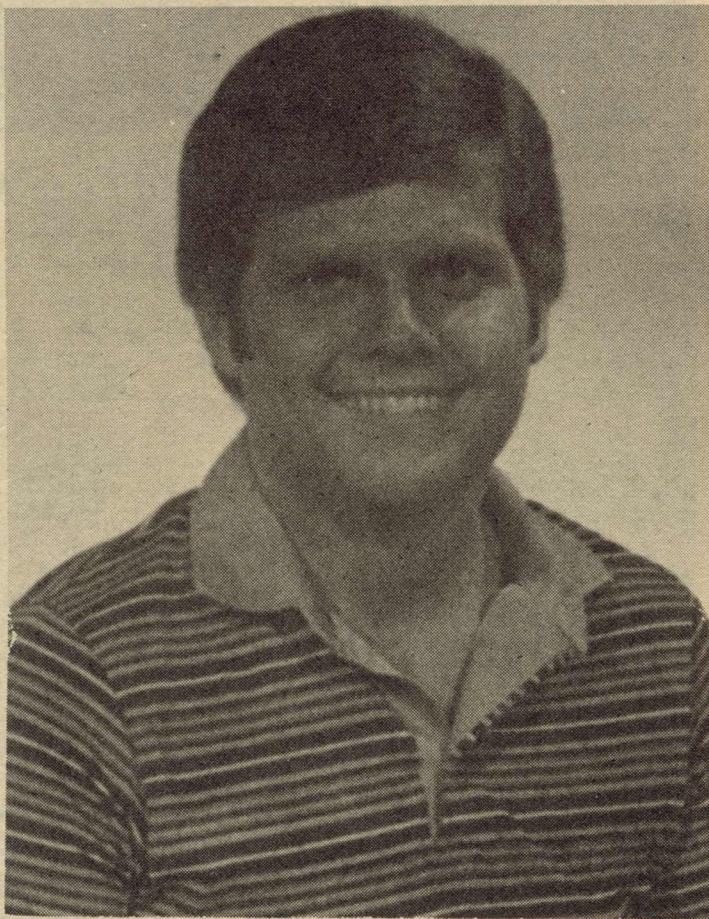

hemay apply to be on any of the boards and committees of the SGA.

SGA committees include the following: Community Relations, Cheerleader Governing Board, Student Rights and Legal Aid, Broadcasting, Publications, Organizations Board, campus Security and Traffic Committee, Art Series, Academic and Professional Standards, Assembly and Distinguished Lecture, Campus Beautification, Commencement, Discipline, Library, Student Welfare, and Student Services. Membership on any of these boards or committees can be done by contacting any SGA member or by calling or going by the SGA office on the second floor of the Student Union.

"Like any other organization, the key to a successful SGA is involvement", stated SGA President John McKellar. "This involvement includes not only the SGA officers and members, but the students as well. It is because of this that the 1978-79 SGA is emphasizing student participation in SGA functions."

Two new main facets of the SGA this year are the new Public Relations Program and the position of Spirit Committee Chairman.

Unlike in the past, the Spirit Committee Chairman will coordinate all related activities that fall under this committee instead of being solely responsible for the bulk of the work. This position has been officially created as a new executive cabinet position. Rhonda Baham, a former SGA Senator was appointed to the position in the Spring and will work in collaboration with other members of her committee in such activities.

As promised in his campaign platform, SGA President John McKellar has also provided for an emphasis on the organization's Public Relations by creating the position entitled "SGA Public Relations Director." A new addition to the SGA, this position is also considered an executive cabinet position. Shirley LeDuff, a senior French Education major and Journalism minor has been named to this seat.

"One of the main goals of the Student Government Association is to play a meaningful role in the life of each Northwestern student" stated McKellar. "If anyone ever has any problems with any phase of campus life or activity, please feel free to call on us (the SGA) for guidance."

Cafeterias offer variety

The student union cafeteria will offer a new variety of foods in the fall.

Mr. David R. Box, manager of food services, stated that the "cafeteria will cater to prices to fit the student."

He stated that he would like to see more traffic flowing through the union cafeteria.

A complete line of bakeries will be added to the menu—donuts, honey buns, cinnamon rolls, cinnamon twists, and fruit rolls. Homemade rolls will be baked daily.

There will be a short order line where sandwiches, meat pies, onion rings, and hash browns will be served.

Specials for the fall are: meat balls and spaghetti, chicken and dumplings, sausage jambalaya, fried chicken, hamburger steak, chopped sirloin steak, and a choice of two green vegetables and one starch.

The cafeteria will offer morning specials on breakfast, which will be served from 7 a.m. until.

There will be a complete line of snacks with four name brands to choose from, and self-service on ice cream, except for the sundaes and shakes.

If the sororities or fraternities need the services of the cafeteria, Mr. Box said, that it would be available for coffee's, teas, and birthday parties.

Box said, that if the students would lend their support, he would like to see the cafeteria remain open until 7 p.m. "I just want to make this their home away from home," said Mr. Box.

The Iberville dining hall will have eight special events starting in the fall.

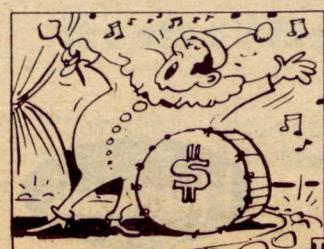

The events will center around the holidays—Halloween, Christmas, and many more.

The cafeteria will be decorated to picture each event.

There will be mini specials offered every two weeks. In the course of the fall, one midnight supper will be scheduled around final exams.

The price list for the fall will be—$1.50-breakfast, $1.75-lunch, $2.00-dinner, and $2.50-steak night.

Unrivaled as a tenor was the great Italian singer Enrico Caruso (1873-1921) who earned such a great fortune singing that his estate was valued at about $9 million.

Natchitoches

From the desk of Mayor Robert DeBlieux

Dear Student:

On behalf of the City Council and the citizens of Natchitoches I'd like to welcome you to our area. There's so much going on around here it's very difficult for me to suggest some little mini-strips to help you enjoy your stay. First of all, we would like for you to tour around the Historic District. In this brochure is a map of the District pointing out some of the more interesting historic sites. Natchitoches is really an intriguing little town. We have all kinds of cultures represented here. This mingling of cultures, races, religions, and traditions has made it probably one of the most unique towns in the state. There's a little smattering of French, Spanish, Italian, Creole, and Indian influence that actually affects our everyday lives. Of course we're greatly influenced by the wonderful culture of our black population which represents 42 percent of the total population. We've probably got more than our share of town "characters". You would learn this if you stayed here for just a short while. We have a great number of very talented people - artists, writers - and a very enthusiastic young population ready to go to work for the good of Natchitoches. It is certainly a pleasure serving as Mayor for these kinds of people.

Perhaps no other town anywhere close to us has a main street that changes names five times within a two mile area. It goes from South Jefferson to Jefferson to Front to Washington to Grand Ecore Road in a very short distance, and it's all the same straight street and students, please pardon us for this. There's no way in the world they would ever allow my City Council to change this. I think we have the distinction of being the only place in the United States that built a new courthouse in 1939 without a courtroom, and our Church Street does not have a single church on it. However, Second Street have five churches. Our American cemetery retains its' name because for many years the local French people refused to be buried next to those so-called "upstart Americans". At any rate, Natchitoches is a fun town, a good place to live, and we would like to encourage you to stay as long as possible.

Yours truly,
Robert B. DeBlieux, Mayor
City of Natchitoches, La.

'NSU is a part of Natchitoches'

The Town of Natchitoches works in direct contact with Northwestern State University. "NSU is a part of our town", says Mayor Robert DeBlieux.

The Town of Natchitoches coordinates many things with the university, for example, "we supply the traffic control at the home football games," stated Mayor DeBlieux. "Everytime you turn on the light in your dorm room or turn on the water, Natchitoches is involved."

The town has many weekly activities the university students can attend. Activities such as the NSU-Natchitoches Symphony and the concerts on the riverbank, are open to all who want to attend, unless it is a private party.

The various churches have socials, dances, and suppers where university students are involved. Some of these socials are strictly for university students, others involve the church as a whole.

A city-university caravan is in the planning to go to the out-of-town football games. Also in the planning process is Mayor's Night at one of the home football games. At this particular game, various mayors from the area and our town mayor will be recognized.

"I would like to encourage the use of Sibley Lake and Cane River," says Mayor DeBlieux.

Mayor DeBlieux said, "City government, Northwestern, and Natchitoches have a working relationship that is extremely close. We feel we just can't do enough for our university."

Protecting Our Environment

WHAT SOME ARE DOING

There's good news for people concerned about the quality of life in America. At least one company is working hard and spending millions of dollars to help keep our ecology stable and our air and water cleaner.

The J. P. Stevens Company has spent over the past 12 years more than $20 million for environmental controls.

It has an Environmental Service Laboratory staffed with professionals who use the latest scientific equipment to analyze and monitor wastewater. The lab is recognized as a leader in the field and its services are made available to other industries, municipalities, engineering firms and others concerned with any kind of water analysis.

The company has also taken an innovative approach toward reducing pollution through reclamation techniques. A company-

KEEPING AMERICA CLEAN is part of one company's business.

In addition, through a companywide effort, Stevens has achieved a 13 percent energy savings as compared with 1973, and the Federal Energy Administration has given official recognition to three outstanding energy conservation programs at Stevens' installations.

Natchitoches: A unique place to live

Louisiana Cavalier

Both Natchitoches Parish and city are filled with things to do and see which appeal to everyone, whether you are the scholar, the jock, the book rm, the Greek, the stay-at-home-type, or the partier—Natchitoches has it all.

Natchitoches' historic past is brought to life in 1978 with "Louisiana Cavalier", the historic tours of homes, "Old Natchitoches Tours" and the St. Maurice Players.

However, there is also a present day Natchitoches which is very alive and exciting. Within his quaint town the old and new combine to bring true the dreams of many and make for the enjoyment of all.

The next few pages outline the many forms of entertainment, cultural events, places to go and things to see within Natchitoches and the surrounding area.

While a student at NSU, take part in these activities and become a part of Natchitoches as well as the university.

Rides offered

If you have been downtown on the riverbank, you have probably noticed a quaint, Spanish-style barge tied up at the riverbank edge. To many peoples relief, this is not a historic relic of Natchitoches' earlier days nor did it belong to St. Denis in the 1700's. However, the barge is used to promote the historic part of Natchitoches. It is used nightly to give tours down the Cane River. This is sponsored by "Old Natchitoches Tours".

Persons may view some of the historic sights of Natchitoches as well as have a meat pie dinner and drinks as you cruise.

Winding down the beautiful Cane River, the barge seats 20 people and during busy seasons it makes two trips a night.

The "Old Natchitoches Tours" headquarters is also located on the riverbank. Tickets for the cruise are $6 for adults and $4 for children.

Group rates are available. This is a guided tour and historical information is given during the ride as well as plenty of time to relax, eat and view historic Natchitoches from Cane River.

"Old Natchitoches Tours" also gives guided tours of the historic homes in the city of Natchitoches as well as the old plantation homes down the river. Information concerning these tours may be obtained at the riverbank headquarters.

Natchitoches slates elections

by Zina Curlee

Students who are at least 18 years old, United States Citizens, and non-residents of Natchitoches Parish, have an opportunity to register to vote in this area.

Mr. Irby Knotts, clerk of courts stated, an individual who wishes to vote may obtain a ballot by requesting one from the clerk of court office.

Another alternative to registering, is to go to the office of any qualified officials on NSU's campus, have a ballot notarized, then take it to the clerk of courts office.

Individuals must be registered 30 days before any election.

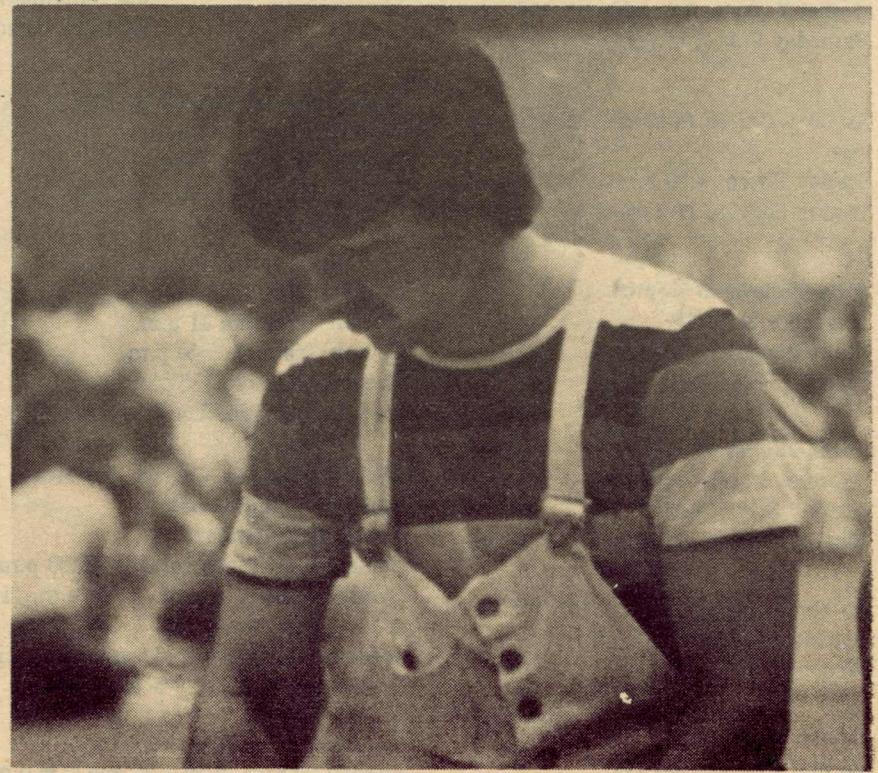

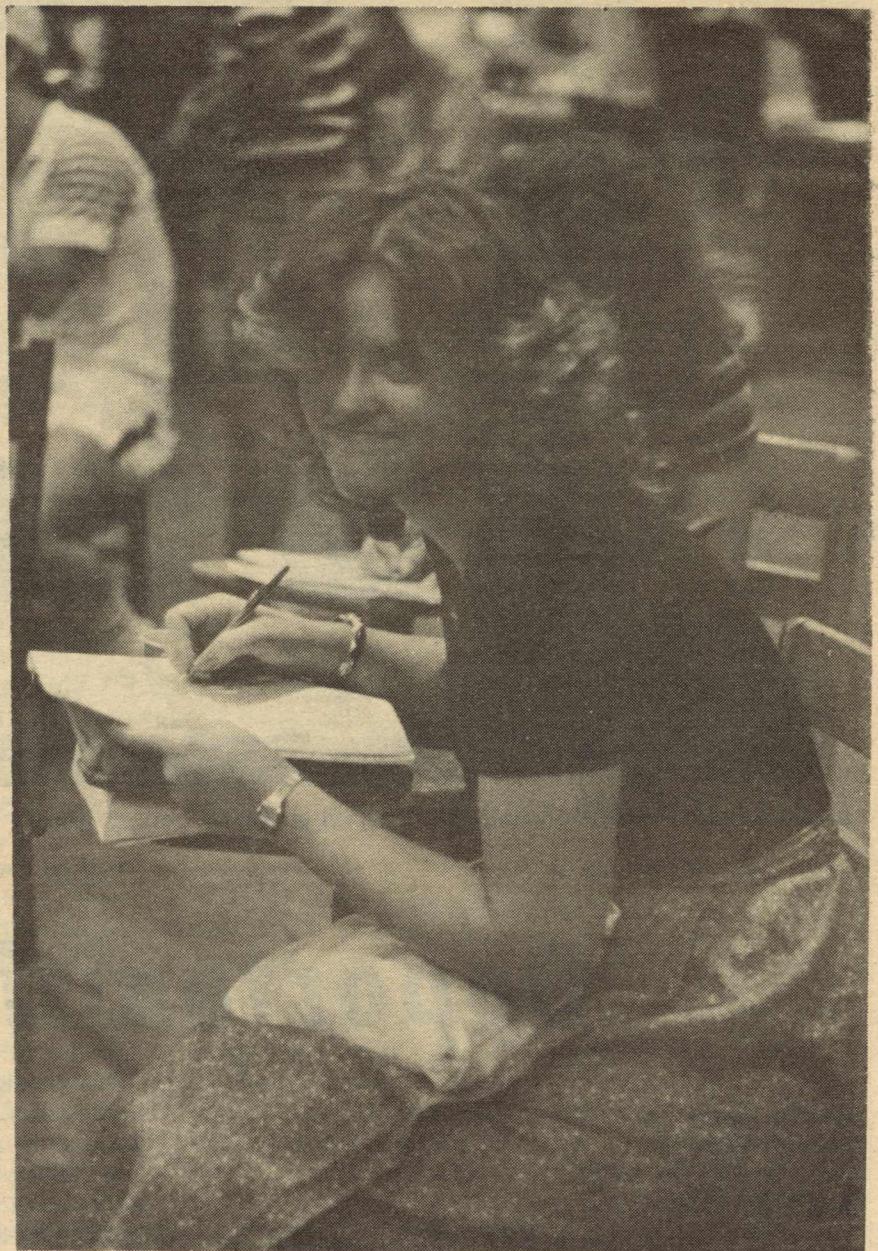

The Municipal Election, which is the first scheduled election for the fall, will be on Sept. 16.

This election will involve voting for judges, district judges, and district attorneys.

It will also involve state officials, congressional U.S. senators, supreme court judges, courts of appeal judges, public service commissioners, city marshall, state board of education members, and members of the school board.

For further information, students may contact the clerk of courts office at the new court house.

Nightlife given a lift

NSU students returning for the fall semester will notice that there has been a change in the Natchitoches night life during the summer. This change includes remodeling in the Bunker Club, the addition of an entirely new club in Natchitoches; the Cane River Company, as well as several other area clubs expanding or remodeling.

Bunker Club

The Bunker Club, owned and operated by Randy Lee, is located on the Hwy. 1 By-Pass and has been the students "place-to-go" for the past three years. Until now, the form at the club has remained the same. However, with the change in styles, music, and taste of the college students, Lee found it necessary to change the interior as well as the image of the club.

"We have remodeled the dancing area by adding a mirrored ceiling, a turning mirrored globe, and a strobe light as well as featuring a light show and a bubble machine throughout the night," Lee stated. "We also painted and added a pool table to the game area of the club."

Top name bands appear periodically at the Bunker and Lee plans to have more bands in the club this fall. Groups such as Pieces, Isoscles Popsicle, G.G. Shinn, Bill Wray, Vince Vance and the Valiants and more have delighted students with a variety of music for dancing and listening. When bands are not appearing at the Bunker, the latest rock and disco music is played.

When groups do appear at the club, the bands require a specific amount per person at the door. This is usually $1.50 during the week and $2.00 on weekends. The price may vary with the band.

Another new dimension of the Bunker Club is the frozen drinks. Now being served are Margarittas and other frozen drinks, some with whipped cream on top. In addition, the club serves other special order drinks, highballs, beer, and non-alcoholic beverages. The drinks range in price from $0.75 to $2.00.

The Bunker is open on weeknights from 5 p.m. until 2 a.m. and on weekends from 6 p.m. until 2 a.m. Dress is casual although just as many "dressy clothes" are seen there as jeans.

Cane River Company

The Cane River Company is a totally new concept for the area, and promises a very successful future for its owners, Danny Collins and Tommy Whitehead.

Located on the Hwy. 1 By-Pass next to the Holiday Inn, the club has been opened all summer and right away it has been a "smash hit" in Natchitoches.

Besides the unique decor, dress code, and unusual drinks, the Cane River Company has been made "famous" this summer by the show bands they have featured every other week. So far the Cane River Company has featured three Las Vegas dance and show bands; Hi-Rize, Passin' Thru, and Lovers. These bands play dance music, but for about 45 minutes every night they perform a floor show. These shows as well as the dance music has been first-rate and the Natchitoches crowd has been very receptive to the dance-show idea.

Cover charges will be $1.50 on Tuesdays through Thursdays and $2.00 on weekends. This is only when bands appear.

Monday night football will be shown on the large-screen, electronically operated television, followed up in the late hours by late movies.

The dress code is different in that jeans can be worn only during the week and aren't allowed after 7 p.m. on weekends.

The Cane River Company opens in the afternoon and closes each night at 2 a.m.

Others

Other Natchitoches clubs include the Cajun Club, Clarence's Lounge, Curly's Lounge, Zeno's 71 Club, the Godfather Disco, and Bayou Jocko.

DID YOU KNOW

That at least one major university is doing something to combat the high cost of attending college, and using foam cups to do it?

They've switched over their dining operation, which serves 25,000 meals a day, completely to disposables—cups, plates, bowls, spoons, knives and forks.

As the dining hall manager says, "We throw out everything but the students."

The cost savings have come in several areas. Before the change, 350 employees were required to run the University's food service operation. Now, only 200 are required, even though 1,000 more meals per day are being served than when the switch began.

There has also been a reduction in kitchen help turnover. From an annual rate of 600%, it's dropped to only 5%.

Students are all in favor of the change. In a recent survey, the Student Food Service Committee listed five reasons why they wouldn't want to go back to using china: sanitation, cost, noise factor, weight and theft.

According to the Foam Cup and Container Division of the Society of the Plastics Industry, reduction in noise has been the unexpected bonus from the change.

Though not library-quiet, the dining rooms are now remarkably tranquil and clutter-free, a welcome oasis on the busy campus.

Belles offer halftime entertainment

This year NSU students will be entertained during halftime of football games by more than just the NSU band, twirlers, and flag corp. Twenty-five high kicking, quick stepping girls who are members of the Cane River Belles dance line will entertain with dances as well as appear at other university functions such as basketball games, pep rallies and alumni events.

Mrs. Vicki Parrish is the dance line sponsor as Kelly Crowell acts as captain.

Members returning from last year are Peggy Joe Middleton, Pam Stevens, Connie Davis, Kim Alston,

New members chosen during the spring semester include Leslie Rickardson, Alice Entens, Judy Harris, Donna McHaffey, and Cherly Van Dine.

Also, Susie McShane, Susan Wilcox, Becky Boswell, Kim Cole, Kathy Jones, Velma Vela, Rhonda Baham, Debbie Nichols, Elaine Archfield, Lisa Dixon, and Karen Smith.

Summer rehearsals for the dance line were held in August and several members assisted Mrs. Parrish with instruction during the annual high school dance line camp held at NSU this summer.

15 participate in Leadership program

NATCHITOCHES—Fifteen students from across the state are participating this fall in Northwestern State University's third annual President's Leadership Program for college freshmen.

Fred C. Bosarge, dean of students at NSU, said the students were awarded $400 scholarships to participate in activities designed to develop personal leadership abilities and to provide the students with a practical knowledge of the university's administration and operation.

The program participants were outstanding high school graduates last spring and were selected by a screening committee of administrators, students and faculty members.

Bosarge stated that the Northwestern freshmen will participate in a special training program this fall which will prepare them for practical field work with student organizations during the spring semester.

The fall training program includes seminar sessions covering such subjects as self-awareness, leadership and interpersonal skills, communication skills, consensus-seeking in decision making, committees, parliamentary procedures, the role of the college president, academic operations and student organizations.

Speakers will include Dr. Keith Runion and Dr. Gail Goodwin of the Department of Behavioral Sciences, Dr. Millard Bienvenu of the Department of Sociology and Social Work.

Capt. Charlott Pace and Capt. Bobby Bray of the Department of Military Science, NSU President Rene J. Bienvenu, Student Government Association president John McKellar of Bossier City, Student Union Governing Board president Mike Alost of Natchitoches, high school relations director Danny Seymour, student activities director Bob Wilson and student services director Cecil Knotts.

Bosarge stated that Northwestern is the only university in Louisiana and one of the few institutions in the south that offers a program to recognize the leadership abilities in superior incoming freshman.

"When these students complete the training program we have designed for them," said the NSU dean, "they should be ready to step into an officership in one of the student organizations on campus. They have their choice of organizations they want to become involved in during the practical work period in the spring."

Tours offer history to 20th century

Woodrow Riley

From the lovesick romantic to the History major, a tour of Historic Natchitoches is a student must.

The secret lover in all of us is bound to fantasies as he tours the Tante Huppe House on 424 Jefferson St. The house has separate entrances from the first floor bedrooms. This came in handy in the days of yore when perhaps young men sneaked their lady loves into the house without the old folks knowing about it.

NSU might enjoy the Wells Home. The Wells home is one of the oldest homes in La. It was built in 1776 and has such features as walls with deer hair in them. The Wells Home is one of the most authentically restored homes in Natchitoches.

Yes, the charms of old Natchitoches are sure to stagger a stranger's mind as he tours the antebellum homes and buildings during the 24th annual tour of Historic Natchitoches the second weekend in October. This is sponsored by the Association for the Preservation of Historic Natchitoches.

Mrs. Ora Watson, president of the A.P.H.N., said that the tour this year will be bigger than before with more houses being shown.

Mrs. Watson added that "There will be two tours, the Town Tour and the Cane River Tour."

The town tour will be a walking tour down Front Street seeing the old houses at your leisure while if boating is your pleasure a 25 mile boat trip down Cane River will satisfy your nautical and historical pleasure.

Although houses are the favorite sight seeing pastime during the tour, old churches, seminaries and cemeteries are also offered.

If the lovesick wands of historical passion are moved by these glimpses of the past you may then get ready for the tour.

Festival marks 52 years

The 52nd annual Christmas festival in Natchitoches will be extended to a week-long celebration beginning on Nov. 26 this year. Each day will present a new activity to help high-light what Mrs. Helen Wheat, in charge of the event, hopes will be the best festival yet.

Tentative plans include a religious service on the bank of Chaplain's Lake on the morning of Sun., Nov. 26. All religious denominations will be asked to participate.

Along with the yearly lights and fireworks show, possible activities will be stage productions, an arts and crafts show and a walk-a-thon. Another hopeful addition to this year's festival will be a cajun food fest with booths for many famous cajun chefs to show their wares.

This year's Miss Merry Christmas is Chris Kinard chosen on June 10. She will ride in the senior parade to be held on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 2, which will also feature floats and bands. Earlier in the day, the junior parade will be held for the children.

In the festival's beginning in 1927, it was the hope of its originator, Max Burgdorf, to share his feelings of the yuletide season with his neighbors and friends of the city. Since then this feeling of joy has spread to the many people

A touch of old Natchitoches

On the second weekend in October, the Association for the Preservation of Historic Natchitoches hosts the historic tour of homes in Natchitoches and Cane River.

This organization, the Calico Belles, and many others in Natchitoches dress in long, 18th century dresses and guide tourists through the old homes giving them historical information about the old homes as well as the families who have lived in them throughout the years.

This tour of homes lasts for two days, Saturday and Sunday, but a person may take the in-town tour in half a day as well as the plantation tour which requires another half day.

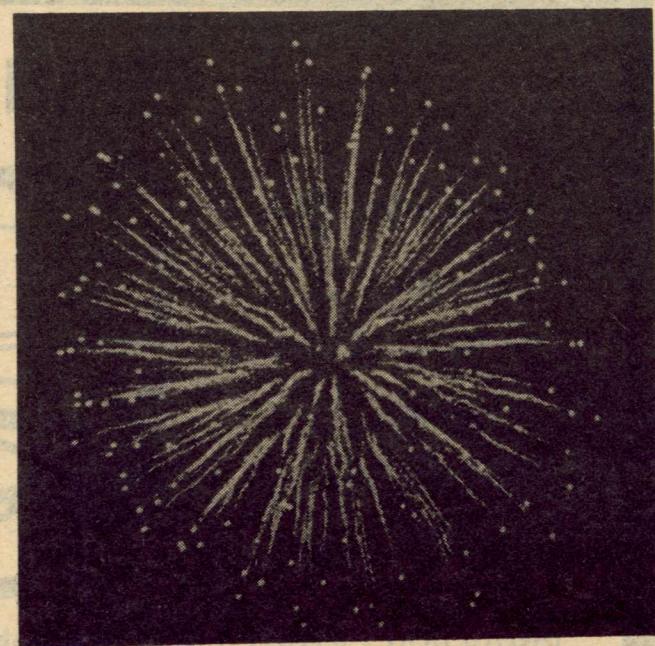

Tickets for the tour may be purchased the day of the tour at the headquarters located at the Leme House at 310 Jefferson St. Student tickets are $5.00 with the presentation of an I.D.

This year the tour will be held on Oct. 14-15 from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Tour I, or the in-town tour, includes the Leme, Laureate, Tante Huppe, and the Wells homes. Other structures include the Trinity Episcopal Church, the Church of Immaculate Conception, the Bishop Martin Museum, the Roque House and Ducournau Square.

Tour II, the Cane River country, includes Cherokee, Beau Fort, Oakland, the Melrose Complex and the Bayou Folk Museum Plantation Homes.

Ooo... Ahhh... is the response heard from the gigantic crowds attending the annual Natchitoches Christmas Festival. The fireworks is the culmination of the "big event" and is a favorite of many. Held the first Saturday in December the festival is in its 52nd year.

who have flocked to Natchitoches to view the spectacular annual event.

The famous fireworks show was begun in 1936 when a $300 display was presented from funds contributed by local businessmen as is still the case today. Since that year the show has grown to be valued at approximately $5000. This year's display promises to be bigger and better than ever. It will be given on Dec. 2.

In the long history of the celebration, inclement weather has halted activities only once or twice.

Demon Football :

Northwestern State University opens its 1978 football season Sat. night but the Demons will be hoping for some memories of the 1977 season when they host Lamar University for the second time in two seasons.

The Demons literally ran away from the Cardinals last season in taking a 43-0 win over Lamar on the way to a 4-1 home field record and a 6-5, overall campaign. The Cardinals finished the year with a 2-9 record, but came around at the end of the season to hand McNeese State a devastating 35-7 setback.

"Lamar did a lot of improving last year," said NSU head coach A.L. Williams of the Cardinals. "Their record wasn't indicative of how well they played for most of the season. When we played them, we just had a night that we did everything right and they did everything wrong, and that can easily happen to a team."

Sat. nights battle will be NSU's second straight year to open a season at home, and no Demon fan will ever forget the 1977 opener when NSU came back from a 24-7 deficit in the final quarter to take a 28-24 victory over Texas-Arlington in the first game played in the new Harry "Rags" Turpin Stadium.

Quarterback Kenny Philibert hurled a school-record-tying four touchdown passes in that victory, and the junior from Shreveport will again be at the controls. Transfer signalcaller Rex Henderson, also a junior, will also likely make his first NSU appearance in Saturdays battle.

"We'll probably play both of our quarterbacks a good bit," Williams said. "Both are very capable passers, and if one person's not having a good night we have the other one to come in."

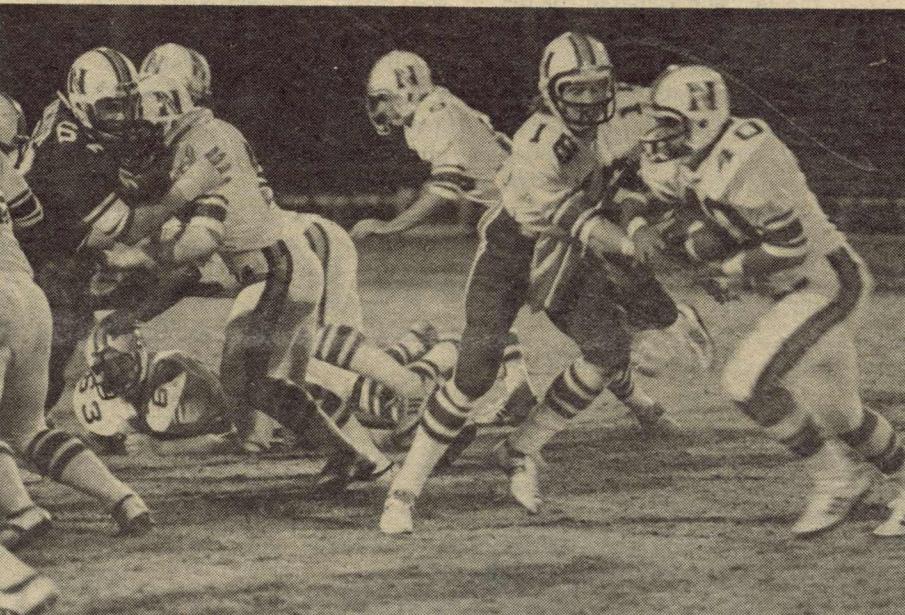

Lamar will be looking to start a new football era. Despite strong defensive teams in the past, coach Bob Fredrick's charges have come away with only 1-10, 2-9 and 2-9 records over the past three years.

A lack of offense has been the problem, and it looks much the same this year with only one offensive backfield veteran returning, flanker Howard Robinson. The lone lettermen returning in the backfield are senior James Rollins and sophomore Mike Ellis, while Charles Behn is the likely starter at quarterback.

Five starters return across the front, with Rick Overton at tight end, Victor Enard at guard, J.D. Wilkins and Kenny Birkes at the tackles and Bruce Clapp at center. Leroy Johnson, Tommy White and Alfred Mask will all see action at the wide out slots.

There aren't as many questions defensively, with All-Southland Conference nose guard Matt Burnett heading up a corps that also includes end Buford Thomas, linebackers Jay Warrick and Tommy Griffiths, cornerback Don Gordon and strong Kurt Phoenix.

The Demons will open their third season in Turpin with an almost identical offensive lineup to last year's, with Philibert, stellar tailback Mark Schroeder and fullback Brett Knecht in the backfield. Mike Almond, Wyamond Waters and James Bennett will be the wide receivers alternating, and Jack Serpas and Pat Collins will alternate at tight end.

Across the front, center Bill Johnson, guard Mike Maggiore and tackle Petey Perot are all returning starters.

Defensively, Robert Brown, John Procell and transplant end David

Wright will all man that slot, with tackle Willie Washington and Art Lancaster at nose guard the other returning starters up front. U.L. Finister returns at linebacker and Keith Clayton and Donnie Pistorius are the ones to watch in the secondary.

Also back is Dennis Pendergraft, who averaged 41.0 yards per punt last year and scored 36 points kicking.

Lamar opens season

NATCHITOCHES—Less than one-week remains before Northwestern State University's 1978 football season opener against Lamar University, and head coach A.L. Williams is concerned about the readiness of his squad.

"It seems like such a short time ago that we got started this fall," Williams said. "With school opening so early we didn't have hardly any time in two-a-day practices, and our scrimmages have shown us that we've still got a lot of work to do."

The Demons open their campaign on Sept. 9 against Lamar at home in "Rags" Turpin Stadium, where they have compiled an 8-2 record over the past two seasons. NSU also took an easy 43-0 win over Lamar at home last season.

"It won't be anything like that this time," said Williams. "We did everything right and Lamar did everything wrong that night, and they're a much improved ball club this year. In fact, everybody on our schedule looks to be improved a great deal over last year."

The Demons have already held two full-scale scrimmages this fall, and have had different high and low points in each. "I was very pleased with our offensive performance our first time out," Williams said, "but last Thursday our defensive units looked really strong. If we can put them together, we'll play with everybody on our schedule this year."

NSU will hold only one more scrimmage workout, and it will not be a full-scale affair. "There are still some things we want to look at," said Williams, "but we don't want to risk any big injuries before our opener."

The Demons have not been beset with injuries so far in fall workouts. Sophomore tackle Harold Snodgrass will be unavailable to the squad this season because of a bennia operation, and incoming freshman tackle Arthur Pickens is still limited from a shoulder separation suffered in the high school all-star game, but beyond those two the squad is in excellent shape.

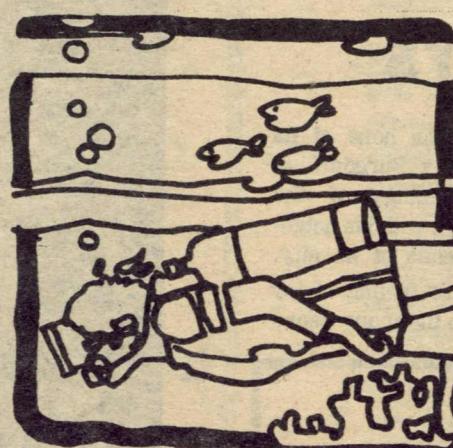

"We've got some bumps and bruises," Williams said. "but right now everybody looks like they'll be ready when the first game comes around. I'm hoping so, anyway."

The new report indicates that most Americans do not foresee better conditions in the next five years.

Homecoming Court Election tomorrow

Polls open tomorrow morning at 8:00 for the voting of the 1978 Homecoming Court, according to Terry McCarty, Commissioner of Elections. Twenty girls, nominated by various groups and organizations, are included on this year's ballot.

Nominated are Jerri Bagley, Rhonda Baham, Helene Blankenbaker, Donna Bray, Cindy Brown, Lisa Breazeale, Denese Byram, Kelly Crowell, Sheila Credeur, Betty Ford, Camille Gladney, Margaret Hennigan, Helen Hubley, Laura Jenkins, Kathy Kees, Debbie Price, Dana Roth, Sadie Scott, Velma Vela and Victoria Williams.

"I am very pleased with the nominees," stated McCarty, "Because each girl has shown pride in Northwestern and is very deserving of the honor of being a member of our Homecoming Court."

"There has been an abundance of enthusiasm already put into this election, and I am looking forward to one of the best voter turnouts in a long time. I would like to urge every NSU student to vote tomorrow," continued McCarty.

The election will take place in the Northwestern Student Union on the second floor. Students will be asked for ID's before being allowed to vote. Voting will be by paper ballot.

"Due to the city and state elections this weekend, we were unable to secure voting machines. However we will have machines next week when voting for class senators," McCarty stated. Deadline for filing in that election is 12:00 tomorrow.

A lot of planning has gone into this year's Homecoming game, as it has with the entire football program.

Homecoming and External Affairs. Student participation is being stressed in this year's events planned for NSU by the External Affairs Office.

The office, headed by Ray Carney, serves as a public relations office for the university. It also controls the Alumni Association and the NSU Foundation which handles contributions to the university. The Special Projects Committee helps to plan parties when local legislators visit the campus. The External Affairs department also plan Alumni parties for each football game.

The event demanding the most attention of the office at this time is Homecoming weekend which will feature the NSU Demons against the McNeese Cowboys in the New Harry "Rags" Turpin Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 23, at 7:30 p.m.

Homecoming events will begin with the "Big Banner" Parade on Friday, Sept. 22 at 6 p.m. Student clubs and organizations are urged to enter banners in the banner contest. Monetary prizes will be awarded. The parade will proceed from the NSU campus down Front Street to the Riverbank. A pep rally and street dance, with music by "Pieces" will follow.

Saturday's festivities will be highlighted by an afternoon open house and tours of the campus.

Presentation of the Homecoming Court will be at half-time of the football game. A post-game concert by the NSU Demon Marching Band in the stadium is also scheduled.

Later in the year a reception is planned in Arlington, Texas for NSU boosters and Alumni from the area when the Demons play the University of Texas at Arlington.

University Police in new location

The last days of the summer session brought a change to Northwestern's University Police as the officers moved their headquarters to the front section of the Infirmary building.

According to James K. Lee, chief of University Police, the new location is larger and more well-equipped than the older building and will enable the police force to better serve the university community.

Chief Lee has been a member of the force since the campus security program began in 1955. In the early years of the program, the officers and student officers dealt with mainly parking control and building security.

When the Louisiana State Legislature dissolved the campus security forces on Louisiana college campuses in the early 1970's, the University Police Force became the campus law enforcement agency. The transformation from campus security to University Police resulted in the organization employing more qualified police officers, including those with college degrees.

Twelve Civil Service men and five non-Civil Service student officers serve on the university Police force. The officers occasionally work with other area law enforcement agencies.

Lee stated that the University police are anxious to do their part to help make NSU a great university.

"If people in the university community have comments or suggestions for the University Police, we would like to hear from them," Lee concluded.

Off-campus students to be reviewed

by Jerry Jones

In the first week of school 103 men and 90 women did not report to claim the rooms they had reserved for this semester. While some of the students did not claim their rooms because they aren't in school, others are living off campus in violation of the Board of Trustee's policy requiring on-campus residency for all single undergraduate students.

To solve this problem an Off Campus Housing Committee will be formed and the list of students not in the dormitory will be compared with the list of students enrolled in classes.

The purpose of this committee will be to make decisions on a case-by-case basis, on student applications to live off campus. This committee will be composed of a chairman, this being the Director of Student Services, two faculty members, one staff member, and four student members.

A Housing Appeal Board will also be formed for those students who have their applications disapproved and feel they have grounds for appeal.

Banner Contest: Junior High again?

It seems to be the same thing every year.

Homecoming comes along. They announce some kind of spirit contest. Sometimes it is a float, sometimes a display. This year it's a banner. There's always a grand first prize, and whoever has the best one, whether it's good or not, WINS!!!

Big Deal.

I think it is a big deal, although sometimes I think I'm one of the few. No, I am not going to preach on apathy (I don't have the energy to fight that one right now) I would like to talk to those students who plan to enter the contest.

We are now university students. We are supposed to have educated and mature minds. So why is it that in the four years I have been here that I have yet to see a really outstanding or creative idea for Homecoming? Why have we never had a decent intelligent entry in these contests? Why do we settle for Junior High level art?

Please do not misunderstand me—I will be the first to admit that the problem is widespread—and I am as much a part of it as anyone else. I am a member of an organization who won the contest last year, and I felt it was lacking in quality even then—I will be the first to help take the blame.

After going to a large North Louisiana high school, I was used to going all out for Homecoming floats, etc. and I was appalled to come to Northwestern and see the Mickey Mouse entries in what should be the highlight of the football season. Think about it: I'll bet most people would have to admit that their high school homecoming projects were much, much more impressive than any they have seen here in college.

It's a difficult problem, and one that few people will admit to. We gripe about how everything at LSU and Tech is so much more advanced but we never place the blame where it really belongs: ON OUR shoulders. These homecoming projects are simply an example. If organizations will really put some thought (and work) into these banners, we can have the kind of quality we find so disgusting (?) in the other schools. And by remaining constant with this quality, we can in a short time, regain the respect we seem to have lost in the face of the other state schools. We can again become the leader instead of lower.

We have the confidence we need to tackle this problem. Dr. Bienvenu and his administration have stated it over and over again. Let's show them that we appreciate that confidence, and let's earn it throughout, not only the banner contest, not only during Homecoming, but through the entire year—in everything we do.

If your organization would like to enter the banner contest, please pick up an entry form this week in the External Affairs office. Deadling for entry is this Friday.

Registrar announces changes

Walter O. Ledet, Registrar, made several statements of value to students during a previous interview. First, Mr. Ledet would like to inform students that the last date to drop classes without penalty is Thursday, October 5, at 4:30 a.m.

Mr. Ledet said that all students who were allowed to register conditionally must have all information needed by Monday, October 2, or their registration will be canceled.

According to Mr. Ledet, beginning the summer semester of 1979, the GPA will be figured on all hours pursued. Repeating a course will not eliminate the first grade.

The spring semester will be the last semester to eliminate the first grade in a course.

Apathy issue with student

Dear Editor:

After three years of attendance at N.S.U., all of which have been spent as a full time student living in the dorm, I feel inclined to break away momentarily from my characteristic state of "apathy."

I have watched with interest as campus controversy rage on over tired issues. Beer on campus, fee increases, racial equality and student apathy seem to remain of primary importance. From my point of view, much has been said but little changed.

With the new administration, however, for the first time in years people are taking an interest in the progress of N.S.U. be impeded if one major point of conflict is not resolved.

In solving any problem, all factors must be taken into consideration. But because of a consistent tendency of the Current Sauce to print the opinions of one side of this issue, majority of students are being misjudged.

The issue is "apathy," and according to the accepted school-wide definition, roughly 90 percent of the student body has been placed in this highly criticized category. Apparently if one is not active in student governing associations and Greek Organizations, to some this reflects a weakness or lack of intelligence.

After all, as Dr. Bienvenu has repeatedly emphasized, the primary importance of the university lies in academic. While student leadership is indispensable to the function of the school, it is not the only consideration.

If one is to function effectively, priorities must be set, with some sort of focus maintained. The "apathetic" are here and contrary to popular belief most are contributing in some way to society. They are also enjoying themselves, although their activities tend to be spontaneous instead of highly organized.

Everyone has a basic need to express himself. I realize that organizational involvement fulfills hours painting a picture, writing a research paper, or participating in a play is also fulfilling that need. Although the medium is different, both groups have a common ground, that of personal satisfaction.

This letter is not an attack or criticism, because I believe that there has been too much condemnation on everyone's part. It is only a request for open-mindedness. I can only hope that people will realize that no one is qualified to make sweeping character judgments about anyone.

If there is a sincere desire for people to become involved, organization leaders should stop trying to force the students into a specified mold.

In dealing with people, it is much more rewarding to channel individual talents, without trying to restructure personalities.

It is time that people stop judging others and themselves in one area of accomplishment. Every student at Northwestern is to the life force of the University.

Financial Aid commended

Dear Editor,

Below is a copy of a memorandum sent to Vice-President Barron concerning the service rendered at the Financial Aid Office. I hope in publishing this memorandum to publicize the Financial Aid Office credit for a job well done. I more importantly, I hope to encourage students to seek the personnel there for help and guidance. They do care.

Here is the memorandum:

Dear Dr. Barron:

I feel it a privilege and a responsibility to write a memorandum in regard to the service I personally received from the financial aid office over the past several weeks.

I came to them at that time after discovering I was going to need financial aid to continue my education. Mine was extremely difficult problem to handle, one not anticipated under the federal guidelines this office is compelled to work under. None the less, the receptionist patiently listened to my problem, assisted as well as she could, and then informed Mrs. McNeely of the problem.

Mrs. McNeely then took me into her office where she could talk to me. She quickly but thoroughly evaluated the situation and suggested what alternatives I could consider. When I made the decision to seek a loan, she then sat down with me and helped me to understand what I was doing. She and the receptionist even helped proofread my letter to the bank.

Today, I received notice from a bank that I am eligible for a loan. I went back to her office with the letter I received from the bank. Once again the financial aid office personnel took much of their valuable time to assist me. It was a monumental task, but, thanks to the help of the various persons in that office and especially to Mrs. McNeely, I was able to get my loan off to the bank this afternoon.

I would like to commend Mrs. McNeely and her staff for performing a service well "above and beyond the call of duty." Her staff has been nothing less than courteous and caring.

In retrospect, I now find that this memorandum became quite lengthy. However, I find that due to overwhelming respect and regard to Mrs. McNeely and her staff, I must relay all of this to you, to let you know my appreciation to them.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to let you know this.

Dear Editor:

I thought that the Sept. 5 issue of the Current Sauce was very well prepared and that the new arrangement is better than the past issues of Current Sauce. There are more pages in the Current Sauce now and I like that. If you and your staff can, please continue running the paper in this manner.

Sincerely yours,

Terry McCarty

SDX TAKES SURVEY

NSU's chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, has conducted a survey which shows that most Louisiana district attorneys are opposed to allowing cameras inside the courtroom.

The journalistic society conducted the survey a few months after the Louisiana Supreme Court granted a request for the use of still and television cameras in Judge Guy Humphreys' Ninth Judicial District court in Alexandria. The Supreme Court acted on a petition by the judge, a local television newsmen and an Alexandria newspaper photojournalist.

Sixteen of the state's 37 district attorneys responded to the survey, and most agreed that the presence of still and television cameras in courtrooms would interfere with the administration of justice. They also believed that trial participants would "act" for television cameras.

FIFTEEN PARTICIPATE IN PROGRAM

Fifteen students from across the state are participating this fall in NSU's third annual President's Leadership Program for college freshmen.

Fred C. Bosarge, dean of students at NSU, said the students were awarded $400 scholarships to participate in activities designed to develop personal leadership abilities to provide the students with a practical knowledge of the university's administration and operation.

Bosarge stated that NSU freshmen will participate in a special training program this fall which will prepare them for practical field work with student organizations during the spring semester.

NSU is the only university in Louisiana and one of the few institutions in the South that offers a program to recognize the leadership abilities in superior incoming freshmen.

GALLOWAY APPOINTED DEAN

Dr. Richard H. Galloway, a faculty member at NSU for the past 17 years, has been appointed dean of the new University College at NSU.

As University College dean, Galloway will administer the operation of NSU's campus at Ft. Polk. He will also be responsible for freshman orientation, vocational counseling, counseling and testing, and for the advising of students in the university's general curriculum and general studies program.

NSU president Dr. Rene J. Bienvenu said the appointment of Galloway as dean of the recently created University College will become effective immediately.

CHEERLEADERS WIN SUPERIOR

NSU's Cheerleader squad won four superior and three excellent ratings during the annual universal Cheerleaders Association College Spirit Camp held recently in Memphis, Tenn.

The NSU cheerleaders received superior ratings in the categories of home cheer, sideline chant, semi-final evaluation, and final cheer. Excellent ratings were won in creative cheer, pom-pom routine and camp cheer. The NSU group was also presented the "Key to Spirit" award.

NSU's cheerleader squad was among the 10 university cheerleader teams selected to compete in the camp's cheering finals. The University of Southern Mississippi won the top award in the finals.

NEW LAB OPENS

The state's first university-sponsored infant laboratory opened this fall at NSU to assist infants with different phases of their development and to provide a foundation for NSU's child development program.

The new infant laboratory represents the beginning of comprehensive child development studies which NSU educational researchers believe will lead them to a better understanding of the importance of a child's first three years of life.

Dr. Cecile C. Mielenz, professor and chairman of the Department of Home Economics at NSU, said she and other faculty members studied and visited infant programs across the country for two years before developing the new laboratory at NSU.

The group revolves around guitarist-singer-songwriter

Jeff Pollard and bassist-producer Leon Medica. As a matter of fact, the group used to be known as the Jeff Pollard

Grip and Played in Natchitoches on occasion.

As for the record, vocal harmonies (and excellent ones at that) dominate the album.

Jeff Pollard takes most of the lead vocals and is more than capable. This talent is evident in their hit song, "New Orleans Ladies."

The instrumentation of LeRoux is second to none. All the guys have an opportunity to "show off" a little. This group appears to have one of the best bass-drum units around. As a whole, the group blends and works well together.

The musical style of the Louisiana groups can only be described as, none other than,

New Orleans JazzRock. Even

many of the lyrics suggest the Delta country.

A few of the best cuts from the album are "New Orleans

Ladies," "Take a Ride on a

Riverboat", and "Bridge of Silence".

Awarded three year scholarships in ROTC. Awarding the scholarships was Lt. Walter B. Powell, Mary Ann Maples, and Paula Behrnes.

Record Review

Louisiana's LeRoux gets in the groove

Finally a Louisiana group has cut an album that exemplifies the fusion between New Orleans jazz and good rock and roll. The group, Louisiana's LeRoux, has made it commercial enough that the rest of the country might "get in the groove."

Dr. Zhivago

David Lean (Lawrence of Arabia, Doctor Zhivago), master of the epic, paints a vivid portrait of unforgettable characters against the canvas of the Russian Revolution. As the lovers in Boris Pasternak's Nobel prize-winning novel, Lean cast Julie Christie and Omar Sharif, and the texture of their personalities, delicate and sensual, is irresistible. The push of the revolution and its shattering effect on Russian society is told in very human terms as it affects the life and loves of Yuri Zhivago, doctor and poet. Exquisitely photographed, this is a film of lasting beauty and compassion.

The drama, the horror and the turbulence of the Revolution simply divided the majestic canvas against which is told a moving and highly personal love story.

New Officials Named

Nolan joins sports staff

"I'm very enthusiastic and excited about my job," stated a bubbly Pat Nolen in a recent interview. "I know it's a tremendous challenge, but I'm willing to work hard to overcome it."

Nolen has recently joined the Northwestern Athletic Staff as the head Women's Basketball Coach and Coordinator of Women's Athletics.

The biggest problem facing the new Lady Demon coach is that the team will be young, and "as usual, short." Coach Nolen has two six foot recruits, in addition to the returning players, that will help on the height of the team.

Coach Nolen said that this year was going to be a "gradual building process," as far as changes are concerned. She is going to have a wide range of recruiting done for the 79-80 women's team.

"I want to improve the image of the Lady Demon basketball team," Coach Nolen said. "Hopefully, I can create the type of program that would make the students proud of the team and want to come out and support it." The coach is going in the job with enthusiasm and excitement enough to get the students aroused and in good school spirit.

Coach Nolen said, "I really want to build a family atmosphere for the team." This helps the team's performance, as well as the image of the team the student's give them.

In the 1978-79 season, come out and support the Lady Demons, and be proud. Northwestern needs the student support behind their athletes.

Parrish new Intramural Director

As the athletic program at NSU enthusiastically awaits the beginning of a new season, so does the Intramural Competition for 1978-79. This year, however; there will be a change-up in the Intramural roster. Northwestern State University is proud to announce the addition of Miss. Ginger Sue Parrish, Director of Intramural Sports, to the faculty line up.

Miss. Parrish, with a Masters of Education (M.A.Ed.) from East CAROLINA University, states that, "the success of this years Intramural program will depend entirely on the enthusiasm and participation of NSU students." With such goals as, "meeting the needs of as many students as possible," Miss. Parrish feels that one does not need to be a highly skilled athlete to participate in upcoming events. All that is necessary is a desire for fun and activity.

Assisting Miss. Parrish will be Danny Cage of Jonesboro and Mike Posillico of New York, both graduate assistants in Physical Education. The athletic trio of Parrish, Cage and Posillico are looking forward to working with the students in such events as Co-Ed Softball to Rifle Shooting and Tug-of-War to Free Throw.

As an added attraction to this years schedule of events, plans are being made for such activities as Almost Anything Goes, Varied Frisbee Competition, and even one on one Basketball.

"I don't know what was here before, but I am here to help and more than happy to talk to anyone with ideas or suggestions for the betterment of the Intramural Department," says Miss. Parrish. Also, in conjunction with the Intramural Staff, appointments are being made in formation of an Intramural Advisory Council. The Advisory Council is stated as having the power to finalize all protests, pass judgment on disciplinary procedures, and any other problems which might arise throughout the year.

As the Advisory Council assumes its position, it is urged that at least one representative from each sorority, fraternity, dorm club, etc., be present. This meeting will serve as a purpose of discussing present as well as foreseeable problems of Intramural athletics. Also, the meetings will allow the students to become acquainted with the Intramural Staff as well as having a voice in future Intramural planning.

For any planned event to be successful, it requires direct planning, personal interest, and mainly, participation by those involved. With this in mind, it is now up to the student body of NSU to make 1978-79 the best year of Intramural participation ever known to Northwestern's campus.

Again with competitive feelings in mind, Miss. Parrish states, "I would personally like to wish all students that do plan to participate in this years activities, the best of luck. I look forward in working and meeting as many of the students as my responsibilities will allow. If at any time I or my staff can be of assistance to you as the student body, please feel free to contact me at the Office of Intramural Sports, Room 12, located in the Old Men's Gym. Good Luck and here's to a winning season for all."

Demon 9 split Doubleheader

Daryl Keowen's two-run single in the bottom of the sixth inning proved to be the difference Saturday afternoon as Northwestern State University took a 5-4 win over Centenary College in the second game of a baseball doubleheader here.

The visiting Gentlemen had earlier taken a 9-2 victory over the Demons in the opener, which was the first outing of the season for both teams.

Keowen's single drive home Danny Goode and Tommy Dorsey in the sixth to give Chris Solleau the victory, while Jordan Stasney absorbed the loss.

In the opener, Centenary's Kirk Tolson, Jay Kelly (2), Glynn Bankard poked a solo homer in the third inning, but by that time the Gents were already out front by 6-1. Ken Babcock was the winner while Stasney.

Even if he was knocked out of competition in the first round of the U. S. Open Tennis Championships, Ricardo Acuna has nothing to be ashamed of.

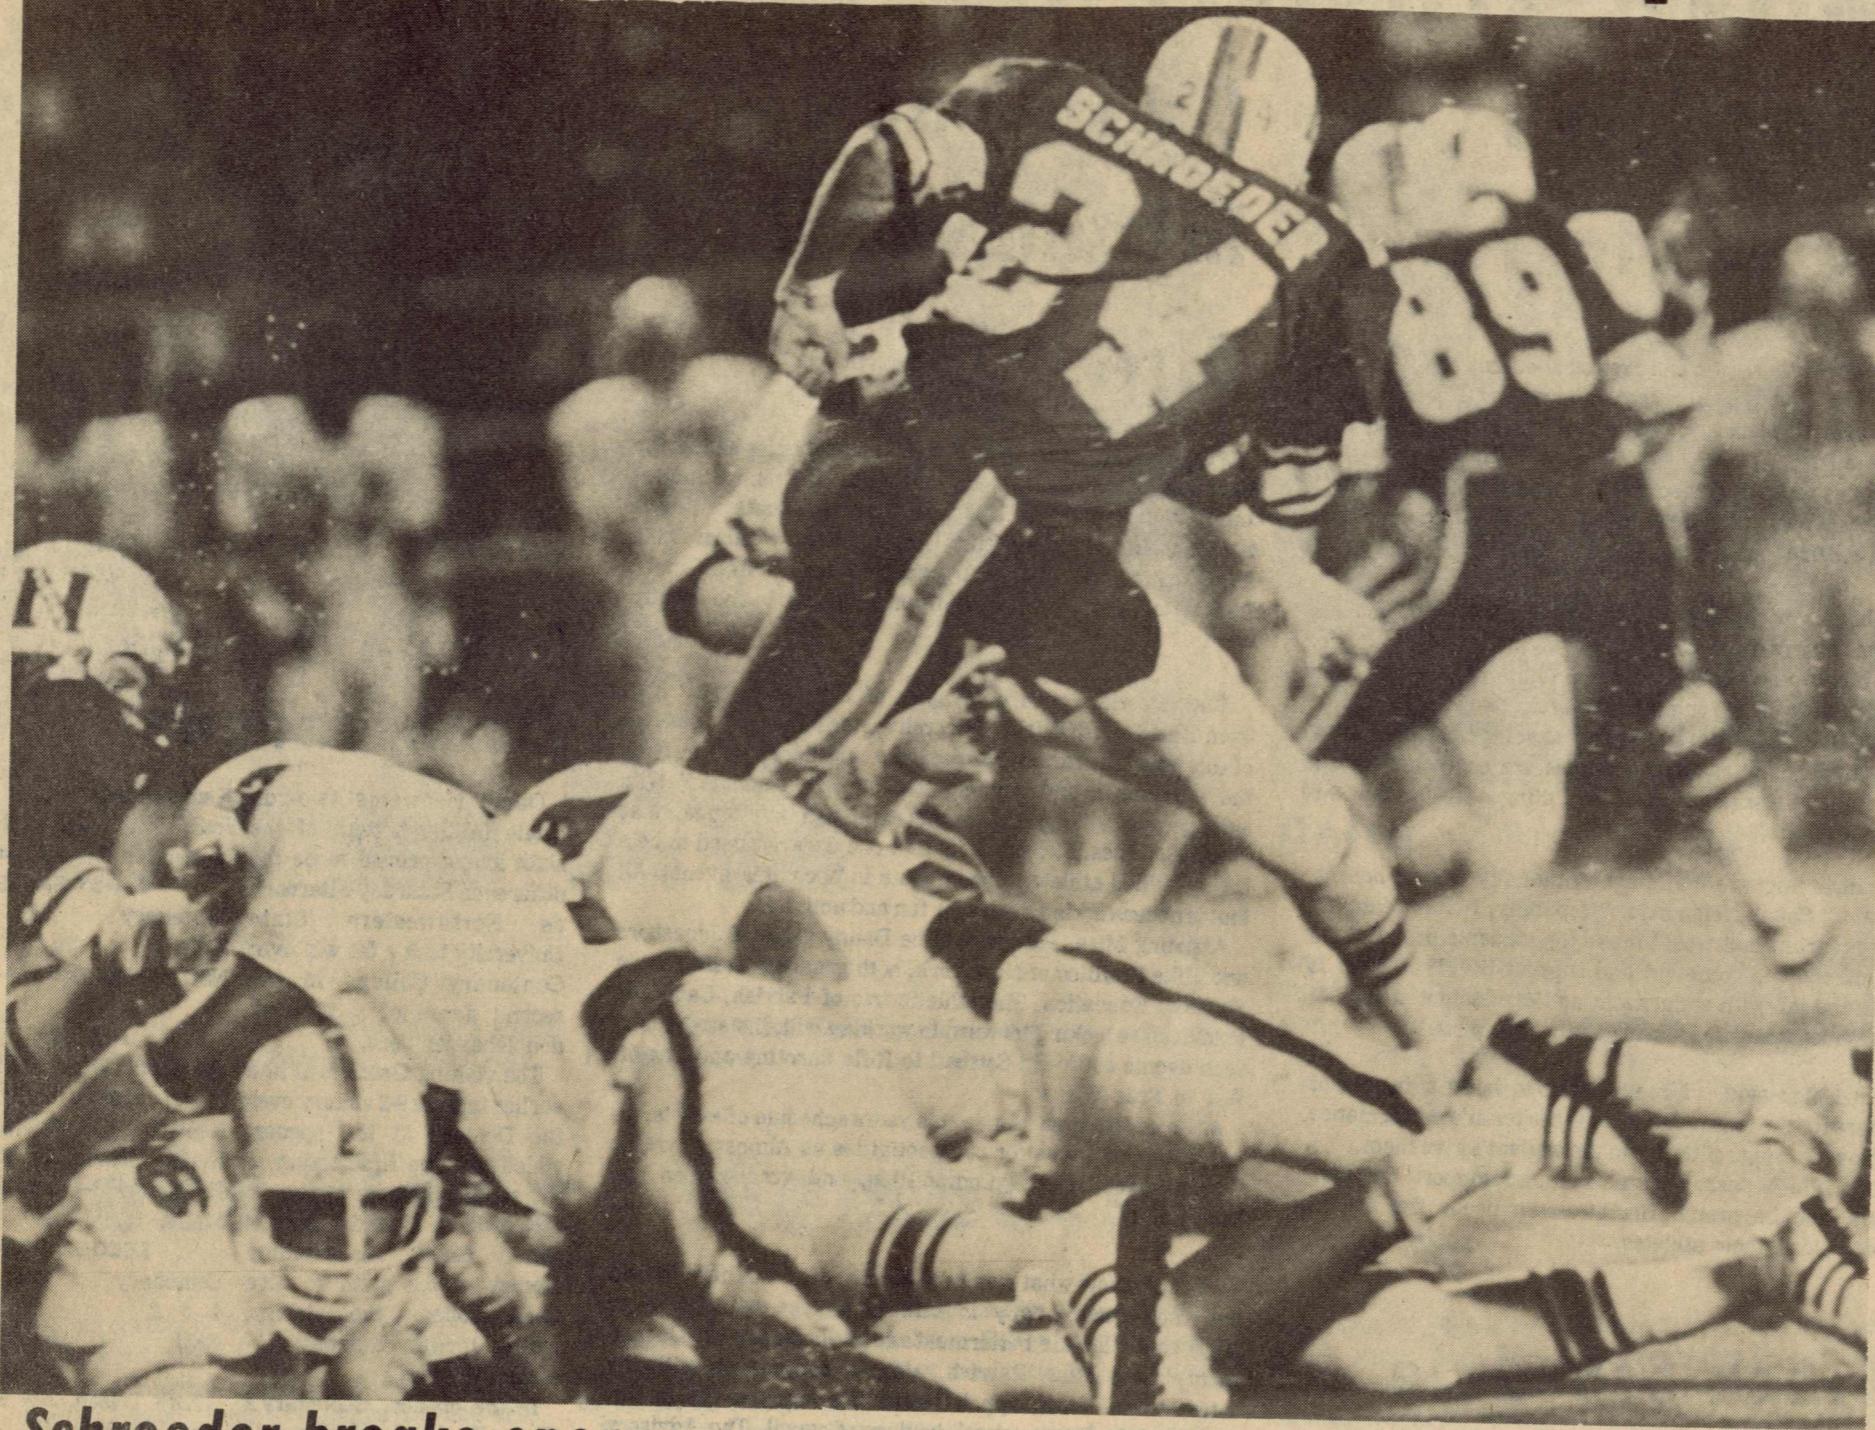

Acuna, Northwestern State University's tennis star from Santiago, Chile, was defeated by Hank Pfister of Bakersfield, Cal., 6-0, 6-3, in Wednesday's first round of men's singles in the Open, currently in progress at the National Tennis Center in New York.

The more significant accomplishment, though, is that the senior standout made the Open field at all. The bracket for the Open contains only 128 players, and they are generally recognized as the world's finest players.

"I'm thrilled that Ricardo made the field up there," said Northwestern tennis coach Johnnie Emmons. "Not too many players from this state have ever taken part in the U. S. Open, especially when they were still amateurs in college."

Acuna qualified for the Open by accumulating enough points in professional tournaments during the summer on the American Express Summer Tour. The 5-foot-9 star won one of the tournaments at Hilton Head Island, S. C., during the three-month period and played well enough to reach the finals of a special tournament for

Mark Schroeder is on one of the 27 carries he made Saturday night during Northwestern's 21-17 win over Lamar. Schroeder was the leading rusher in Saturday night's contest with 65 yards to his credit.

Philibert on the move

Kenny Philibert takes a spin around the right side for a 12 yard gain after being forced out of the pocket Sat. night. Philibert completed 12 of 18 passes for 162 yards and 1 touchdown as he lead NSU's offensive attack against Lamar.

OOPS
Lamar's Johnny Ray White seems to be having a bit of trouble. Saturday night's rain-soaked contest resulted in 12 fumbles. The Demons lost five of the fumbles but managed to hang on in a close one 21-17.

SFA Takes Demons on The Road

The Demons are on the road this Saturday, Sept. 16 when they battle Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. The fight for "Chief Caddo" will get underway at 7:30 in Lumberjack Stadium.

Prather Coliseum has been home for the "Chief" (a large wooden Indian) the past two years. Last year the Demons won the right to keep the "Chief" by whipping the Lumberjacks 20-6 in Turpin Stadium. Kenny Philibert threw two touchdown passes, one to James Bennett for 36 yards and the other to Mike Almond for 29 yards, and Dennis Pendergraft added field goals of 40 and 46 yards to lead the Demons in last year's win.

This will be the thirty fifth meeting between the Demons and the Jacks with SFA leading the series 23-9-2. SFA will be coming into Saturday night's contest

0-1 after a drumming by the University of Nevada-Reno 32-0 in Reno. The Demons are 1-0 with the 21-17 win over Lamar in Natchitoches.

The Lumberjacks have 31 letterman returning lead by tailback Bobby Mitchell, a 6-3, 187 pound junior, who gained 978 yards last season and for the Lumberjacks 4-3 defense, head defensive tackles Ron Haynes, a 6-3, 250 pound junior, and Lloyd Langston, a 6-6, 236 pound senior, who had totals of 95 and 75 tackles respectively last season.

Coach Charles Simmons believes his team has good depth, size, and quality this year. Linebackers Roderick Reed, Clyde Polk, and Alton Gray, starting for the Lumberjacks 4-3 defense, head defensive tackles Ron Haynes, a 6-3, 250 pound junior, and Lloyd Langston, a 6-6, 236 pound senior, who had totals of 95 and 75 tackles respectively last season.

Demons Take Close One 21-17

The Demons opened the '78 season with an exciting 21-17 victory over Lamar Saturday night in Turpin Stadium. A rain plagued first half resulted in numerous fumbles and dropped passes for both teams, but the aerial attack of Kenny Philibert, Wyamond Waters, Mike Almond, and Joe Delaney along with the running of Mark Schroeder, Brett Knecht, and Delaney proved to much for the Cardinals as the Demons posted their first victory of the year.

The first score of the game came on the Demons third possession as Mark Schroeder went 5 yards on a sweep around the right side to score standing up. Dennis Pendergraft's PAT was no good and the Demons led 6-0. Philibert completed three passes, one to James Bennett for 18 yards, as the offense moved 40 yards in 6 plays for the score.

Pigskin swapping was the name of the game as Art Lancaster bounced on a Lamar fumble at Lamar 21 yard line. The next play Johnny Smith picked off a Philibert pass to give Lamar the ball on their 23 yard line. Just two plays later Willie Washington accepted the pigskin from Lamar's quarterback, Charles Behn, on the 19 yard line to set up the second Demon score. On the fourth play, Joe Delaney went up the middle for two yards and the score. Philibert's pass to Schroeder for the two point conversion made it 14-0 NSU. It looked as though last year's 43-0 whipping of the Cardinals was about to be repeated. The "Tasmanian Devils," playing superb defense, held the Cardinals to 15 yards in 13 plays and no first downs. The "Devils" stopped the Cardinals on their next two possessions forcing a punt that gave the Demon offense the ball on NSU 4 yard line. The Demons could muster no offense and Pendergraft was forced to punt from deep in the end zone. A low snap and a slippery ball proved fatal as Pendergraft's fumble was recovered by Juan Taylor for a Lamar touchdown. Mike Marlow's PAT was good and the Cardinals closed the gap 14-7.

The wet pigskin struck again about two minutes later as Mark Schroeder fumbled on the NSU 17 yard line and Johnny Smith recovered it for Lamar. The recovery set up a 30 yard field goal by Mike Marlow to end the first half with the Demons leading 14-10.

Five turnovers, two of which set up Lamar scores, helped keep what seemed to be a lopsided game close. The Demon offense moved the ball at will while the "Devil" defense kept the Cardinals caged for the first half.

A 27 yard pass from Philibert to Delaney capped an 80 yard 10 play drive to open the second half. Pendergraft's PAT topped off the night's scoring for the Demons. The final score of the game was a 23 yard touchdown pass from Lamar's Larry Haynes to Tommy White all along on the right side to end the scoring with the Demons on top 21-17.

Philibert had an excellent game hitting 12 of 18 passes for 162 yards, Schroeder lead the game's top rushers with 65 yards on 27 carries, Delaney added 47 yards on 9 carries, and Brett Knecht powered for 45 yards on 14 carries. The Demon offense had a super night with a tally of 323 yards and 15 first downs.

Credit must be given to the offense line who did more than their share to account for the 323 net yards and the defense backs who played a large part in holding Lamar to 3 completions on 15 attempts in the passing department.

National news briefs

CONGRESS ADOPTS BUDGET—Congress adopted a 1979 budget Saturday which calls for $487.5 billion in spending and a $38.8 billion deficit—the lowest in five years. Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, said the reduced deficit was due partly to "deliberate congressional action to cut back on new programs." According to another senator, a balanced budget may be possible before 1983.

CARTER CUTS PLO—Comparing the Palestine Liberation Organization to the Ku Klux Klan, the Nazi Party, and the Communist Party, President Carter said Saturday "it would be nice for us if they would just go away." Carter made the statement at a town meeting in Pittsburgh after being asked why the PLO has an informational office in Washington. The president explained that many organizations "obnoxious to us" still have the "right to free speech in America so long as they don't pose a threat to the nation's security."

NEW MAGAZINES HIT STANDS—The Magazine Publishers Association reports that 606 new magazine titles have appeared on newsstands in the last two years. According to the Association, the magazines are started by individuals or special interest groups and are usually based on a popular idea or activity. Circulation of the new magazines is reported to have reached 264 million, with advertising at $2 billion last year.

FLUIDS MAY BE ENERGY SOURCE—Fluids circulating deep in the Earth's crust are at temperatures high enough to be tapped as energy source according to Dr. Nikolas Christiansen, a U.S. investigator on a deep drilling project carried out this summer in Iceland. Dr. Christiansen said the drillers found fluids with a temperature of 175 degrees Fahrenheit in the rocks at the 6,330 foot level.

YOUTH BEAT LEUKEMIA—The people of Sheep Ranch, California gave a party for 11 year old Stephen Keuning Saturday—a very special party to celebrate the youth's victory over lymphoblastic leukemia. Steve has been fighting the disease for eight years, but his doctors now believe he has a 50 to 80 percent chance of being in permanent remission.

State news briefs

FIRE STILL BURNING—Authorities at the site of the oil well fire in Hackberry said Saturday that it may take another two to five days to extinguish the fire. More than $1 million of crude oil may burn off by the time the fire is put out. An explosion blasted a workover rig and started the blaze at the underground federal storage facility Thursday night. Expert oil field fire fighters have been called in to extinguish the inferno.

LEACH GETS ENDORSEMENT—Rep. Claude "Buddy" Leach of Leesville received the endorsement of the Democratic State Central Committee Saturday in his bid for Congress against Rep. Jimmy Wilson of Vivian. Jesse Barkston, party chairman, said the committee's vote "commits the party to help raise money and to support Leach."

CANDIDATES GETTING READY—Although the 1979 governor's election is still more than a year away, some of the candidates are already busy campaigning and raising funds. Louis Lambert, Public Service Commission Chairman, and Lt. Gov. James Fitzmorris each held functions in New Orleans Friday night. Lambert said that more than $2 million is needed for the governor's race, while Fitzmorris stated that $2.5 to $3 million is necessary for "a successful governor's campaign."

FROG FESTIVAL HELD—Frog jumping contests and the selection of a Frog Queen were among the highlights of the Frog Festival held Saturday in the Frog Capital of the World, Rayne, Louisiana. The festival patrons were able to enjoy such dishes as fried frog skins, frog sauce Piquant, and frog jambalaya. Local officials estimated that 8,000 to 10,000 people attended the festival which is held annually in Rayne.

Election results announced Run-offs scheduled tomorrow

Displaying strong interest in campus government, NSU students turned out in large numbers to vote in last week's Student Government Association Senatorial election.

Seniors and sophomores elected two senators from each class. A run-off for the junior and freshman class senate positions will be held Wednesday, Sept. 27.

Amy Clifford and Julie Renken were named Senior Class Senators.

James Mitchell, a 1977-78 sophomore senator was re-elected as a junior senator. In the run-off for the second junior senator position will be Gisele Proby and Leslie Thompson.

Members of the sophomore class selected Ron McClinton and Leon Pottier to serve on the SGA.

George Papillion, Jr. was a winner in the freshman class race. Jewel Crow and CKLIFF Lopez will be in the run-off for second freshman senate position.

"I was really excited about the number of students who voted in this election," commented Terry McCarty, Commissioner of Elections. "I also want to thank all of the poll workers who helped with the voting last week."

McCarty encouraged all juniors and freshmen to vote in the run-off election on Wednesday. Voting will be held on the second floor of the Student Union from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

SUGB plans pageant

Plans for one of the highlights of the fall semester are in full swing as the NSU Student Union Governing Board prepares to sponsor the annual Lady of the Bracelet Pageant.

Twenty-one NSU coeds attended the LOB Acceptance Tea last week. The tea is held to give the contestants a chance to meet one another and receive more information about the pageant.

Those attending the tea were: Christine McRae, Yvonne Dupuy, Linda Watson, Kelly Stainback, Debra Scott, Mary Beth Nicolle, Louise Naumann, and Lori Torristall.

Also attending were: Shyrl Cauldwell, Beth Brown, Christelyn Turner, Kimberly Haddon, Laura Jenkins, Zina Curlee, Debbie Price, Shelly Spohn, Terri Sue Scott, Cheryl Gallien, Dianna Kemp, Edith Plumb, and Debbie Nichols.

Other coeds who have entered the pageant include: Donna Seben, Dodie Williams, Kathy Jones, Pam Stevens, Peggy Middleton, Delia Sweazie, Paula Webb, Sherelyn Vaughn, Jodi Tarver, Barbi Jenkins, and Lisa Teekell.

"Magical Mystery Tour" is the theme of the 1978-79 pageant. The music of the Beatles will be featured throughout the production.

Preliminary judging is scheduled for Oct. 15, according to Scott Nailey, SUGB Program Director. On that day, a panel of five judges will select the twenty girls who will go into the finals of the pageant.

The Lady of the Bracelet Pageant, which is a preliminary for the Miss America Pageant, will be held November 15.

Cheryl Purcell, 1975 Lady of the Bracelet, and Jeri Bagley, second runner-up in the 1977-78 pageant, are co-producers of this year's pageant.

Nominations open for State Fair Court

State Fair Weekend will be here soon and that means it's almost time to elect the 1978 NSU State Fair Court.

Filings for court nominations will close Oct. 4 at 12 noon, according to Terry McCarty, Commissioner of Elections.

The student body will choose a State Fair Queen and Court on Oct. 11.

Each campus organization, and individual dormitory floors may make nominations.

The nominations should be taken to Room 309 of the Student Union.

Homecoming '78

The success of Homecoming, while attributed to many facets, can be explained with the words spirit, enthusiasm, and cooperation. Above, the weekend was made by events such as the banner contest, won by KA fraternity, Dr. and Mrs. Bienvenu at the pep rally, Dr. Bienvenu crowning Donna Bray as the 1978 Homecoming Queen, and the Demon mascot cheering at the game.

You asked for it, you got it

It's amazing how rude some people can be.

Last week, because of misunderstandings and unavailability, I was unable to print a certain campaign statement, for a freshman senator candidate. There was a fifty word limit on the statements and this particular statement had approximately 175 words. It was written in a way that to edit it would mean to rewrite it completely, and I could not do that without the permission of the individual.

So, it was telephone time. I called and called and I could never get anyone home. When deadline came on Monday I had no other choice but to delete the statement, although the candidate's picture was printed.

It is true that some of the other candidates statements were longer than fifty words. This was not an observation of my own (I don't personally have the time to count every word that goes into CURRENT SAUCE) but of the candidate who did personally count each word of every statement. I must admit this point was valid, but unfortunately, the other statements were not brought to my attention. This one was, because it was so obviously long.

I could honestly understand the candidate's concern. What I couldn't understand was their totally uncalled for rudeness. On Tuesday evening, they called me three times, one of my staff members once, and Terry McCarty, Commissioner of Elections, once. Terry and I both tried our best to be polite, fair, and compromising. I suggested that they type a campaign statement and post it, with their picture, on the election board the day of the election. Terry agreed that this could be done. They hung up on me twice, on Terry once, practically called me a liar (they insisted that I had not tried to phone them the previous week when I gave them concrete evidence that I had), and they hung up on my staff member. In our final conversation, the candidate adamantly demanded an apology from me and my staff, and when I told them that I had already planned to give them one, they again all but called me a liar. That was the last straw. I told them yes, that they would have their apology all right, but that I couldn't be sure they would like it.

And to be quite honest I don't know if they will. For, in spite of the fact that I am sincerely sorry that the misunderstanding occurred, I am also quite convinced that it couldn't have happened to a ruder person. I know I am not perfect but I might add that no one else is either, and I find it hard to swallow when a freshman calls me a liar, tells me off, and tries to contest an election, on no concrete grounds.

I am going to withhold the candidate's name at this point, because under the circumstances I don't think they would want it printed. If they do, I will comply.

One last point to be made. The Commissioner of Elections has nothing at all to do with campaign statements printed in the CURRENT SAUCE. Nor do the elections themselves. The CURRENT SAUCE is involved (free, I might add) only as a service to the candidates, so that they may have the opportunity to "speak" to NSU. So my apology is not for SGA or the Elections Board. They do not owe one. I suggest that the opposite is true. But here is your apology, however demanded, sincere.

A meeting of the Senate of Northwestern State University was called to order by Vice-President Sanders at 6:35. Absent were Hall, Cathey, Wilson, Karr, and Davis. The minutes were approved as read.

OFFICERS' REPORT:

McKellar discussed with Senate that Roxanne Louviere President of Southwestern SGA is trying to get all universities that have SAGA contracts to boycott the cafeteria food by messing in the food for the Hell of it. This way the SAGA contractors will lose a great deal of business and would hopefully take a better interest in the way that they serve food.

Sanders expressed his apologies to the Senate for not supporting and attending the Senate meetings.

Burkhalter told Senate that there was no treasurer's report due to the fact that the books were being audited.

McCarty asked Senate to work the polls for the Class Senators Elections Wednesday, Sept. 20th 8-7.

LeDuff discussed with Senate the idea of putting up a Suggestion Box so that students' opinions could be looked into. LeDuff told Senate that she will be working on a SGA Newsletter.

Cottrell gains film experience

A Northwestern State University senior from Shreveport is gaining experience in film-making by working with the NSU Television Center in the production of three films for the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Since last spring, Mark Cottrell—who desires to become an independent film-maker—has been capturing on film graphic scenes designed to show the public the importance of lake management, saltwater fishing and wildlife and fisheries agents.

The Northwestern student, who has done most of the filming for the projects, has eaten everything from peanut butter sandwiches to escargot on his assignments and has traveled by airboat, charter boat, helicopter and airplane since becoming involved in the making of films at NSU.

Thomas N. Whitehead, producer-director of the NSU Television Center, said Cottrell is putting classroom knowledge to practical use. "I have become so confident in Mark," he said, "that he will be going out on his own and will no longer require a director to accompany him on film assignments."

Cottrell was a student assistant at NSU last spring and was employed by Whitehead this summer as assistant director for the filming projects, which are being funded through a grant the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries received from a Rockefeller Foundation trust fund for wildlife education.

The NSU student has filmed throughout the state and offshore in the Gulf of Mexico. He has captured on film speckled trout fishing off the Chandeleur Islands, commercial crabbing on Lake Theriot, turkey hunting at Fort Polk, the opening of dove season in Oak Grove, the Labor Day Boat Races in Morgan City, tagging of saltwater trout near Lake Charles and hybrid breeding of striped bass on Toledo Bend Reservoir.

A certified scuba diver, Cottrell will soon travel some 100 miles out into the Gulf of Mexico where he will do underwater filming of the "flower gardens," which is the only natural reef in Louisiana waters.

"This is a valuable experience for me," said Cottrell, "because I want to go into some area of communications, such as independent film-making. I have met some interesting people and have been to places most people will never have an opportunity to go."

As part of the lake management film being produced by NSU, Cottrell spent some time on Lake Salvador near New Orleans. He was there to document the spraying of fowchet, an aquatic plant that grows in the marshes and produces a burr which can damage the pelt of the nutria.

Although there is pleasure in Cottrell's work, there is also an element of danger in some of the duties he performs.

"On one trip to Grand Isle," said Cottrell, "I had to be secured with a gunner's strap so I could hang outside a U.S. Coast Guard helicopter to film the 'rip,' which is the area where the brown or dirty water of the Mississippi River joins the blue water of the Gulf of Mexico.

"We were doing this segment for the saltwater film. People tell us this is the best place for fishing, because the larger fish, such as sailfish and marlin, often school at the 'rip.'

"During the time I was hanging out of that helicopter, I really wasn't worried. I was a little apprehensive at first, but I soon dismissed any uneasiness because I had confidence in the people who took responsibility for my safety."

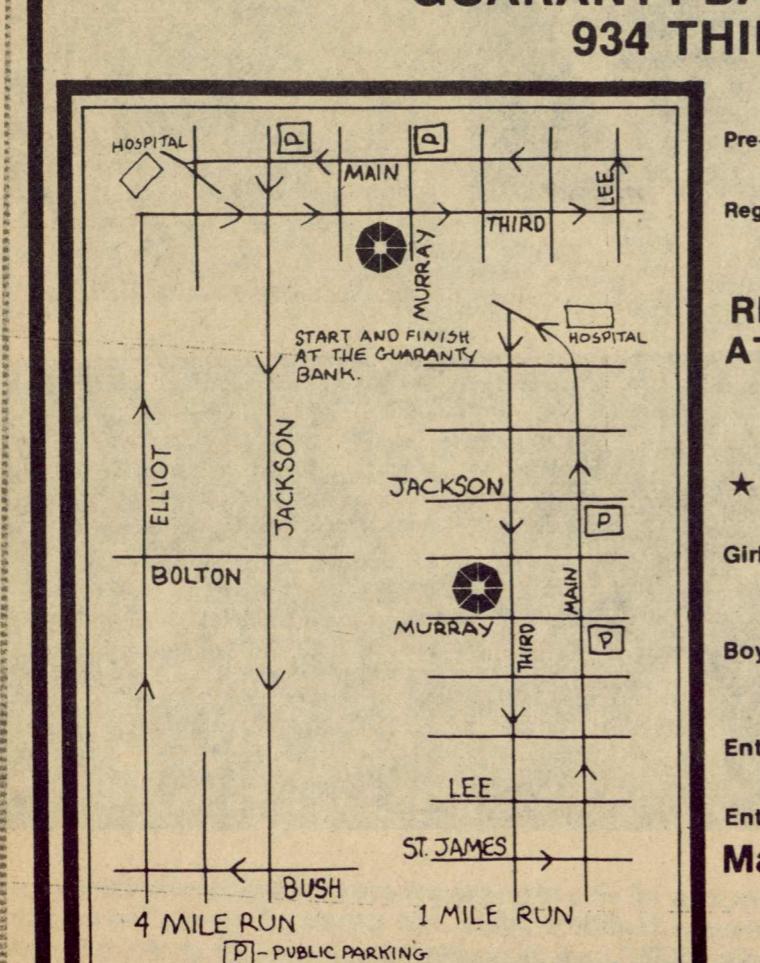

Many of Cottrell's working days have been long, like the day when he was a passenger for more than 14 hours on the "Sailfish," a charter boat participating in the Grand Isle Tarpon Rodeo.

"The boat was no larger than a 30-footer, and we were riding 10-foot seas that day," said Cottrell. "It was a rough experience. Water was breaking over the flying bridge, and for about eight hours that day I was on top of the boat looking down through my camera and waiting for someone to bring a big fish to the surface."

The Northwestern student also encountered some unique experiences while filming segments for the film on wildlife and fisheries agents.

"On one of our trips to Baton Rouge," he said, "we were with a group of department officials who found a large patch of marijuana growing behind the Wildlife and Fisheries Building. We filmed while the agents destroyed it."

Cottrell's involvement with the film projects has led to lessons in ecology. He has filmed oil spills and sugar mill pollution near Baton Rouge and has gone to the Atchafalaya Basin for a continuing series of films on the control of water hyacinth. He has also filmed laboratory projects as they were being conducted in the wildlife and fisheries offshore headquarters on Grand Terre.

LeDuff awarded SGA PR scholarship

Linda Dees

Shirley LeDuff was awarded a one-quarter scholarship as Northwestern's Student Government Association Public Relations Director in a bill passed Monday, September 18. The cabinet position was established last Spring to form a channel for SGA communications with the student body, administration, and community. The SGA also approved the Director as committee adviser and ex-officio member.

"I think the public relations scholarships is the most important action the Senate has taken this fall. It confirms the SGA commitment to communication with the student body," says SGA President, John McKellar.

LeDuff has compiled and edited an educational brochure on SGA activities. The brochure, along with posters, has been distributed throughout the university and community.

Plans for a suggestion box and the publication of a bi-monthly newsletter have been finalized.

LeDuff has attended monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheons. Included in her community efforts are news releases to the school and local papers.

A senior French Education major and Journalism minor from Baton Rouge, LeDuff is assisted by Public Relations major, Linda Dees, of Oakdale.

Eugene P. Watson Library, opened in August 1972, has passed the one million mark in visitors. On June 9 of this year the library recorded the one millionth click of the turnstile, according to "Ex Libris," the library newsletter.

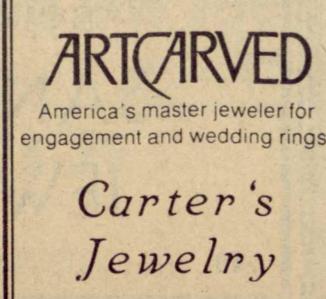

The exhibit now in the library lobby is part of a collection donated by Dr. Warren R. Evans of the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation of NSU. Many books from the collection will be available for circulation.

The books, mainly in the area of Outdoor Education, was donated as a memorial to Dr. Evans' son, Bob, who died in March of 1977. Copies of a catalog of the collection, called "It's a Wonderful World; a Collection of Books on Man and Nature", are available at no cost.

The exhibit will be on display through Oct. 15, 1978. Several reference aids for students and faculty members are available in the library.

"The Encyclopedia of Social Work" is in its seventeenth edition and is a welcome update to the last edition published in 1971. Articles include biographies of notable Americans who contributed to the growth of Social Work in the U.S. Information on activities and programs in social welfare is also available.

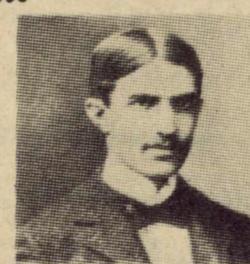

"The Business Information Sources" by Lorna Daniels provides material concerning the business world. A section on Computer and Management Information Systems makes this one of the most modern reference tools in the business field.

A man said to the universe,

"However," replied the universe,

Those are Stephen Crane's words. And they pretty well sum up the American spirit. A spirit of fending for yourself, working out your own destiny. Sure, we have ways to help the poor, the sick, the under-privileged. But basically the American Free Enterprise system says that you can be whatever you want to be if you work hard enough and if you're good enough. Free Enterprise works. And it will go on working.

Multi-arts event at Red River Revel

The Red River Revel, a multi-arts happening, is scheduled for September 24-30, 1978. Held at the Convention Center Complex on Clyde Fant Parkway in Shreveport, the event is an unique celebration where art can be seen, experienced, and ignited.

This "celebration of the arts" offers a variety of entertainment and food to please everyone. Over 55 musical performances provide a touch of all kinds of music. Jazz, classical, rock, bluegrass, folk, blues, and progressive country are included.

The performing arts greatly enhance the diverse festival. Dancing performances range from modern and jazz to ballet to folk and square dancing. Opera and drama are also well represented. Also featured as a part of the entertainment are yoga, gymnastics, puppet shows, magic shows, and belly dancing.

A popular attraction of the Revel is the demonstrations and workshops. Artists not only exhibit their work, but also hold sessions in woodcarving, cooking, silk screening, macrame, watercolors, batiking, and photography to name only a few.

There will be a little something for everyone at the festival. Woodcarvers, blacksmiths, jewelry, knife, and doll makers, basket weavers, and book binders will surely interest many.

If the entertainment doesn't appeal to you, the food surely will. The various booths offer everything. Corndogs, Greek pastries, Natchitoches meat pies, seafood gumbo, and red beans and rice will tempt everyone's taste buds.

A special Revel spirit prevails throughout the entire week as the festival moves through its events with ease. Lasting each day from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., the Revel is admission-free.

The Shreveport convention center and riverfront will come alive with the start of the annual Red River Revel. It is an event that no one wants to miss!

Play tryouts scheduled today

By Tina LaCaze

Open tryouts for the second production at NSU's Little Theater will be held on September 26 and 27 from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m.

The Me Nobody Knows, an early 1970's rock musical, will be directed by Ray Schexnider.

For tryouts you should have a piece prepared to sing. A pianist will be furnished.

This musical is based on poetry written by people who live in the ghetto. Schexnider stated, "The play deals with the trials and tribulations of this type of life."

The script consists of limited dialogue that leads into musical numbers. The lyrics are about drugs, dreams, parent trouble, alienation and lack of purpose in life. The music, that will be updated, will require keyboards, percussion, guitar, and horns.

A November production date has been set. The director hopes to do some matinee performances and tour locally with a smaller version.

Demons Corral Cowboys With 10-7 Clash

Here We Go Again...

NSU quarterback Kenny Philibert continued his leadership as quickness and deception prevented a set back in loss of yardage

Oh No You Don't!!!! Northwestern right end David Wright downs Cowboys quarterback Chad Millet deep in enemy territory.

Demons 3-0 to date, what next?

The Northwestern State Demons seemed to have had their best foot forward during the Homecoming battle against the McNeese State Cowboys last Saturday night. Topping off a very successful Homecoming celebration for 1978-79, the Demons came out victorious with a 10-7 win at Turpin Stadium.

With the Cowboys ready for action and the kickoff counting down, the Demons made a few last minute changes in its offensive line-up. The most notable change occurred with No. 44, Joe Delaney, taking the place of starter Mark Schroeder, No. 24. Delaney, a sophomore from Haughton, La., has 177 yards and a 7.1 average per carry this season excluding the defeat of McNeese.

The starting of the first quarter kicked off with high spirits as Connie Hatcher ran back the opening kickoff to the 21 yard line starting deep within the end zone. The Demons first attempts to dominate fell short, ending with Dennis Pendergraft's first punt of the night for 17 yards after an unusual bounce for the worse.

With the ball now in the hands of the Cowboys, the first play took tailback Theron jmcClendon off the right tackle, running 55 yards untouched, and scoring the first touchdown of the night. After the shattering run by McNeese for 6 points and Don Stump's extra point attempt, NSU trailed 7-0.

The next possession for the Demons took shape with several well earned first downs from various sweeps and a combination of short passes from NSU quarterback, Kenny Philibert. The remaining first quarter followed the same tight struggle by both teams until the clock read 5:56 and Pendergraft pulled through for the Demons with a 33 yard field goal putting the score, also aided in setting a new all time record for attendance with 12,400 fans filling the stadium, unfortunately the all time low was recorded for Demons late in the second quarter gave Brett Knecht a 3 yard gain along with a touchdown. With the Demons now credited with 1 field goal, 1 touchdown, and 1 extra point, the Northwestern State Demons led the Cowboys 10-7.

This year's competition in flag football promises to be one of definite excitement. Already a total of 30 teams have begun the final preparations of deception to put down their opposing competitors. With eight of the thirty teams belonging to the women, the action looks to be fast and furious as well as time consuming.

One problem facing each of the night.

Enthusiasm is a part of every athletic event and thus was the case from the fans, special guests, and NSU Alumni as well planned strategy was shown by each squad.

The NSU Demons are experiencing a truly rewarding season to date with an exceptional display of talent on both offense and defense. This year's season has kicked off to a winning start for the Demons with the full support of the student body, faculty, and area residents alike. Only time will tell for the current 3-0 standing as the Demons go head-up with the Northeast Louisiana University Indians next Saturday night at 7:30 in Monroe, La.

Demons ranked 7th in national 1-AA play

Artists Series host three concerts

The Northwestern State University Art Series will present three concerts during the 1978-79 school year, all of which will feature truly outstanding artists of national and international fame. The first concert on Sunday, Nov. 5, at 8:00 p.m. highlights LEONARD ROSE, cellist. Mr. Rose has soloed with major orchestras throughout the United States and has performed numerous solo recitals and chamber music with Isaac Stern, violinist, and Eugene Istomin, pianist. The Stern-Rose Trio is considered by many to be the finest piano trio in the world. For his program in Natchitoches, Mr. Rose has chosen works by Debussy, Beethoven, Bach, Brahms and Chopin.

On February 4, 1979, at 3:00 p.m. the newly known duo of ROBERT HALE and DEAN WILDER will perform a concert of solos and duets in the A.A. dericks Fine Arts Auditorium. Many local residents will recognize these gentlemen by their many recordings of both sacred and secular music. HALE, who lives in California, is leading baritone of the New York Opera, while WILDER heads the Music Department at William Jewell College. They will be accompanied at the piano by OVID YOUNG.

The final concert of the school year will occur on Monday evening, March 12, at 8:00 p.m. when the NEW YORK BRASS QUINTET will play in the Fine Arts Auditorium. This group is generally respected as the best brass ensemble in the Americas. In addition to a concert, the NEW YORK BRASS QUINTET will present a two hour master class for students at Northwestern as well as High school brass players from around the states. The master class will occur on Monday afternoon, from 1:30 p.m. andis being sponsored by the local LMEA music educators.

R. Rath, chairman of the Art Series, said, "I am really excited about this year's Series. We have three really great events and the concerts are free for students. All the students have to do is pick up their season tickets at the Student Union Information office (Room 211) and then show up at the concerts." Rath continued, "We are starting a new procedure this year in which students will pick up their free season tickets in order to gain admission to the concerts. These tickets will be picked up by Friday, Oct. 13. After that time, all remaining tickets will be released for sale to the general public. Faculty and staff and Northwestern students will then be able to purchase the tickets for $5.00, and non-university adults will be able to obtain tickets for $10 for the season. Individual general admission tickets will be sold at the door $5.00 per person." Rath's new procedure was arrived at after careful consideration of past policies and legal matters pertaining to ticket sales. Basically, it is possible the custom of free admission with might get us into an embarrassing situation if we offer tickets for sale to the public and then all the seats are taken by ID holders.

The new procedure really favors the students by guaranteeing them free admission. But it is each student's responsibility to get his own ticket, and one ticket per ID will be issued by the Student Union Ticket Office. "Our reason for this is to get specific information at each ticket holder so that we can keep them of concerts throughout the year and also to contact them about season tickets for next year. Most universities do this as standard practice, and it is the only way that one can keep in touch with the audience on a personal basis."

Williams discusses plans

1978-79 Potpourri staff named

The staff for this year's Potpourri yearbook at Northwestern has been announced by the university's publications committee.

Michael Gallien, senior social sciences major from Dry Creek, will serve as editor of the student publication. A member of the yearbook staff since 1976, Gallien was managing editor of the publication's Greek and class editor.

Rath disagrees with the idea that the Art Series is designed only for a few people those that know music. "Actually, the only way that people get to know music is to experience it through listening. A person can enjoy listening to a concert even though he might not know anything about the technical aspects of the music. And even if a person decides that he doesn't like a particular type of music say a string quartet, for example, he should at least permit himself to make that judgment based on experience. Quite frankly, universities have an obligation to present cultural opportunities to the students, faculty, and staff. It's good to have a healthy mixture of all aspects of public performance in a variety of media."

Students are reminded that their tickets can be picked up at the Student Union Information Office, Room 211, between 8:12 and 12:30 to 4:30. These tickets will be free until Friday, Oct. 13th. Beginning Monday, Oct. 16th all tickets will be released for public purchase. So get your tickets early!

The managing editor for the 1978-79 Potpourri is Tina Beaham, senior speech pathology major from Natchitoches.

Natchitoches freshman Candace Boyd is editor of the Potpourri's administration section and John Young, a freshman from Shreveport, is the Potpourri photographer.

Serving this year as apprentice members of the Potpourri staff are freshmen Kristy Towry of Natchitoches and Bob McKellar of Shreveport.

Ezra Adams, professor of journalism at NSU, is the advisor to the Potpourri staff.

"I have a very hard-working staff this year," Gallien said. "We're starting out with two strikes against us because of the severe financial problems the Potpourri is facing, but I am confident that the staff will use the funds we do have to put out a quality yearbook."

Gallien also said that the Potpourri staff would appreciate the cooperation of all members of the university as the staff gathers pictures and information for the 1978-79 yearbook.

NSU football players listen intently as Coach A. L. Williams outlines game strategy. The Demons ranked seventh in the national 1-AA division last week—the first ranking the team has made since the late '60's. The team travels to Jonesboro, Arkansas, this week to tackle Arkansas State.

VATICAN ANNOUNCES FUNERAL RITES—An outdoor funeral will be held Wednesday for Pope John Paul I who died Friday at the age of 65. Mourners filed past the body of the late pontiff over the weekend to pay their respects to the man who reigned as the leader of the Roman Catholic Church for only 34 days. The pope's death has caused many people to question the quality of medical care at the vatican.

KENNEDY SPEAKS AT CONFERENCE—Sen. Edward Kennedy, speaking at the New Hampshire Democratic State convention Saturday, once again stated that he will not be a presidential candidate in 1980 and that he will support Jimmy Carter for re-election. Kennedy praised Carter "for facing up to a number of difficult issues."

RAIL STRIKE ENDS—Railroad clerks back to work Saturday, ending a strike that paralyzed nation's rail transportation system for four days. According to a Union Pacific spokesman, trains began rolling within hours after the strike ended. President Carter ordered the union clerks back to work by implementing the 1926 Railway Labor Act.

PENNANT WINNERS DECIDED—The New York Yankees beat the Cleveland Indians 7-0 Saturday and secured a tie for the American League East Division pennant while the Philadelphia Phillies won their third straight National League East title Saturday by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-8.

PERFORMER DIES—Ventriloquist Edgar Bergen, famous for his act with his wooden dummy Charlie McCarthy, died in Las Vegas Saturday at the age of 75. Bergen had opened at Caesar's Palace last Wednesday for a two-week engagement. The cause of death was believed to be natural causes. Bergen had announced on Sept. 21 that he and Charlie McCarthy would retire in December, ending a career of more than 50 years.

CARTER IN FLORIDA—President Carter celebrated his 54th birthday Sunday by presenting the Congressional Medal of Honor to six American astronauts during ceremonies at Cape Canaveral. The astronauts honored were Neil Armstrong, Frank Borman, Charles "Pete" Conrad, Sen. John Glenn, Alan Shepard, and Virgil Grissom, whose wife received the posthumous award. President Carter also visited Disney World and spoke at a Chamber of Commerce Convention.

SERVICES HELD FOR CRASH VICTIMS—Memorial services were held Sunday in San Diego for the 144 persons who died last week in the collision of the Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 727 and the Cessna 172. The San Diego County Coroner revised the death toll from the air disaster from 150 to 144 Saturday, saying that he could only confirm the death of seven persons on the ground. Investigators of the National Transportation and Safety Board predicted that the final report of the accident will show that several factors caused the disaster.

Our money isn't good enough for Shreveport

That wonderfully insane and fulfilled event is once again knocking on our doorsteps.

Yes, State Fair week—and the Tech game—is almost here.

Once again we will thrill to the midnight journeys to Ruston, burn bulldogs, exchange insults, post "Go to Hell, Tech" stickers everywhere and be caught in the frenzical, whimsical activities that make State Fair week the amazing event that it always is.

Once again Shreveport will roll out the red carpet for Northwestern and Tech students, ready to lap up the many $$$ spent on this, that, and everything. Once again we will wine, dine, party, etc. etc. . .

But wait. Will the weekend be the event it is every year? Or has Shreveport decided that they aren't interested in the students money or business, but are instead catering to the REAL money—Louisiana Downs?

It's understandable that businesses, etc. want to attract the racetrack people, but I find it hard to believe that in doing so they must cancel reservations made in the summer so that they can make more money. I also find that, for a city that usually declares the Saturday of the Tech-Northwestern game as "Tech-Northwestern" day, the hospitality of several businesses is not quite up to par. Does this help your business? Is this good for Shreveport's reputation?

I suggest that Shreveport merchants remember that students do not always remain students. Many of them graduate and move to Shreveport. Many of successful merchants themselves. They also become respected, influential, voting citizens, and when you get down to it, money is money, no matter who spends it.

If Shreveport doesn't want NSU's business for the weekend in question, let's hope they realize that they could also be turning down a lot of prospective business for the future.

Mitchell firm on energy issue

Meet James Mitchell. He's a junior Economics major, SGA Senator, and student subcommittee chairman of the faculty Energy Conservation Committee.

What's so unique about him? He's the author of six energy conservation bills currently being passed by the SGA. Amidst sighs of boredom and mutters of "oh, no, not again", Mitchell stands firm in his introduction of such proposals.

What do the bills provide?

Bill No. 9: "An education program to be implemented to alert students and faculty to the expense of energy and the need for energy conservation."

Bill No. 10: "NSU acquire a less expensive source of electricity."

Bill No. 12: "NSU adopt a four-day school week, allowing classroom facilities to be inoperable during the extended week-end."

Bill No. 13: "NSU adopt a more efficient use of university vehicles."

Bill No. 14: "NSU withdraw from the city limits of Natchitoches (to obtain a cheaper

Bill No. 15: "All night classes be conducted in one classroom building whenever possible."

Why do you advocate energy conservation so strongly at NSU, James?

I'm concerned about the quality of education which I and other students lose because NSU has to pay so much money to the city of Natchitoches. If NSU's utility bill is not covered by the $638,400 budget, the school will be in serious financial trouble."

What are the results of his campaign?

Mayor DeBlieux is to be invited to represent the city of Natchitoches in an open-forum sponsored by the SGA. The administration is confronted with student concern. Students learn statistics and their significance on such critical points. You are challenged to equal Mitchell's leadership.

James, meet those who share your interest.

Come on, don't be shy. Let James hear your side of the energy conservation story.

Iberville cafe becomes target

By Shirley LeDuff

The SGA Student Services Committee has recently begun thorough investigations into student service operations on the Northwestern campus according to Jamie Sanders, chairman of the committee. Included in these operations are Iberville Dining Hall, the Infirmary, and the Post Office.

Iberville Dining Hall has become the first target on the list as the result of numerous complaints from students and a random poll taken during the Sept. 20 SGA Senatorial election.

According to Sanders, 28 (twenty-eight) written complaints from students concerning the dining hall service were taken during the course of the election day. The complaints included such comments as: (1) The steak is too tough on steak nights; (2) The dining hall needs to stop serving leftovers; (3) The cafeteria needs to be mopped in a more effective sterilizer; (4) Janitors sweep while people are eating; (5) The milk is often sour; (6) The service is too slow with people who have to rush to classes; why not leave both lines open constantly—mainly the breakfast line; the attitudes of the workers are sometimes very rude; (7) The workers need to wear hair nets over the hair to keep it out of the food and drinks; and (8) The milk machines should be kept filled during breakfast.

A complete list of the complaints was sent to Jack McCormick, present manager of Iberville Dining Hall. With the list was a memo from Sanders requesting that McCormick send feedback to the committee concerning each complaint. It was also requested that McCormick attend the Oct. 2 SGA Senate meeting.

A second random poll was also conducted during the Senate run-off election of Sept. 27. This poll mainly centered around the Infirmary and Post Office although additional comments about the dining hall were accepted.

Results of this poll as well as feedback results from McCormick concerning the food service will be printed in next week's Current Sauce.

McCormick meets SGA

Dees

Mr. Jack McCormick, Food Service Director, Iberia Hall, met with the SGA on Monday, Sept. 18.

"I'm here to work with you any way I can," assured McCormick.

He further submitted his intention to attend all SGA meetings pertinent to cafeteria issues.

Discussion between the SGA and McCormick nailed down specific answers to student questions.

He confirmed that the problem of sour milk had been cleared. He then agreed to have the SGA edit all statements in the cafeteria suggestion box.

Students losing their meal tickets after Roy Hall office hours need only show their feed to eat in the cafeteria, he said.

Concern was voiced concerning the heavy traffic preventing students from getting breakfast and reaching their 9:30 Tuesday and Thursday classes on time.

Cormick promised to have the matter resolved.

He insured the body that accommodations could be made for fraternity and sorority meetings.

Student Services Committee chairman, Jamie Sanders, announced meetings for the year to be held Thursdays at 7 p.m. He outlined plans for a student sounding board to discuss one aspect of student weekly. Examples he cited were the cafeteria, postal service, infirmary, dormitory and the liquor issue.

McKellar also suggested that SGA funds buy a souvenir annually reside with the owner of the NSU-Techines.

It was recommended that money appropriated for the so-called Spring '78 concert be combined with the amount allotted for the fall concert to attract a widely-known band.

This proved fruitless due to the administration's budgeting of that money.

A three-day meeting in Baton Rouge started on Sept. 27 to discuss problems and identify some goals of Libraries in Louisiana.

This meeting was a precursor to a 1979 Washington meeting.

The delegate from this area is Mrs. Judy Jackson, Natchitoches. Also from Natchitoches was Donald MacKenzie, director of the Watson Library, who served as a "resource person," providing facts to the discussions.

Captain Pace's comments were made in reference to the 94 new freshman recruited into the program, the largest number of recruits for one semester in five years. The fall semester of 1977 brought 45 recruits while there were 80 students recruited in the spring of '78.

The first course of ROTC has changed since last year. According to Capt. Pace, "There's a variety of different programs which we'll make military science bigger than ever."

The first course (MS 101), previously dealing with the organization of the army, is now a course in marksmanship in which the student may earn a hunter's certificate.

MS 102 is basically the same as last semester. It deals with group dynamics, interpersonal relationship, and management.

Six military science students have become the recipients of 3-year Army ROTC scholarships for the years starting with the fall of '78.

The six students are: John Russell (Natchitoches), an engineering major; Maryan Maples (Bossier City) pre-med; Paula Behrnes (Zackary) secretarial administration; Jay Breyer (Highstown, N.J.) economics; Weslie Powell (De-Ridder) business administration; and Duane Spriggs (Alexandria) chemistry.

Organizations Give News Briefs

ASA

Art major, Al Lavalais, was elected vice-president of the Association of Student Artists at its organizational meeting, September 5. Returning officers include President Marie Hebert, treasurer David Whetnall, and secretary Gwen Snyder.

Hebert said, "The purpose of the club is not to promote an individual to a recognizable status. We are not promoting art as buyers or sellers. Rather, we are a fellowship, a means for people interested in art, no matter what their major or minor, to get together and have a good time, but still have the opportunity to exchange art ideas or be exposed to the inside story of art."

Tentative fund-raising plans include film presentations of different aspects of art-related fields, button sales, and car washes. Profits are to be used for a party after each of the functions. Another portion of the earnings will go towards tours of place not on the agenda of those sponsored by the Art Department.

The society's membership drive, currently being initiated will conclude at its next meeting.

KAPPA SIGMA

The members of Kappa Sigma fraternity held a chapter exchange with the members of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority on Thursday, September 28. Chapter members participating in flag football have opened the season with four wins. There are two teams involved, with three wins accredited to the second team, and the first game win for the first team.

Plans for the upcoming state fair weekend celebrations are currently being made by social chairman Mark Cotrell.

After the McNeese game Saturday, September 23, the Kappa Sigmas were recognized by the Kappa Alpha order with a "Sig" party. At this time Kappa Sigma has no plans to throw a "KA" party.

...but there's always tomorrow

NATCHITOCHES—Have you ever had one of those days that everything you did or tried somehow went wrong?

Well, Northwestern State University head football coach A.L. Williams knows how you feel, because he and his Demon squad had one of those "days" Saturday night.

"I wish I could explain what happened to us," Williams said in the wake of his team's demoralizing 46-0 loss to Northeast Louisiana Saturday night in Monroe. "We just didn't do any of the things that we had been doing all year, and when we got behind we couldn't recover."

The Demons, suffering a loss for the first time in four outings this year, were victimized by eight turnovers during the contest, which matched two unbeaten teams and boosted Northeast's record to 4-0 on the year. However, it wasn't the turnovers that did NSU in.

Instead, it was a seemingly never-ending succession of big plays by the Indian offense, which put on its most outstanding show of the season. The Indians scored five offensive touchdowns, and four of them came on plays of 38 yards or more. That total gives NLU eight sc res from that distance or more out of 12 this year.

"We fell behind early, but I was always confident that we could come back," Williams said. "We kept making mistakes and giving up the big play, though, and when they got ahead by 23 points early in the second quarter we were in trouble."

The Demons drove to the NLU 19 on the game's first possession before Dennis Pendergraft misfired on a 37-yard field goal, and on NLU's second play from scrimmage John Floyd hauled in a 79-yard aerial from quarterback Kirby Arceneaux to start the onslaught.

"If we had taken that first score in, I think it would have been a very different ball game," Williams said. "We had to abandon our game plan and play catch-up, and we made too many mistakes to do that."

The Indians rolled up 548 yards in total offense on the Demon defense, which had been the squad's saving grace in NLU's first three wins, and Arceneaux and Bud Cespiva riddled the Demon secondary for 15 pass completions in 23 tries without an interception, including two long scores to Floyd.

"After we got burned a couple of times, our backs started playing cautiously," said Williams, "and they completed several passes that we would normally have well covered. You've got to give Northeast some credit, though, because they were ready and did a great job doing the things they do well."

The problem for the Demons now is to regroup from their worst defeat in 27 seasons (since a 76-0 loss to Mississippi Southern in 1951) before Saturday's contest with Arkansas State, the second of a series of four straight road games.

"We've come back before," Williams said, "and I think our squad has the type of people that will be able to forget this loss and look forward to the rest of the season. I hope so, anyway."

Bows win 7-1, Co-Ed Softball champs

In the finals of co-ed softball, J.B. Wells, had four hits, and Lisa Breazeale added three hits to lead The Bows over TTKO by a 7 to 1 count.

The Bows opened the scoring with two runs in the first. To complete their battery they added three runs in the second, one in the fifth, and one in the sixth.

TTKO's lonely run came when Sharon McManus drove in Cindy Thiels. McManus, Jbroussard, Murray, and Pennington each had two hits for TTKO but all in a losing effort.

SGA and Blood Center ask NSU to 'Give Blood and Share Life'

Vol. LXV No. 32

The Northwestern Student Government Association in coordination with the Shreveport Regional Blood Center is sponsoring a blood drive on the NSU campus Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 25 and 26 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

A frisbee will be given to each blood donor in an effort to promote student participation. The Regional Blood Center has also sent t-shirts, bumper stickers, and publicity signs to promote the drive.

Any person between the ages of 18 and 65 is eligible to give blood as long as he or she weighs at least 110 pounds and is in good health. Blood may be donated every eight weeks.

The most common type of blood is O Positive, while AB Negative is the rarest blood type. However, the brochure points out that even O Positive blood can be "rare" if there is not enough of it when a person needs it.

According to a brochure distributed by the Natchitoches Parish Volunteer Blood Program, donating blood is quick, easy, and relatively painless.

Why should you donate blood? The brochure states a simple reason—blood is life and there are no machines which manufacture blood. Blood of every group and type must always be available in case of emergency or special need.

A brochure distributed by the American Association of Blood Banks explained that a one pint donation is less than 10 percent of the body's supply of blood and that this amount will not be missed. According to the brochure, the red cells donated will be replaced by the body in about two or three weeks. In addition to red blood cells, plasma is also a vital part of the blood which is donated.

The Blood Center stresses that it is important for the donor to eat a good meal four hours prior to giving the blood. Any medication such as antibiotics, or diabetes medication which indicates that a donor may have an underlying disease will make some blood donors unacceptable.

The blood that a person donates must be used within 21 days after it is given. However, new methods now enable medical personnel to preserve components of the blood for longer periods of time.

Those who donate blood become members of the Family Blood Assurance Plan of the Shreveport Regional Blood Center.

"We strongly urge all students, faculty, and staff members to participate in making this drive a success," stated Terry McCarty, SGA coordinator of the blood drive.

NEW POPE INSTALLED — Pope John Paul II was installed as he first non-Italian pontiff in 455 years during ceremonies Sunday in Rome. On Saturday P ope John Paul gave the traditional press audience with 1500 journalists. He shocked Vatican aides when he stepped down from the dais and mingled with the journalists, holding what is now being called history's first papal news conference. In his speech, the first Polish pope praised the ideal of freedom of the press and urged reporters to "use it correctly." John Paul asked reporters to avoid the "sickness of the century—haste" in reporting Vatican affairs, and he urged them to look at the "spiritual aspects of the church" rather than the political.

LONG WANTS RECALL — Russell Long, Senate Finance Committee Chairman thinks President Carter should call Congress back into session to handle important unfinished business. Speaking on a taped program for Louisiana stations Saturday, Long also criticized Sen. Edward Kennedy who urged Carter to veto the $18.7 million tax cut bill, partly designed by Long.

State news briefs

SHREVEPORT POLICEMAN KILLED — Shreveport police officer Thomas Glen Tompkins was shot and killed Friday night while transporting a man to the city jail after a disturbance at a bar. The suspect has been identified as WAXAYNE Felde, a Maryland state penitentiary escapee. The police officers were called to the Shreveport bar after a disturbance was reported. The officers removed Felde from the bar and tried to send him home in a taxi, but the suspect became belligerent. After searching the suspect, the officers found a box of bullets on him. They then arrested and handcuffed him and placed him in the patrol car. Even though he had been searched, Felde had managed to hide a gun in his pants. Tompkins had driven only a few hundred yards when Felde shot Tompkins in the lower back. Officers shot and arrested Felde, who escaped from the patrol car, a few moments later. Shreveport detectives said that an investigation will be conducted to determine if the officers were negligent in their duty when arresting Felde.

Activities highlighted

State Fair Week brought spirit, enthusiasm and excitement to Northwestern as NSU students, administrators, faculty, and staff participated in the various week's activities. ## NSU enrollment down for Fall '78 but administrators optimistic for future

Northwestern along with several other universities across the state experienced a drop in enrollment for the fall semester, according to a report released last week by the Louisiana Board of Regents.

However, school administrators are optimistic that the situation will improve in the future.

The NSU Registrar's Office reports that total enrollment including undergraduate and graduate students is 5,894, compared to the 6,216 students enrolled last fall. This is a five percent drop in enrollment.

The Board of Regents reported enrollment drops at Northeast, McNeese, the University of Southwestern Louisiana, and three LSU institutions—the University of New Orleans, the Law Center, and LSU-A.

LSU-Baton Rouge campus reported a 4.5 percent increase and the LSU-Eunice campus an 8.5 percent increase.

NSU student enrollment is divided among six academic colleges as follows: Business, 876; Liberal Arts, 427; Education, 974; University College, 916; Nursing, 802; and Science and Technology, 558. There are 1,241 students enrolled in graduate school this semester.

"We all hope enrollment will increase and we are doing all we can to help," stated Ms. Cleola LaRoue in the Registrar's Office. She cited the Board of Regents report, pointing out that NSU is not the only university that has lost students. When asked about enrollment projections for the spring, Ms. LaRoue explained that spring enrollment is usually a little less than in the fall even when fall enrollment figure are up.

Director of High School Relations Danny Seymour is another administrator who is working to boost NSU's enrollment.

"We are using programs that have worked in the past, and implementing new, fresh ideas to tell people about NSU," he said.

"The reception has been good because people are interested in the "new" NSU with its new administration and programs. People are happy to hear from us," he continued.

Although enrollment figures were disappointing this semester, people on campus are working and planning for a better future.

Seymour expressed what seems to be a common attitude on campus when he said, "I am enthusiastic and looking forward to brighter days."

Spirit — Fair Week highlight

From the Monday night midnight breakfast to the week-end activities in Shreveport, many NSU students enjoyed a fun-filled State Fair Week for 1978.

Members of the SGA and SUGB served breakfast to the student body in Iberville dining hall Monday night, kicking off the week's activities.

Tuesday the NSU SGA travelled to Louisiana Tech where they defeated the Tech Student Government Association in flag football.

The '50's were alive at NSU on Wednesday as students pulled out their leather jackets and bobby socks for games, competitions and parties. The activities ranged from ice cream eating contests to hula-hoop contests at students celebrated in the 'Grease' style.

Dancing flames lit up the sky Thursday night on the side of Sabine dormitory and a 'bulldog' was burned at the annual bonfire. The NSU cheerleaders led the crowd in yells and chants to "fire-up" the Demons in preparation for the weekend ahead.

By Friday afternoon the Northwestern campus had few signs of life as students headed for the festivities in Shreveport.

The sun was shining, the temperature was comfortable and Shreve Square was packed Saturday afternoon as NSU and Louisiana Tech students gathered for the annual Rally in the Alley. A spirited pep rally led by the two school's cheerleaders helped put the crowd in the mood for the game ahead. Most of the crowd seemed to be enjoying themselves as they visited, celebrated and joked about the football clash at State Fair Stadium.

A crowd of 21,000 fans assembled under a cool clear sky Saturday night to watch the Demons and the Bulldogs. The NSU State Fair Court members were escorted by SGA officers and Senators during pre-game ceremonies. Dr. Rene Bienvienu crowned Queen Diane McKellar before a cheering NSU crowd.

Although the NSU fans were disappointed with the results of the football game, the night was not over for many. Students and visitors from both schools crowded the State Fair midway to enjoy the numerous rides, games and attractions.

Everything may not have turned out as the Demons had hoped his weekend, but the NSU student body put much spirit and enthusiasm into State Fair.

Editorial

Hats off (?) to Shreveport

Thanks Shreveport.

Thank you so much for your hospitality last week.

Thank you for your Mayor calling a press conference for the Tech-Northwestern Queens last Tuesday and then neither the Mayor nor the press showing up.

Thank you for accepting hotel reservations last summer for organizations and cancelling them about a month before the weekend, so that a lot of students had to dig just for a place to stay.

Thanks for the extreme cooperation at State Fair stadium...the great parking spaces allotted to the schools, the press cooperation, the cooperation with the bands (giving them both the same hour to practice was really humorous.)

Thanks to the Mayor for his concern about everything. Shreveport can't get a new one too soon.

Thanks for making no bones about your number one love last weekend, the racetrack.

We're sorry we couldn't pour more money into your economy—but thank you for accepting our few thousand dollars as ungratefully as you did. It's just that we didn't have anywhere else to spend it.

Maybe, just maybe, we can pay you back in some way for all that you didn't do. Like maybe not having the Northwestern-Tech game there. Since both schools have excellent football facilities now, it's just possible it can be arranged to play the games in Ruston and Natchitoches from now on, and those two cities, who aren't so lucky to have a great racetrack can begin to put into their economy the "few, mealy dollars" that the two school students bodies, faculties, administrations, and alumnis spend on that weekend. (By the way Shreveport, you love the racetrack so much, why did you vote it down several years ago and give the option to Bossier City?)

Thank you, Shreveport, so very much. For nothing.

Blood IS life

In this day of non-involvement and "do your own thing" philosophy it is difficult to experience a sense of unity with your fellow man. All men, however, have in common the gift of life and the responsibility of respecting and preserving that gift.

You can help sustain the life force of which you are an integral part, by donating blood. Blood IS life. It is the common bond of mankind. It is the precious human resource which can be shared by one human being for the sake of another.

When you give blood, you share the personal gift of your life-force...with the injured victim of an accident or disaster...with the patient undergoing open heart surgery...with the child with leukemia or hemophilia...with the woman in childbirth...with the newborn with RH factor reaction.

In all of these instances and a multitude of others, life would end without the sustaining properties of blood. Thus when you give blood, you give life to someone else...a stranger in name, but a brother in humanity.

Be a lifesaver! Donate blood on Wednesday and Thursday, October 24 and 25 when the mobile blood drive is at NSU in the Grand Ballroom of the Student Union from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

It only takes a few minutes of your time to give someone else a lifetime!

Dig Saving Energy, Geologists Urge

We are burning up our oil and natural gas resources as if there's no tomorrow. But tomorrow's needs for energy will be even greater than today's.

This year the U.S. is expected to consume almost 20 million barrels of oil a day. According to The World Almanac only 10 million barrels of oil a day are produced domestically. Frightening, isn't it? By 1985 it is estimated that consumption will increase up to 25.6 barrels a day, with domestic production rising to only around 11 million barrels daily.

Mafia Tie to JFK, Oswald Deaths A Story Unproved but Persistent

days later in an oil drum, wrapped in heavy chains.

It had been heaved into Miami Bay where it was supposed to have disappeared forever on the ocean bottom. But body gases made the oil drum buoyant and caused it to rise eerily from its watery grave.

Police sources told us they had learned from underworld informants that Santos Trafficante had ordered Roselli rubbed out. This was an allegation, of course, that could not be proved.

Roselli has been dead for over two years. But his story has come back to haunt Trafficante. Recently, he was hauled before the House Assassinations Committee and questioned about reports that he had foretold that Kennedy "would be hit."

The crime lord, hunched and balding, denied it. "Absolutely not," he said. "No way."

Now, however, we have obtained a fascinating FBI report dated March 21, 1967. It quotes a former top FBI official who had learned from his law clients about the CIA-Mafia plot to knock off Castro.

"Castro ... arrested a number of suspects," states the report. "By pressuring the captured suspects, he was able to learn the full details of the plot against him. He decided, 'If that is the way President Kennedy wanted it, he too could engage in the same tactics.'

"Castro thereafter employed teams of individuals who were dispatched to the United States for the purpose of assassinating President Kennedy."

In short, the story simply won't go away. This, of course, does not mean it is true. There is no proof. And Castro himself has emphatically denied it.

Trade War: With cold and quiet efficiency, the Soviet Union is winning a major war against the United States — without firing a shot. It is the trade war.

While U.S. officials sit idly by, the Soviets are seizing control of the world's major shipping routes. The American maritime fleet, meanwhile, is becoming an international joke. If the situation does not change, the United States may be paying the Russians to ship American materials in the decade ahead.

The Kremlin bosses have made it clear that they intend to use the world's shipping lanes as an "international tool for building communism." They are accomplishing it by undercutting their maritime competitors by as much as 50 percent. Soviet shippers, in short, are taking huge, government-subsidized losses in order to steal business away from Western shippers.

Pension Plight: More than 30 million Americans are enrolled in some form of pension program. Congressional investigators have determined, however, that many employees who are counting on their pensions to cushion their retirement might do better to put their money in savings accounts.

This confidential investigation, conducted by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has raised serious questions about how the funds are being managed, or mismanaged. The senator is planning to hold hearings on the pension fiasco next month.

Deceptive Advertising: The military dictators who run Chile have received a lot of bad publicity. They have been denounced for abusing human rights. And now the United States is trying to extradite the former Chilean secret police chief for masterminding a murder in Washington, D.C.

The Chilean leaders are trying to counterattack with some positive publicity. But they are using highly deceptive tactics.

The Chilean embassy, for example, recently distributed a publicity package to the press. One of the items included in it was the September issue of Nation's Business magazine. The embassy boasted that the periodical contained "a special report on Chile."

The so-called "special report" was in fact a paid advertising supplement.

SUGB plans events

by Ron Thomas

"The committee chairmen perform the most obvious function of the Union Board. They are the ones who plan and program the activities that the students participate in throughout the semester."

This statement, made by Mike Alost who is president of the Student Union Governing Board, gives a summary of the committee chairmen's role as a whole. But what is each committee and how do they function?

Committee chairmen are voted on in the SUGB in that they are responsible for the programming and activity in their individual committee areas," according to Ron Thomas, vice-president of Entertainment and chairman of the Big Name Entertainment Committee, "and these activities are the entire reason the SUGB is here."

This year's committee chairmen and their areas are Cammie De Blieux, Decorations; Lisa Wright, Hospitality; Debbie Player, Fine Arts; Kathy Gresham, Public Relations and Advertising; Chuck Reed, CinemaFocus; Julie Parker, Lagniappe; Christy Turner, Social Activities; and Ron Thomas, Big Name Entertainment.

"Con Funk Shun" Pumpkin carving contest slated

by Ron Thomas

The popular Mercury Records recording artists "Con Funk Shun" will perform in NSU's Prather Coliseum on October 26.

Board's Big Name Entertainment Committee, will begin at 8:00 p.m. with Atlantic Records new discovery, "Eclypse", opening the bill.

Con Funk Shun's latest release was the "Loveshine" album, which is their third LP and their second gold album.

The group gained popularity through their last release "Secrets" and the single from that album, "Ffun." Both went gold.

The Memphis-based group originally began a decade ago in Vallejo, California when Mike Cooper (guitar) and Louis McCall (drums) formed Project Soul while still in high school. In one year they expanded to their current lineup of Karl Fuller (horns), Paul Harrell (horns), Cedric Martin (bass), Felton Pilate (horns), and Danny Thomas (keyboards). The group has remained the same ever since.

Around 1971 the group appeared with the Soul Children in the movie release "Wattstax". In 1972 the group moved to Memphis and changed their name to Con Funk Shun.

The group has toured with such acts as Stevie Wonder, Tower of Power, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Rose Royce, and many others.

Keep Record Book, Throw Out Axioms As Demons Fall

SHREVEPORT—There is an old axiom that says history doesn't repeat itself—but after watching Louisiana Tech roll to 21 points in the second quarter of Saturday's State Fair Classic game with Northwestern for the second year in a row, you can throw your book of old axioms out of the window.

Coach A.L. Williams' Demons survived two first quarter thrusts by the long for the second quarter Bulldogs, surrendering only a 20 yard Keith Swilley field goal.

Northwestern's offense looked ready to come to life as the quarter drew to a close—the Demons had picked up 17 yards on three plays to end the period.

But after the upbeat end of the first stanza, it didn't take

"We had very poor execution. I really felt like we'd play a good game this week, because we had a good practice week, but...we did very poorly. I was impressed with the play of Darryl Toussaint, though," Williams said after the game.

The Bulldog provided most of the spark as Tech took a 45-20 win over the Demons before 21,000 fans in State Fair Stadium.

Tailback Joe Delaney finds the going rough Saturday night as the Northwestern State University sophomore is surrounded by Tech tacklers Jimmy Blackshire (8, left) and an unidentified Bulldog. The Demons dropped a 45-20 decision, their fourth straight loss and their eighth straight defeat at the hands of Tech.

Louisiana Tech tailback George Yates (32) has all kinds of problems on this run through the Northwestern State University defense Saturday night during the annual "State Fair Classic" in Shreveport, as Demon tacklers Arthur Pickens (left), Willie Washington (99, background) and Stacy Holder (79) all combine on the tackle. NSU fell to the Bulldogs 45-20 before 21,000 fans.

1978-79 Demon Basketball Team

Greene, (back row) Roger Nolan, Mike Hoops, Robert Lively, Frederick Piper, Guy Charles, Benjamin Dunn, Andre Bailey and Jim Hoops. The Demons play their first intrasquad game this Saturday in Prather Coliseum at 5 p.m.

Baseballers Take Three of Four

Northwestern State University's fall baseball squad took three out of four games last week to even its record at 4-4 on the abbreviated fall season.

NSU batgirl Scotti Dawson finally found home plate and gave it a much-needed cleaning during the doubleheader with NLU.

Demons Second in USL Cross Country

Northwestern State University's cross country squad used an overall team effort to tie for second this past Saturday in the annual University of Southwestern La. Invitational Meet in Lafayette.

The Demon squad finished with 41 points, only three points behind USL's winning 38-point total and tied with McNeese State with 41. The University of New Orleans was a distant fourth with 103 points.

"I was very impressed with our overall effort," said NSU track and field and cross country coach Jerry Dyes after the meet. "Both USL and McNeese have outstanding teams, and I am pleased that we stayed with them the way we did."

Sophomore Billy Green, as he has for all of NSU's other meets this season, was the

The Demons split a pair of games with Centenary College in Shreveport Friday, losing the opener 10-1 but rallying back for a 6-5 victory in the nightcap. That followed a doubleheader sweep of Northeast Louisiana last Monday at Stroud Field, the Demons taking a pair of 5-4 and 8-7 victories.

"We've been playing pretty good ball," said NSU graduate assistant coach Barry Hebert, "but the thing that pleases me more is that we've been playing a lot of people and have still done well. We've been trying to give our new people some experience, and we've been playing over 20 people in each of our doubleheaders so far."

The squad rallied in the top of the seventh in the second game against Centenary, putting together two hits and a walk to break a 5-5 tie. Kenny Stelly picked up the victory.

In the first game of that twinbill, the Demons were out of the game as early as the second inning when the Gentlemen rolled up nine runs on nine consecutive hits in the second frame. Steve Fry suffered the loss for NSU.

Things went a little better in the earlier contests against Northeast, which was NSU's first doubleheader sweep of the fall season. The Demons followed the pitching of Scott Stagner and Chris Solleau and had a balanced hitting attack in taking a 5-4 first-game victory over the Indians, who remained winless on the season with the sweep.

In the second game, NSU trailed 7-3 entering the bottom of the seventh inning but put on a rally. Two runs were scored with no outs, and John Stassi blasted a home run to left field to tie the contest at 7-7. Donnie Mosley's one-out single plated Daryl Keowen moments later for the winning run.

But Big Plus for NSU Team

Records 'No Big Deal' to Mike Almond

He is on the verge of becoming Northwestern State University's all-time pass reception leader, but that's not a big deal to Mike Almond.

It's not a big deal to a lot of other people, either, because things like that have now come to be expected of the 6-foot-2, 190-pound senior standout. The outstanding has almost become commonplace, and the superhuman has become practically typical.

Almond's performance last Saturday night during Northwestern's loss to Louisville was a good example of that. The Bossier City native hauled in pass after pass in the losing effort, and when it was over he had 10 receptions for 145 yards on the night. That total was enough for a new school single-game reception mark, breaking the old mark of eight set in 1966 by Russ Gielow against Southwestern La. and tied two years later by Steve Gaspard against Abilene Christian.

Still, the performance went all but unnoticed...except by those who saw it.

"Mike had the kind of game that he's capable of at any time," said NSU head coach A. L. Williams. "He made all the difficult catches look routine, and he went up after the ball in a crowd a lot of times and came down with it."

On Almond's first two catches Saturday night, when the Demons faced arch-rival La. Tech in the annual "State Fair Classic" in Shreveport, he tied and broke the school all-time career record for receptions of 85, set by Gaspard between 1966-69.

"The record's important because it'll give

"We're going to have to come up with a better effort than we've been getting over the past few weeks, said Williams. "We didn't play that baely against Arkansas State, but against Louisville and Tech we didn't execute well at all."

In the loss to the Bulldogs, the Demons were behind 45-0 before getting any points on the board, with all of those 20 points coming in the fourth quarter on a pair of one-yard runs by quarterback Rex Henderson and a flea-flicker pass from Wyanond Waters to Mike Almond good for 38 yards.

There were a couple of other bright spots for the Demons in that loss. Almond, a senior, had two catches in the game, giving him 86 catches in his career to break NSU's all-time career pass reception record of 85 set by Steve Gaspard from 1966-69.

The other bright spot was the play of freshman free safety Darrell Toussaint, a walk-on this fall who wasn't even listed on the roster early in the season. Toussaint, 5-foot-10, 160 pounder from Opelousas, had 15 individual tackles, one fumble recovery, one caused fumble and the game's big hit awarded by the defensive coaches.

"Darrell was one of only a few players that played really well," Williams said. "He had a super game, and if everybody had given the effort he did we would have had a great game."

Nicholls State, on the other hand, snapped a three-game losing streak last Saturday with a 10-7 victory over Mississippi College, a victory which boosted the Colonels to an identical 3-1 record. Nicholls is also 3-1 in competition in the Gulf South Conference, the league that Northwestern formerly belonged to before stepping up to Division I status.

"Nicholls always plays us as tough as they play anybody all year," said NSU head coach A. L. Williams, "We've never really played up to our potential against them, but they've always come up with a fine effort against us."

The series records tend to bear that out.

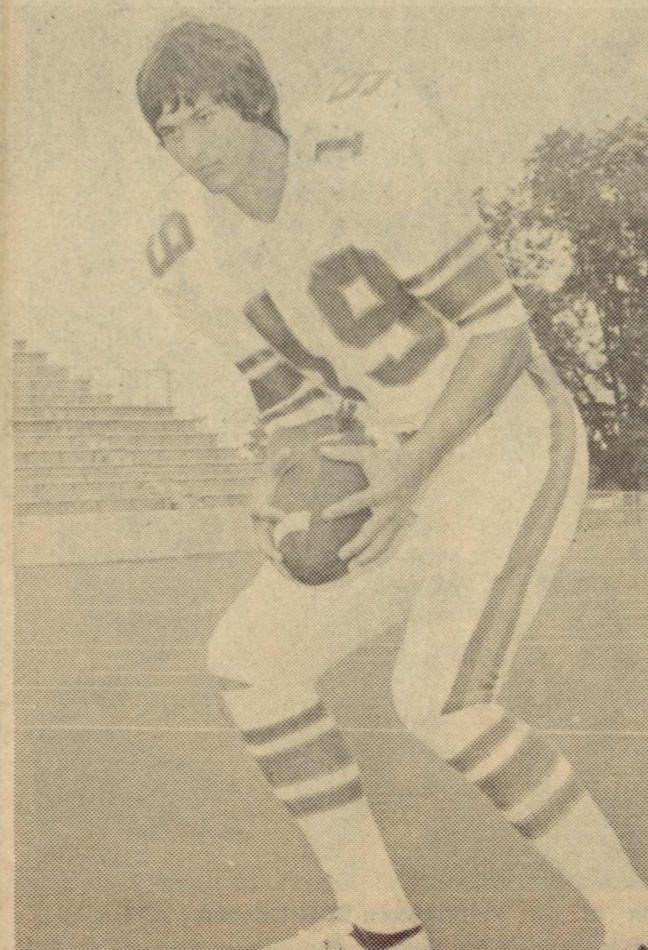

The Colonels hold a 4-1 record in the series between the two teams which began in the 1973 season, with the Demons' only win being a 20-8 decision here in Turpin Stadium in 1976.

Nicholls State won last year's meeting 10-6 in Thibodeaux, one of four wins in a 4-7 season for the Colonels while Northwestern rebounded to finish 6-5 on the year.

First baseman Ted Reeves scored on this close doubleheader with Northeast at Stroud Field.

somebody else something to shoot for later," Almond said. "But I'd rather go without catching a pass and have us win."

Almond made a splash during his first year at Northwestern when he caught 25 passes for 399 yards and three touchdowns to lead the team in all three categories. For that performance, he was named as Louisiana's "Outstanding Freshman" on the All-Louisiana Collegiate Team. He did all of that, incidentally, with a club that compiled a 1-10 record.

Since then, he's added onto that mark each year, catching 25 passes for 405 yards last year along with two touchdowns. So far this year, he had 16 grabs for 199 yards prior to the Tech game and is on his way to his best season ever reception-wise.

The former Bossier High star has professional aspects, and he has all the tools. He has 4.7 speed in the 40, good moves, and he is one of the most sure-handed receivers in school history.

"My father was an All-State player in high school," Almond said of his father, who is chief of police in Bossier City. "He has always made me want to excel to the very top in athletics, and I guess wanting to make him proud of me has given me most of my drive to do well."

Income gap widening between men and women

Despite all the efforts of the last 10 years, the income gap between men and women is widening—not lessening—in most areas of the nation.

According to recent statistics received by the Louisiana Bureau for Women from the U.S. Department of Labor, women working full-time in 1977 earned about 60 cents to every dollar earned by working men. Median income for women was $8,814 while for men it was $15,070. Women were earning only 58.5 percent the salary of men.

During the last 25 years, women's earnings, figured as a percentage of men's earnings, have dropped steadily. In 1955, fulltime women workers earned 64 cents to men's one dollar. By 1960 this figure had dropped to 61 cents. By 1977, 17 years later it had dropped to 60 cents, the most recent figures available show.

According to date from a survey of income and education just released by the Bureau of Labor, in 1975, the median income of men in Louisiana was twice that of women working full-time—$12,292 for men as compared to $6,128 for women.

Why the gap? During the last decade the labor force expanded beyond government estimates. A key factor for this expansion has been the large influx of women workers. The number of women holding jobs has grown from 18 million in 1950 to 42 million in July 1978.

Of women in the workforce in March 1978, nearly 80 percent were in clerical sales, service, factory or plant jobs.

"Female workers are heavily concentrated in a few occupational categories traditionally thought of as 'women's jobs', which are underpaid, undervalued and underappreciated," explains Elizabeth Dugan Koontz. Ms.

Koontz chairs the National Commission on Working Women (NCWW), and is the former head of the Department of Labor's Women's Bureau. According to Koontz, women hold 41 percent of the jobs, but do not have their fair share of the pay, responsibility of career opportunities.

Pat Evans, Director of the Louisiana Bureau for Women, says, "There is no doubt in my mind that women working outside the home in such great numbers is one of the most fundamental and far reaching changes that has taken place in this century. Change for women means change for everyone."

Evans adds that the Bureau for Women is compelled to call attention to this change and design programs in areas of greatest employment need for women.

According to Evans, the Bureau acts as a catalyst. "Industry bears the greatest financial burden for the programs we design. We asked them to join hands with us in placing women in blue-collar jobs. They did. It's as it's ould be," she stressed.

EL Ginko to perform November concert

By Debbie Page
Current Sauce Editor

The Entertainment Committee recently announced that the next concert slated for Northwestern will bill the now famous, multi-talented band EL GINKO for the November concert schedule.

The big name band, which consists of two tall people, two short people, three goldfish and a french poodle, has gained its recent popularity from such smash hits as "You broke my heart so I'll break your leg", "Swimming in dirty tank water without you," "Take your false teeth out Mama, I'm coming home to suck your gums," and "please take off my collar, I have a date with a pole."

The group members have no lead singer, and they insist upon sharing billing and the money they receive from their appearances. Northwestern will be paying them $6,345.39 for their performance. When asked why the figure was so strange, they replied that the 39 cents was for goldfish food.

While interviewing the group members, they introduced themselves as Lotta Gink, Modda Gink, (the tall ones), Shrink Gink, Fink Gink, (the short ones), Cinny, Phinny, Skinny, (the goldfish) and Stuffy, (the French Poodle).

Lotta and Modda did most of the talking, with Shrink and Fink pulling on my skirt trying to get my attention. Cinny, Phinny and Skinny had no comments except for a few glubs now and then, (In harmony, of course).

The group will perform at Northwestern on Tuesday, November 31, at 11 a.m. Classes will not be dismissed because University leaders do not deem it necessary. Entertainment Committee members announced that this was the only time we could book EL GINKO and that we were lucky to get that.

The Committee also discussed its decision of booking EL GINKO in an open meeting last Sunday morning.

"We had a choice between EL GINKO, Bee Gees, the Beatles and Grand Funk. We decided on EL GINKO because they gave us the best deal. The next best deal was the Beatles, but they were $50.00 more and they wanted to perform on a weekend night. We were afraid to chance spending that much more money since no one stays here for the weekends and we probably wouldn't have as good a turnout," said the Committee Spokesman.

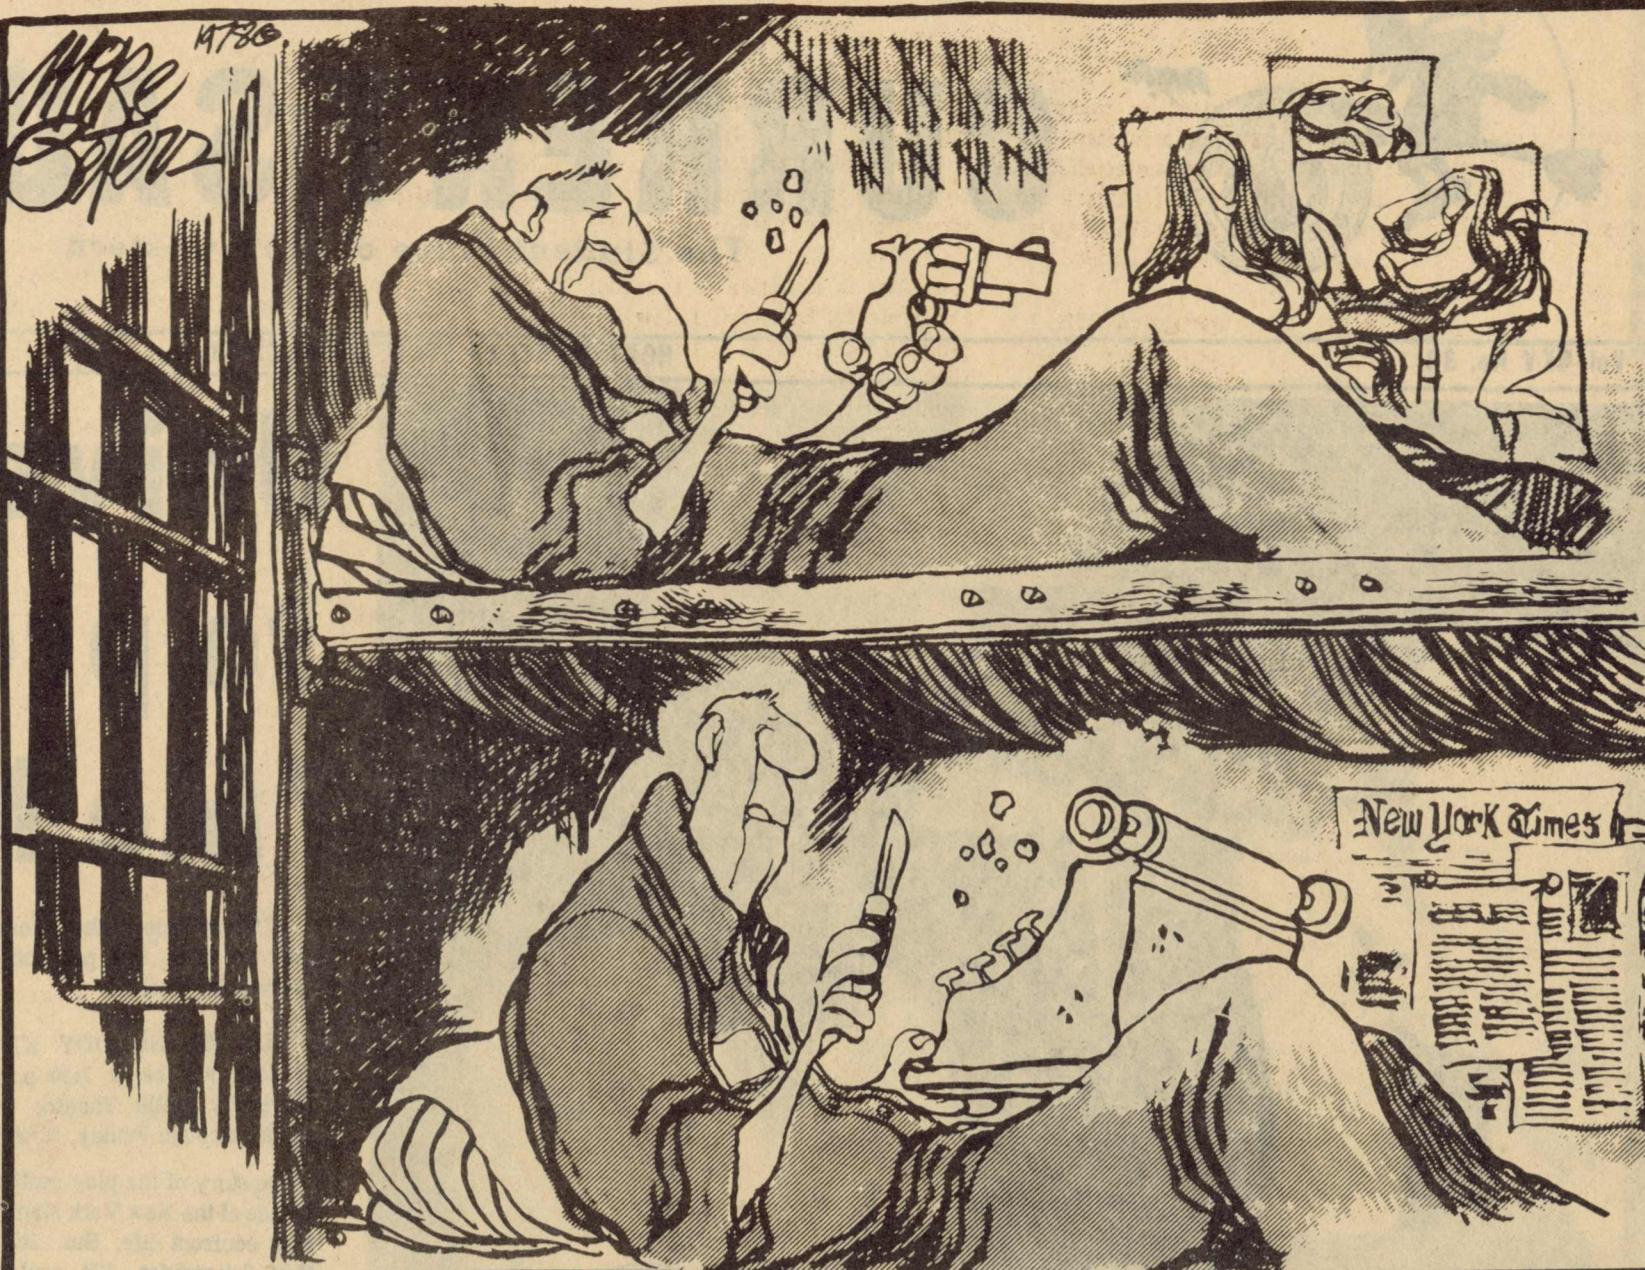

"We figured that, everyone is probably tired of those groups anyway, since they hear their songs on the radio all the time, so we decided to go with the freshest act," he continued.

Other members of the Committee were unavailable for comment as most of them have resigned from school and left for Southeast Asia and other far parts of the world.

The Entertainment Committee is also footing the bill for EL GINKO's equipment, since Northwestern does not have correct facilities and EL GINKO doesn't have any of their own. This being rather strange for a professional group, I asked why they didn't own equipment. They answered that they kept being told that no one in his right mind would sell equipment to a group with gold fish and a French Poodle.

EL GINKO'S performance will be one in a series of their 1978 tour. Their Louisiana engagements include Zwolle, Dry Prong and Shogaloo, with three concerts slated for Bunkie. Other American cities on their annual tour include Benton, Arkansas; Paris, Texas; Athens, Texas; Cut and Shoot, Texas; Badger, Colorado; Peoria, Illinois; Kokomo, Indiana; Houna, Alaska; and Podunk, Idaho.

YA' KNOW KID, THINGS COULD BE WORSE - WE COULD HAVE BEEN STUCK IN HERE WITH A REPORTER...

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR
WEEKLY SPECIAL

Are Soviet Tactics Used
By U.S. Civil Service?

WASHINGTON - According to Washington folklore, presidents are but small dogs wagged by a giant bureaucratic tail. But to the surprise of the political pros, President Carter won his first battle with the bureaucracy. He pushed through unwanted civil service reforms.

This should help him get a handle on the bureaucracy. But our sources believe he would have done better by cleaning out the Civil Service Commission. He has a secret report in his files which tells of civil service violations. The report includes names and details.

The most disturbing practice we have discovered in the federal system was borrowed from the Soviets. We have investigated reports that government officials have tried to ruin the careers of stubborn subordinates by ordering them to take psychiatric fitness-for-duty examinations.

The subordinates can be required to submit to psychological examinations. If they agree, the tests may be stacked against them. If they refuse, they can be fired for insubordination.

We have written about this nasty practice in the past. Now a House subcommittee, led by Rep. Gladys Spellman, D-Md., has documented the story.

The report has not been released, but we have had access to it. So far as we know, this will be the first official acknowledgement that the U.S. government has used the Soviet tactic of branding dissidents as mental cases.

The Spellman report alleges that involuntary psychiatric examinations have been misused to punish unpopular employees. This has happened, according to the report, on a significant number of occasions.

In 80 percent of these cases, the immediate supervisor decided which employees needed psychiatric examinations, even though the supervisors had no medical expertise.

The report also states that the employees have no right to examine the results of their own psychiatric examinations. The only defense they have is to submit written reports on their own behalf.

Finally, the report concludes that the psychiatrists are asked to do something they are not trained to do. They must determine whether an employee is capable of doing his job. Yet the psychiatrists know little about the job and have been trained only to diagnose illnesses. The employee, meanwhile, must prove his innocence or competence.

Our sources claim that the forced fitness-for-duty examinations cause more psychological damage than they prevent.

Watch on Waste: The armed forces and public works agencies recently scraped the bottom of the barrel when they ran short of funds while President Carter battled with Congress until the last minute over how much they would get.

We received a number of protests from military employees who could not collect their salaries. Others had to pay their own travel expenses and wait to be reimbursed.

But at the Army Corps of Engineers, the top brass were as loose with the taxpayers' money as ever. Several of them spent a week at a Savannah, Ga., resort.

It was billed as a conference, and there were some productive work sessions. But they brought along their wives. And they stayed at the luxurious Savannah Inn, which offered golf, tennis and swimming between sessions.

They also used nearby riding stables and fishing boats. The festivities included a T-shirt night and a country-western buffet, complete with live music.

The brass hats had to pay $28 a day out of their own pockets to cover their wives' expenses. But the women were flown to Savannah from all corners of the country, free of charge. In one instance, the Army had to send an extra plane to carry all the wives.

The taxpayers, of course, picked up the $45,000 bill. Yet the Pentagon was supposed to be low on funds. The White House had just ordered a 20 percent cut in administrative travel, and the orders specifically urged the elimination of staff retreats.

A corps spokesman insisted it was not improper to bring the wives on government planes. In the future, he said, the corps would comply with the president's order to reduce travel.

It's just hard to break old habits.

Watch on Waste, Part II: Classes end. Government scholarships are supposed to be lumped together and awarded to those who can't afford an education. But on American Samoa, scholarships are granted to critics of the government to shut them up.

The money for the scholarships, of course, is put up by the American taxpayers.

The daughter of Samoa House Speaker, for example, received a scholarship after a promised government job fell through. Presumably, this soothed the feelings of both the daughter and the Speaker.

A lawyer involved in litigation against the island's attorney general received another scholarship. The third grant went to the man who was supposed to become president of the Samoan Community College but was rejected by the Samoan governor. The scholarship was a consolation prize, which kept him mollified.

The three scholarships cost the taxpayers a total of $150,000.

'Pail and Shovel'—New concept in student government

Jim Mallon, 22, and Leon Varjian, 27, began their race for student body president and vice-president of the University of Wisconsin-Madison atop a giant campaign platform they built themselves—out of Popsicle sticks.

Founding the "Pail and Shovel" party last spring, the two seem to have found a true line of communication to college students' feelings about campus politics and college life in general.

"All the average student cares about is sex and drugs and rock'n'roll. In that order," says Mallon.

Working out of a paneled student union office featuring a filing cabinet marked "Toys," Mallon makes a statement about an issue many student body presidents before him have discussed—student apathy.

"We're happy that students are apathetic, if not, we'd be out of office."

Now dominating student politics at this campus, which was a hot bed of anti-war radicalism in the 1960's, the Pail and Shovel candidates won 29 of the 36 seats in the student senate in the latest election.

"We have two more than a two-thirds majority now and no one can stop us," Mallon, the new president, stated.

It may be difficult to determine what to stop. Some of the campaign promises made by Mallon, a communications art major, and Varjian, who is in his 10th year of college are as follows:

Flooding the football stadium for mock naval battles, break oldsmobiles and mounting all deans, converting parking meters into gumball machines and running clocks backward so Part II: classes end before they start.

They proposed converting student funds into pennies and dumping them into a campus fountain, so students could dig who can't—pails and shovels.

"Pail and Shovel is dedicated to the four-year-old in all of Somos," stated Mallon.

Seemingly serious about some of their plans, the student government last week changed the school's name to the University of New Jersey.

"That way kids from Wisconsin can say they graduated is put up from a prestigious Eastern school," Mallon said. "And we should be able to get the New York Times a lot cheaper."

Earlier, Mallon and Varjian helped plan and okayed funds for a wild "toga party," attended by about 12,000. And then there was the marijuana "smoke-in" which drew 5,000 to the state Capitol.

Paul Ginsburg, dean of students, said the rise of Mallon and Varjian means students are seeking a little light-hearted relief from academic and social pressures. "People are just looking for something less serious," he said.

About 40,000 students attend the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Former mayor to speak Nov. 6

Carl Burton Stokes, former mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, will be at Northwestern State University on Monday, November 6, to speak as an expert in the difficult field of urban problems.

For four years Stokes was a leader of the activist, big city mayors around the country who were attempting to secure the massive national commitment required to meet the urban crisis: keeping a city from collapsing under the weight of human problems, comprehensive services, and economic crises.

Stokes, who is now a commentator for NBC-NEWS in New York, was the first black to be elected Chief executive of a major American city.

On April 16, 1971, he stated that he would not seek re-election to a third term as mayor but rather, for the next year, "expand my efforts beyond the Cleveland area to assist others, particularly the locked-in minority groups, to better understand their role in politics and government."

In April 1972, after lecturing and doing political organizing at the community level in 12 states and 23 cities, Mr. Stokes joined New York City's WNBC-TV.

Mr. Stokes now produces an Urban Journal for the news-feature segment of WNBC's new two-hour news show. The Urban Journal is a mini-documentary analyzing urban problems in metropolitan New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. He also does a daily commentary about urban and political subjects on NBC network radio.

Jaycees Haunted House tonight

The faint-hearted and easily-frightened should be prepared for one more night of terror as the Natchitoches Area Jaycees stage the second night of their first annual Haunted House this evening.

The Haunted House is being held in the Jaycee House located on the Natchitoches Parish Fair Grounds and will be open from 7 until 10 p.m. Tuesday. Admission to the house is 50 cents per person.

Steve Weaver, Jaycee chairman of the Haunted House project said that if this is the first year that the local Jaycee chapter had staged such a project. "We should have an outstanding haunted house," Weaver said, "and we're really out to make money this year. Anything we make will be pumped back into the Haunted House to improve it each year."

The Haunted House features six rooms of favorite monsters, spooks, and nightmares along with a booth featuring favorite Halloween refreshments sponsored by the Natchitoches Jaycee Jaynes. Among the attractions that will be staged are Dracula, the Wolfman, and Mummy, Frankenstein Monster and other assorted ghouls.

"We are hoping for a big turnout for the Haunted House," Weaver said, "and we guarantee the house will feature much more than 50 cents worth of entertainment and surprises."

Delaney, Demons Rip Nicholls 28-18

Sophomore tailback Joe Delaney broke the state collegiate single-game rushing record and scored all four Northwestern State University touchdowns Saturday as the Demons ran past Nicholls State University 28-18.

Delaney, a 5' 10" 180 pounder from Haughton, had scoring runs of 87 and 71 yards on his way to a 28 carry-299 yard performance that shattered both the state record of 287 yards by Southeastern's Horace Belton against Delta State in 1974 and the school record of 184 yards by Mario Cage set in 1973 against Southeastern.

The sophomore speedster, who has a 9.4 100 yard dash clocking, picked up just 36 yards of his total in the scoreless first half of the contest. His first carry in the second half, the 87 yard touchdown jaunt, was also the first offensive play for Northwestern in the third quarter.

Nicholls came right back after Delaney's run to take the lead on two lightning-quick scoring plays. On the third play following the Demon kickoff, Colonel halfback Dwight Walker darted 52 yards to paydirt, but Demon Darryl Toussaint blocked the extra-point try to leave the score at 7-6.

Delaney fumbled on the first play after the kickoff, and Byron Boyd recovered for Nicholls at the Demon 24. From there, quarterback Tim Bailey found flanker Keith Davis open and hit him with a perfect scoring pass on first down. A pass for the two-point conversion failed, leaving Nicholls with a 12-7 lead.

After Delaney returned the kickoff 34 yards out to the Demon 43, Northwestern put together a 13-play, 57 yard drive climaxed by Delaney's one yard dive into the end zone to reclaim the lead 14-12.

Later in the fourth quarter, the Demons stopped a Nicholls scoring threat at the Northwestern 29 yard line. On first down, Delaney dashed 71 yards down the sideline for his third touchdown. Then, after Rodney Procell recovered a Colonel fumble on the kickoff, Delaney went 25 yards downfield and into the end zone to close out the Demon scoring.

Nicholls' final tally came on an eight-yard look-in pass from Bailey to Davis with 7:08 left in the contest. Another two-point conversion attempt failed. The Colonels never got the ball back, as the Demons pieced together a 15-play, 62 yard drive that ran out the clock.

A small "crowd" of 8,100 watched Delaney's efforts, which in addition to breaking the state rushing record, tied school marks for most touchdowns in a game, most points scored and most points responsible for. Attendance on the student side of Turpin Stadium was described as "sparse" by writers covering the contest, as it was obvious that most students missed the greatest night any Louisiana collegiate back has ever had.

Almost overshadowed was the running of fullback Brett Knecht, who carried for 146 yards in the contest. Knecht and Delaney spurred the Demons to a team total of 443 yards on the ground, the second-highest total in school history behind the 1970 effort of 539 yards rushing against Bishop College.

"Our offensive line just did a super job," Demon head coach A.L. Williams said, adding praise for senior Petey Perot, who was shifted from his regular tackle slot to guard to shore up a position lacking in depth due to injuries. "Petey had a great night, and a lot of times he threw two or three blocks on the same play. He and the rest of the line had a lot to do with Joe getting loose as often as he did, and all we have to do is get him loose a couple of times."

Demon Roundballers to Host Australian Olympians

NATCHITOCHES—Northwestern State University's 1978-79 basketball squad will highlight its pre-season workouts with a special exhibition game against the powerful Australian National Olympic Team on Tuesday, Nov. 7.

The contest will begin at 7:30 p.m. in newly-refurbished Prather Coliseum on the NSU campus, and tickets are on sale at the NSU Athletic Department for $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

"This will be one of the best basketball teams that's ever played here," said NSU head coach Tynes Hildebrand. "From all that I've heard about them, they will be an outstanding team."

The Demon squad has only been in official workouts for 10 days and will have only about seven more days in order to prepare for the contest with the Australians.

"We're not ready to play anybody yet," Hildebrand said, "but I've been pleased with our workouts so far and I think we'll be ready to put on a good show when we play the Australian team."

If previous contest with touring foreign teams are any indication, the contest is sure to be an exciting one. Last year, Northwestern hosted the Canadian National Team and lost by a score of 119-113, and three years ago the Demons dropped a one-point decision to a touring team from Czechoslovakia.

The Demons, coming off a 12-15 season in 1977-78 against a rugged schedule, have three starters back from last year's team. Leading the way is 6-foot-7 junior Frederick Piper, who averaged 12.3 points and 12.7 rebounds per game last year, the latter figure good enough to rank among the national top 20 in rebounding.

The other returning starters include a 6-foot-5 junior Jerry Lewis and 6-foot-5

Co-Ed Volleyball Championships Held

by Marty Duncan

Seven days of excitement took place as the Intramural Department held its annual Co-Ed Volleyball activities. The first night saw the House That Cecil Built defeat Caddo while Theta Xi's "A" team fell to the Beavers.

Last year's defending champions, The Alpha Connection found this year's competition somewhat different from that of the past. Playing at less than half strength, Alpha Connection was defeated by the Delta Zeta's "B" Condors.

Rounding out the opening night's competition the Baptist Student Union defeating the Unknowns, TKE winning by default, Phi Beta Sigma defeating Sigma Kappa-Kappa Alpha, and the Glove Club overpowering Kappa Sigma.

As 24 teams were registered in this year's Co-Ed event, several games were found each night of planned competition. The Bows were defeated on the 12th by the Glove Club, while Phi Beta Sigma advanced through the winners bracket to the finals.

In desperate struggle, the Bows slipped its way through the loser's bracket by defeating BSU, BBI, and the Glove Club.

The finals found Phi Beta Sigma undefeated against the Bows. The Bows won two matches from Phi Beta Sigma, but not before the maximum six games were played.

In the first game of the first match it was the Bows 15, Phi Beta Sigma 10; second game was Phi Beta Sigma 15, Bows 11; third game was Bows 15, Phi Beta Sigma 12. The second match started off with a slight lead by Phi Beta Sigma winning the first game, but with victory at reach, the Bows came back winning both remaining games taking the undefeated Phi Beta Sigma's down as well as the Championship.

The Intramural Department wishes the Bows congratulations as well as to all teams involved in this year's hard fought Co-Ed Volleyball Championships.

NSU Hosts X-Country

Northwestern State University's cross country squad will host its only home meet of the 1978 season here Friday afternoon when the Demon harriers host three other squads in the annual NSU Invitational Cross Country Meet.

The meet is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at the Natchitoches Fish Hatchery course and will cover five miles. Teams scheduled to take part include Northeast Louisiana, Centenary College and Stephen F. Austin, in addition to the Demons.

NSU won last year's Invitational meet and will be going for three straight home wins dating back to the first part of the 1977 season, but this year's event promises to be a lot tougher.

"This will be an excellent meet, I believe," said NSU head track and field and cross country coach Jerry Dyes. "Northeast has an excellent team, and Stephen F. Austin is an unknown quantity. If we perform as well as we can, though, we should have an excellent chance of winning."

The Demons, who are coming off a tie for second in the McNeese Invitational two weeks ago, are led by sophomore Billy Green of Marshall, Tex., who has been the Demons' individual leader all season. Others expected to take part for NSU include junior Windell Bonner, sophomores Ricky Crutcher, Randy Robinson, Kelvin Stewart and Vic Bradford, and freshman Jeff Baker.

Applications will be taken through November 21 for the Student Union Governing Board positions of parliamentarian and representative at large, according to Mike Alost, SUGB president.

The parliamentarian is a member of the Executive Council and advises the board on proper parliamentary procedure. He is a voting member of the Council, but does not vote on the board.

The representative at large works with the research and development committee and participates in other board activities.

"We picked the deadline of November 21 to give those interested ample time to come by and sign up," Alost said. "We will vote to fill the open positions the following Monday, November 27."

SDX president to speak at Meet the Press banquet

Jean Otto, who was recently selected as the first woman president of the National Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, will be the featured speaker at NSU's annual Meet the Press Banquet which will be held Thursday, Nov. 9.

Mrs. Otto has been editor of the Op Ed Page of the Milwaukee Journal for two years. She served as the SPJSDX national treasurer in 1976 and as national secretary in 1977.

Mrs. Otto received the Women in Communication, Inc. award for outstanding woman journalist in 1974.

The program will also include the presentation of an appreciation award to a person who has helped the journalism program in the past year, and the recognition of members of the NSU 30 Club, which honors students who have done all of their college work at NSU and have not made below a C in their courses.

"The Demon Connection" will be the theme of this semester's Vocational Exploration Day which will be held on the NSU campus on Saturday, Nov. 11.

Presented by the Office of High School Relations, Vocational Exploration provides high school students an opportunity to examine various careers as well as to become acquainted with the many phases of college life.

NSU students are encouraged to visit with the high school students who will be on campus all day and offer them information and directions when necessary.

Registration for Vocational Exploration Day will begin at 11 a.m. in the Student Union with a "Dutch Treat" luncheon following at 1 p.m.

Academic departments and campus organizations will have displays set up on the first and second floors of the Student Union from 12 noon until 1 p.m.

Campus faculty members and student to leaders will explain "The Demon Connection" during a general program from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom. According to the Office of High School Relations, the purpose of this program is to introduce NSU to the high school juniors and seniors. The NSU Entertainers and the NSU cheerleaders will be featured during this program.

At 2 p.m., visiting students will attend their first career choice session. NSU faculty and staff will conduct the career sessions.

From 3 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. optional activities for students will be held, including a leadership training seminar, a mini-concert by the Entertainers, an Arabian Horse show, and an introduction to Greek life.

Students will attend their second career choice session from 3:45 to 4:30 p.m. At 4:45 p.m. tour buses will leave from the Student Union driveway to take students around campus.

A dinner break is planned from 5:45 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. to be followed by a "Demon Fever Rally" on the front steps of the Student Union at 6:30 p.m.

At 7 p.m. the visiting students will march to Turpin Stadium for the NSU-USL game which starts at 7:30 p.m.

SGA passes increase

The Student Government Association unanimously passed Bill No. 30, a bill to increase current Potpourri fees, at last week's Monday night meeting.

Mike Gallien, editor of the Potpourri, told the SGA that the yearbook has had only one increase in the last 30 years. That increase was in 1973 when the fee was raised from $7 to $10.

According to Gallien, the Potpourri is in a financial bind this year. Since the yearbook fee increase did not pass last spring, this year's staff must work with a smaller budget. He said the volume and size of the 1978-79 yearbook has been cut so that color photos can be used in the book.

Gallien pointed out that last year's Potpourri staff had $10,000 more to work with than this year's staff and they were able to produce an award-winning book.

"If the Potpourri does not get this increase, it will dwindle away and die as some college yearbooks have, or it will be so reduced that it wouldn't be worth looking at," Gallien told the Current Sauce in an interview last week.

He explained that in 1973 when the Potpourri was faced with a similar situation, the book was cut to only 160 pages.

"Publication costs have sky-rocketed and we need this $2.50 increase to stay alive," the editor said.

"I hope I don't sound too dramatic, but this is the 71st volume of the Potpourri—it's an old tradition and I would hate to see it die."

NSU students will vote on the yearbook fee increase on Nov. 15. Gallien and his staff encouraged all students to come out and support the fee increase.

NSU Demon band: Something proud

They have finally put together something to be proud of.

I don't think it's just new uniforms, although, naturally, that has a lot to do with it.

No, it's an overall attitude of a large group of students who work hard every single week to represent Northwestern in the best possible way, and who rarely get the amount of appreciation that they truly deserve. They are the Demon band, and if any group has come a long way in one year, this is the group that surpasses them all.

The band is composed of several units now. They aren't just the instrumentalists, but they also include a dance line, a flag line, and a majorette line, all of whom are very talented and very impressive.

For the first time in a long time, I listened—and watched with pride the band's performance in Shreveport when the Demons faced Louisiana Tech. The comparison of this year and last year is NO comparison. The leaders and members of the group have accomplished a great deal, not at just the Tech game, but at every game thus far this season.

I'm also pleased to see the band performing at out of town games: although there was a poor turnout at last weekend's NSU vs. Arlington game, the band was there, performing an excellent pregame show.

But students are not the only people who are making the NSU band click this year. Concerned and talented faculty members are also doing a vast amount of coordination to get the final effect of the weekly halftime performances that most of us take so for granted. Wayne Blackwell, band director; his assistant, Tony Smith; and Vicki Parrish, danceline director are all major links in the total band performance.

Congratulations, Demon band, on putting it all together. You truly are a band that we are all proud of. D'Page

Something seems to be missing

As I was sitting at the Nichols game last Saturday night, it occurred to me that something was missing. The small number of people in the stadium might well have been predicted; however, I cannot excuse the lack of spirit shown by the student body on this night. While it is true that the Demon football team had experienced a moderate slump, the players had the right to expect to be applauded when they scored or made an outstanding play. When I stood up to applaud, I felt as if I were alone. I was particularly disappointed with the students when I saw many of them were cheering for the other team.

Lack of interest was again present at halftime, when the NSU band and its auxiliaries put on a fine performance. Very few spectators paid attention to the show and even fewer applauded when it was over.

If the morale of the students is any indication of the quality of a university, then it is quite obvious that Northwestern is not the school that it could be. NSU can be the best, if only its students will get involved. Apathy needs to be overcome and must be replaced with a spirit of unity. I encourage all students to take a greater interest in campus activities. Go to a pep rally...Cheer at a football game...Vote in the upcoming election...Join a committee...Support your school. It is only through working together that we can make NSU a better place for all of us.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Big Oil Has Friends Throughout Capital

WASHINGTON — The petroleum industry has plenty of protectors in Washington who are always eager to demonstrate their devotion to the cause.

The oil companies are constantly asking the federal regulators for special breaks. More often than not, the regulatory authorities have granted the requests.

The Transportation Department, for example, has waived safety regulations at the request of Gulf, Shell and Texaco. The Interior Department has granted literally hundreds of offshore drilling waivers for the 10 largest oil companies.

Now, the big oil outfits are trying to hide their huge profits. In the past, the government regulators have accepted the financial information that the companies wanted to provide.

But some Energy Department officials wanted to take a closer look at corporate profits. They prepared a financial reporting form, which would pry the information out of the oil companies.

The officials submitted the proposed form to the White House for approval. It got lodged in the Office of Management and Budget. Our sources say the oil tycoons pulled strings inside the White House to keep the form pigeonholed.

Nobody could pry it loose for several months. Finally, an enraged congressman, Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., demanded the release of the controversial form. He finally blasted it out of the White House.

But President Carter's management chief, James McIntyre, riddled the form with loopholes. He exempted two oil companies, Aramco and Caltex, from reporting their finances.

He also ruled that the other oil companies need not furnish back financial data as the form originally required. They must merely submit limited information for the years 1977-78.

The oil barons, apparently, still have friends inside the White House.

TAX GIVEAWAYS: The 95th Congress has passed into history, but it has left behind a stack of legislation. Much of it was passed during the end-of-the-session rush. The action was too fast for the public to follow.

The experts are still digging through the fine print, searching for the hidden giveaways which were buried in the tax bill that was passed during the closing confusion.

The bill has been ballyhooed as a big break for the workers. But it is the wealthy who will benefit the most. There are golden giveaways buried in the fine print for airlines and railroads. Stockbrokers will also get special benefits.

One incensed tax expert, Rep. Charles Vanik, D-Ohio, has ordered a computer analysis of the tax bill. The results are startling. For 88 percent of the taxpayers, the overall reduction will be no more than $300. This will be offset by the Social Security tax increase.

Capital gains taxes were cut, ostensibly to help small businessmen. But 41 percent of the capital gains benefits will go to people earning more than $200,000 a year.

Most Americans, meanwhile, will actually end up paying more taxes. This is the way Congress responded to the tax rebellion.

DOUBBLE-DIPPERS: Last year, President Carter denounced double-dippers. He was not talking about ice cream cones. He referred to retired military officers who collect from the taxpayers with both hands.

They move from military to civilian jobs in the government. Then they collect their military pensions and the civilian salaries at the same time. For some, the combined take from the taxpayers runs as high as $75,000.

The president, meanwhile, has not enforced his own policy against double-dipping. The brass continue to find high-paying jobs in the government after they are pensioned off. One of their favorite spots is the Veterans Administration.

Our investigation turned up one retired general and three colonels in top jobs at the VA. They draw down salaries of $47,500 apiece, on top of their military pensions. Spokesmen refused to tell us how much the military benefits add up to.

Meanwhile thousands of senators posted on the progress of that proposed move.

McKellar explained that the Demon Mascot head that was ordered to replace the head stolen at the Northeast game will be stuffed and placed in the Conference Room of Ray Hall. Dr. Bienvenu is making all of the necessary arrangements.

The minutes from the previous meeting were approved.

veterans, who have been disabled or are too sick to work, are having difficulty collecting benefits.

STRANGE LAND: To many Americans, the tiny Central American country of Nicaragua is a land of dictators, guerrillas and civil war. But it is also a land of strange tastes.

After a devastating earthquake struck Managua six years ago, for example, postcards appeared with pictures of the rubble and twisted girders. A more recent postcard features the scene of a rebuilt commercial center that has risen from the ashes.

Right in the center of the scene are the familiar golden arches of a McDonald's hamburger stand.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: If prices and salaries keep soaring as they have, the Social Security Administration estimates, the average worker in the year 2050 could be earning $650,000 a year... The General Accounting Office is investigating some federal contractors who have been using government computers for their own private business deals. Every two hours of illegal computer use costs the taxpayers about $1,200, but the total extent of the ripoff is unknown... Employees of the General Services Administration audit 42,000 government phone bills every month. They discover an average of $500,000 worth of errors.

Faculty news briefs

DOCTORAL STUDENT TO STUDY FREE ENTERPRISE COURSES — A Northwestern State University doctoral student from Slidell has been awarded grants for $3,550 to complete a dissertation on the free enterprise course that was mandated nearly two years ago by the Louisiana Legislature. Mrs. Barbara Allen Stoker received a $2,950 grant from the Champion Spark Plug Company and a $600 award from the Louisiana Council on Economic Education to conduct a field experiment which she hopes will show how the course affects the attitudes and rates of achievements of high school students who are being required by law to take the special course. More than 1,300 high school students in 57 schools across the state are participating in Mrs. Stoker's research project, which recently passed the pre-test phase. Mrs. Stoker said, "I want to see if the free enterprise course is in keeping with the spirit of the new law. I am interested in seeing if a better understanding of the free enterprise system is changing the attitudes from negative to positive."

WELLS' HISTORICAL ARTICLE PUBLISHED — Mrs. Carol Wells, assistant archivist at Northwestern, is the author of an article which appears in the current issue of "Louisiana History." The article, entitled "Extinguishing the Lights: 1861," relates the story of the lighthouses at the mouth of the Mississippi River at the outbreak of the Civil War. Aside from explaining the strategic policies of the Federal and Confederate governments which curiously coincided in this one area, the article provides an interesting insight into the concerns of the lighthouse keepers. Mrs. Wells serves on the staff of the Division of Archives in Eugene P. Watson Memorial Library at NSU. She is also associate editor for the "Southern Studies" journal and newly-established NSU Press. The Northwestern assistant archivist has contributed numerous articles for publication in journals focusing on history and gardening.

PROFESSORS GO TO WACO — Two professors from NSU will present a research paper in Waco, Tex., this week at the annual meeting of the International Congress for Individualized Instruction. Con Funk Shun is one of the leading black groups in the nation. According to lead singer Mike Cooper this recognition took nine long years of hard work and dedication.

All the members of the group are from San Francisco, California where they started as a group playing for high school and college parties from 1969-1970.

Mike Cooper stated that their first record to be released was "Tamberine Man" which didn't go over with the public.

"Sure Feels Good To Me" was the group's first hit recording.

"F-Fun was the group's first gold record and "Secrets" their first gold album.

The group had three tours in 1978 which were the Bootss, The Commodores and the O'Jays.

According to most of the Students Con Funk Shun's performance on stage was terrific. The Group opened their performance with the hit single "Con Funk Shunize". They also sang their latest recording "Your Love Makes Me Feel So Easy".

Mike Cooper stated after the show "The crowd was absolutely wonderful, terrific, fantastic, and marvelous." He also revealed that the group would love to come back.

Finally!

Demons Happy To Be Home After Rugged Road Schedule Ends

by Doug Ireland
Current Sauce Sports Editor

ARLINGTON, Tex.—"On the road to nowhere, it looks like for the Demons, because Northwestern has had its share of problems away from home," read one press release last week before NSU's battle with Texas-Arlington. Those problems continued to plague the Demons in their road contests this year as they suffered a 30-7 defeat here Saturday night.

Northwestern's loss was the fifth of the season for the Demons, and all five of those losses have been away from home. Fortunately for head coach A.L. Williams, the two remaining games on this season's schedule are to be played within the very friendly confines of Turpin Stadium where NSU is 11-2 since the facility was completed in 1976.

The Demons didn't take long to show any doubters that yes, indeed, there is such a thing as a "road jinx" in the game against UTA. Starting quarterback Rex Henderson had his first pass attempt intercepted by the Movin' Mavs Greg Wright at the NSU 44, and after intended receiver James Bennett was flagged for grabbing Wright's face mask, UTA had it at the 29.

From there, fullback Bill McCleary rambled up the middle on first down for the score. After Roy Skoruppa added the PAT the Mavs led 7-0. Unbelievably, that was the only Mav tally in the first half as they failed to capitalize on four pass thefts.

The Demon defense played one of its best halves of the season during the first 30 minutes, holding the Mavs to the lone touchdown and stopping scoring threats inside the NSU 20 on three separate occasions.

The only points for the Demons came after Arthur Pickens recovered one of eight Movin' Mav fumbles, halting a UTA scoring threat at the 10. A 47-yard touchdown pass from Kenny Philibert to record-breaking wide receiver Mike Almond climaxed the six-play, 90 yard drive, and Dennis Pendergraft tied the contest at 7-7 with his PAT kick late in the second quarter.

It was all UTA in the second half, as the Demons were unable to put the brakes on the Movin' Mav Wishbone attack, which rolled to 581 total yards on the night. UTA came in the contest with the nation's eighth-ranking rushing offense, sporting a 284 yard form, and did nothing to hurt that figure as they ground out 481 yards on 70 carries.

The Mavs scored on their first two possessions of the third quarter, on a 16-yard run by Tony Felder and an eight-yard Phillip Jessie jaunt. Jessie picked up 163 yards rushing on only 12 totes, while Felder added 116 on 21 carries.

Early in the final stanza Skoruppa popped a 30-yard field goal try through the uprights to make it 24-7, and with over four minutes left Felder ended an eight-play 80-yard march with a one-yard run on fourth-and-goal. Skoruppa missed the extra point after an offside penalty against UTA.

NSU could only reach the Mav 33 in the final half, as a fired-up crew of UTA defenders held the Demons to minus 14 yards rushing after the intermission.

The total of six interceptions suffered by Northwestern broke the old school record of five set against Southern Mississippi in 1949 and tied in 1971 against La. Tech. Henderson had four interceptions before completing his only pass on the night late in the final quarter.

The only real high point of the contest offensively for NSU was again tailback Joe Delaney, who rushed for 99 yards, all of those coming in the first half of play. Delaney smashed school and state records with a 299-yard, four-touchdown performance last week against Nicholls State.

Weary
Washington

Senior defensive tackle Willie Washington looks just a little tired of last Saturday night's 30-7 loss to the University of Texas at Arlington. Washington was the leading tackler for the Demons in the contest, as he grabbed Movin' Mavs ball carriers 14 times during the game. (Photo by Don Sepulvado)

Greeks claim Intramural flag football championships

by Doug Ireland
Current Sauce Sports Editor

It was "Monday Night Football," Northwestern style, last Monday night under the lights at Turpin Stadium as the Greek teams took top honors in both divisions of the All-College Flag Football Championships.

With their victories, the ladies of Sigma Kappa and the men of Kappa Sigma earned a trip to New Orleans and a berth in the Louisiana Intramural Flag Football Championships to be held in early December.

In the women's division, Sigma Kappa won a defensive struggle with the East Sabine VIP's by a 6-0 score, while the men's contest was an offensive show with the Kappa Sigma squad outlasting the independent Condors by a 28-22 count.

The only score in the girls' battle was a 32-yard pass-run play from Gwen Holt to Mel Van early in the second half. The touchdown was set up when the tough Sigma Kappa defense pinned the VIP's deep in East Sabine territory at the 15 yard line on the initial offensive series of the second half.

After Kappa Sigma's Joe Papa halted a Condor drive with an end zone interception of a fourth-and-goal Evans pass, Bonnette came back to hit Mark Manuel with a three-yard scoring toss to culminate a ten-play, 76 yard march. The two-point conversion pass from Bonnette to Mike Barton was good, and the Sigs had a short-lived 8-0 lead.

The Condors tied it up two plays later when Major Lytton hauled in an 80 yard touchdown bomb from Evans, and then threw the conversion pass to Gary Griggs. The Condors struck again after Kenny Clark intercepted Bonnette on second down and carried it down to the Sig eight, and a four-yard tackling penalty moved the ball to the four-yard line. Evans hit Leroy Hoteling for the score on the final play of the half to make it 14-8.

Kappa Sigma regained the lead when Bonnette, who was named the game's MVP, talled from seven yards out and then hit Manuel with the conversion pass. The Condors came right back and went ahead for the last time when Evans found Lytton with a three-yard touchdown pass, and Lytton hit Lamon Marchbanks for the two points for a 22-18 lead.

Then, with just two minutes left in the contest, Bonnette tied it up at 22-22 with a nine-yard scoring strike to Lynn Keyes. A Sig pass for the go-ahead conversion failed.

The Condors gambled at their own 31 on fourth-and-nine, but another Evans to Lytton completion only picked up seven and Kappa Sigma took over. Two Bonnette to Barton passes gained 13, and on third down Bonnette dashed 16 yards for a crucial first down.

On first down from the nine Bonnette found Barton open in the left corner of the end zone and hit him with the game-winning pass with just 18 seconds remaining in regulation play. A run for the conversion failed, but so did the Condors' last-ditch efforts to score as time expired.

Basketballers battle Aussie Olympians

The Australian Olympic Basketball Team that Northwestern State University's Demons will be facing in their pre-season exhibition game tonight won't exactly be a bunch of pushovers.

In fact, NSU head coach Tynes Hildebrand said that the Australian team could be one of the best basketball teams the Demons have ever faced in pre-season competition.

"This team has four or five high quality players," Hildebrand said, "and all of them are experienced in international competition. They will be a very good test for our squad this early in the season."

The contest is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Prather Coliseum on the NSU campus.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students and are available at the NSU athletic department or by calling 357-5891.

The Australian squad will be in the middle of a whirlwind 15-game tour in only 27 days during the month of November. They opened their tour on Friday night against powerful LSU at Baton Rouge and will also be playing Centenary, McNeese State, Southeastern La., Xavier and Southern during the tour, which includes games in seven Southern states.

The team, which is coached by Dr. Werner Linde, one of the greatest players in Australian history, has won a total of 13 national titles including the national championship in each of the last two seasons.

"From all we can gather, they have some tremendous individual talent," Hildebrand said. "We'll be playing a lot of people, and I hope we can put some combinations on the floor that will slow them down a little."

The Aussies are led by captain Laurie Marcus, a 6-5 forward who toured with this same squad during its 1972 tour of the United States. He has been a member of this squad since 1972 and won the Woollacott Medal, South Australia's highest award, in 1976.

Other squad members include 6-8 center Rick Hodges, called the best big man in Australian basketball, and six-foot guard Phil Smyth.

Demons Meet Cajuns in Turpin Stadium Saturday

Northwestern State University returns to the friendly confines of Harry "Rags" Turpin Stadium Saturday night as the Demons and the Ragin' Cajuns of Southwestern La. meet for the 70th time in one of the longest continuing series in the South.

The two clubs have net a total of 69 times since the series was begun in 1909, and except for wartime they have met in every season since 1911. The series is also one of the closest in the South, too, with both teams coming in with 33 wins in the series along with three ties.

Northwestern has taken the last two wins in the series, both upsets. NSU downed USL by a 7-3 score two years ago in Turpin Stadium and the Demons took a surprising 20-13 victory over the Cajuns in Lafayette last season to spoil USL's Homecoming.

The Demons are at home both Saturday and in their last outing of the season next Saturday against Southeastern La., and it's a good thing because NSU holds an unbeaten 3-0 record in Turpin stadium this year as compared to a 1-5 record on the road. In addition, the Demons also hold an 11-2 record at home over the past three seasons.

It's hard to explain, said NSU head coach A.L. Williams. "We just seem to play much better when we're at home than we do on the road. I know our fans and our field helps, but the difference in the way we play is something we can't figure out."

Both the Demons and the Cajuns are coming off disappointing losses last weekend. USL, which holds a 2-6 record on the year, fell in a hard-fought 16-6 loss to Arkansas State, while NSU dropped a 30-7 decision to Texas-Arlington.

In the Cajuns' loss to ASU, Southwestern was limited to only 95 yards in total offense, with only 18 yards of that total coming on the ground. The only scoring mustered by the Cajuns were field goals of 20 and 45 yards by stellar kicker John Roveto.

The Cajuns sport a balanced attack, averaging 107.6 yards per game on the ground and 104.1 in the air. However, their offense has only been accounting for an average of 10.1 points per outing.

Leading that offense is sophomore quarterback David Guidry, who has hit on 30 of 72 passes for 491 yards and four touchdowns this year along with throwing five interceptions. He helped lead the Cajuns to their two wins with off-the-bench performances but has been starting in recent games.

Guidry's favorite targets include sophomore split end Rodney Smith and junior split end David Gray. Smith leads the team with 15 catches for 343 yards and two scores, while Gray has 14 grabs for 161 yards.

LOB pageant Wednesday Beauty, talent will highlight

Lady of the Bracelet Pageant will be held this Wednesday, November 15 in the A.A. Fredericks Fine Arts Auditorium.

The pageant, sponsored by the Student Union Governing Board, will begin at 7:00 p.m. and is the culmination of a long day of activities for the girls.

Preliminary judging will take place during the day in the categories of interview, swimsuit, talent and on-stage personality (evening gown.) This preliminary judging will determine who will be in the Top Ten and compete that night for the crown.

"We really hope a lot of students will turn out for the pageant," said Lady of the Bracelet Committee Chairman Ron Thomas. "These girls and the committee have been working hard for the past couple of months to make the best showing possible and they need student support."

The winner of the pageant will go on to compete in the Miss Louisiana Pageant in Monroe next summer. First

Council opposes increase

The Louisiana Student Advisory Council, in its monthly meeting held last Thursday, voted to oppose the proposed tuition increase for the spring and fall semesters of 1979.

The Council, which is composed of Student government Association presidents from each Louisiana university except for LSU, discussed several student-oriented issues, including the investigation of the increase of academic scholarships, the state university housing policy, and the tuition increase.

John McKellar, Northwestern SGA president and representative to the Board, discussed the Board's decision in an interview Monday morning. In the past, when tuition increases have been passed, the legislature has decreased its financial support of each university, so that the financial position stays the same, in spite of the tuition increase. What it gets down to is more money comes from the students' pockets and runner-up will go to Shreveport and compete in the Holiday in Dixie Pageant.

Kim Haddon, Barbie Jenkins, Laura Jenkins, Dianna Kemp, Debbie Nichols, and Debbie Price.

Also competing are: Deborah Scott, Terri Scott, Donna Sebren, Shelly Spohn, Pam Stevens, Jodi Tarver, Lisa Teekell, Christolyn Turner, Paula Webb, Dodie Williams, and Melody Smith.

Students are admitted free with I.D. and non-students tickets will be available at the door for $3.

Reigning Miss Louisiana special guest

Phyllis Kelly, the reigning Miss Louisiana, will be the featured performer when the curtains rise for the Student Union Governing Board's annual Lady of the Bracelet Pageant Wednesday, November 15.

Kelly, a Baton Rouge native, was honored at her recent excursion to the Miss America Pageant with a position in the Top Ten.

Kelly is currently a junior at Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond, where she is majoring in vocal performance with a piano minor. She is a soloist for the concert choir at SLU and has had leads in the operas The Marriage of Figaro, Gianni Schicchi and Sister Angelica. She is also an honor student and a member of Delta Omicron National Honor Music Society.

Prior to becoming Miss Louisiana, she was the official hostess for the Governor's Conference on Tourism. She was one of twelve performers selected to open the Baton Rouge Performing Arts Center and sang the National Anthem at Super Bowl XII.

She also participated in pre-game activities at the game.

In her capacity as Miss Louisiana, Kelly will serve as the Official Hostess for the State of Louisiana.

After acquiring her degree, Kelly plans to pursue a career in vocal entertainment. She says that she finds sharing music with others both "rewarding and enjoyable."

'No extra holidays' — Bienvenu announces why

by Debbie Page

The Student Government Association made a final effort to lengthen the Thanksgiving holidays last night at their weekly meeting by passing Senate Bill Number 34 urging President Bienvenu to declare Monday and Tuesday as holidays.

They took the bill one step further by personally taking it to the Bienvenu home Monday night following their meeting.

Though the welcome was warm, the result was still a three-day holiday, dispelling for good all rumors that NSU students would have a full week of holidays for Thanksgiving.

"You'll shock me with this, I'm really surprised!" joked Bienvenu upon reading the bill, which stated that students were "mentally and physically exhausted." "Do you know that we have the longest holidays of colleges and universities in Louisiana?"

Bienvenu explained that the shortened holidays were part of his academic excellence program, adding that "I'm proud of you academically. If you can last two more days I know you can make it." Those two days are Monday and Tuesday.

The President admitted that he had strongly considered adding the two days to the holiday calendar, but made his decision based on two things: One, he tried to figure out the number of days needed for equivalency of reputable courses. Before this year NSU had the least number of hours required and he wanted to change that. Secondly, he said he was tired of the school's reputation of being the vacation school that never has classes.

"When we sat down last spring we tried to figure out when you would need a break. We decided to do it this way, because you'll still have almost a month for Christmas, and you'll get out in early May."

"I appreciate you coming, but I just can't go along with it."

SGA Treasurer Alton Burkhalter quipped that the holidays would put the NSU President higher on the Gallup poll, but even that was not good enough. "I don't need to be higher on the Gallup poll" laughed Bienvenu. "I need to do what's best for you and this school."

Campus news briefs

JOB INTERVIEWS SCHEDULED — The Placement Office has announced the following interviews for middle November. On Nov. 15, Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. will interview management trainees. Also on Nov. 15, Burroughs Industries will be on campus to talk with graduates in business administration or a related degree. Appointments should be made in the Placement Office located in room 305 of the Student Union Building.

INDIAN REPS START TRAINING — Twenty native Americans representing four Indian tribal groups in Louisiana are being trained at Northwestern State University to deliver mental health and social services to people in their own communities. Each tribal group has five representatives, and each trainee receives $1,300 stipend for participation in the nine-month training program. The project is supported by a $55,000 grant NSU received from the National Institute of Mental Health. The trainees will end their workshop sessions at Northeastern in early December and will begin their work in the tribal communities in February.

C.E.U. CREDIT FOR SEMINAR — All aspects of unemployment insurances are to be discussed at a free, half-day seminar for Natchitoches area employers and other interested participants Tues. Nov. 14. The seminar is jointly sponsored by the Louisiana Office of Employment Security, the Natchitoches Parish Chamber of Commerce and NSU's College of Business. "Arrangements have been made for awarding Continuing Education Unit (C.E.U.) credit through NSU for any desirous participant who completes the seminar," said Dr. Roger Best, dean of the College of Business.

DOUBLOON ORDERS BEING TAKEN — Orders are now being taken for silver doubloons which commemorate the 52nd edition of the Natchitoches Christmas Festival. The commemorative coins are $15 each and are only being ordered upon request by contacting Richard N. Ware at 352-2353 or 134 St. Denis St., Mrs. Helen Wheat at 352-5889 or 545 Whitfield Drive; Rev. D. Bruce Miller at 352-8155 or 145 Church St., or Ronald Roy at 352-8141 or 700 Front St. in Natchitoches.

Students to name Mr., Miss NSU

A campus-wide election will be held Wednesday, November 15, to determine Northwestern's 1978 recipients of the Mr. and Miss NSU award.

According to Terry McCarty, SGA Commissioner of Elections, the election will be held in the Student Union from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. I.D.'s must be presented in order to vote.

The award is presented annually to one male and one female and is based on service and leadership. Nominees must have a 2.00 grade point average and be classified as a senior.

Candidates for Mr. NSU include Robert Brown, Kevin Chatelain, Walter Fairbanks, Roscoe Lewis, and John McKellar, while Miss NSU nominees include Mary Lyn Bartek, Lisa Breazeale, Pamela Beavers, Cindy Hall, Edith Harris, Laura Jenkins, and Debbie Page.

Mr. Brown is a Business Administration major from Natchez, Mississippi. He has held membership in the Blue Key National Honor Society, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and NSU Varsity Football. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown.

No more fees

In the next year a proposed $50.00 tuition increase may come into effect for every student at Northwestern.

According to the Student Advisory Council, which is represented by a student from every university in Louisiana except LSU, the Louisiana State Board of Trustees is trying to pass a $50.00 tuition increase, beginning with $25.00 in the spring semester and an additional $25.00 in the fall.

The board contends that the money is needed for various reasons— inflationary financial costs, teacher pay increases, etc.

Granted, the money is needed for those things, especially raises for instructors, but...

A few years ago, an increase of the same type was passed by the Board, and students began paying the increase and have continued to do so. Yet, at the same time, state allocations to each university dropped percentage wise, making each university receive an overall average of about the same amount of money that they received before the increase.

In other words, the only difference made in funds was who was paying them and how much.

Personally, I don't want to have to pay more money next semester, and though I probably won't be here beyond spring, I don't think it's fair that students have to start paying that much more money if the state is, eventually, going to reduce their financial support.

The President is doing his job to help stop inflation. Maybe it's time, we do the same, since by increasing fees no one is getting ahead. As students, let's work to make it known that the buck stops here.

Britain to Pay U.S. Under Treaty, But U.S. Taxpayer Will Really Pay

WASHINGTON—The oil combines sometimes seem more eager to drill tax loopholes than oil wells. This is quite understandable, since the loopholes often bring greater returns than the gushers.

Tax breaks, like oil wells, are also often located in unexpected places. A little-noticed tax treaty with Britain, for example, may soon contain a multimillion-dollar loophole—if the oil lobby has its way.

Under the treaty, Britain would pay at least $350 million in tax rebates to U.S. multinational corporations, plus a guaranteed $85 million a year hereafter.

This might appear on the books as British benevolence. But the American taxpayers would pay for it indirectly. In return for the tax rebates to American firms, British companies would get a tax break in this country.

Among the biggest beneficiaries of the complicated arrangement would be the international oil companies, who would escape certain domestic taxes. They have pulled out all the stops, therefore, to push the proposition.

The oil firms operate on a more exalted level than most other special interests. Armand Hammer, the grand old man of Occidental Petroleum, for example, wrote a private letter directly to Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal.

The letter was intended for Blumenthal's eyes only, but we have obtained a copy.

Hammer addressed the letter to "Dear Mike." The oil tycoons, it seems, are always on a first-name basis with political leaders. "I enjoyed our chance meeting at Tip's office," he began, amiably. Tip, of course, would be House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill.

The oil magnate brought up the British tax treaty. He explained that he had already given President Carter his views on the treaty "during our lunch."

He went on to drop two other big names before he finished the letter. He mentioned that Sens. Russell Long, D-La., and Alan Cranston, D-Calif., shared his favorable opinion of the treaty provision.

It was a simple, friendly letter. But it may be worth millions to Occidental Petroleum. It has been this kind of quiet, chummy lobbying that has permitted the oil men to escape paying uncounted billions—thanks to tax loopholes.

Pentagon Pipeline: Some of our fighting men are in a mutinous mood over their headgear. The Special Forces wear green berets; soldiers in the elite tank brigades often wear black berets; and the parachuting infantrymen of the 82nd Airborne Division wear purple berets.

Now, at Fort Hood, Texas, the soldiers have taken to wearing stetson cowboy hats.

This is too much for Gen. Bernard Rogers, the Army chief. He has issued an order banning all of the distinctive headgear, except for the Special Forces' green berets. The order has raised a howl from the troops who regard their fancy hats as a source of pride.

The general has agreed to listen to their complaints. But our fashion consultants in the Pentagon believe the colorful hat styles are out. There is absolutely no hope, they say, for the stetsons. The general would like to banish all cowboy hats to dude ranches.

The military brass, meanwhile, go on wasting the taxpayers' money. The Army, for example, paid $400 million for a new fleet of tanks with possibly faulty engines.

The lightweight gas turbine engines, experts say, might break down under battlefield conditions. During tests, dirt and sand kept filtering through the engine seals and grinding the engines to a halt.

The Army generals were warned about the defect, but they claimed the tanks were desperately needed. So they went ahead with a $400 million order for machines that can be stopped with a little dirt and sand.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed that in case of war, nerve gas should be banned.

The weapon is considered too diabolical for one country to use against another. But Pentagon planners don't trust the Russians. They have ordered the distribution of nearly 2 million units of nerve gas antidotes to American servicemen—just in case the Russians do not live up to their part of the bargain.

Operation Intercept: Ugandan dictator Idi Amin has launched a sinister psychological warfare program against his own people and those Ugandans who choose to seek refuge in the United States.

Amin's thugs have been stationed at post offices across the country and instructed to intercept and open mail addressed to or from the United States. Money or valuables found in the mail are often pocketed by the dictator's men, and the letters of Ugandan citizens are carefully screened.

Ugandan citizens who write to relatives and friends in the United States sometimes mysteriously disappear.

Under the Dome: One of the last acts of the 95th Congress was a $20 billion tax cut, but it cost the taxpayers a bundle just to report the vote. The final session lasted 34 hours and the rhetoric filled six volumes of the Congressional Record. The cost of printing 40,000 copies of the six-volume edition came to $500,000.

Sixty employees of the House dining room were all fired for the duration of the congressional recess. They were told they would be rehired when Congress reconvenes. In the meantime, they are out of a job.

Thanks Dr. Bienvenu

Dr. Bienvenu, how can we say thanks?

How can I explain the sense of pride I feel every time I attend a state wide meeting of student leaders and witness the unique importance given to student opinion at Northwestern?

It is so easy to take for granted the simple rights that we enjoy, like being listened to, and alked to.

All too often university Presidents treat students like enemies, rather than teammates working for a common goal.

How much easier it is for us to function when we are given the cooperation and respect that you give us.

But the greatest thing that you have given us is enthusiasm. After the quick start this semester had in September, the days of October have had a sobering effect on campus morale. And through it all, your positive smile and words of encouragement have been the force that has kept us going forward.

It is not enough, but thanks. You make us believe, and you are right; the good days are just ahead. J. McKellar

Holidays move mail

ZIP code no longer moves the mail.

As a matter of a fact, I'm beginning to wonder if anything moves the mail anymore. The only thing I even see affecting the mail anymore is holidays.

Holidays, holidays, holidays. I'm going to decorate my post office box for Christmas so that the cobwebs can have some company.

It isn't that I dislike the NSU postal service. Quite honestly I'm just jealous. But how can you hate something just because they have a smart system? (They have to be smart—last week they had a three day work week; we can't even get an extra two days for Thanksgiving!)

All I have to say is, can you let us in on the secret? Surely there is SOME way we can cash in on all these holidays, too.

The only drawback of course, is all that homework. Three days of piled up mail is almost as bad as a twenty page term paper. But there is a big difference. We don't get paid.

NSU Pounds Aussies 82-62

Jerry Lewis gunned in 18 points and Northwestern State University took advantage of a cold-shooting South Australian National Team Tuesday night as the Demons rolled to an 82-62 win in a pre-season exhibition basketball game.

Lewis hit on nine of 18 shots from the floor and scored 12 points in the second half to lead three Demons in double figures in the contest. Frederick Piper added 11 points and Mike Fyler contributed 10.

The Australians, in the fourth game of a tour across the South and winless in those four contests, hit a poor 38.2 percent from the floor in the contest, including a 32.1 percent ratio in the first half when NSU spurted out to a 38-24 lead.

"We played pretty consistent ball in the first half," said NSU head coach Tynes Hildebrand. "We didn't turn the ball over much, and when we got our shots we made them."

The Australian squad, which has already lost to LSU, Centenary and McNeese State in the past five days, also had three twin digit scorers with player-coach Laurie Harcus leading the way with 13 points and Rick Hodges and Phil Smyth adding 11 each.

The taller Demons, who outrebounded the Aussies 54-33 in the contest, never trailed in the contest, jumping out to a 12-3 lead in the first six minutes. NSU led by as many as 17 points in the first half at 28-9 when Anthony Robertson hit a layup at the seven-minute mark.

The halftime margin stayed intact and never sunk below 10 points in the final 20 minutes, and the Demons put the game away in a four-minute spurt late in the game in which they outscored the visitors 14-4.

The Demons' biggest lead came only 29 seconds before the end of the contest after NSU cleared the bench, and Rorer Nolan's jumper at that time made it a 22-point margin at 80-58.

Piper, the nation's seventh leading returning rebounder among Division I players, led all boarders in the contest with 11 to help the Demons roll to that big rebound difference. NSU ranked in the top ten in the nation last year in rebound margin over their opponents.

Sophomore Linda Jones (41) drives in for two of her 12 points Saturday afternoon during Northwestern State University's Lady Demons' pre-season scrimmage with Fort Polk. Joan Darbonne (behind Jones) and Mary Humphrey (24) trail behind for the possible rebound.

It was 39-0 before Fort Polk

Cathy Gamble with 57 seconds

Gamble also made the only field goal in the game for the visitors, who shot a miserable

3.8 percent (1-26) from the field during the scrimmage.

The Lady Demons, on the other hand, hit 47 percent from the field and outrebounded their opponents by a 70-15 margin.

Joan Darbonne led the with 14 points and four steals, while Linda Jones chipped in with 12 points and five assists.

Darbonne hit on seven of nine canned six of seven, and Spencer sank five of six to pace the victors.

Spencer, with 10 points, and Debbie Lambright, also with 10, were the other double-digit scorers for NSU. Marilyn

"I was happy with our

The Demons were divided

Junior Fred Piper

11 for 11 shooting performance ternoon. Piper led his team to wins in all but one of their many games in the scrimmage.

Point guard Mike Brey also was impressive, turning in a fine defensive effort to go along with his 10 point, eight-assist offensive showing. Jerry

Lewis had 12 points and five rebounds.

Jim Hoops, who along with

Piper and Lewis is a returning starter, hit five of seven shots, grabbed seven rebounds, and sank his only two free throws for a 12 point outing. Hoops' younger brother Mike, a freshman, was two for two shooting from the field.

Three other freshman recruits were standouts in Saturday's action. Benjamin

Dunn, a 6'3" forward from Grambling, hit five of seven shots, as did Minden High graduate Andre Bailey.

Leesville's Jerry Lynch was a perfect six for six for the afternoon, and more than held his own under the boards.

"It was the most impressive

Miller's to Sponsor Campus One-on-One Tournament

Northwestern students who usually sit in the stands and dream of being Kareem Abdul-Jabbar or Pete Maravich will get a chance to bring their fantasies to life when the Miller Brewing Company and the Natchitoches Beverage Company brings their One-on-One Basketball tournament to Northwestern this Spring.

Open to any graduate or undergraduate student who has not played collegiate basketball, the One-on-One contests will be staged during half-time of Demon home basketball games.

Participants will engage in a four minute basketball game, with the player scoring ten points first and leading by at least two points declared the winner. A championship tournament will be held at the end of the season.

The winner will receive a $200 scholarship award and a trophy. In the event that he or she is not eligible to accept the award because of financial assistance restrictions, the money will be donated to the Northwestern athletic department.

Second, third, and fourth place winners will receive trophies. All participants will receive a pair of Miller athletic socks and a one-on-one T-shirt.

Students interested in playing in the One-on-One competition should contact Northwestern's Director of Intramurals, Ginger Parrish, in her office in the Old Men's Gym on campus before the end of November.

The National One-on-One program was tested during the 1977-78 season and the results were "so positive that we've expanded the program to accommodate the numerous requests and inquiries concerning involvement," a spokesman for the Miller Company said.

Rules for the competition include the four-minute time limit, the "win-by-two" rule, and the provision for one official to call the contest. For the first two fouls, one free throw per four will be awarded. All other fouls will result in a two-shot situation. A player may be disqualified, if in the opinion of the game official, he or she commits a flagrant foul.

Cajuns Kick Demons 19-17 On Last-Minute Field Goal

by Doug Ireland
Current Sauce Sports Editor

Southwestern Louisiana's John Roveto booted his fourth field goal of the game with three seconds left on the clock to give USL a 19-17 victory over Northwestern State University Saturday night in Turpin Stadium.

Roveto's field goal, a 24 yarder, came after a last-minute USL drive set up by a 31 yard punt return by Cajun Nat Durant. The drive, covering 47 yards in seven plays, was kept alive by two David Guidry to David Gray passes for first downs.

"We were thinking field goal all the way from the time we got the ball the last time," confessed Cajun head coach Augie Tammeriello after the contest. "There was really no time to score a touchdown, but from one minute until the end we were in John Roveto's range."

Tammeriello's logic was prompted when the soccer-style kicker boomed through a 52 yard three-pointer late in the third stanza to give USL a 16-10 lead. Roveto was the nation's leader in field goal percentage last season.

Along with the game-winning 24 yarder and the 52 yarder, Roveto had kicks of 49 and 37 yards. He also had a 40 yard attempt blocked by Demon Rodney Procell. That came with 8:23 left, and with, NSU clinging to a narrow 17-16 edge, it looked to be the game's biggest play, but the last-minute Cajun surge changed that.

The Demons survived an exchange of fumbles after the blocked field goal, and on fourth down from the Northwestern 40 with just over two minutes left freshman Randy Liles lofted a 46 yard punt to Durant at the USL 14. The fleet-footed Cajun juked his way upfield to the USL 45, giving Southwestern excellent field position with 1:53 remaining.

Cajun signalcaller Guidry, who came off the bench to spark USL this time as he had done in the only two previous Southwestern wins this season, found wider receiver David Gray on second down for a 15 yard pickup and a first down at the NSU 36.

One play later it was Guidry hitting Gray again for a first down, this time at the 17. Two carries by fullback Brian Daigle moved the ball into the middle of the field at the Demon 8, and with only six seconds left Roveto lined up to try the field goal.

The Demons called time out, both to try to rattle Roveto and to set up an effort to block the kick. But it was to no avail, as Roveto split the uprights and gave USL the victory.

USL had scored first on Roveto's 49 yard kick at 13:44 of the first quarter. The field goal was set up when Rod Smith raced 52 yards with the opening kickoff down to the NSU 36. Demon Jack Brittain made a touchdown-saving tackle on Smith.

The Demons roared back to take the lead when, on the fourth play after the ensuing kickoff, tailback Joe Delaney took a pitch from quarterback Kenny Philibert and surprised everyone by throwing a pass to a wide-open Mike Almond that covered 63 yards and gave NSU six points. Dennis Pendergraft added the conversion to make it 7-3.

Later in the first period Delaney set up a Pendergraft field goal with a 34 yard punt return down to the Cajun 23. NSU moved to the 12 before USL forced Pendergraft's try of 29 yards, which was good and gave the Demons a 10-3 lead.

Southwestern tied it up with 7:33 left in the half on an 18 yard screen pass from Guidry to Daigle, and went ahead on Roveto's 37 yarder that was set up when Delaney fumbled on a punt return.

Roveto launched his 52 yard effort with 3:50 remaining in the third stanza to move the count to 16-10. The Cajun "drive" consisted of two penalties for 28 yards against NSU, which set up the kick.

The Demons entered the fourth quarter behind by six, but 45 seconds later they were ahead by one, Philibert hit James Bennett for 18 yards to the USL 49 on the quarter's first play, and then found Britain open across the middle on the next play.

The senior receiver hauled in the pass at the 35 and reversed his field, dashing down to the Cajuns nine for a 40 yard gain. Delaney sprinted in on the next play and Pendergraft's PAT jumped the Demons into a 17-16 lead.

USL then mounted a 13 play, 57 yard drive that set up Roveto's 40 yard field goal attempt that was blocked by Procell.

"It was a tough one to lose," Demon head coach A.L. Williams reflected after the game. "The guys played their hearts out and it's a shame that it ended like it did. But we left the ball on the ground, too much," said Williams, "and we couldn't have given them many more opportunities."

The Demon defense again turned in a good performance, limiting USL to 252 total yards compared to NSU's 428. David Wright, James Lille, Art Lancaster, Willie Washington, and Stacy Holder were standouts for NSU.

USL's Tammeriello said, "Our defense played super. Delaney was really great for them, but he tried to hit him hard to stop him. I said earlier this week that I think he is the best back in the state including Charles Alexander (of LSU). We didn't know he fumbled so much, though."

"Joe's had that problem all year," said Williams about Delaney's three fumbles, "and we've been working on it. He's still learning since he's only been a running back for about a year, so that should disappear in time."

Demons Host SLU Lions in Finale

Northwestern State University will be attempting to regain that homefield magic Saturday when the Demons play host to powerful Southeastern La. University in what has come to be the traditional season-ending game for both schools.

The Demons, coming off a narrow last-second 19-17 loss to Southwestern La. last weekend, stand at 3-1 at home on the AstroTurf of Harry "Rags" Turpin Stadium this season, with the only home loss coming last weekend. In addition, the Demons hold an 11-3 record since the stadium was refurbished three years ago.

However, Northwestern will have to be on top of its game in order to snap a three-game losing streak at the hands of the Lions, who sport an impressive 7-2 record and also sport some pretty prestigious defensive statistics.

Southeastern currently ranks first among all Division II schools in the country in scoring defense, allowing only an average of 6.5 points per game to its opponents. The Lions are also second in the nation in total defense and fourth in rushing defense.

"They probably have the best defensive squad we've seen all year," said NSU head coach A.L. Williams whose squad currently sports a 4-6 record. "They are strong against the run and the pass, and they get especially tough in scoring territory."

The Demons lost last year's contest 38-21 in Hammond, and the last time that NSU defeated the Lions was in 1974 when the Demons took a runaway 40-3 victory for their only win of the season and in the last game under the leadership of retired coach George Doherty.

This will be the 40th meeting between these two schools in a series that began in 1935 and has been contested every season since 1937 except for wartime. SLU currently holds a narrow 20-19 lead in the overall series thanks to the recent three-game win streak, which followed a five-year domination by the Demons.

The Lions downed Nicholls State 10-0 last weekend in New Orleans and in the process put themselves in position for a possible tie for the Gulf South Conference Championship. If North Alabama defeats Jacksonville, Saturday, the Lions would get a share of the title, but if Jacksonville wins it would give the title to the Alabama squad outright.

The Lions of coach Billy Brewer are led by sophomore quarterback Johnny Wells, who has hit on 59 of 115 passes for 811 yards, and five touchdowns this season to a bevy of capable receivers.

Wide receiver Andre Lennix, also a sophomore, and junior Jeff Coates each have 12 receptions on the season and one touchdown, while sophomore tight end Leslie Jackson has 10 grabs on the year.

The top rushers for SLU include freshman Mack Boatner, who has 427 yards and one TD on the year. Junior Tommy Calandro, a former NSU signee who later linked with Tulane before transferring to southeastern, has 392 yards and three scores, and sophomore Robert Hicks has 337 yards on the year.

The lions' best offensive weapon, though, lies in the strong legs of punter James Magruder and placekicker Frank London. Magruder currently leads the GSC in punting with a 40.7 average, with backup punter Scott Allen ranking second in the league with a 40.4 mark.

London, a native of Colombia, has hit on all of 21 PAT attempts this year and is nine-of-18 on field goals with a long of 48 yards and tops the Lions with 48 points scored.

Demon Harriers Win NSU Invitational Meet

Northwestern State University made its only home cross country appearance of the 1978 season a successful one last Friday afternoon as the Demon harriers took an easy victory over a four-team field in the annual NSU Invitational Cross Country Meet.

The Demons rolled up 21 points in the event to far outdistance second place Northeast Louisiana, who had 43 points. Stephen F. Austin was third with 74 and Centenary was fourth with 104.

The Demons placed all five of its scoring runners in the top eight finishers in the five-mile event held at the Natchitoches Fish Hatchery, with sophomore Billy Green and freshman Jeff Baker coming in a dead heat for first place with a clocking of 24:55.

"I was very pleased with the performance of our squad," said NSU coach Jerry Dyes. "We all ran pretty well, and we did what we had to as a team to win."

Kevin Stewart grabbed third place for NSU with a time of 25:11 with Vic Bradford finishing seventh in 25:55 and Ricky Crutcher finishing eighth in 26:08 as the Demons first five finishers.

Northeast Louisiana's Tommy Dunn and Phil McFarland finished fourth and fifth respectively with times of 25:22 and 25:27 as the top finishers among the rest of the field.

Green and Baker were already out front after two miles of the five-mile event and coasted in for the victory. Northwestern State University's cross country team garnered an eleventh place finish Saturday in competition in the District VI Championships here, placing three runners among the top 50 finishers.

The Demons were one of four state teams taking part in the meet. McNeese State finished seventh in the competition, with La. Tech taking tenth and Northeast Louisiana finishing 12th.

Sophomore Kelvin Stewart

had a 34:00 clocking over the 10,000 meter course to place 40th for NSU. Billy Green was 44th in 34:08 and Jeff Baker was 47th with a 34:21 time. NSU's other top finisher, Arkansas, won the District VI competition, with McNeese State finishing second and McNeese State coming in third. A total of 10,000 runners took part in the meet.

And they are off!

NATCHITOCHES, LOUISIANA

Offcampus housing will be hard to get for spring '79

The new deadline for applying for off campus residency will be December 4, according to Cecil Knotts, director of Student Services.

Applications that are late and/or incomplete will be rejected. Students only residing off campus under any accepted conditions don't need apply, but must go by the Student Services office and confirm their off campus address.

We will be stricter in the excuses we accept. Those students bringing excuses for an allergy to smoke will be put in a no-smoking floor in the dormitory.

People with knee or other injuries preventing them from climbing stairs will be placed on the first floor," stated Knotts.

Students with medical excuses will fill out forms provided for the students to fill out. Also, the new policy will be enforced by issuing the student meeting the requirements an off campus living permit from the Student Services office. Students without the permission slip will be charged for the dormitory and a meal ticket at registration.

Students commuting will have to furnish a notarized statement signed by their parents stating that the student is living at their residence and driving back and forth to go to classes.

Students on financial exemptions in the dorm will be required to submit forms stating the amount of the total off campus living bill per month. If this is lower than the $140.00 per month room and board fee for living on campus, the request will be denied.

Veterans will be required to bring their off campus address up to date to receive a permission slip.

All the necessary forms will be available at the Student Services Office after the letters have been received by the students.

Students who refuse to reside on campus after permission has been denied will have their registration cancelled and lose any registration fees, according to Knotts.

On the reason for this increased enforcement of the rules Knotts stated, "We want to get more students on campus. As it is now we don't use all the dormitories we have and many of those that we do use are not filled up. We are in the process of fixing up the dorms and making them a more pleasant place to live."

Barbie Jenkins named '79 LOB

by Ron Thomas

Barbie Jenkins, an 18 year old freshman from Lafayette, was crowned NSU's Lady of the Bracelet at the annual Student Union Governing Board fete.

Jenkins, a health and physical education major, won the top beauty award and headed a top five that included first runner-up Donna Sebren, second runner-up Zina Curlee, third runner-up Debbie Nichols and fourth runner-up Pam Stevens.

Jenkins won a trip to the Miss Louisiana pageant in Monroe next June where she will represent NSU. She also received a $300 scholarship, various gifts from local merchants, and the traditional bracelet that has been handed down from winner to winner throughout the years.

"Alone in the Ring" from the "Rocky" music soundtrack was the tune to which Jenkins performed a gymnastic ballet. As a gymnast, Jenkins won the individual World championship at the Double Mini-Trampoline World Games in Hawaii last year.

She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority and is a twirler for the Demon Marching Band.

Third runner-up Debbie Nichols headed the list of preliminary winners as she hauled off the swimsuit award. Second runner-up Zina Curlee took the talent award with the vocal selection "More." Miss Congeniality was taken by Kim Haddon.

The Queen Holiday in Dixie Pageant will be the next destination for first runner-up Donna Sebren.

Miss Louisiana 1979, Phyllis Kelly, made a special guest appearance. Kelly sang two selections and helped in the awards ceremony.

Judges for the pageant were former Miss Louisiana Becky Wilson of Shreveport, Terry Mason of Cotton Valley, Georgina Hines of West Monroe, Clay Clark of Logansport and Dr. Ed Johnson of Shreveport.

LOB finalists

Wednesday--last chance to vote this semester

Yearbook fee increase, Mr., Miss NSU on ballot

The final campus-wide election for the fall semester will be held tomorrow with students returning to the polls to decide the fate of the Potpourri fee increase bill, and to select Mr. and Miss NSU for 1978-79.

The yearbook has not had a fee increase since 1973. Editor Mike Gallien and his staff have requested a $2.50 increase to combat the sky-rocketing publication costs that they face.

Roscoe Lewis, John McKellar, Mary Lyn Bartek, and Edith Harris are in the run-off for Mr. and Miss NSU. They were selected from a slate of twelve candidates in the November 15 election.

A drafting technology major from Kenner, La., Roscoe Lewis is a member of Omega Psi Phi and a former member of the NSU football team.

John McKellar, an accounting major from Bossier City is president of the Student Government Association and a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

An upper elementary education major from Bossier City, Mary Lyn Bartek is president of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and a member of the Kappa Sigma Dream Court.

Edith Harris, a broadcast journalism major from Baton Rouge is a member of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, and a member of the Argus staff.

The following bill passed four weeks ago by the Student Government Association will be voted on tomorrow, November 29:

WHEREAS, the Potpourri staff members are constantly being faced with rising publication costs, and

WHEREAS, the student publication known as the Potpourri represents the spirit and emotions of the Northwestern State University student body.

THEREFORE be it resolved to increase student fees by $2.50 pertaining to the Potpourri fund in order to meet the needs of a first rate student publication.

(The above is the third printing of this bill in accordance to the Student Government Association Constitution, which stipulates that any bill voted upon by the students must be printed in the CURRENT SAUCE for three consecutive issues.)

Another increase? This one's needed

Potpouri wants to try again. And they are going to. All the channels have been passed through and students are once again given the final say as to whether or not Potpourri funds should be raised. Last year the bill failed. Hopefully, history won't repeat itself.

As Editor of CURRENT SAUCE, I am faced daily with rising publication costs, not to mention photography costs, staff salaries, supplies, etc. The Student Government Association stipulates POTPOURRI fees and salaries in accordance to registration fees. With all cost going up, and Northwestern enrollment going down, it is understandable that POTPOURRI finds itself in this financial bind.

Many people would be content to sit back, tell POTPOURRI to make do with what they have, and forget about it. I suggest that those are usually some of the same people who become highly skilled critics when the publication is released.

The POTPOURRI staff, working with a highly limited budget, will be producing a quality publication this spring, but there are many things that they will not be able to do because of financial costs, including extra color and special effects. Not only are the students themselves affected, but the university is also directly influenced by this, in regard to comparison of other university publications.

Our yearbooks and newspapers represent us in the offices of the Board of Regents and Board of Trustees in Baton Rouge.

Our yearbooks and newspapers are sent to other colleges and universities throughout the state, and bear direct reflection upon us as students at Northwestern.

Our publications are shown to high school students in recruitment programs.

The list goes on. Yearbooks and newspapers do not stop with the students at NSU. They only begin there. And, even if we are the only reason for paying an extra $2.50, wouldn't we be worth it?

Do you remember exactly how much our high school yearbook cost? Probably not, but chances are you would pay twice as much to replace it if you had to, because the memory is worth it. It will be the same is four years about this yearbook.

Vote yes tomorrow. It's a smart thing to do for yourself and for Northwestern.

Readers comment on past articles

Dear Editor:

There seems to have been a slight error in the article about Leonard Rose in the November 14 edition of Current Sauce. Brian Reason has no apparent ability to critique anyone as distinguished as Leonard Rose. Leonard Rose is the second best cellist in the world, possibly the first, and only fool could call his performance boring. If this is how people react to a world famous guest artist visiting there, then it becomes understandable why not many do come to NSU. Just because Mr. Reason is illiterate in good music literature doesn't give him the right to write the ridiculous article he did. Maybe next time you should get someone with more tact and common sense to go to the concerts. Case closed.

Cheryl Corkran

I can fully understand your attitude concerning the writeup of the Rose concert, but there are a few things I would like to explain to you and all those who were offended by this article.

The journalism 252 class is required to attend a certain number of concerts and turn in their critique of them. They are graded on these articles. We usually print the one that is the best. In this case, this is the only article that was turned in, and thus we printed this story. The students are journalism majors, not music appreciation majors. If he did not necessarily appreciate the concert, or if he did in fact find it boring, then that is the way, as a reporter, that he should report it. True, I would like to see reports done on such activities that are written by people who are familiar with such art, and who in fact, can be knowledgeable in critique. Unfortunately, there are very few of my reporters who have that ability, although I do not mean that in any derogatory sense. I do not, and I'm sure Mr. Reason does not appreciate you calling him illiterate about music anymore than you would appreciate being called illiterate concerning journalism. I do thank you for your concern, and would welcome cooperation from you and members of this department concerning articles of critique in the future.

EDITOR.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR
WEEKLY SPECIAL

Rep. Leo Ryan's Slaying
Stirs Bitterness in D.C.

WASHINGTON — The nation is still in shock over the bizarre suicide-killings in Guyana, South America. More than 400 disciples of the Peoples Temple joined their fanatical leader, Jim Jones, in an orgy of poisoning and shooting. Hundreds more, it is believed, fled into the jungle to escape.

The brutal slaying of California Rep. Leo Ryan and four others touched off the death orgy. It has also stirred a bitter controversy in the backrooms of Washington.

The congressman's staff told us that the State Department failed to give Ryan adequate warning of the danger. Spokesmen for the department, in turn, insist they perceived "no physical danger" to the congressman and his delegation.

Yet dissident members of the cult had complained to the FBI about threats of violence. The dissidents had told about gun-toting guards and harsh physical beatings. As early as last July, one dissident gave her attorney an affidavit, describing rehearsals for mass suicide at the Guyana colony.

The FBI, however, accepted the advice of the U.S. attorney in San Francisco, who claimed the FBI had no jurisdiction over the allegations because "no federal laws had been violated."

Now, the FBI is belatedly investigating allegations that the cult had a plan to kidnap or assassinate prominent people in the event of Jones' arrest.

The State Department also received complaints that cult members were held at the colony against their will and that they had been subjected to abuse. Consular officers visited the colony but could not verify the charges.

The murdered congressman also received a prophetic letter from Jones' attorney, Mark Lane.

"You may judge, therefore," wrote Lane on Nov. 6, "the important consequences which may flow from further persecution of (the cult) and which may very well result in the creation of a most embarrassing situation for the U.S. government."

Rep. Ryan personally underlined those lines from Lane's letter. But the congressman responded that the implied threat "did not impress (him) at all." The State Department gave Ryan the green light, and he flew to Guyana to his death.

The leader of the Peoples Temple, Jim Jones, was a former San Francisco housing official. His church started out helping people in trouble. His disciples used to write to us frequently. "Brother Jones," they would write, "urged us to pray for you and your work." Once, the church offered to send us $1,000 to start a scholarship fund.

We turned down the money and suggested that Jones donate it to charity.

Deadly Brew: For decades, the chemical companies have been burying their wastes. These forgotten chemicals have combined in some places to form a deadly witches' brew.

In several cities, the chemical solutions are seeping to the surface. They are appearing in areas where homes and schools have now been built.

The deadly ooze has produced a host of hazards. Birth defects are showing up in children who were born in the contaminated areas. The cancer rate has risen. Animal life has died off or deserted the areas.

One of the worst sites, ironically, is Niagara Falls, the honeymoon resort in upper New York. But the surfacing chemicals are making it a dangerous trysting place.

Sources who have been investigating the chemical menace at Niagara Falls say that dioxin has been found at one dumping location. This is one of the most poisonous chemicals on earth.

Already, people are deserting their homes. An environmental official describes the polluted sites as "ticking time bombs."

He claims there are many of them across the country.

Yet the Environmental Protection Agency seems to be shutting its eyes to the chemical catastrophe. Congress has passed legislation to deal with such hazards, but our sources at the EPA told us that top officials are actually blocking the implementation of the new laws. It was only after we began investigating the situation, our sources, that the EPA recently identified 6 dump sites containing chemical wastes that may be an "imminent hazard" to public health.

American Casualty: The first American casualty of the Nicaraguan civil war has just been confirmed. State Department sources say Cesar Augusto Amador, a 25-year-old U.S. citizen who was living in Managua.

Amador was arrested during the fighting in September. He was held from his home by dictator Anastasio Somoza's National Guard troops.

Amador was apparently suspected of being a rebel sympathizer, but was never charged with a crime. Nicaraguan authorities claim Amador was killed by Sandinista guerrillas when they raided the police station. His body was never produced; government officials said he was buried in a mass grave for "sanitary purposes."

Watch on Waste: The Pentagon is losing millions of dollars every year by making no effort to recover precious metals from scrap materials. Government auditors recently determined that $16 million could have been saved just by recovering silver from X-ray film solutions. The brass hats said they would "study" the problem.

NEW EVIDENCE—The Dallas Morning News reported Sunday that a film taken by an amateur photographer just before the assassination of President John F. Kennedy may show two people in the window of the Texas Book Depository. Robert Groden, a House Assassinations Committee film technician, has stated that the film shows two men in the "sniper's nest" on the sixth floor of the building. This new evidence could disprove the Warren Commission's decision that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination.

NEW YORK FIRE—Ten persons were killed Sunday as an early morning fire raced through a Holiday Inn in Rochester, New York. Authorities reported the fire broke out in a storage room on the ground floor and quickly spread through the building. The motel was filled with Thanksgiving weekend travelers.

Wonder Woman? - Nope, Barbie Jenkins

By Helen Hubley

Barbie Jenkins, Miss Lady of the Bracelet, may possibly be NSU's answer to Wonder Woman. Barbie, eighteen-year-old freshman from Lafayette, happen to be the World Champion in Double Mini-Trampoline competition for 1978. She won this title last summer in Waikiki Beach, Hawaii.

In addition to being a world champion trampolinist, Barbie excels in dance, twirling, music and all academic areas. When asked about her feelings upon winning her beauty title, this petite blonde replied, "I was overwhelmed! I'd never thought about winning because this was my first beauty pageant. I couldn't believe it that night, and I still can't believe it."

This determined beauty also holds a music scholarship here at NSU. She began playing the piano at age five and took up the clarinet and the flute at age ten. According to Barbie, "I don't know what it's like to just sit around. I've always been so busy. Doing everything that I can has always been a part of my life."

At age ten Barbie began her trampoline exercises, and at age twelve she started her gymnastics work. Barbie has toured the United States with the University of Southwestern Louisiana trampoline team, under the direction of Coach Jeff Hennessey, since she was thirteen-years-old.

"I wanted to go to the Olympics when I got older, but trampoline events are not included in the Olympics, so I've changed my ambition toward coaching a team for the Olympics," said Barbie. A physical education major here at NSU, Barbie intends to open her own school of gymnastics one day.

Barbie's mother and father have encouraged her in her endeavors throughout the years. Her mother, Marjorie Jenkins, is a band director for two elementary schools in Lafayette, and her father, Professor Raymond Jenkins, is head of the Mechanical Engineering Department at USL.

A member of the NSU Twirling Line, Barbie began twirling when she was in tenth grade at Lafayette High School. She served as Head Majorette for Lafayette High for two years. In addition to her band activities in high school, she was elected to her homecoming court for two years and was voted most talented by her senior class.

In spite of all her extracurricular activities, Barbie has been able to maintain a high academic standing. Selected for membership to her high school's honor society, she was graduated in the top 2 percent of class with a 3.8 grade point average.

What caused this multi-talented coed to come to Northwestern? "Well, the P.E. Department AND THE Music Department here are really good, and I love the beautiful campus," said Barbie. Here at NSU, Barbie is a pledge of Delta Zeta Social Sorority and serves as a Batgirl for the NSU Baseball Team, of which her boyfriend Bill Land is a member. She also works in the Fine Arts Department.

Barbie made up her own routine for the Lady of the Bracelet Pageant. She performed her combination dance-gymnastics routine to "Alone in the Rain," the theme from the movie ROCKY. Looking forward to the Miss Louisiana Pageant to be held in Monroe during the summer of 1979, Barbie plans to work up her own combination floor exercise-trampoline routine for her talent competition.

Exercising, jogging, dieting, and reading up on current events are items on Barbie's agenda for the months preceding the Miss Louisiana Pageant. With the winning attributes of Barbie's personality, she just may be the next Miss America!

But for right now, Barbie is resting from the hectic days of the Lady of the Bracelet Pageant. "I had a great time in the pageant, but it was a lot of hard work. Right now I'm enjoying eating a few fattening things!"

Midnight breakfasts still possible

David Goldstein

A question that repeatedly has been asked is whether or not Northwestern students will be able to continue to have Midnight Breakfast. The actions taken by students on that unforgettable Monday night were, "a combination of excitement and anticipation" according to Jack McCormick Food Service Director.

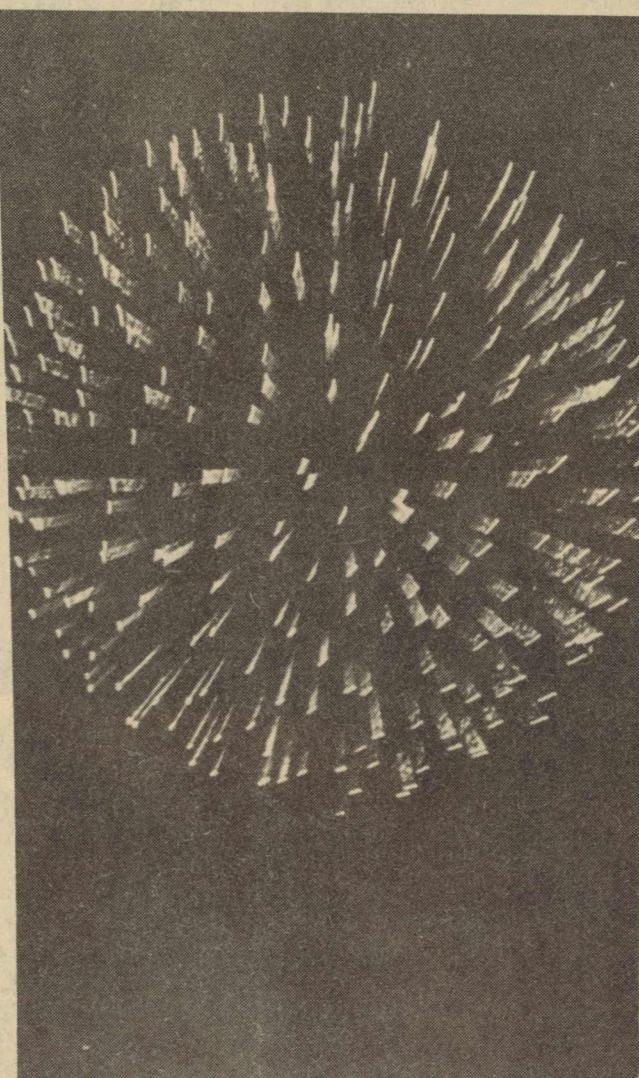

Mr. McCormick also thinks that the reasons for the outbreak could have been caused because the students have a lot of spirit and like to have fun. "Of course I wish the throwing of napkins, food, cups, etc., had never taken place, but with all the activities that were going on, the excitement of State Fair

Food Service Director.

Even with the extra money that had to be spent for the extra help and the time it took to finally finish cleaning up, McCormick said that he does not hold any grudges. "In fact, he stated, "midnight breakfast will always be in the schedule for NSU activities as long as I am here." When asked what changes would be made for the next one, he replied, "there might be a security guard at the front door to discourage those from being wild."

Mr. McCormick and his staff are planning to have a "Midnight breakfast" this semester before the exams get underway.

'Magic' amazes audiences

There is magic indeed in the creative elements which fuse together to bring "MAGIC" to the screen as one of the most fascinatingly suspenseful love stories ever filmed.

Producers Joseph E. Levine and Richard P. Levine bring to "MAGIC" the extraordinary production values for which they are famed, and Richard Attenborough's direction finds just the right note of brooding terror for the compelling screenplay. William Goldman has woven so masterfully from his novel.

The film catches the audience in its grip and never lets go from those first moments when, under the titles, the camera begins its restless prowling of a room jam-crammed with magic apparatus...collapsible bird cages, top hats, flags, silks, linking rings. It is a bizarre array, and it sets the tone for the pulse-stopping action which follows: the intriguingly detailed study of a man who takes refuge within the illusionary world magic can create. Corky finds for himself a voice outside his own, the voice of Fats, a ventriloquist's dummy — brash, aggressive, acid-tongued, frequently descending into foul-mouthed abusiveness — KWHO, WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF A NIGHTCLUB PERFORMANCE, MOUTHS

Corky's own hidden fears, yearnings, hostilities and aggressions.

By combining ventriloquism with his magic, Corky catapults himself into the limelight as one of the most sought after entertainers in the business. His agent, worldly-wise and cynical old Ben Green, tells him he is just one step away from the big time. But this represents a final commitment which terrifies Corky, and he is plunged suddenly into an abyss of self-created terror...a nightmare which wrecks upon the placed countryside he knew many years earlier when he was growing up.

A brilliant combination of talents at the top of their form, the film's stars—Anthony Hopkins, Ann-Margret, Burgess Meredith and Ed Lauter — work together in a commanding display of ensemble performance that adds immeasurably to the cumulative terror and suspense as this most unusual love story unfolds.

Anthony Hopkins enriches the screen with his performance as Corky, brilliantly bringing to life the harrowing complexities of the bedeviled ventriloquist. Ann-Margret brings new depth and insight to the role of Peggy Ann, the woman who hungers for a realization of her youthful dreams. As Ben Green, cryptically referred to as The Postman because he always delivers, Burgess Meredith plays a cynical, high-living theatrical agent with the level of performance that won him two Academy Award nominations. As Duke, Peggy Ann's embittered and jealous husband, Ed Lauter finds, at last, an opportunity worthy of the talent that has already won him wide critical recognition.

Gents spank Demons in season opener

Centenary College outscored Northwestern State University by 16-4 over a five-minute stretch in the second half to break open a close game and give the Gents a 93-81 victory over the Demons here Saturday night.

The Gents, who like the Demons were opening their 1978-79 season, led by only one point at 56-55 with 14 minutes to go in the contest but used six baskets by forward George Lett during that 16-point run, which gave the Gents their largest lead of the game at that time.

The loss by NSU overshadowed a spectacular 28-point, 14-rebound performance by Demon sophomore Jim Hoops, who hit 11 of 19 shots from the floor during the contest. Hoops efforts were game highs.

Hoops was one of three Demons in double figures, as post-man Guy Charles gunned in 18 points and guard Jerry Lewis added 13. Centenary had five in double digits, paced by Lett's 23 and John Derenbecker with 21.

The win was the Gentlemen's 13th in the last 14 meeting of a 73-year-old series between the two schools, and the eighth consecutive win in the series in the Gold Dome for the Gents. Seven minutes into the contest when Derenbecker converted on a three-point play to make it 17-9 with 13:05 to go in the first half. It was 31-19 when Steve Kelly hit two free throws for the Gents 7:31 left, but from that point the Demons outscored their hosts 18-6 over the next four minutes to tie things up at 37-all.

It stayed tied at 37 until the final minute of play in the half, when Centenary's Billy Reiser keyed a surge that gave the Gentlemen a 44-41 halftime lead. The Demons kept it close early in the second half, even closing to within one at 54-53, before the Gents roared away on the strength of Lett's shooting and the lightning-quick Gent defense.

Centenary moved to a commanding 83-69 lead with the Lett-led charge, and Demon coach Tynes Hildebrand could do little more than sit back and watch as a strong Gent bench protected the bulge against the weary Demons.

Northwestern, of course, suffered a big loss last week before Piper the season started when junior postman Fred Piper was injured in an auto accident that claimed the life of Demon footballer Wyamond Waters. Then, to complicate matters further, senior Robert Lively hurt his leg in practice and could not play in Saturday's game.

The loss of the two big men obviously hurt the inside game of Hildebrand's charges. "Our inside defense broke down," Hildebrand said later, "and it was tough to stop them. But we're going to be a good inside team...it's gonna take time though," he said.

The Demons will be without the services of

Demons host Natt, Indians Thursday

Circle your wagons and hold onto your hats, Hall (6-foot-6). In addition, juniors Kenny the Northeast Indians are on their way. Natt (6-foot-3), John Pickett (6-foot-4), Thursday night the continuation of a Ronald Frazier (6-foot-5) and Eugene seemingly age old rivalry between Northeast Robinson (6-foot-8). Natt, as everyone probably knows, is once more in the confines of Prather coming off knee surgery, but from all reports, he is back to his old form.

Both teams will be coming off tough games Monday night with the Demons traveling to face McNeese and the Indians hosting Thursday. Northwestern lost both of their matchups with the Indians last year, but it was close defeats in each game.

Unless he reinjures his leg Monday night against Nicholls he should be ready for action

Northwestern lost both of their matchups with the Indians last year, but it was close defeats in each game.

Last year's Indian team was 20-7 for NLU's

17th consecutive winning season and eight star center Fred Piper, who was lost for the lettermen, including four starters, return season because of a car wreck.

But Northwestern, who dropped a 93-81

Theresa Long, Tottie Cary, Marilyn Gates, Joan Darbonne

Lady Demons open home season Thursday

The Lady Demons of Northwestern State University play their first home game of the season Thursday evening at 5:15 against the Lady Indians of Northeast Louisiana University. The game is a preliminary to the men's game against NLU at 7:30.

Sophomore Joan Darbonne leads the Lady Demons in scoring with an 18.5 average after a sparkling 29 point performance against the University of New Orleans. Marilyn Gates is next with a 13.5 norm and leads the squad in rebounding with 13.5 boards per outing. Linda Jones sports an even 10.0 average while Theresa Long has a 9.0 norm and leads the team in steals with 7. Diana Cary rounds out the starting line-up with a 6.0 avg. and is the team's second leading rebounder at 7.0.

Freshman Mary Humphrey of Kilbourne has performed nicely off the bench with 6.5 points and 6.0 rebounds per game. Others likely to see action are Debbie Lambright and Lisa Thompson.

Northeast returns its top two scorers and rebounders of last season, and, with the addition of five new recruits, could make first year Coach Linda Harper's debut season a success. The Lady Indians return Marlena Mossbarger and Linda Kinard, both sophomores, along with other starters Ginger Martin and Linda Andrews from last year.

Mossbarger, a 6-4 center, averaged 23.2 points and 11.1 rebounds while Kinard had norms of 14.0 and 9.0 Andrews came on late in the season to average 12.1 points and 8.9 rebounds.

The key to the Lady Indian attack may be in the guard position where Martin is the only returning letterman. Martin may miss the Thursday night contest because of a knee injury, but capable help should come from junior college transfers Sue Sullivan and Etta Walker.

The game also marks the home coaching debut of former NSU great Pat Nolen. Nolen was one of the all-time leading scorers in Lady Demon history.

The Lady Demons come into the game without its two top scorers of a year ago that defeated the Lady Indians 91-70 here in Prather Coliseum. This game was marked by an eighty eight point second half by the two teams and indicates that a high scoring contest may be in store.

Williams Disappointed with 5-6 season

The 1978 football season is history for Northwestern State University's Demon football team, and the campaign left bittersweet memories for NSU head coach A.L. Williams.

"I'm disappointed that our record wasn't any better than it was," Williams said after his team had finished with a 5-6 worksheet over the campaign, "because I felt going into the season that we had the potential to be a big winner this year."

The Demon squad started out just as Williams expected, winning their first three games over Lamar, Stephen F. Austin and McNeese State. However, the tide turned as abruptly as possible as NSU fell in a 46-0 defeat at the hands of Northeast Louisiana that started a four-game losing streak, all on the road.

"Things didn't go well at all for us during those four games," said Williams, who completed his fourth year as head coach of the Demons. "We could not seem to shake ourselves loose during that time, and even though we were playing good football teams we should have played much better than we did."

We play with more emotion in front of our own fans, but even that shouldn't make that big of a difference in the way we play."

The Demons only won one of six games on the road this year, and NSU holds a 5-23 mark over the past four seasons away from home.

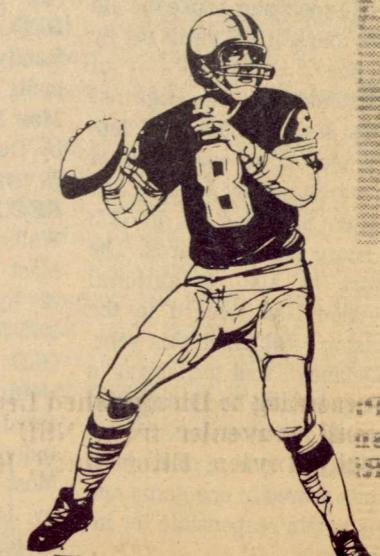

"A good recruiting year is vital for us now," Williams said. "We've got a lot of holes to fill, and most of them were people who had been starting for two or three years."

All but one member of the offensive line, both tight ends and three of the top four wide receivers will be lost to graduation, while four members of the front seven on defense will not return for next season. In all, 17 seniors must be replaced, including 14 who were full or part-time starters.

"It'll be tough for us to replace some of these people," Williams said. "Four years ago when they came in as freshmen, they had to play immediately because that was all we had, and they did a great job. We're to the point now, that we don't have to throw our young people into that kind of situation."

There are bright spots, with the entire offensive and defensive backfields returning and some promising prospects set to fill some of the graduation gaps. "We'll be all right next season," Williams said, "because the people we have back have a lot of character and will want to improve over this past season. I think they'll be able to do it."

Lady Demons split pair over

weekend in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS — The Lady Demons of Northwestern State University opened their season over the weekend here with a convincing win and a narrow loss.

Sophomore Joan Darbonne poured in 29 points to lead the Lady Demons to a lopsided win over the University of New Orleans Saturday afternoon. Darbonne, a 5-foot-7 guard, had 17 of her career high total in the first half when the Lady Demons rolled to a commanding 54-23 lead at halftime.

Freshman Marilyn Gates of Benton added 12 points and 12 rebounds for NSU, while Mary Humphrey chipped in with nine markers and Linda Jones, Theresa Long, Debbie Lambright and Lisa Thompson had eight each.

Thonda Bentley led the way for the Lady Privateers, now 0-3 on the season with 16 points, while Cathy Vanhouse had 15 and Jan Gornhauser had 10.

The Lady Demon win over UNO evened their record at 1-1 after a Friday loss to the Tulane University women. A second half rally fell short as Tulane took a 66-59 victory over NSU behind the 21 point effort of Tammy Johnson.

The Lady Demons, Down 32-22 at halftime, made it close in the second half but were hurt by personal fouls. Marilyn Gates led a balanced attack for NSU with 15 points, while Jones had 12, Long 10, and Diana Cary and Joan Darbonne 8 each.

The Lady Demons traveled to Lake Charles Monday night to take on McNeese State for their third straight road game.

The Demons lost to NLU, Arkansas State, Louisville and old rival La. Tech during that streak before returning home for a 28-18 victory over Nicholls State. After that, the Demons dropped two of their final three games, ending with a 13-12 win over Southeastern La., to cap the 5-6 season.

"At the start of the season, I felt we had a chance to take part in the Division 1-AA playoffs," Williams said. "We had some great athletes, and I think we could have done well in the playoffs."

This was the first year of the competition in the new 1-AA division, and NSU was ranked among the national 1-AA top ten for the first half of the season.

Even with the sub-par record, the Demons kept their home-field mystique alive. Of the five games played on the AstroTurf of Harry "Rags" Turpin Stadium this season, NSU won four of them for its third straight 4-1 record at home.

"I don't know what it is that makes us play so well at home," Williams said, "and I don't know what it is that affects us on the road. I know

Demons Surprise Favored Lions 13-12 in Finale

It's always nice to end a season on a winning note, but head coach A.L. Williams was especially happy about his Northwestern State University squad's performance Saturday night in the Demons' 13-12 comeback victory over Southeastern Louisiana.

"We played just about as well as we could play in the second half," Williams said after the Demons had come back from a 12-0 halftime deficit and put a pair of touchdowns on the board in the second half against the nation's top-ranked Division 11 team in scoring defense.

However, the key to the contest was the Demon defense, which was highly porous against Lion's powerful rushing attack early in the contest but was very stingy in the second half.

"We made some defensive adjustments at halftime,"

Williams said, "because they were doing what they wanted to do in the first half. We shifted the strength of our defense from side to side and it slowed them down some."

The tactic obviously worked, because the Lions, who converted on five of seven third downs in the first half, did not manage another third-down conversion in the contest, and, of course, didn't score over the final two quarters.

Junior quarterback Kenny Philibert and freshman tailback Carlton Finister scored NSU's two touchdowns on runs of one and four yards respectively, but the spark to those two scores was junior Mark Schroeder, who came off the bench to rush for 81 yards, the majority in the second half to help set up the two scores.

Schroeder had not seen any action in the Demons' last two games because of an injured knee. "Mark was still playing hurt," said Williams, "but he did just a great job. He did what he had to do for us to win, and I think our whole squad did what they had to."

Waters Succumbs to Injuries

Wyamond Waters, Northwestern State University's stellar wide receiver for the past four football seasons, died early Sunday morning in Rapides Parish Hospital in Alexandria of injuries suffered in an automobile accident one week ago.

Waters, 21, died at 1 a.m. Sunday morning of pneumonia and other complications resulting from a one-car accident last Saturday morning, Nov. 18, on La. Highway 1 north of Boyce.

Waters, who was in intensive care for several days following the accident, had been moved to a private room during the latter part of the week and was showing signs of improvement as late as Saturday.

"We are all shocked by the news," said NSU athletic director and head football coach A.L. Williams. "One of our staff members had talked to him Friday, and I had talked to his mother Saturday, and everybody had said that he was doing well."

Waters had been in traction since the accident with a possible broken neck and was partially paralyzed, but he had begun to regain feelings in his arms and legs.

The six-foot, 185-pounder from Dallas, Tex. and South Oak Cliff High School had been hurled from the automobile when it swerved off the road and hit a bridge embankment before flipping over. A passenger in the automobile, NSU basketball player Frederick Piper, is still hospitalized in Alexandria with a broken leg and other cuts and bruises.

Waters was NSU's second-leading all-time receiver in the total yardage with 1,538 yards on 79 receptions during his career. He also had 13 touch-down catches and averaged 19.5 yards per reception, with all four figures ranking among NSU's top three all-time receiving leaders. Waters is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Waters of Dallas. Funeral arrangements were incomplete as of Monday morning.

Gridders Set 18 Records

Northwestern State University's 1978 football team broke a total of 18 records and tied six others during the season, with several outstanding individual performances highlighting the new marks.

A total of 10 individual marks were broken and three others were equalled, while eight team marks were shattered and two others were tied.

The most noteworthy were the career receiving records established by senior Mike Almond of Bossier City. The 6-foot-2, 190-pounder ended his stellar career with 95 receptions for 1,562 yards, breaking the old mark of 85 receptions by Steve Gaspard from 1966-69 and the mark of 1,484 yards on catches set by Al Phillips from 1967-70.

Almond also set a new single-game reception record with 10 catches against Louisville during the season, shattering the old mark of eight set by Gaspard against Abilene Christian in 1968 and by Russ Gielow against Southeastern in 1966.

However, the most amazing record was the one set by sophomore tailback Joe Delaney of Haughton, who rushed for an incredible 299 yards against Nicholls State during the season to break both the school and state single-game rushing mark.

The 299-yard effort of the 5-foot-10 speedster broke the old state mark of 287 yards set by Horace Belton of Southeastern La. against Delta State in 1974, and topped the old school record of 194 yards set by Mario Cage against Southeastern in 1973 by more than 100 yards. The effort is also a national Division 1-AA record in the division established this year.

Delaney's four touchdowns in that game also tied three other records for most touchdowns rushing in one game, most points scored in one game and most points responsible for in one game.

Most of the other individual records were set by senior punter-kicker Dennis Pendergraft of Chalmette, who ended his four-year career with four career kicking marks. He set new records for most punts in a career with 207 breaking the old mark of 185 by Randy Walker from 1970-73; most yards punt in a career with 8,093, breaking Walker's mark of 7,355; most field goal attempts in a career with 72, shattering the old mark of 68 set by Dennis Wilkinson from 1968-71.

Pendergraft also set one single-game record and tied another during the year, with his 11 punts against Arkansas State equaling the mark for most punts in a game and his 463 yards punting in that contest breaking the old standard of 454 yards set by Walker against McNeese in 1973.

Sophomore Connie Hatcher of Jena had the only other individual record, with his seven kickoff returns against Northeast Louisiana breaking the old mark of six kickoff returns in a game set by Mario Cage against Delta State in 1973 and later tied by two others.

Team-wise, the Demons set six season records and two single-game marks while tying one of each. NSU ran a total of 798 offensive plays during the year breaking the old mark of 738 set last season, and also set new marks for most fumbles lost, most penalties, most yard penalized, most punts and most punts had blocked in a season.

The Demons set single-game marks for most passes had intercepted, giving up six pass thefts to Texas-Arlington, and for most fumbles lost, losing five fumbles against both Lamar and Nicholls State.

Honors, Potpourri increase decided

John Eric McKellar and Mary Lyn Bartek, both seniors from Bossier City, captured NSU's highest award in what may be one of the most controversial contests in years.

The new Mr. and Miss NSU, who both won by huge margins, were elected in a campus wide election last Wednesday, November 29. In other election results, the NSU Potpourri was granted a $2.50 fee increase to take effect in fall of 1979.

Miss Bartek is an elementary education major and is the daughter of Lt. Col and Mrs. Joe Bartek. The petite beauty has served as NSU cheerleader, a member of Purple Jackets and is currently President of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. Mary L was elected as the 1976 State Fair Queen, and was a member of the 1977 Homecoming and 1978 State Fair Courts. She was chosen for two years as a member of Kappa Sigma's dream court, and was first runnerup in the 1976 Lady of the Bracelet pageant.

McKellar is a three year member of Student Government and has served in the capacity of Senator-at-Large and Treasurer. He is currently SGA president and represents Northwestern as a member of Louisiana's Student Advisory Council. Mr. McKellar is a member and past treasurer of Kappa Sigma fraternity and was chosen as a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The winners were formally and traditionally announced at the Christmas lights concert Saturday night at the coliseum. They were, however also previously announced in a private meeting held earlier in the week in the student government conference room.

Students to aid victims

Students at Northwestern are being urged to participate in a campus wide drive for aid to the Bossier City tornado victims.

Old clothing, canned goods, etc. are being collected to send to the victims of the weekend disaster, according to Cindy Hall, Panhellenic president. Sororities and fraternities are especially urged to participate in this drive.

Panhellenic has not yet officially decided to take on this project, but they are expected to discuss it at their bi-monthly meeting this Wednesday.

Persons wishing to participate in the drive should contact Miss Hall.

Jaycees announce Natchitoches pageant

The Natchitoches Area Jaycees will sponsor their second annual Miss

Greater Natchitoches Pageant on Saturday, Feb. 10, 1979, in the A. A. Fredericks Fine Arts Auditorium on the NSU campus.

Argus distribution anticipated

The fifth issue of Argus, NSU's multi-media magazine, went to press last week and will be available for distribution in two weeks.

The magazine will feature artwork, photography, short stories, essays, and poems.

In keeping with the philosophy of Argus, the magazine is representative of the student body with contributors whose majors range from forestry to clinical psychology to advertising.

Although a relatively new publication, Argus is attempting to establish a tradition of its own. In the past, work from the English creative writing class has been featured. In this issue the class is represented by the limerick, a type of light verse characterized by wit and boddiness.

Distribution of Argus will be similar to that of the Potpourri. For the first time Argus will be available at no cost to students and may be claimed by presenting their I.D. card. Information concerning date of distribution will be aired on KNWD and posted in the Student Union.

Those interested in joining the Argus staff or obtaining information about the magazine are invited to come by the office in Room 316A of the Arts and Science Building, or call 357-4486.

Nolton Causey, Jaycee chairman of the event, said that entrants are now being sought for the pageant, which is an official Miss Louisiana Preliminary and will be conducted according to all Miss America guidelines.

Causey said that any female between the ages of 17 and 26 who will be a high school graduate by Labor Day of 1979 is eligible to enter the pageant. Contestants must be single and never have been married or have had a marriage annulled.

"We want to encourage as many NSU students as possible to enter the pageant," said Causey. "We consider Northwestern students as citizens of Natchitoches, and all students are eligible to compete."

"We are hoping for a large number of entries," Causey said. "Our pageant was a huge success last year and we are hoping for an even bigger success this year."

Last year's winner, Cheryl Purcell, placed in the top five at the Miss Louisiana pageant, and she will be assisting in the production of the pageant this year.

There will be a $200 cash scholarship for the winner as well as monetary aid with the Miss Louisiana wardrobe. Gift certificates and other items will also be awarded.

Causey said that there will be no production number as such, and said that entries are due as soon as possible. Contestants will hold a rehearsal on Friday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m., the day before the pageant.

Entry blanks are available by writing the Natchitoches Area Jaycees at P. O. Box 2152, Natchitoches, 71457, or by calling Causey at 352-9500 or 352-6182.

Lewis, Harris contest results

In a formal letter sent to Terry McCarty, Commissioner of Elections on Friday, December 1, the Mr. and Miss NSU election was contested for the first time in three years.

Edith Harris and Roscoe Lewis, runoff candidates for the honor position, named McCarty's "violations" as the main reasons for contest.

The formal letter read "We, Edith M. Harris and Roscoe Lewis, so hereby officially on November 30, 1978 contest the election procedures utilized in the November 29, 1978 runoff election of Mr. and Miss NSU. Reasons for the above stated contestation are as follows: Violation of Articles 1; intentional violation of article 9 until corrected; 10 and 15; Article A under section 2 of duties of Commissioner of Elections as stated in the Northwestern State University Election code. 2. Demand a recount of the votes because of several reports of 88 unaccounted for votes. 3. Election results were in McCarty's dorm room when questioned about the election results by Harris and Lewis on November 29, 1978 and not in the Commissioners' office. 4. List of poll workers drawn up by Commissioner of Elections was voted on but were never submitted to the Election Board in the meeting in which they were voted on. 5. Biased article quoting Commissioner of Elections printed in Current Sauce prior to elections with inaccurate information quite possibly altered the voting decisions of many supporters of not only Miss Harris but Mr. Lewis as well.

It is the sincere desire of both Edith M. Harris and Roscoe Lewis that the above stated contestation for the aforementioned reasons be given the proper attention they are due as legitimate requests by the proper committee(s)."

A meeting was called Friday afternoon in the SGA office at 4 pm, but as all parties were not available to attend, it was postponed until Monday at 5 pm. Commissioner of Elections McCarty issued a statement Sunday, saying, "On Friday afternoon at 4 pm an informal discussion was heard on the prose and cons of the contestation. A formal meeting has been called for Monday, Dec. 4, at 5:00 to discuss the letter of contestation and render a decision."

Christmas concerts slated

Three major NSU musical groups will combine forces Friday, December 8 at 7:30 pm in the Student Union Ballroom to present a program of Christmas music.

The concert, entitled Hilaritis, is co-sponsored by the Student Union Governing Board and will include the Chamber Orchestra under the direction of Richard Rose; the Concert Choir under the direction of John Taylor; and the Jazz Ensemble under the direction of concert co-ordinator Wayne Blackwell.

"The concert will feature traditional songs like Joy to the World and Silent Night and others not so traditional like Christmas Stocking," Blackwell added.

The Natchitoches Chamber of Commerce will provide free refreshments and several NSU Greek organizations are decorating trees to be placed in the ballroom.

The concert is open to all.

COUNCIL FOR DEANS SUPPORT NIX—The Louisiana Council for Deans of Education has reaffirmed its position of support for State Superintendent of Education Kelly Nix in the administration of the National Teacher Examination for certification of teachers in the state. Council chairman Dr. Robert Alost, dean of the College of Education at Northwestern State University, said that the organization reaffirmed its position during a special meeting held in conjunction with the convention of the Louisiana Association of Educators in Baton Rouge. According to Alost, officials of the state's 22 institutions currently preparing persons to teach in Louisiana "feel that the examination will be a device that would evaluate the knowledge a person has before going into the classroom."

HEAVY DAMAGE IN BOSSIER—The early morning tornado which ripped through Bossier City Sunday left two young sisters dead and caused roughly $100 million worth of damages, according to city authorities. More than 200 persons were injured during the violent weather and 4500 persons were driven from their homes. The tornado hit about 6:15 a.m. near the Central Park Subdivision. Motels, businesses, and apartment complexes in the area were heavily damaged as the twister made its way through the city. Bossier Mayor Marvin Anding imposed a 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew to prevent looting and other problems in the devastated city. Governor Edwin Edwards declared a state of emergency in the city, while Senator Bennett Johnston said Bossier City would probably be declared a federal disaster area, making the residents eligible for low interest loans.

NSU BUDGET APPROVED—The Board of Trustees for State Colleges and Universities approved a $15,008,351 operating budget for Northwestern at its December meeting on the NSU campus Saturday. A $20,322,014 five year capital outlay program for NSU also received the board's approval. These amounts may be reduced before receiving final legislative approval in the spring. Nine Louisiana schools had their operating budgets approved during Saturday's meeting.

Financial assistance available

Jerry Jones

Money is of primary importance to every college student. While some students swear they couldn't make it with less than a couple of hundred a week for spending money, others would be happy if there was enough left over at the end of the month to buy a pair of used jeans. Money, or the lack of it, can really cause a problem when there is just not enough of it for Joe C. Student to stay in school. When this is the case, financial assistance is needed. How it is obtained is relatively easy once one knows the system.

Every student applying for financial assistance must fill out a ACT Family Financial Statement, obtained at the Financial Aid Office. Usually it takes approximately 21 days for this form to be processed and sent back to the Financial Aid Office. This costs the student $4.00 if he is applying for any of the federal aid programs in which the school participates. The student need not pay anything if he is applying only for a Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG).

After the office has received the form they compute the students needs and, money permitting, put that student in the program that he both qualifies for and is the most beneficial to him. One of the most common causes of delay is the improper filling out of the ACT form. To combat this the Financial Aid Office will offer a supervised ACT form filling session in early January, the exact date to be released later. In this session the student will be able to ask questions concerning any part of the form. The session will also point out areas which have frequently been problem areas and explains them throughly. The other student, who is a single freshman, is the man living on campus. His budget for a semester is $1183.00. This includes tuition, room and board, books, and a living allowance. From this is subtracted any BEOG money, his required contribution (for Joe, $153.00), and any scholarships. The office then decides which program to put the student in to make up the difference. Many times it is not enough money for the College Work Study Program simply because it is first-served basis. It is to all students advantage to apply the extra money he needs to early and have their application in the office well before April 1. This includes big debt to repay. While this process is easy those students not attending school until the fall since their application can be processed along with the summer point that there isn't any students. While you can turn money left by the time your applications after the application is received, deadline, it is the latest that you can turn it in and be assured of a reply before the semester begins.

The programs that NSU participates in are the National Direct Student Loans, Nursing Student Loan Program, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Public Health Service Scholarship, and College Work Study Program. The Financial Aid Office has nothing to do with the BEOG program except for distributing the application form (standard ACT form) and dispensing the awarded money.

The students financial needs for the semester are computed by the use of a federally approved set of budgets which encompass nearly every living situation. For an example let us use Joe C. If you drive a new Grand Prix and eat out every meal because the cafeteria does not offer table service, you probably did not read past the first paragraph and could care less. If you've applied for aid before and was turned down because you just missed qualifying, try again this semester. The amount of income your family can have and still be eligible has been raised this semester and many people can now qualify before they could not. If you have never applied before go ahead and try. Every little bit helps, and besides sometimes you just have to eat more than the three meals the cafeteria provides.

Everyone knows that having an attack of the munchies at 7:11 isn't cheap.

Unique art form displayed

By Jerry Jones

Photography is an unique art form as well as one that is universally appreciated. It is unique among the older forms in the increasingly complex equipment the artist must manipulate and the stark reality of the moments in time that it freezes.

While it is true the camera does not lie, the artistic photographer is constantly looking for an unusual and thought provoking way to picture a subject. The subject may be seemingly mundane but the photographer will seek to shine a light on whatever facet of human nature it represents. These facts may range from the dramatic to the humorous and draw from the entire range of human emotions.

Anyone can learn to appreciate photography because one can usually identify quite easily with the subject. One major point to look for in good photography is singleness of idea. The picture should illuminate the central idea and not have any distractions from it.

There are many examples of good photography in the photo exhibit in the Fine Arts Gallery. The exhibit, to be held until December 8, has the work of four photographers on display. The photographers are Joe Moran, Robert Tooke, B.A. Cohen, and Bill Bryant.

There are some excellent examples of artistic photography in this exhibit. There are many that bear mentioning in this article.

The Student Union Governing Board Social Activities Committee's Winter Ball dance has been scheduled for Wednesday, December 6 from 8-12 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

The dance is the only semi-formal dance of the semester. "We haven't had the Winter Ball semi-formal dance in the past few Fall semesters," said Christy Turner, committee chairman. "We are going to try it again to see how participation is so we'll know whether or not to have one regularly."

The band is Right Track from Little Rock, Arkansas. Right Track has played dances for several fraternities at La. Tech.

The dance is free to students upon presentation of I.D. Semi-formal attire is also required.

Annual Charity Bowl Tonight

Northwestern State University's Kappa Sigma Fraternity chapter will sponsor its 3rd annual Charity Bowl Football Game tonight, but this year it will be under a very different format.

In this year's game, which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Turpin Stadium on NSU campus, the NSU Kappa Sigma chapter will be meeting the Kappa Sigma chapter from La. Tech in the contest.

"In the past, we've usually played another campus fraternity," said event coordinator Bill Hochstetler, "but we felt that meeting members of our fraternity from another school would make for a more interesting game."

The game will be a full-contact, full-pads football game played under high school rules, featuring 12-minute quarters. High school officials will be used for the contest.

Tickets are $2 apiece and are available at the NSU Student Union today and at the gate tonight. Proceeds from the event will go to the area Heart Fund Drive and to the NSU Demon Booster Club.

"We are hoping for a big turnout for the contest,"

Hochstetler said. "It should be an exciting football game, and I feel we have some quality players on our squad that will be worth seeing."

Notables on the NSU Kappa Sigma squad include quarterback Roger Sullivan, formerly of Benton, linebacker Randy Bonnette of Natchitoches-Central and center Alton Burkhalter and nose guard Mark Mathews, both of whom played at Natchitoches Academy.

The NSU squad is being coached by former Northwestern players Richard Ware, Russell Roge and Roscoe Lewis, while former Tech standouts Randy Robertson and David Abney are coaching the Tech Kappa Sigma squad.

NSU's acclaimed Cane River Belles Dance Line will be performing at halftime. The contest will be broadcast in the Natchitoches area over campus radio station KNWD-FM beginning at 7:20 p.m. and will be videotaped for later playback by WSBC-TV, Channel 9.

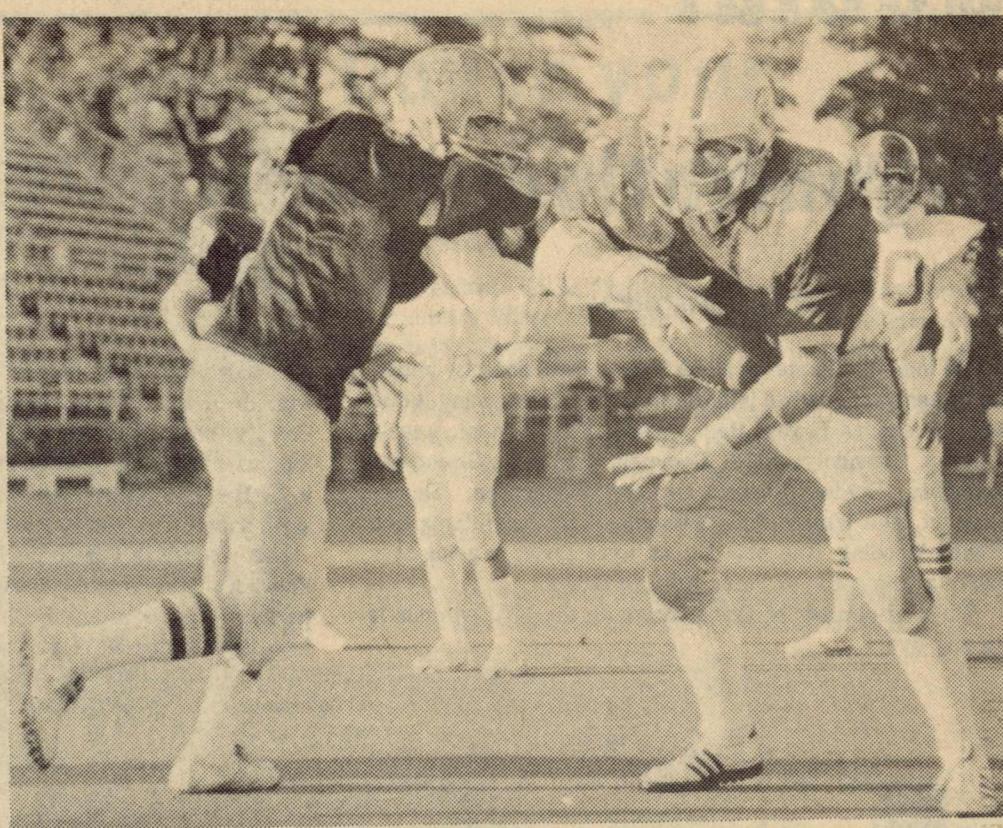

The only difference in rules in tonight's battle will be the elimination of kickoffs. Officials felt that the risk of injury to the players would not justify kickoffs, so the teams will begin play at their 20 yard line.

Ware has put his squad through nearly a month of workouts in preparation for the contest. The team has been in full pads for most practice sessions since the conclusion of the Thanksgiving holidays.

The biggest concern for the coaches has been conditioning. Most of the players did participate in high school football and have a good knowledge of proper techniques. However, as could be expected, few members of the team were in good enough condition to play a full football game, and prevention of injuries is directly related to conditioning.

Most of the athletes from the Sig flag football team that won the All-College mens' championship this year are expected to participate in the contest tonight. There are reports that both sides may spring surprises in the form of "ringers" who are either part-time students or faculty members and are members of the fraternity.

Kappa Sigma quarterback Roger Sullivan hands off to running back Randy Bonnette during a practice session for tonight's third annual Kappa Sigma Charity Bowl, which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Turpin Stadium. The NSU Kappa Sigma chapter will be meeting the Kappa Sigma squad from L. Tech in the annual contest. Tickets are $2 each and are on sale in the Student Union and at the gate. (Photo by Tim Hopson)

Demons Host Wildcats In Old Rivalry Renewal ..

Northwestern State University will be attempting to halt its current three-game losing streak tomorrow night when the Demons play host to vastly-improved La. College in the 68th meeting between the two schools.

Tipoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Prather Coliseum for the renewal of the ancient rivalry, which will be preceded by a 5:15 p.m. contest matching NSU's Lady Demons against the Kittens of La. College.

The Demons are 0-3 on the year after a 72-65 loss to Northeast La. in their home opener last Thursday night, which followed previous losses to Centenary and McNeese State. NSU will be trying to prevent losing its fourth straight game at the start of the season for the first time since the 1968-69 season.

"We did a lot of things better Thursday night than we had in our earlier games," said NSU head coach Tynes Hildebrand. "We shot the ball better and we played better defense, but we're still getting hurt by turnovers and poor inside play."

The Demons hit a blazing 56.3 percent from the field in the contest, led by the 9-of-11 showing of sophomore forward Jim Hoops, but committed 18 turnovers in the contest and were outrebounded 29-25 by the taller Indians. In addition, NLU scored 16 points off offensive rebound in the contest.

This will be the second straight home game for the Demons and will be the second straight time they have gone up against a taller foe. The Wildcats of coach Billy Allgood stand at 4-0 on the season prior to the Mississippi College Tournament Friday and Saturday and a home game against Xavier Monday night.

The Cats', who hold two wins over Sam Houston State and have also beaten Southern Arkansas and Southeastern La., faced Livingston University in the first round of the Mississippi College meet.

Northwestern holds a dominant 50-18 lead in the overall series between the two clubs which began in the 1945-46 season, but the series has been much closer in recent seasons. The two teams split last year's games, NSU winning 93-88 in overtime in Natchitoches and La. College winning 80-56 in Pineville.

The Demons are led by Hoops, the 6-foot-5 sophomore who is currently averaging 21.3 points per game and is hitting an incredible 66.7 percent from the floor. He leads three Demons in double figures, with 6-foot-5 junior guard Jerry Lewis, also a returning starter, sporting a 15.7 average and 6-foot-6 junior Guy Charles scoring 12.3 points per outing from his post position.

Other likely starters for NSU include 6-foot-5 junior forward Andre Bailey (4.7), the team's top rebounder with a 7.7 average, and six-foot sophomore point guard Brey (7.3), who is averaging 5.3 assists per game.

The Wildcats have their own individual scoring star in 6-foot-8 senior forward Paul Poe, who scored 30 points in LC's recent win over Sam Houston and is averaging 27.2 points and a team-leading 8.8 rebounds per game. Poe is also hitting on 63.6 percent of his shots from the floor.

Other likely starters for La. College include 6-foot-7 junior forward Ronnie Procter (14-0), seven-foot junior center Les Chappell (13.5) and junior guards Michael Talbert (8.0) and James Harmon (7.5). Sixth man Ken Daenae (5.8) will also see action at the guard slots.

After tomorrow night's contest, the Demons will meet South Alabama in Prather Coliseum Saturday night in the last game of its three-game home stand. NSU travels to meet Toledo and Cleveland State on a two-game trip in Ohio next week.

Almond, Washington Take Top Honors

Senior wide receiver Mike Almond and Senior defensive tackle Willie Washington walked away with the top awards Monday night as Northwestern State University honored its 1978 football team in the annual NSU Football Banquet.

Almond, a 6-foot-2, 190 pounder from Bossier City-Bossier, won the Permanent Offensive Captain Award, while Washington, a 6-foot-3 250 pounder from Shreveport-Fair Park, was honored as NSU's Permanent Defensive Captain.

The two awards highlighted the banquet, which was sponsored by the Natchitoches Rotary Club and was attended by almost 400 NSU supporters who packed into the St. Mary's gymnasium for the event.

Three other awards were presented during the event, the Scholastic Award and two special awards. Junior fullback Brett Knecht of Natchitoches-St. Mary's won the Scholastic Award after compiling a 3.76 grade average in business administration.

Dr. Jolly Harper and Norm Fletcher were honored with special awards. Dr. Harper, the founder of the NSU Quarterback Club, was honored for his long years of service to the athletic department, while Fletcher, a veteran of 27 years of radio play-by-play broadcasts of NSU athletics, was lauded for more than a quarter-century of support to the University.

Also honored during the banquet were a group of 10 former NSU standouts who were featured as part of a salute to Northwestern Football Through the Years. Those honorees included C.O. Holland of the 1913 squad, Burton Weaver of the 1917 team, Earl Aidin of the 1926 squad, Jack Clayton of the 1932 team and later NSU's head football coach Walter Ledet of the 1936 squad, Ted Wright of the unbeaten 1939 team, Dan Carr of the 1950 squad, Glen Talbert of the 1960 team, Ross Guinn of the undefeated 1966 team and Richard Ware of the 1970 squad.

Jerry Pierce of NSU's Division of Informational Services served as master of ceremonies.

Independents Earn Volleyball Titles

The intramural volleyball proved to be fun-filled and exciting with several upsets.

In the women's play, No. 4 ranked Tri Sigma upset No. 1 ranked Delta Zeta to go on to beat Phi Mu for the sorority championship. Phi Mu, who had been 3rd in the sorority division, earlier upset No. 2 ranked Sigma Kappa. In the independent division things went more according to plan. The Hot Dogs, last year's champions, defeated the Upsetters, while the unknowns won over BSU. Then the No. 1 ranked Hot Dogs defeated the No. 2 ranked Unknowns for the independent championship. For all-campus championship the Hot Dogs defeated Tri Sigma in two games, 15-11 and 15-13.

In the men's competition, the Cane River Raiders, ranked 4th, upset the No. 1 ranked Condors to advance to the

by Doug Ireland

Current Sauce Sports Editor

All-American Calvin Natt gunned in a game-high 30 points to lead Northeast Louisiana to an exciting come-from-behind 72-65 basketball win over Northwestern State University last Thursday night in Prather Coliseum.

Natt, who just 35 days ago underwent surgery to remove torn cartilage in his knee, canned 11 of 18 shots and was eight for nine from the free throw line.

Northwestern was able to battle on even terms with the Indians thanks mostly to a fine shooting effort from the floor. Coach Tynes Hildebrand's crew hit 56.3 percent of its shots, paced by forward Jim Hoops' nine-for-11 and guard Jerry Lewis' nine-of-16. Hoops had 24 points and Lewis added 18.

It was Lewis who sparked the Demons early, bombing in eight of NSU's first ten points, two of those coming on a dunk shot after a steal. They steady Hoops chipped in later in the half with an eight-point streak of his own to push the Demons on top 20-18.

NSU ended the half in spectacular fashion when postman Eugene Robinson slammed home an errant Natt desperation shot as the buzzer sounded, but it was the Demons who took control of the contest early into the second half.

Lewis zipped in two straight 18-footers, the last on coming with 13:42 left, to give NSU a 47-40 lead. But the inside power of the Indians proved to be the Demon's downfall, as NLU bumped in three missed shots to close to within two at 50-48.

Then the lead changed hands for the seventh and final time with 9:15 remaining on a four-point play. Indian Donald Wilson shot a short jumper to tie things up at 52-52, and Hoops was whistled for pushing Ronald Frazier during the shot. Frazier hit both ends of his one-and-one to move NLU ahead.

The Demons pulled even once more with 4:25 left on two Hoops freebies, but Natt scored four quick points to make it 64-60. NLU stretched it out in the final minute and Robinson ended the second half just as he had the first, with a slammer, to provide the 72-65 final.

Lady Demons Fall to NLU

by Ron Thomas

Despite a 28 point effort by Joan Darbonne the Lady Demons roundballers lost to the Northeast Lady Indians 77-66 last Thursday night at Prather Coliseum.

Darbonne, who chunked in 22 of her 28 tallies in the first half, proved to be the only consistent Lady Demon all night.

The Lady Demons jumped out to a narrow lead to begin the game but NLU's superior height and percentage shooting took away the NSU lead for good with 8:15 remaining in the first half.

The Lady Indians leading scorer was 6-foot-4 inch Marlene Mossbarger. Mossbarger hit 19 points and pulled down 10 rebounds for the night.

NSU had shooting problems throughout the night with a disappointing 36.6 percent from the field the first half and a slightly better 41 percent in the second.

NLU, on the other hand, shot 43.7 percent in the initial half and a red hot 58.8 percent in the final half.

The defensive bright spot for the Lady Demons was Rachel Spencer, who blocked four NLU shots, two of them within seconds of each other.

Other top NSU scorers were Debbie Lambright, Marilyn Gates, and Linda Jones, all with eight tallies. Following Mossbarger for the Lady Indians were Linda Andrew with 18, Linda Kinard with 11, and Sandra Sullivan with 10.

The Lady Demons will remain home for the next four games. The next will be against Louisiana College on Wednesday, December 6. Game time is 5:15 p.m.

NORTHWESTERN STATE UNIVERSITY

January 23,

NATCHITOCHES, LOUISIANA

Television special to air featuring NSU Entertainers

A 30-minute television special featuring the popular Entertainers of Northwestern State University will air Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in KALB-TV, Channel 5 in Alexandria.

"The NSU Entertainers in Alexandria" was produced and directed by Jim Butterfield, production and operations manager for the NBC network affiliate.

The half-hour musical show was videotaped Jan. 9 in the KALB-TV studios while the NSU Entertainers were on a four-day, nine performance concert tour in Louisiana and East Texas. This will be the second special in which the group has been featured on the Alexandria station. The first such production was in 1977.

Thursday night's musical presentation by the Entertainers features the group performing seven vocal numbers and one instrumental selection. Music for the show was taken from the list of current Top 40 hits.

"This is a quality musical show," Butterfield said of the Entertainers' special. "The Entertainers are extremely talented, and the show was put together after a full afternoon of taping."

Dr. William A. Hunt, who has directed the NSU Entertainers since the group was established in 1974, said the performers selected to tour with the Entertainers "get better each year. This group is a talented, hard-working, sophisticated team that is excellent in concerts, and we are very pleased with their television special."

The half-hour television show that airs Thursday opens with a collage of the day's activities for the NSU Entertainers, including concerts, rehearsals and the live TV performance.

Music selected for the show includes "Boogie Oogie Oogie," featuring Gloria Offord of Alexandria; "Inseparable," Zina Curlee of Alexandria vocalist; "Got to Getcha Into My Life," spotlighting Paul Shelton of Longview, Texas and Jamie Sanders of Shreveport; "Fire," with Julee Bowden of Natchitoches soloist; "Last Dance," featuring Venetia Lee of Shreveport; "Blues Than Blue," with Sanders the vocalist, and "Three Times A Lady," with vocals by Mairus McFarland of Many. Rick Mason of Natchitoches is featured on trumpet in the instrumental number, "eels So Good."

The production numbers were mixed in the studio's control room by Randy Walker of Texarkana, Ark., sound engineer for the NSU Entertainers.

"... Reaffirm our commitment..."

McKellar: Semester goals

In the second weekly meeting of the Student Government Association at Northwestern for the spring semester, SGA president John McKellar outlined the final goals for the 78-79 Senate.

"The most important thing that we as a student body need to do is reaffirm our commitment and belief in the program that Dr. Bienvenu has established for Northwestern. We must tell him that we appreciate his tireless efforts over the past year and a half to solve our problems.

The NSU senior asked the senate's help in involving the entire student body in efforts to improve the university's morale. "During the next eight weeks before the spring SGA election, I am calling for a period of student involvement in our university. Each of us has been caught up in the spirit of having everything given to us. We expect to be entertained and given a carefree existence with no effort on our own part...each student on this campus must ask himself, "What can I do to make Northwestern a better place?"

McKellar posed three goals for the SGA to work on for the spring semester: the establishment of a book co-op, a study of recreational equipment and how it can be better used by the entire student body, and a frisbee golf course.

"The purpose of a book co-op is not to make money, explained McKellar after the Monday evening meeting, "It is rather to simply break even at the same time that we give students the opportunity to buy and sell books at more reasonable rates than the university bookstore is capable of doing. The aim is not to override the bookstore, but simply to give students an alternative."

"We also need to make better use of our track and recreational facilities. A frisbee golf course would also be a recreational plus," he added.

European study plans finalized

Final plans have been made for the NSU Summer Study Program in Europe, June 27 through July 31, 1979, according to Marion Nesom, associate professor in English.

A meeting to discuss the details of the trip will be held at 4 p.m., Wednesday, January 24, in the Arts and Sciences Auditorium (Room 142).

All interested individuals are invited to attend.

Participants in the summer study program may earn up to six hours credit for the 35 day tour.

Board extends limit for teacher education time

The State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education has granted Northwestern State University approval for teacher education for five years, which is the maximum time allowable for accreditation.

State approval of Northwestern's teacher education programs was announced in Baton Rouge by Dr. Jacqueline C. Lewis, director of the Bureau of Higher Education and Teacher Certification.

A committee of seven educators and administrators from throughout the state evaluated Northwestern's program on the basis of provisions in the Louisiana Standards for Accrediting Baccalaureate Degree Teacher Education Institutions.

Areas included were organization and administration, teacher education faculty and other instructional personnel, student personnel services, curricula, facilities for instruction and professional laboratory experiences.

In recommending approval, the committee stated in its report to the state board that university faculty members "are dedicated toward obtaining the objectives that the College of Education has established for its teacher education programs."

Northwestern's education faculty was praised for "their close, cooperative relationship with state, area and local educational systems and other departments of the university," and the committee added that "the fine administration and close supervision of the teacher education program should successfully prepare graduates to be outstanding teachers."

Dates Announced for Publication

Contrary to popular opinion the CURRENT SAUCE will be published this semester.

The exact dates of publication include January 23, 30, February 6, 20, March 6, 13, 20, 27, and April 3, 10, and 24.

True to popular opinion, it will not be published the week before or after finals because just for a change, we'd like to make our grades, too.

It will also not be published on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, or Sunday. Tuesdays only, if you'd like to mark it on your weekly calendar for exciting events. I'm sure it will rank up there with Chemistry Lab on Friday afternoons at 2:00 and partying at the Cane River on Thursday nights. Oh, and also spending Sunday afternoons at the library, and the big date on Saturday night.

Getting back to the issue at hand, any article of contribution that anyone would like to make is welcome. Articles must be typed, double-spaced, and be turned in not later than 2:00pm on the Wednesday previous to the Edition you would like to see it published in. This includes feature articles, departmental and academic news, editorial opinions, or social news. For information concerning ads please contact our advertising manager, Steve Crews at our office phone (357-5456) or at his home (357-0062).

If you have any other questions, complaints, etc. I guess that I get elected...So you can reach me at my office phone (357-6874) or at my home (357-0466).

Putting all seriousness aside(?) I think it's going to be a great semester. But then, I think I'm the last of the world's great optimists...D. Page

New resolutions

New semesters are like new years. Out with the old, in with the new, resolutions to be made resolutions to be broken.

But unlike any other before, this semester, this year is one that can make (or break) Northwestern State University.

Total involvement is the only key. It was so easy a year ago to look ahead to a bright future with our new saviour Rene Bienvenu. All of our goals, ideals, philosophies, dreams, hopes, aspirations were placed in his big capable hands and everybody smiled a lot.

But Dr. Bienvenu is not Clark Kent, alias Superman, who was sent down to us by that great planet Board of Trustees to save us in the nick of time from everything harmful, deceitful, evil, inhospitable, and undesirable.

There comes a time when each person must realize that the only way to help ourselves out of a hole is to start digging ourselves.

Just how deep Northwestern is in the hole is still being determined. We seem to just be realizing the depths of our troublesome years, and when we seemingly make no progress, we naturally assume that the blame has to be placed at the top.

WRONG. The blame lies with us.

I'm not trying to make another ditch at student apathy. I'm talking about each member of the Northwestern community—from administration to freshman student.

When the faculty starts trying to find their common denominator and then begins working together at it, maybe some of their problems will work out without the aid of Oh! Great Dr. Bienvenu.

When the Students we do have begin to make a positive effort at recruitment maybe enrollment will increase. How do we expect NSU to better its name when we laugh at it along with other people in the state?

Every aspect of student life is lacking right now, and if we don't concern ourselves with the problem right now we may not have ANY to deal with in just a few short years. The School is crying for people who will take initiative, who will have the courage to lead, who will give of their time.

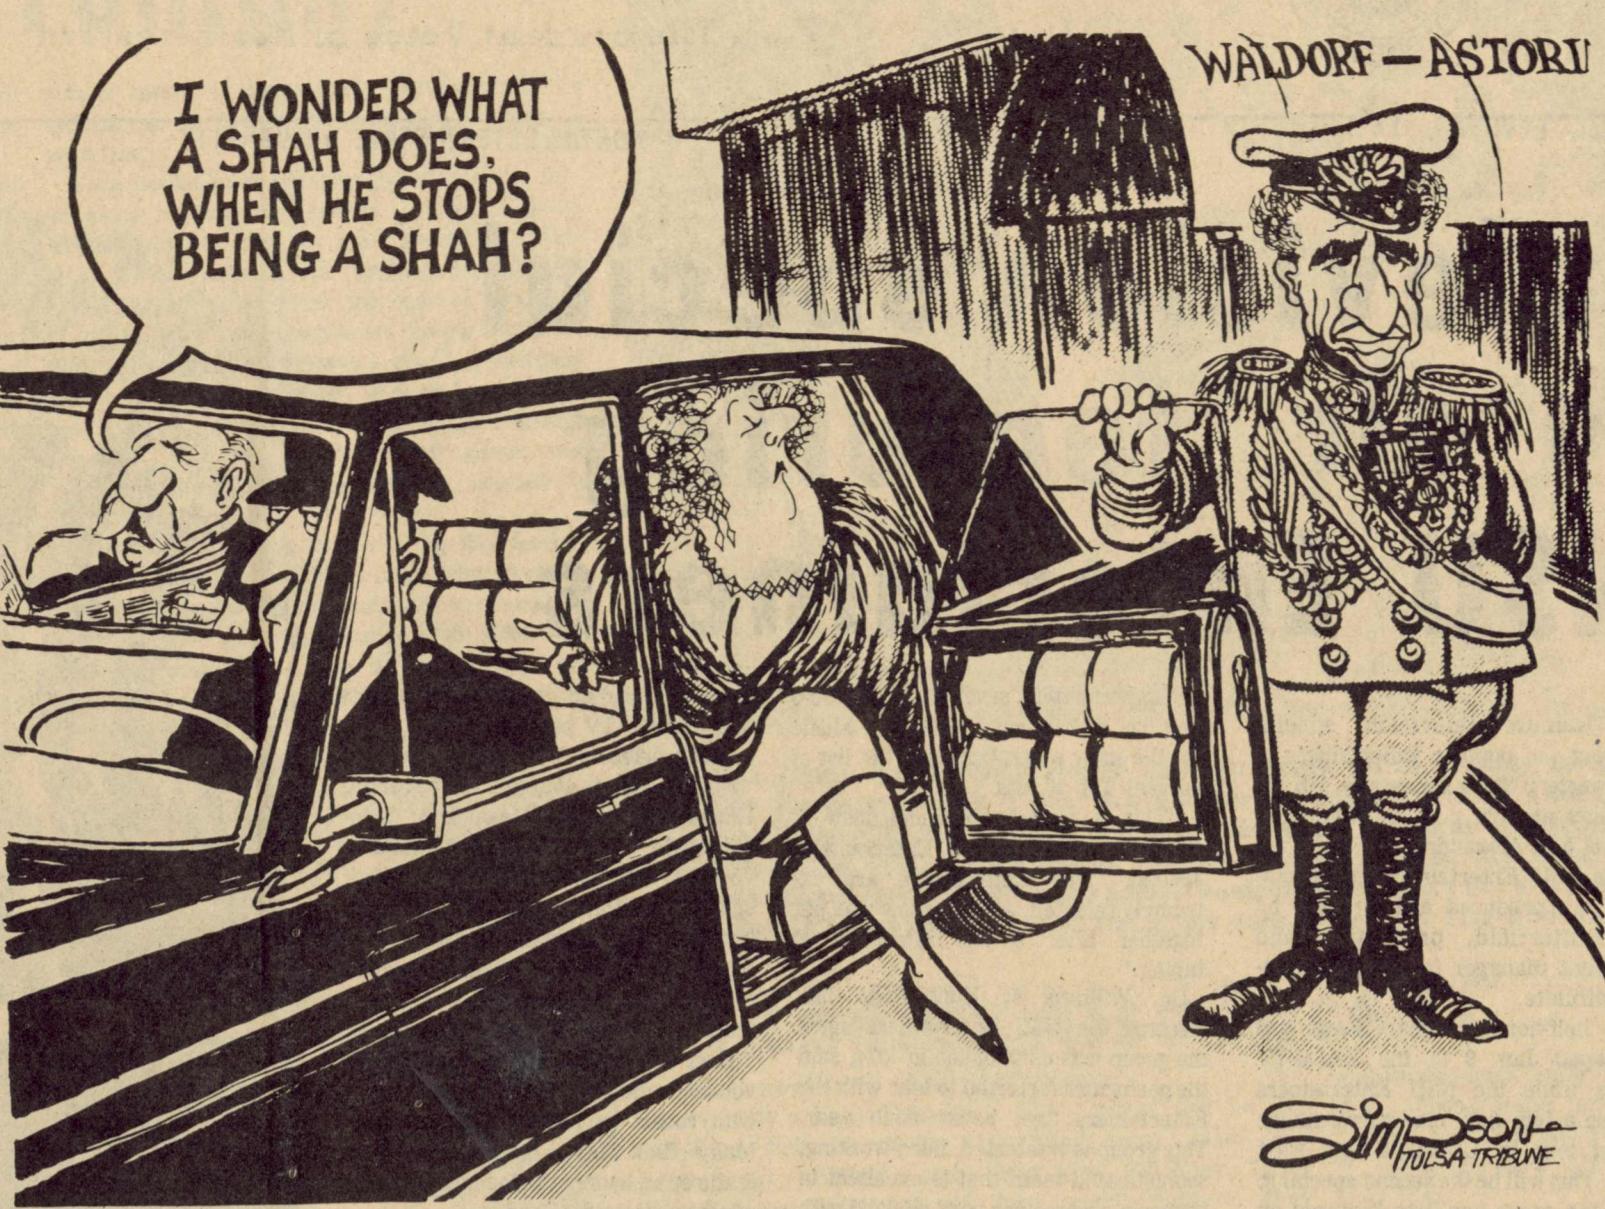

Student Government positions are threatened by lack of involvement, publications are the same, organizations—both academic and social—are threatened.

We can't ask Dr. Bienvenu to do it all because quite frankly, there are some things that he has no power over. The main one is lack of interest. We as individuals call the shots on that one.

It's your new year and your new semester. Do something with it.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Despite Loans to Farmers Carter's Popularity Wanes

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Carter isn't popular with his fellow farmers in Georgia and has tried to placate them with federal loans. No other state has received so much farm relief.

The Agriculture Department poured additional money into the state. Georgia got 8 percent of these funds, again higher than its fair share. In the president's home county, Sumter, 289 farmers got agriculture loans. The average was $70,500 apiece.

Footnote: In fairness, the president's neighbors were among the hardest hit farmers in the country.

Holiday Travel: Congress is now in recess, and the members have scattered to the four winds. On any given day, they can be found on several continents and the islands of the Caribbean.

Some of the trips are worthwhile. Contacts are made, understandings are reached, legislation is born. But many of the trips are nothing more than holidays at the taxpayers' expense.

Just before the New Year's weekend, there was a scramble for one VIP plane which the Air Force makes available for congressional junkets. Certain members of the House Public Works Committee tried to reserve it. They wanted to spend the New Year's weekend in Dublin, Rome and Geneva.

The congressmen solemnly explained that they wanted to inspect the "subway systems" in these faraway cities. They were informed that Dublin and Geneva have no subway systems.

The sheepish lawmakers were in the midst of revising their prospectus when their Air Force plane was requisitioned out from under them. It was pre-empted by Larry McDonald, D-Ga., who belongs to the House Armed Services Committee.

This is the committee that rules on Air Force requests. So the brass hats took the plane away from the Public Works Committee and assigned it to McDonald. He wanted to take some colleagues and their wives on a holiday trip to Ireland, Norway, Switzerland, Egypt and Israel, with a stop in the Azores islands on the way home.

Their excuse wasn't much better than the Public Works Committee had offered. The McDonald group announced they wanted to study "civil defense" systems.

This may have caused them some difficulty in Ireland. It is a neutral country, with only a token civil defense system.

Soviet Persecution: Religious persecution in the Soviet Union is not limited only to Jews who want to emigrate to Israel. Recently, the Russian Christian Pentecostal community has come under fire. One member, Victor Vasilev, was ordered to renounce God in writing. Otherwise, he was told, he would be barred from entering a military institute. Vasilev's Russian bosses told him the institute would rather produce five bad engineers than one good one who is a "believer."

Defense Doublespeak: To show that they approve of ending sex discrimination, the brass hats in the Pentagon have dispatched a memorandum to seven major defense agencies on the subject of housing for military bachelors. No one will be allowed to refer to such barracks as "bachelor housing" anymore, says the memo. From now on, the document states, bachelor quarters will be known as "unaccompanied personnel housing."

Chinese Gangs: In the past five years, gang warfare among Chinese immigrant youths has erupted in the streets of some major American cities. In Los Angeles and New York City, police officials have been unable to stop the fighting. Now, Canadian intelligence sources report that there has been an increase in young Chinese in Ft. Erie, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls. As in the United States, many of the Chinese youths are reportedly gang members.

Headlines and Footnotes: Seven Haitians who were recently arrested in Puerto Rico for attempting to gain entry to the United States with phony passports named a female comrade as the supplier of their forged documents.

Authorities declined to arrest her because, in their words, she was "extremely pregnant." According to secret intelligence reports, the latest drug craze in California is cocaine smoking. The white powder, in its alkaloid form, is mixed with petroleum ether and smoked in small pipes or mixed with tobacco.

"When I swept the floor," she recalled, "the cat would growl and snatch at the broom. When I used the vacuum cleaner, the cat would growl and run. Obviously she was a highly temperamental animal."

But the court said these characteristics, rather than being danger signals, were well within the range of normal feline behavior.

Another case arose when a cat entered the neighbors' back yard and gobbled up their pet canary. Here the neighbors filed a damage suit on the theory that the cat was too predatory to have been allowed to run loose.

But again the court could see nothing alarming about the cat's conduct. The court said people generally accept, as part of a cat's "natural propensity," a tendency to 1) roam, and 2) kill birds.

A third case, however, went the other way.

The management of a certain hotel maintained a cat on its premises even after it had bitten a number of visitors. Finally a victim brought an action against the hotel and emerged with a verdict.

The court said the management, alerted by experience that the creature was a public menace, was guilty of negligence for continuing to keep it around.

Campus news briefs

FREE DRAMA DISCUSSIONS—Seven faculty members from NSU will lead a series of public discussions in Natchitoches this spring to accompany the BBC-PBS productions of six of Shakespeare's plays which will be telecast nationally beginning Feb. 14. The discussions are designed to give the public some background and introductory information to enhance their enjoyment of the plays being offered on public television. The public is invited to attend at no charge. Local funding is being provided by the First Presbyterian Church of Natchitoches, where the discussions will be conducted beginning Jan. 31.

WOLPE GUEST AT BEHAVIOR WORKSHOP—Dr. Joseph Wolpe of Temple University in Philadelphia was the featured speaker for NSU's annual behavior therapy workshop, which was held Jan. 13-14 in the Teacher Education Center. The workshop was sponsored by the university's Division of Psychology in the Department of Behavioral Sciences and the Northwestern Division of Continuing Education.

SOCIAL WORK AND RADIOGRAPHY PROGRAMS ACCREDITED—NSU's undergraduate program in social work has received full accreditation from the Council of Social Work Education in New York. Northwestern becomes only the fourth university in Louisiana with an accredited program that offers students a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Work. NSU's four-year, degree-granting radiography program has also been awarded provisional accreditation for two years by the American Medical Association's Committee on Allied Health Education and Accreditation.

SPEECH TOURNAMENT—Invitations have been mailed to high schools throughout the state to participate in the 43rd annual Northwestern State University High School Speech Tournament, which is scheduled for Feb. 2-3 on the NSU campus. The two-day program will feature competition for high school students in storytelling, humorous speaking, extemporaneous speaking, dramatic interpretation, poetry reading, original oratory, prose reading and duet acting.

EXTENSION COURSES—The division of continuing education at Northwestern State University has announced that 13 graduate courses are being offered by NSU this spring on the Louisiana College campus in Pineville. Twenty-five undergraduate and graduate courses are also being offered by NSU at the education center at England Air Force Base. The courses to be offered at Louisiana College over the next several semesters will allow students to obtain masters degrees in secondary school administration, secondary teaching, educational media, elementary teaching, reading, elementary school administration and rehabilitation counseling. The England Air Force Base courses—which are open to both civilian and military personnel—lead to associate and baccalaureate degrees.

DRILL TEAM WINNERS—Phoe Brian of Bolton High School in Alexandria won top individual honors and the Lafayette High School Dancers received the sweepstakes award at the third annual Miss Drill Team Louisiana Pageant hosted this weekend at NSU.

Faculty news briefs

DR. BREWER NEW VOCATIONAL REP—Dr. Norma Brewer of NSU has been elected Region IV representative for the American Vocational Association's new adult education section of new and related services. Dr. Brewer, who is an associate professor of secondary education at NSU and a specialist in adult and community education, will represent Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana in the national organization.

DR. HOLMES PUBLISHED IN BOTANY—Dr. Walter C. Holmes, plant taxonomist at NSU, is the author of three articles that were published recently in leading botanical journals. The Northwestern assistant professor of botany has

Highschool lecture series underway

Twenty-nine students of high academic ability have been selected to participate this spring in Northwestern State University's fourth annual President's Lecture Series for high school students.

High school students chosen to take part in the 10-week series of Saturday morning lectures from Jan. 13 to March 17 will attend a variety of lecture sessions dealing with man's greatest achievements.

"The lectures to be presented in this year's series are designed to enhance the students' knowledge and motivate the young people to excell in the fundamentals now being taught in their respective schools," said series director Dr. Donald E. Ryan, professor of mathematics at Northwestern.

According to Ryan, the students from area high schools will be involved in the academic programs from 8 a.m. until noon each Saturday. "This spring, we have chosen an interdisciplinary track and will be concerned with 'The Greatest,'" Ryan said.

Among the areas to be discussed during the 10-week series are the greatest ideas of man, the greatest men that ever lived, the greatest discoveries of man, the greatest breakthroughs of man and the greatest historical and political turning points of man.

Lecturers will include Dr. John Waskom, chairman of the Department of Agricultural and Geological Sciences; Dr. Robert Roger, associate professor of physics; Dr. Wayne Hyde, chairman of the Department of Chemistry and Physics; Dr. Maureen A. ## Lady Demons Topple USL, Southeastern

By Buddy Wood

Current Sauce Asst. Sports Editor

Coach Pat Nolen said before the game her Northwestern Lady Demons would have to control the boards and shut down the explosive fast break of Southeastern's Lady Lions to win.

The result: The NSU Lady Demons pulled off one of the seasons biggest upsets by defeating SLU 74-70. Nolen's troops controlled the boards 38-33 and shut down the SLU fast break to almost nothing.

Dianna Cary's two free throws with 23 seconds left gave the Lady Demons a 72-70 lead, but it was not until after an SLU missed shot that Marilyn Gates iced the game with three seconds left with a pair of free throws.

"I can't believe it still," said an elated Pat Nolen as the Lady Demons took their first win ever over the Lady Lions in the upset. "It's not possible to describe how I feel right now."

The Lady Demons placed five players in double figures in the contest. Gates and Linda Jones, who hit seven of eight shots from the field, each had 16 points, while Theresa Long had 14 and Joan Darbonne and Mary Humphrey 10 each.

Queen Brumfield led the way for the Lady Lions with 21 points, while Staci Brown was the only other SLU player to hit in double figures with 14 points.

NSU held a 39-36 halftime lead, but the game was nip and tuck throughout the second half. Mary Humphrey came off the bench to hit her 10 points in about an eight minute span to give the Lady Demons a big second half lift.

The Lady Demons snapped a two-game losing streak, having lost to Northeast in Monroe the night before, Thursday, and losing earlier in the week to McNeese State.

In the Northeast game, Joan Darbonne's 25 point effort was in vain as the Lady Demons dropped an 82-68 decision to the Lady Indians.

The Lady Demons, trailing only 39-29 at halftime, could not overcome cold shooting and the inside play of Linda Andrews and Marlene Mossbarger, who finished with 25 and 18 points respectively for the Lady Indians.

The Lady Demons shot only 36 percent from the floor in the contest.

Marilyn Gates added 10 points for NSU while Mary Humphrey snared 10 rebounds to pace the Lady Demons.

The Lady Demons then traveled to Lafayette to play Southwestern La. Joan Darbonne fired in 31 points, her fourth 30 point effort of the season, to lead NSU to a 74-63 victory over USL.

Darbonne hit on 10 of 17 field goals and 11 of 12 free throws as the Lady Demons took their second consecutive win to up their record to 6-8 on the season.

Linda Jones and Marilyn Gates had 12 points and Theresa Long has 10 for the Lady Demons, while Jody Pontiff had 16, Anne DeMahy 15 and Margy Bayard 13 led the Lady Cajuns, now 4-8 on the year.

The Lady Demons led 36-29 at halftime and used 49 percent field goal accuracy and 85 percent free throw shooting to offset a 47-35 rebound taken by the Lady Cajuns. USL, throttled by a quick Lady Demon defense, shot only 31 percent from the floor.

A series of outstanding individual performances and a few noteworthy team accomplishments highlighted the Northwestern State University's athletic season during the 1978 calendar year.

The efforts of Joe Delaney in football, Lester Elie in men's basketball, Ricardo Acuna in men's tennis, Terry Ruddell in baseball, Billy Green in cross country and Lisa Brewer in women's basketball told the biggest stories of the "Year of the Demon."

Delaney, a sophomore tailback from Haughton, brought national notice to the NSU football squad when he erupted 299 yards rushing and four touchdowns against Nicholls State during NSU's 28-18 victory over the Colonels. Delaney, possessor of 9.4 speed, easily broke both the school and state records for single game rushing and was the recipient of one national weekly honor for his effort.

Delaney's 935 yard rushing to lead the team helped NSU compile a 5-6 record (4-1 at home) under head coach A.L. Williams, but it was senior wide receiver Mike Almond who did most of the record-setting when he hauled in 27 catches for 483 yards. Those helped give him the Demon records for most receptions and most yardage receiving in a career.

Elie, a 6-foot-6 senior from Clouterville, averaged 18.8 points in his final campaign and joined with teammate Lester Davis to become two of only 13 players in NSU history to reach the 1,000 point career mark, the first time two players had done it in a single season. NSU compiled a 12-15 mark during the season under head coach Tynes Hildebrand.

All five starters for the Demons averaged in double figures, with sophomore Frederick Piper averaging 12.3 points and 12.3 rebounds, good enough to rank 12th in the nation among all major colleges. Jerry Lewis (11.6) and Jim Hoops (10.1) along with Davis (10.4) also reached double digits, and Davis, a 5-foot-9 hometown product, became the new all-time NSU career assist leader during the season.

Acuna, a junior from Santiago, Chile, perhaps participated on a national scale more than any other Demon during the year when he competed in the main draw of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships. Acuna, who also played on the American Express Tour and won the Louisiana Open title, compiled a 24-5 mark to help lead the Demon netters to a 16-2 overall record, with NSU losing only to Oklahoma State and Wichita State on the road.

The Demon tennis squad, which was 10-0 at home, also won the prestigious Big Gold Tournament in Hattiesburg, Miss., and took the consolation title in the Oral Roberts Spring Classic. Junior Juan Lopez had the best singles record on the squad with a 23-4 mark, while Acuna and senior Gregg Manning put together a 21-6 mark in No. 1 doubles. The sixth straight winning record helped NSU continue a streak of success under coach Johnnie Emmons that now shows an overall mark of 113-15 (88.4 percent) over the past six years.

Ruddell, a senior from Longview, Tex., put together a 9-2 record on the mound to lead the Demon baseball team to its first winning season in four years with a 31-29 final record. Perhaps the most amazing thing about the season, though, was the fact that the Demons scheduled 60 games and played all 60 without even a rainout during the season for coach Herbie Smith.

Scott Stagner added a 7-4 mound record, and Ted Reeves' .321 average led the team in that department. However, senior Curtis Ardoin finished a stellar career by leading the team in bats, runs, hits, doubles, triples, total bases and stolen bases. Tommy Dorsey also hit 311 and brother Curtis Dorsey led the club in the home runs with 11 and RBI with 36.

Green, only a sophomore from Marshall, Tex., was NSU's individual top finisher in all but one cross country meet during the season and won three individual titles to lead the Demon harriers of coach Jerry Dyes to three meet titles during the year. Green was only out of the top four finishers once during the entire season.

His efforts and those of freshman Jeff Baker helped lead NSU to a win in its only home meet of the year, when the Demons beat Northeast Louisiana, Stephen F. Austin, and Centenary in the annual NSU Invitational Meet. Green and Baker won cross country championships in the event.

Brewer, a junior from DeRidder, completed the greatest career ever assembled by a Lady Demon basketball player when she averaged 25.2 points per outing to lead the lady Demons to a 13-13 overall record.

The 5-foot-6 sharpshooter finished her three year career with 1,906 points and reigns as the all-time leading large college scorer in state's women's history.

Junior Becky Guidry chipped in with 16.6 points per outing, and the "Lisa and Becky Show" provided NSU's top two scorers in 17 games and helped to lead the Lady Demons to a fourth place finish in the state and a regional playoff berth for the fourth straight year. They also set 12 new school records under Coach Charlotte Corley during the campaign, and freshman Joan Darbonne was the other Lady Demon in double figures with a 10.4 average.

A four-man delegation helped NSU's track and field squad of coach Jerry Dyes to three meet titles and three new school records. Sophomore Tommy Swacker of Crowley was the team's leading scorer with 112 three-fourths points during the year, including one of the top individual marks with a 46.65 clocking in the 400 meter dash.

Joan Darbonne goes up for a backhand layup over McNeese State's Tammy Primeaux during her stellar performance in Northwestern's 74-69 loss to the Rowgirls last Monday night. The 5-foot-7 sophomore gunned in 32 points in the contest, and she came back for 31 more Saturday night in NSU's 74-63 win over Southwestern La. (NSU Photo by Tim Westmoreland)

Demons Drop Two to McNeese, NLU

By Doug Ireland

Current Sauce Sports Editor

MONROE—It's "good news, bad news time" for Coach Tynes Hildebrand and his Northwestern Demon basketball team. The good news is that the Demons have seen the last of Northeast La's All American Calvin Natt. The bad news is that Calvin has a little brother...and it just so happened that the two were NLU's leading scorers in last Thursday night's 73-59 victory over NSU here in Ewing Coliseum.

Calvin, the 6-5 senior called "Super Natt," popped in 25 points and snared ten rebounds to pace retiring Coach Lenny Fant's Indians. His "little" brother Kenny, a 6-4 sophomore, added 13 points in just 14 minutes of playing time to help seal the Demons' fate.

If the two Natts weren't enough to bug Northwestern, big Eugene Robinson was. The powerful 6-9 postman dropped in 12 points and grabbed a game high 14 caroms and made it tough sledding inside for the Demons.

The Demons never led in the contest, pulling within one point at 10-9 just over six minutes into the contest and closing the gap to four (39-35) at 12:27 of the final half on a 15 footer by Jerry Lewis. NLU had held a 39-29 halftime edge.

Northwestern only had two men in double figures. Andre Bailey had 12 and Lewis chipped in ten to lead the Demons. Lewis was NSU's board leader with five. The loss left the Demons at 3-10 for the season while the streaking Indians, who have won their last seven in a row, are 10-4.

It was a tough week for the Demons, since the McNeese Cowboys handed them a 76-66 loss last Monday in Prather Coliseum. The hot-shooting Cowpokes broke open a tight game—it was 28-27 McNeese at the intermission—with a 60 per cent shooting effort in the second half.

NSU was also hurt by fouls, as three Demon starters fouled out late in the game. It was then that the Cowboys began to ride off into the sunset, stretching what had been a three point edge into a ten point bulge after Bailey, Guy Charles and Jim Hoops all departed with five fouls.

Jerry Lewis hit 19 and Hoops pitched in 16 for the Demons. Mike Brey had ten points and handed out 11 assists, while 6-10 David Lawrence led the visitors with 20 points. Ray Baggett and Chris Faggi tossed in 14 apiece, and Manuel Dugas had 11 for the 'Pokes.

After falling behind by eight early in the second half, Northwestern raced back to take the lead 46-45 with 9:44 left on a Hoops follow shot inside. But Faggi then dropped in two freebies after Bailey committed his fourth personal foul 21 seconds later to push McNeese out front.

Lawrence then took charge, pouring in seven straight points and dominating the inside play while the Demons ran into their foul trouble. After Lawrence hit both ends of a one-and-one with 6:15 showing to make it 53-48, 15 of the 'Pokes last 23 points came from the free throw line.

In that stretch, McNeese was 15 of 21 from the line, and that was enough to put the game away for the Cowboys. The visitors hit 72.7 per cent of their freebies and NSU hit at a 70.6 rate, but McNeese toed the line 33 times and swished 24 compared to 12 out of 17 made by the Demons from the charity stripe.

Northwestern outrebounded the Cowpokes 31-30 paced by Robert Lively's eight caroms. Faggi also had eight for McNeese to tie Lively for game honors in that department.

Brey Gives Demons Big Assist

Mike Brey is shooting less but enjoying it more these days.

Northwestern State University's playmaking guard only took a total of 11 shots in the Demons' three victories this season. He didn't shoot at all when the NSU squad went against Centenary College.

But the Demons won all three games after an eight-game losing streak, and that makes the six-footer from Rockville, Md., happy enough.

"I know that I don't have to score a lot of points in order for us to be successful," Brey said after the Demons had taken an 80-79 win over Centenary. "We have people to score for us, I do everything else I can offensively and defensively to help us win."

It's not the fact that Brey has stopped shooting the ball that has put NSU into the winning streak. More likely, it's the fact that the former DeMatha High School star has been setting his teammates up for baskets.

In those three games, Brey had 12 assists, in NSU's 81-75 win over Nicholls State, seven assists in a 63-61 win over Southeastern La. and a season-high 13 assists in the Centenary victory.

His last assist against Centenary was perhaps the biggest of all three games, when he lobbed a pass to postman Robert Lively under the basket for an easy layup with 15 seconds left that gave NSU its win over the Gentlemen.

This year, his ball-handling ability has helped him get the ball to the open guard we've ever had at getting the ball to the open along with a 6.5 scoring average. In addition, he's been on the court practically every minute of every NSU game, averaging over 36 to the point that I don't worry minutes per 40 minute game.

when he's in control of the basketball, even in close games."

A good example of that came in the win over Southeastern, when Brey ran NSU's four-corner offense to perfection during the game's final three minutes.

Buddy Wood Super Bowl XIII—Day of Records

Pittsburgh's exciting victory over Dallas 35-31 did live up to expectations as the most exciting Super Bowl ever. Not only was the game filled with excitement throughout, but numerous records were set in the heat of battle.

The Pittsburgh Steelers became the first team in history to win three Super Bowl titles, keeping the Dallas Cowboys from accomplishing the same feat.

Dallas became the first team to appear in five Super Bowls, losing 16-13 to Baltimore in 1971, winning 24-3 over Miami in 1972, losing to Pittsburgh in 1975 by 21-17, winning 27-10 over Denver in 1978, and, of course, losing to the Steelers this year. Minnesota is the only other team to have appeared in four Super Bowls.

Franco Harris' 66 yards on 20 carries enabled him to become the leading ground gainer in Super Bowl history, eclipsing the mark of Larry Csonka, then with the Miami Dolphins.

Roger Staubach's 200-plus yard passing effort in Sun-

The stage and screen producer and by Jo director will appear at Northwestern Park Jets 16-March 21 at 10 a.m. as the final speaker in the three-program series. Other 17 point guest lecturers will be famed for the points psychoanalyst Dr. Rolla May at 9:30 a.m. on Feb. 20 and advertising executive Jane Trahey at 11 a.m. on Pittsburgh March 5. All presentations, scheduled in Dallas A.A. Fredericks Fine Arts Center the class auditorium, are open to the public all League without charge.

Logan, who was reared in Louisiana, is not only a successful playwright, producer and director but also an author. His newest book is "Movie Stars, Real People and Me."

In the 36-page book published by Delacorte, Logan says Bette Davis—the star of stars—was "scared and acted unprofessionally" in the ill-fated musical "Miss Moffat" which opened in 1974 at the Schubert Theatre in Philadelphia.

Logan won the Pulitzer Prize as co-author with Oscar Hammerstein II on "South Pacific" and the award-winning playwright also directed the Pulitzer Prize play "Picnic." He has directed the screen or stage form—or both—of such hits as "Annie Get Your Gun", "Fanny", "Mister Roberts", "Bus Stop", "Sayonara", "Camelot", "The World of Suzie Wong" and "Paint Your Wagon".

Opening the Distinguished Lecture Series for the spring semester at NSU will be May, who is psychoanalyst in New York. He also serves as supervisory and training analyst for the William Alanson White Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology and Psychoanalysis and co-chairman of the Conference on Psychotherapy and Counseling for the New York Academy of Sciences.

Ms. Trahey, one of the nation's top advertising and sales promotion directors, created the famous "A touch of Blass" advertising campaign for Bill Blass. And among the other accounts for Trahey Advertising are Neiman-Marcus, Harper's Bazaar, Unior Carbide and Olivetti.

KNWD gets general manager

Three-minute public service spots, a classic album night, and three nights of feature albums are planned by Bolgiano for weekly programming.

Spring homecoming celebration set for February 3

NATCHITOCHES—Northwestern State University alumni across the South have received letters to return to the NSU campus, Feb. 3 for the university's annual Spring Homecoming celebration.

Coordinated by NSU's Office of External Affairs, the Homecoming program will be highlighted by the basketball game between NSU and the University of Southern Mississippi at 7:30 p.m. in Prather Coliseum.

Special features of spring Homecoming at Northwestern include the annual "oldtimer" basketball game at 5:30 p.m. and recognition of the 1948-49 Demon basketball team.

The Homecoming celebration begins with registration at 4 p.m. in the N Club room of Prather Coliseum. A dutch-treat picnic type fried chicken dinner is scheduled for 5 p.m. in the coliseum.

During the oldtimer's game, more than 20 former Demons who played over the past 25 years will meet in a purple-white game. Among former Northwestern players who have accepted invitations to participate are David Clark, Dick Brown, James Wyatt, Sammy Booras, DeWitt Patten and Andy Marusak.

The 1948-49 basketball team is being honored on the 30th anniversary of its Gulf States Conference champion ship season. The team won the championship during the first year the GSC was organized. Coached by H. Lee Prather, the 1948-49 team compiled a 23-5 record to qualify for Northwestern's third straight trip to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championships. ## Music star Milsap slates March 28 performance

NATCHITOCHES—Ronnie Milsap, the blind pianist and vocalist who has won more Country Music Association Awards than any other male performer in the history of the CMA, is coming to Northwestern State University March 28 for an 8 p.m. concert in Prather Coliseum.

Milsap, a two-time Grammy winner in addition to winning seven Country Music Association awards, will be appearing in concert in Natchitoches under the sponsorship of the Student Union Governing Board at NSU.

Tickets for the Ronnie Milsap Concert at NSU will be $5 for general admission seats only, and tickets may be purchased in advance at the NSU Student Union Office or at other ticket outlets to be announced later.

Persons ordering tickets by mail must enclose a check or money order along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Requests for tickets are to be mailed to: Ronnie Milsap Concert, NSU P.O. Box 5274, Northwestern State University, Natchitoches, La. 71457. Ticket orders will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Milsap, who became a member of the world-famous Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn., in 1976, has won two Grammy awards for best country vocal performance by a male artist. He has been nominated this year for "Let's Take the Long Way Around the World."

He won his first Grammy in 1974 with "Please Don't Tell Me How The Story Ends" and again in 1976 with "Stand by My Woman Man."

Milsap, whose single "Back on My Mind Again" is currently number three on the country charts, has been nominated for 14 Country Music Association awards. His seven wins make him the second highest CMA award winner. Only Loretta Lynn has won more, but four of her CMA awards were won with Conway Twitty. No other artist has won more CMA awards for individual performances than Milsap.

In 1974, the CMA voted Milsap male vocalist of the year, and the next year he won album of the year with "A Legend in My Time."

The blind performer's biggest year was 1977, when he won honors as entertainer and male vocalist of the year. He also had the album of the year with "Ronnie Milsap, Live."

In 1978, his "It Was Almost Like A Song" won him a third album of the year award.

Two of Milsap's albums have achieved "gold" status. His gold albums are "It Was Almost Like A Song" and "Only One Love in My Life," which is his most recent.

Natchitoches: What students need

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following editorial is not meant to be taken seriously in any way. Any person who attempts to do so will find that he lacks the ability to recognize sarcasm.)

After spending almost four years as a Northwestern student I feel that I am a prime candidate for being an authority on what is lacking in Natchitoches for accomodating the NSU student body. Although historical Natchitoches is very charming and lovable, there are just a few things that could be added to make it THE perfect college town. After extensive research I have found the following to be the most repeated requests of our campus population:

1) We need more fast food restaurants. Many students have been hit hard with a lack of variety in places to eat. Most agree that there should be more concentration of these establishments on Highway One South, and they especially request more pizza, hamburger, and chicken restaurants.

2) There are too many movie theatres. For the number of students and townspeople that make up Natchitoches there seems to be a surplus of theatre selection and someone, somewhere, is probably losing a lot of money because of the overabundance of theatre attraction. We suggest replacing them with skating rinks or other such necessities.

3) There is an extreme problem with too few red lights on College Avenue. It is difficult to talk to the people in the car behind you when you only get to stop three times within 100 yards. Maybe the situation could be altered by placing red lights at 10 yard intervals rather than 30. This would also provide necessary excuses for being late to class.

4) We need more drive-in liquor stores. Just making the rounds to each one by cruising does not take long enough to reach full consumer effect, and more liquor stores at more random locations would serve the students nicely.

5) We feel that the city cheats itself by charging such nominal fees for utilities. Higher electric bills could help the city expand, and provide insurance against the possibility of bankruptcy, a problem many American cities face.

6) The streets in Natchitoches, particularly on NSU's side of town are much too wide. This is a waste of land, for residents in this area can double park without having to worry about the traffic flow. (Second Street is a prime example of this) We suggest that this is encouragement to citizens to break traffic laws and that it should be dealt with immediately.

7) We need more police protection against traffic violators. There just never is an officer around when you are speeding around town. This makes the temptation of indulgence difficult to cast away.

We realize that some of these changes are minor, but they appear important in our vast experiences of learning. We hope that Natchitoches residents will accept these suggestions in the spirit in which they are offered.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Brzezinski's Behavior Attracting Objections

WASHINGTON — Some State Department strategists privately believe that President Carter is taking the nation on a roller-coaster ride. They complain that his foreign policy is erratic and unpredictable. And they blame his genial national security adviser, Zbigniew Brzezinski.

Those who know Brzezinski agree that he is articulate and possesses a talent for reducing complex foreign policy issues into catchy phrases. He has a disarming, sandy-haired, blue-eyed appeal. But his critics say that he also has a superficial glibness.

They describe him as combative and mercurial, with a tendency to shoot from the hip.

One of his detractors brought us the tape recording of an off-the-record briefing he gave to top Jewish leaders. After listening to it, we have to agree with one of the leaders who characterized Brzezinski as "brutal, rude and offensive." Over and over again, he drove home the point that U.S. and Israeli national interests don't coincide. Finally, he told the Jewish leaders that he no longer felt compelled to listen to their views, that he had heard their arguments and had rejected them.

In the backrooms of the State Department, Brzezinski is also regarded as incurably anti-Soviet. One source went so far as to call him a "cold warrior." Last year, he launched a hardline attack against the Soviet Union. He accused them on national television of engaging in a "short-sighted attempt to exploit global differences."

This was too much for Secretary of State Cyrus Vance. He quietly informed President Carter that Brzezinski's strident, anti-Soviet remarks were hampering State Department diplomacy. For awhile, Carter kept a muzzle on Brzezinski.

But the flamboyant Brzezinski is now back in the catbird's seat. He pulled the strings that resulted in recognition of mainland China. Typically, the joint Chinese-American communiqué used the word "hegemony." In the communist lexicon, this is a trigger word that is deeply offensive to the Soviets.

Brzezinski also helped to engineer the four-power summit conference that was recently held on the island of Guadeloupe. He showed up with several of his aides. But the secretary of state was nowhere around. As one source complained to us: "Not a single State Department representative was invited to attend."

Long Wait: The General Accounting Office has completed a study on how long it takes the Veterans Administration to process a claim. The report is restricted, but we have learned the details.

According to the government auditors, veterans or their survivors have to wait an average of 147 days from the time their claim is filed until the Veterans Administration decides whether they are entitled to any money. Then it usually takes another 25 days to get a check in the mail.

In other words, it takes claimants nearly six months to collect their benefits.

What is the bottleneck? Forms. The bureaucrats spend most of the time waiting for other bureaucrats to fill out forms. The medical reports from veterans hospitals, for example, are pathetically slow in coming in. Most of the processing is done manually. What is the solution? The Veterans Administration says it would like to hire more bureaucrats and install an expensive computer system.

Caffeine Scare: Some medical experts have asked the federal government to declare that caffeine can be hazardous to your health. The doctors want the Food and Drug Administration to force manufacturers to attach labels to their products telling how much caffeine is in their coffee.

Last year, we reported that confidential studies had linked caffeine ingestion with birth defects. Now, a Pennsylvania psychiatrist has joined the chorus. He claims he is treating an increasing number of patients who are suffering from "caffeine overdose." They are plagued, he says, with insomnia, shakes and other nervous disorders.

The caffeine content in coffee, tea, cola drinks and dozens of over-the-counter drugs, the doctor told us, ought to appear on labels so consumers can tell how much of the substance they are ingesting.

Hard Times: That venerable institution, the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., is having financial problems. The organization is plagued by declining enrollment and revenues. To offset the hardships, the Girl Scouts have sold Camp Rockwood, a 92-acre facility on the banks of the Potomac River in Maryland. Some officials opposed the sale, but others told us the reported $20,000 per acre received for the land will help them keep their green berets above water.

Expensive Communications: The president's hot-line messages to Moscow used to travel beneath the ocean via trans-Atlantic cable. But last year, the hot line was renovated and now the messages are beamed to Russia by satellite. U.S. officials won't say how much the Soviets spent on the project, but the United States' share of the tab came to $15 million.

Headlines and Footnotes: During the month of December alone, Pentagon officials reported some $10,000 worth of office equipment missing. Federal investigators suspect the material was pilfered by employees ... Thanks to the seniority system, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., has been assigned an office suite right across the hall from the Senate Judiciary Committee. He is the new chairman.

Student wishes to see American Flag

Dear Editor

Maybe in this day and time I am wrong for feeling the way I do, or maybe some may think the gain is not worth the effort; but I, myself, feel ashamed because it took a flag draped over a soldier's coffin to jog my patriotic memory. At the risk of being provocative, it seems to me that the Flag of the United States of America should be raised and lowered on this university once again.

I do realize that the Civil Service workers (University Police) have many important functions such as protecting students from vicious outlaws, and that this university could not get along without them. But maybe the taxpayer's money would be well spent in the effort it takes to raise and lower our flag. (Approximately 15 minutes to raise, 15 minutes to lower, and two people to handle the job.)

I feel bad because I even have to write this. You would think that someone of authority would have recognized the situation and solved it themselves. But quite apparently it is not being noticed and consequently not being corrected. It would be a shame for a whole school year to go by and not once the United States Flag be flown over this university.

McKellar stated "We have organized SGA without revising a constitution and we have shown leadership with our responsibilities as the SGA Senate." McKellar further stated, "During the next 8 weeks of office there should be among the Senate a commitment of devotion and dedication to the SGA and wants these last weeks to be an extreme period of student involvement. McKellar told the Senate he will be proposing a broad set of proposals. These will include finding a way to decrease book prices in the Bookstore, creating a Director of Student life, and a Student Rights Administrator. "As students we affirm our commitment and dedication that Dr. Bienvenu has provided for NSU and we as the SGA Senate have to continue to back him in whatever way we can," stated McKellar.

Sanders introduced Dr. Bienvenu to the Senate. Dr. Bienvenu thanked the Senate for its support and told Senate that he is dedicated to a strong institution and that an institution can only achieve with its students. "BLACK ENGLISH" TRANSLATED TO JAPANESE—Random house publishing company of New York City has announced that the book "Black English", written by Dr. J. L. Dillard of Northwestern, has been translated into Japanese for publication in Japan. A nationally recognized authority in the field of linguistics, Dillard said he was notified that the text of his book had been translated into Japanese but that his examples of Black English which are not translatable were left in Roman Script. "Black English" is one of several books Dillard has published on the subject of linguistics.

Demons 2-of-3 On Week

By Doug Ireland
Current Sauce Sports Editor

Northwestern's Demons, looking for their first three-win week of the 1978-79 basketball season, stumbled over the hump of the Eightin' Camels of Campbell College Saturday night in Raleigh, N.C. The Camels handed the Demons a 67-64 defeat and ended a two-game NSU winning streak.

The loss dropped Northwestern to 5-12 for the season. Earlier in the week, the Demons had beaten Hardin-Simmons 60-51 in Prather Coliseum and had topped Stephen F. Austin on the road by a narrow 63-60 count.

Campbell never trailed in the intersectional contest, breaking a 60-60 deadlock late in the game to stymie a late Demon rally. Fred Whitfield scored the final seven points for the Camels to key the Campbell win.

Whitfield hit two free throws with 3:10 left to give Campbell, now 6-10, a 62-60 lead, and he followed that with a jumper with 2:14 showing to give the Camels a 64-60 edge. After a basket by Demon Guy Charles had made it a two-point game again, Whitfield drove inside and converted a three-point play for the margin of victory with only one minute left.

Whitfield had 14 points, one of four Campbell players in double figures. John Heckstall had 17, Darrell Maudlin chipped in with 16 and Keys Benston scored 11 for the Camels.

For the Demons, Charles hit for 20 points, Jerry Lewis tallied 12, and Andre Bailey had 10. Charles was eight-of-11 from the floor, four-for-five from the free throw line, and also led NSU in rebounds with eight.

"We didn't play well at all offensively," said Demon head coach Tynes Hildebrand afterwards. "We weren't getting our good shots, and when we got them we missed a lot of them, especially in the second half."

The Demons didn't shoot well from the field (27 of 69, a 39.1 percentage) but hit ten of 11 from the line. Campbell connected on 44 percent of its shots (22 of 50) but the key numbers in the contest were the 23 for 28 free throws dropped in by the Camels.

Things were a little bit brighter for NSU last Wednesday in Nacogdoches, Tex. when the Demons followed the efforts of guards Mike Brey and Jerry Lewis to a hard-fought 63-60 win over the Lumberjacks. It was the first Northwestern win in Nacogdoches since 1968.

The Demons, who led virtually the entire contest before the scrappy 'Jacks rallied in the closing minutes, had to rely on the last-second heroics of Brey and Lewis to pull out the victory.

After SFA had used a tenacious full-court press to come back from an 11-point deficit and jump into a 60-59 lead with just 17 seconds left, Lewis fired in a 30-footer with only five ticks remaining to push NSU back out front. The Texans then called time out—but instead were whistled for a technical when it was discovered the time out was SFA's sixth one of the half.

Brey then capped an outstanding performance when he was fouled on the inbound pass after the technical shot had been missed by the Demons. The 6-0 ball-handling wizard sank both ends of his 1-1 to sew up the victory for NSU.

Brey hit 22 points, a new career-high for the sophomore from Rockville, Md., and Lewis added 20. Jim Hoops had 11, while Karl Godine tallied 26 for the Lumberjacks.

The Demons started the week with a home win over Hardin-Simmons University last Monday. Lewis gunned in 14 to lead a balanced NSU effort in the 60-51 victory. Brey chipped in with 12 and Guy Charles had ten for the winners.

Mike Dabney ripped in 20 for HSU, but was the only Cowboy in double figures. NSU outrebounded the visitors 38-29 with Andre Bailey grabbing eight to pace the Demon boarders.

To use a phrase that was popular a few years ago, "you've come a long way, baby". This best describes the progress of college basketball over the past few years.

The balance of power in inter-collegiate basketball has been awesome the last five years. Five different teams have won the national championship over this period, with no team breezing to the title as one particular team did for several years in succession.

That one particular team was UCLA, coached by the incomparable "Wizard of Westwood", John Wooden. Wooden's Bruin teams won national titles successively from 1964-73, excluding 1966 when Texas Western (now the University of Texas at El Paso) interrupted the streak. The Bruins then added another title in 1975, thus giving the retiring Coach Wooden the best possible finish of a spectacular coaching career.

All told, UCLA has won 10 national championships and seven in succession from 1968-73. Both are records, and both will probably never be challenged.

That's where the balance of power takes over. North Carolina State ended that reign of UCLA by winning the '74 crown, even though the respective states.

WoodWorking

Significant emphasis has also been placed on the promising high school stars. The good high school coaches spend more time than usual developing the players who show superior ability. This in turn reflects the attention placed on the individual players by the college coach.

Another reason for having more quality players year after is attributed to the fact that many of the best and promising young players are often held back in junior high school. This controversial practice allows for an extra year of growth and development. Though this is an effective method of bettering a person's chances for a college career and way to increase his athletic skills, I highly disagree with it. I feel that too much emphasis is being placed on the person as an athlete rather than the person as a student.

Another major reason is out of state recruiting. College coaches are looking more extensively for the better athletes. Take, for example, our own Northwestern State University. Our out of state players include Jim Hoops and Mike Hoops of Deshler, Ohio; Mike Brey of Rockville, Md.; Mike Fyler of Scotts City, Kansas; and Guy Charles of Port Allen, Texas. All were highly recruited in their '74 crown, even though the respective states.

Bell is a sophomore center from Virginia and is 7'7" ... NSU leading scorer Jerry Lewis was not a direct signee by the Demons. Lewis, from Grambling, originally played at Southwest Missouri State ... NSU graduate basketball assistant Bill Chamberlain comes from "Super Basketball Country". Chamberlain was an All-American star at the University of North Carolina, a perennial powerhouse ... The most points scored by one team in a college basketball game is 162 by the University of Nevada at Las Vegas. The Runnin' Rebels won the game 162-101 over the University of Hawaii at Hilo, and scored a record 87 points in the second half.

Acuna Runner-up

HOUSTON—Northwestern State University's Ricardo Acuna, a last-minute replacement for second-seeded Kevin Curren of Texas, took runner-up honors in the prestigious Prince National Intercollegiate Indoor Singles Championships here over the weekend.

Acuna, a senior from Santiago, Chile, lost a hard-fought 7-6, 6-7, 6-2, 7-5, decision to defending champion Erick Iskersky of Trinity after marching through the 32-man field filled with America's best collegiate tennis talent.

All-American Chris Mayotte of South Carolina was Acuna's first victim, falling 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. SMU's Drew Gitlin lost 6-2, 2-6, 7-5, and in the quarterfinals Acuna topped Trinity's Ben McKown 6-3, 6-7, 7-6. Tennessee's Andy Kohlberg was beaten in the semi's by Acuna in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, before Iskersky outlasted Acuna in the finals.

Four Demon Standouts Make All-La. Team

By Dan McDonald

NATCHITOCHES—LSU standouts Charles Alexander and John Adams and Northeast Louisiana head coach John David Crow captured the top honors on the 1978 All-Louisiana Collegiate Football Team announced today by the Louisiana Sports Writers Association.

A panel of 33 sports writers, broadcasters and sports information directors from across the state tabbed Alexander, the Tigers' record-shattering tailback, and Adams, LSU's stalwart defensive end, as the Offensive and Defensive Players of the Year respectively in the balloting.

Crow, who led NSU's Indians from two straight 2-9 records to a 6-4-1 mark for their first winning season since 1970, was an overwhelming choice as the state's Coach of the Year.

The other individual honor went to McNeese State's Don Stump, who was named Freshman of the Year after the frosh kicked led the Southland Conference in kick scoring and was second in punting.

LSU, Northwestern La. and Southwestern La. led the selections with four players each on the dream unit, while La. Tech had three representatives on the team. Northeast Louisiana, McNeese State, and Grambling and Tulane each had two picks and Southeastern La. and Nicholls State one representative each on the squad.

Joining Alexander on the offensive unit were wide receivers John Floyd of Northeast and Mike Almond of Northwestern, while Louis Landry of McNeese was the tight end. The offensive line consisted of LSU's Robert Dugas and Petey Perot of Northwestern at tackles and Grambling's Thomas Thompson and Nicholls State's Fred

Tulane's center-quarterback combination of Dee Methvin and Roch Hontas and running back Joe Delaney of Northwestern rounded out the offensive unit.

Tech and USL dominated the defensive squad with three selections each, with nose guard Ardis McCann, tackle Ronnie Paggett and linebacker Jimmy Blackshire representing the Bulldogs and end Ken Chanier, linebacker Frank Bartley and defensive back Ron Irving representing the Ragin's Cajuns.

Other members of the defensive unit along with Adams included tackle Willie Washington of Northwestern and defensive backs Chris Williams of LSU, Roy Binnion of Northeast and Charles Johnson of Grambling.

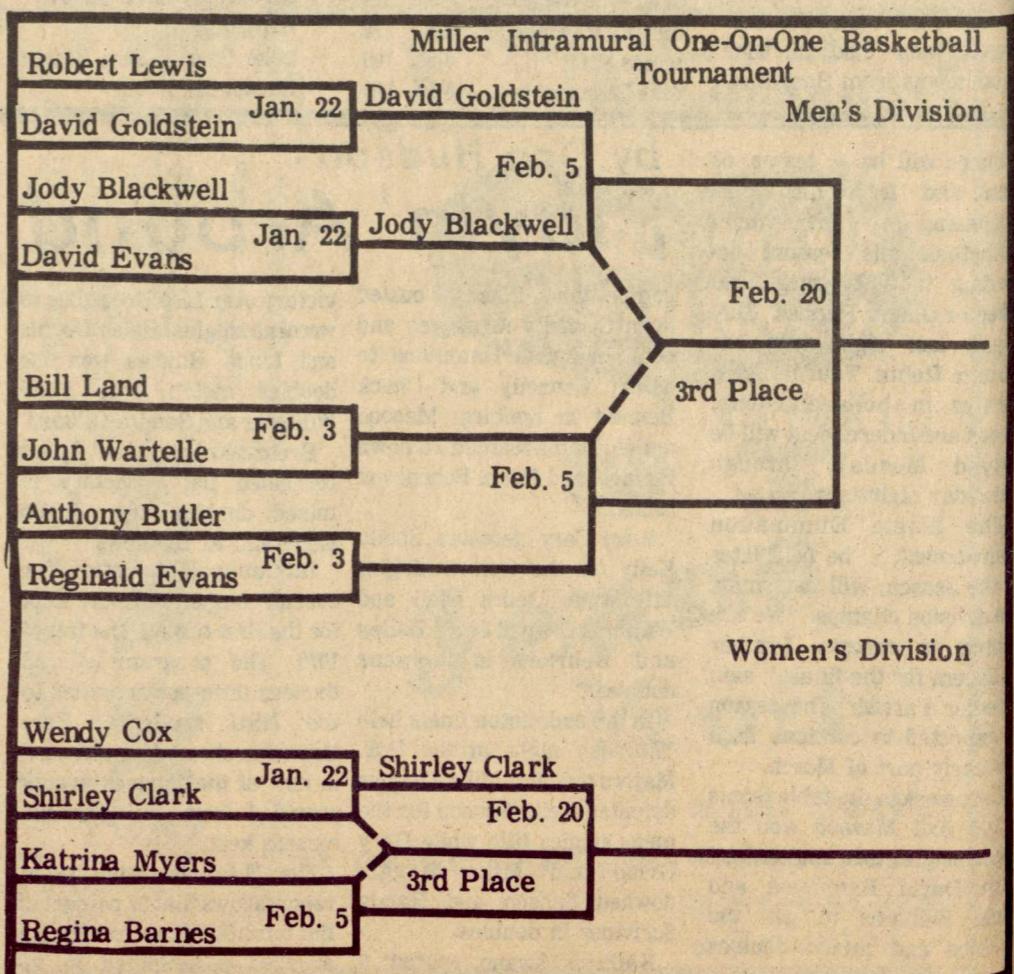

Southeastern's James Magruder and Southwestern's John Roveto grabbed the specialist spots at punter and kicker respectively.

Alexander, a 6-foot-1, 214-pounder from Galveston, Tex. was one of three unanimous picks on the offensive unit and was also a unanimous pick as Offensive Player of the Year. The All-American rushed for over 4,000 yards in his career and ranks among the NCAA's all-time top ten rushers, along with going for over 1,000 yards during the season and grabbing all-SLC honors his final two years.

Adams was a first-team all-Southeastern Conference pick after leading the Tigers in tackles over the past two seasons. He scored one touchdown for LSU on a 73-yard interception return against Indiana and he also had a safety-scoring tackle against Kentucky. Adams also handled punting duties for the Tigers and averaged over 40 yards per kick.

60% pass NTE

Approximately six out of ten Northwestern students who took the National Teacher's Exam (NTE) last fall passed the test, according to Dr. Robert Alost, dean of the college of education.

"I wasn't real disappointed, but I think we could do better. 90% of those who took the exam scored over 1,000," said Dr. Alost.

According to Alost, over 60 students took the exam in February, and the results of this testing should arrive in a month.

In explaining why students scored as they did last fall, Alost said, "So many of the ones who didn't pass the exam were nervous. They were close, and I'm expecting them to do better in February's results."

BEST ACTOR IN A SUPPORTING ROLE

Political Pickin's

I refuse to write an article on student apathy. I realize this may disappoint many people, since obviously Northwestern students are begging for a lecture about non participation in student oriented activities (for example, the overwhelming participation in the SGA—SUGB elections).

No, instead, I will endeavor to make further friends by predicting, to the best of my ability, the winners in the SGA Executive race.

For President, I predict Terry McCarty. While there appears to be stiff competition for this position(?) I personally would like to say that Terry is the best possible candidate for the job. As Commissioner of Elections this past year, Terry has shown tremendous ability at remaining unbiased and in handling his responsibilities in a mature and dependable way.

For Vice President, while again the competition is rough, I suggest that a person with workable knowledge of the SGA and the proceedings of the Senate be chosen to serve in this capacity, as he will also serve as Senate Chairman. It would also be a nice thing to see him be regular in attendance, and dependable for smooth running of Senate proceedings. My Prediction: James Mitchell.

For Treasurer, while again it could go either way with the current competition, it seems necessary for a working knowledge of the Student Government Association and of the school's monetary system. Familiarity of policy and of Senate Financial systems seems a good prerequisite. I'm afraid I'll have to go with the underdog here, gang. The incumbent, in my opinion, IS the best choice. Prediction: Burkhalter.

My final prediction is that of Commissioner of Elections. This job calls for a person who can remain unbiased, who can stay tough in a bad situation, and who has a working knowledge of SGA. I predict: Rick Dubois.

That does it for my predictions. I would rather not give an opinion on Secretary, or on the Senator or Representative positions. After all, as appointed co-commissioner of elections, I have to remain unbiased. —ED.

Oops!!!

Boy, Did I ever make a big mistake last week. I mean bigger than usual.

Everyone who is mad at me for printing the misleading picture on the front page last week can stand up. (Now that 98% of the school is standing..)

I would like to extend my most humble apologies for the distasteful beer picture printed last week. I offer no excuse, because there is none. It was a big mistake, and to the people who have worked so hard for the beer situation (i.e. Mr. Bob Wilson, Dr. Bienvenu, and the alcohol committee) it was really like a blow in the face. I've pulled some bloopers before, but nothing this big. —ED.

Going Parking

The parking situation at Northwestern has finally gotten to me, and while I am aware that the administration is doing everything it can to solve this problem, I have a few suggestions that might help temporarily until the parking situation can be altered.

First of all, it should be mandatory for all students to make it a point to take up two parking spaces, and whenever possible, three. Several people have already gotten into the swing of this idea, and it really seems to be affecting the situation in a wonderful way.

Secondly, students living in Caddo, Varnado, Natchitoches, Caspari, Rapides, and Sabine should all be encouraged to DRIVE to class rather than walk. This would not only help the parking situation, but would aid in fuel economy as well.

Thirdly, there should be more reserved parking spaces. It stands to reason that since the only parking spaces that are ever available are those that are reserved, if we have more reserved spaces there would be more available.

Finally, bring the Demon Connection to the parking lots. Since yellow lines are obviously hard to note, maybe a purple and orange blend of lines would be more easily spotted, at the same time promoting school spirit.

I realize that these suggestions come at a late date, but at this point, I think all will agree that anything would help.—ED.

Phi Mus dance for Project HOPE

A dance sponsored by the NSU chapter of Phi Mu sorority for Project HOPE will be held on Thursday, March 15. The event is scheduled for the Cane River Co. Lounge from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Featuring a disco vs. rock-n-roll theme, the dance will raise money for Project HOPE, Phi Mu's national philanthropy.

HOPE stands for Health Opportunity for People Everywhere. The objective of the project is to teach medical, dental, and allied health personnel in developing countries the latest techniques of U.S. medical science.

"Phi Mu is the major contributor to project HOPE and has been for several years," commented Teri Shaw, Phi Mu Social Service chairman. "Chapters all over the United States sponsor various fund-raising projects to support Phi Mu's national philanthropy," added Teri.

For years the HOPE ship sailed to countries all over the world with physicians and dentists on board to treat patients in the various countries they visited. In 1974, the ship retired, but Project HOPE continues to operate Schools of Health Sciences in several nations.

According to Teri, all proceeds raised from Kappa Iota's project will go directly to the HOPE operation. Tickets for the dance can be purchased in advance from any Phi Mu for $1 or at the door for $2.

Local merchants have donated merchandise to be given away at the dance and several special activities have been planned.

The Northwestern State University-National Cheerleader Association Cheerleader Clinic will be held this year from June 10 through June 29 on the NSU campus. Full-time students enrolled in the Summer Session 1979 are invited and encouraged to apply for jobs as student workers and Resident Assistants for the Cheerleader Clinic. Applications for the jobs should be completed in the High School Relations Department in Room 116 of Caldwell Hall as soon as possible.

The first game of the twinbill is set for 1 p.m. at Highland Park in Natchitoches and will be the home opener for the Lady Demons.

The Lady Demons of head coach Pam Carey will be in their first outing since fast-pitch softball was added as a women's varsity sport last fall. A 24-member squad will be making the home appearance which will be the first of three doubleheaders during the week for the Lady Demon squad.

NSU, which met McNeese in Lake Charles Monday, will also be playing host to ESU—Alexandria and Stephen F. Austin on Thursday and Friday in the two twinbills.

"We will be very young and inexperienced," Carey said, "but we have some top-notch athletes on the squad and should do very well. It's still very early, but I think our pitching and our defense should be our strong points."

Freshman Kathy Binning of Mansfield will be the starter on the mound for NSU, while sophomore Loraine Johnson of Alexandria and freshman Karen Briggs of Shreveport will also be available for mound duty.

Probable starters include a total of five freshman, with the only seniors being third baseman Nannette Hawthorne of Natchitoches and outfielder Gwen Holt of Boyce, and the only sophomore being second baseman Helen Dennis of Shreveport.

Demons Third in Rain-Marred Meet

TSU Wins NSU Invitational

Texas Southern used wins in six events and scored heavily in the middle-distance races to take the team championship in the second annual Northwestern State University Invitational Track and Field Meet here Saturday.

Texas Southern, which finished second to the host Demons in the first Invitational meet last year, amassed 153 1/2 points to 146 for runner-up Louisiana Tech. Northwestern was third with 93 points, while Prairie View had 49 1/2. Southeast Missouri had 41 and Southern University had seven. Centenary did not score.

The meet was held during a steady rain which wreaked havoc with some events. The triple jump was not held due to the inclement weather, and none of the nine competitors were able to clear the opening height in the pole vault.

Mostly due to the weather conditions, only one new meet record was set during the event and one other was tied. Cornell Garrett of La. Tech turned in a 10.4 clocking in the 100-meter dash to break the mark of 10.5 set by Larry Kimball of Texas Southern last season, and Texas Southern's Fred Taylor tied the 400-meter dash record of 48.1 established by Northwestern's Tommy Swacker last year.

Taylor's winning total was due mostly to its success in the middle distances, as they scored a total of 24 1/2 points in the 800-meter run and 18 in the 400-meter event placed by Taylor's record-tying effort. Clifton Perry won the 800-meter event for TSU with a 1:52.4 clocking.

Tech's Garrett was the meet's only double winner as he also tied for first place in the 200-meter dash with a 21.4 clocking to equal the effort of TSU's Kimball.

Tech had four first places in the meet, while Northwestern had three and Southeast Missouri and Prairie View had one each.

In addition to the middle-distance wins, Texas Southern also took wins in the shot put with Mark Lundy's 55-2 one-fourth effort, in the 400-meter relay with a 44.1 clocking and in both hurdle races, with Robert Kennedy taking the 110-meter high in 14.3 and James Baldwin winning the 400-meter winning the high jump with a 6-4 three-fourths effort to help offset for the loss of the points in the rain-marred flat jumps. Billy Green had NSU's other first with a 4:00.0 clocking in the 1500 meters.

Southeast Missouri's Richard Townsend had his team's only first with a 22-11 1/2 long jump, while Prairie View's only victory came in the 1600-meter relay in 3:14.2.

long homestand for baseballers

Northwestern State University's baseball squad will hit the field running during a busy week in the next few days when the Demons will play a total of eight games in a four-day period.

The Demons will be playing four consecutive home twinbills beginning today in a pair of outings against La. College before three straight doubleheaders against Central Missouri. All four twinbills begin at 1:15 p.m. at Stroud Field and will be broadcast over KDBH-FM (97.7 mHz) beginning at 1:05 p.m.

NSU stands at 2-10 on the season prior to a twinbill Monday against La. Tech, but Demon coach Herbie Smith said that the record wasn't any indication of how good his squad is.

"We played three very good games against a strong University of Houston team over in Smith said. "They have one of the best teams we'll play all year, and we were ahead of them in three of the four games we played."

The Demons dropped all four games to the Cougars after splitting twinbills with Northeast La. and McNeese State, but NSU will be beginning a streak of 16 straight home games in the La. College twinbills.

The Demons will have available for duty right-handers Scott Stagner (0-3) Kerry Kwon (0-1), Chris Soileau (1-1), Mike Vienne (0-1) and Steve Fry (0-1) and lefthander Kenny Stelly (1-1) in the four twinbills.

Other likely starters include Sam Johnson and Tommy Dorsey in the outfield and Ted Reeves, David Holloway and Doug Guelde at first, second and third base respectively.

Voting tomorrow: intramural fee, SGA, SUGB senators and reps

Campus elections will be held tomorrow to choose Student Government Association Senators, Student Union Governing Board Representatives-at-Large, and to vote on an activity fee for improvements in the operation budget for the Intramural Department.

The five executive offices of President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Commissioner of Elections of the SGA have one candidate running for each position. These unopposed oppositions will not appear on the ballot for Wednesday's election.

Intramural bill No. 50 to be voted on is as follows: WHEREAS the Intramural Department is operating on a low income budget and

WHEREAS the budget is not adequate to provide the caliber of Intramural program that the Intramural Department would like to offer the NSU student body and

WHEREAS the Intramural Advisory Council, composed of ten students, five faculty members, and the Intramural Staff, is proposing that a student fee of $2.00 per semester and $1.00 for each summer session be assessed to provide the operating budget for Intramurals

THEREFORE be it resolved that each full-time student on the Natchitoches campus be assessed a fee of $2.00 per semester and $1.00 per summer session.

The Intramural program is responsible for providing recreational activities of various kinds for NSU students, faculty and staff. The program also involves supervision, utilization and maintenance of the Intramural Building.

Ginger Parrish, Intramural Director at NSU states that with the assessment of the student fee, an adequate amount of money would be available for equipment, supplies, officials, etc., with some left over for other uses.

According to Ms. Parrish, some ways the remainder of the money could be used are:

1. Paint the racquetball courts.
2. Build stands for viewing the racquetball courts
3. Provide a reservation system for the racquetball courts
4. Increase the hours for usage of the Intramural Building

5. Paint the hallways and lobby in the Intramural Building.

6. Make the women's dressing room on the bottom floor of the Intramural Building usable

7. Install a University Weight machine on the bottom floor of the Intramural Building

8. Install a sauna in the Intramural Building

9. Conduct exercise and dance classes in the Intramural Building.

10. Provide a health club for students, faculty, and staff and, for a fee, for members of the community

11. Add to the Intramural activities that we provide: Frisbee

Throw, Co-ed two-on-two basketball, dance contest, Monopoly tournament, chess tournament and various card tournaments.

12. Travel to other schools for extramural activities.

"I feel that as the Student Government President I can successfully be a liaison between the administration and the students as well as a liaison between students and students. What this university does need is more student participation in activities."

"As SGA president I can do my best to involve students in committees and events. This is the student's university: I along with others can help them make the best of it."

James Mitchell states, "As Vice-President of the SGA, I will be chairman of the student services committee and I want to make this an active committee."

"Since I live in a dormitory and eat in Ierville Dining Hall, I am especially aware of the problems in these areas and I will be active, trying my best, to improve conditions and quality in these two areas."

"You, the students, play an important role in SGA and with your help and concern I will do my best to serve you as secretary."

Alton Burkhalter served as Treasurer for SGA this past year.

"In my position as Treasurer I have gained much insight into the workings of the SGA. Finance is the backbone of any organization and the SGA is no exception."

"As a business-accounting major, I feel I have the background to compile and keep a balanced budget. I enjoy working with people and possess an open mind to any thoughts that could help improve SGA."

"A Treasurer with the ability to work well with people and to keep the students of Northwestern informed of the SGA's financial situation is extremely necessary. With these thoughts in mind, I seek your support as treasurer of the SGA."

Rick Dubois is a 3-2 Industrial Technology major and the candidate for the office of Commissioner of Elections. "Having served on the Election Board under the past Commissioner, I understand what the job demands."

Area pastor remarks on NSU beer question

Dear Editor,

I notice that a can of Billy Beer was in the center of a picture of beer cans and bottles featured in the March 6, 1979 issue of the Current Sauce celebrating the recent legislation allowing beer on campus at NSU. It is ironic and somewhat symbolic that at the very same time this picture appeared, Billy Carter, Billy Beer's namesake, entered the alcohol abuse center at Longbeach Naval Hospital in Longbeach, California to be treated for alcoholism. Some will snicker that this is a typical response from a typical minister. However, my concern about this recent legislation is not so much rising up in righteous indignation at a devil brew but just downright selfishness. We are the ones who are called to pick up the pieces of shattered lives and tragedies that result from drinking abuses and/or alcoholism I am talking about entering people in alcohol abuse centers, people suffering from sclerosis of the liver, people who are victims of accidents caused by drunk driver, marriages that collapse because of drinking problems, employment lost because of chronic alcoholism, etc., etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseum. I realize that the 'typical response is' the key is moderation. However, moderation was the intention of the twelve million alcoholics who are living in the United States today. Most of them started by drinking beer. My feeling about tobacco, alcohol or any other form of potentially dangerous drug should be, don't even start. For some this recent legislation is a cause for celebration. For those of us who have dedicated our lives to helping people find the very best in life, the recent legislation is not a cause for celebration but a feeling that we have made a step backward. It is true that I, and the people who agree with my view, would not be considered "good ole boys" but to really get a good picture, and the true meaning of the potential danger of any form of alcohol, ask Billy Carter how much fun it is to go through withdrawal symptoms in an alcohol abuse center. Many of the people that I try to help who have drinking problems got their start at a college or university.

Sincerely,
Dr. Larry W. Fields

Student urges yes vote to bill

Recently a bill proposing a $2.00 a semester fee for the intramural program was passed in SGA. Now it is time for the students to vote.

Two dollars per semester is not much to ask for the improvement and further development of the intramural program. Right now the program is functioning, but with sometimes semi-usable equipment and facilities. With the fee, the department would be able to purchase new equipment and T-shirts, fix up the recreation building where intramurals is housed, and introduce more activities.

As it is now, 30% of last semester's student body was active in intramurals. Even more use the building for the gym and racquetball courts. With the improvements more people may be urged into trying intramurals. I know intramurals have helped fulfill my college life.

On Wednesday, March 21, we will be asked to vote on the $2.00 a semester fee. I hope everyone will consider the bill and what it is for. What is $2.00 for a full semester of fun, games, and meeting and being with friends—the equivalent of one good meal at McDonald's.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR
WEEKLY SPECIAL

Those Reports Check Out
-- Taxes Paid the Checks

WASHINGTON -- We have received thousands of letters from Americans who are tired of seeing their tax money wasted. They have sent us reports of government misspending which we have checked out. Here are a few:

Too many American officials overseas live in luxurious Pukka-Sahib style. Mali, for example, is an impoverished landlocked nation in the Sahara Desert. All 15 houses leased to American foreign aid personnel are equipped with swimming pools. Yet a public pool is available nearby.

In Pakistan, the former mission director, Richard Cashin, put an official car and chauffeur at his family's beck and call. Family members were driven to the food markets, beauty shops, rug dealers and other stores in sumptuous style. But auditors stopped the mission from spending $69,000 for 100 clothes dryers. The air in Pakistan, they argued, is bone-dry, and clothes dry very quickly.

There has been even more frivolous spending here at home. The government, for example, spent more than $91 million in one year alone on population research, some of which had little to do with population problems.

More than $200,000 was spent, for instance, to study the travel habits of the blacktail jackrabbit in Utah. Another $40,000 was granted to study mosquito egg development. And $200,000 went to research the mysteries of toad fertilization.

Word of these curious research grants got back to government auditors, who tightened up the requirements for population studies. But sources told our reporter Moira Forbes that $300,000 is still being spent to study the protein synthesis in young snails and sea urchins.

Footnote: Readers can help us keep a watch on waste. Send examples of government extravagances to Jack Anderson's Watch on Waste, P.O. Box 2300, Washington, D.C., 10013.

Expensive Toy: It costs the Navy millions of dollars in repairs to keep the fleet afloat. That goes for the toy fleet, also. Several years ago, the state of Massachusetts gave the Navy a scale model of the aircraft carrier Wasp. The model is toted around by Navy recruiters. But now the toy ship needs an overhaul, which will cost the taxpayers $4,000.

Intramural building announces new hours

NSU's Intramural-Recreation Building will now be more available to students than before. According to Ginger Parrish, Coordinator of Intramurals, and attendant will be on duty to issue equipment through a new check-out system.

The new hours will be from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Monday through Friday. The building will be open on the weekends from 1-5 p.m. on Saturday and on Sunday from 1-9 p.m.

Racquetball courts are available for free play anytime the building is open except when racquetball classes are being taught.

The new equipment check-out service will make various types of equipment available to anyone presenting a current NSU I.D. Equipment available for check-out are basketballs, table tennis paddles and balls, badminton racquets, horse shoes, softballs, and other equipment. A student may use a piece of equipment by presenting an I.D. to the attendant on duty in the Intramural Office. The I.D. will be returned when the equipment is turned in. If the equipment is not returned on the same day it was checked out, the borrower will be charged a fee of 50 cents per day. The borrower will also be responsible for paying for any lost equipment checked out.

All persons using the Intramural-Recreation Building must present a valid NSU I.D., card. This includes students, faculty, staff and others.

"We are offering these new services in an effort to improve the operation and use of the Intramural-Recreation Facilities," stated Ms. Parrish.

Freshman registration program to be initiated

A new program will be initiated this summer for the registration and orientation of incoming freshmen students, according to Dr. Richard Galloway, Dean of the University College, Mrs. Barbara Gillis Coordinator of Orientation and Mr. Danny Seymour.

The program will offer three sessions, June 27-29, July 11-13, and July 22-24. Fees for the two and a half day workshop will total $30.00.

"The idea of this whole program is to get students excited about coming to college," stated Miss Agatha Newitt, who is also helping to promote the session.

"We want them to meet with academic people with whom they will be working when they enroll in the University," added Dr. Galloway. Those people in academic areas will explain to them things about courses and curriculum that they will be following."

Dr. Galloway continued, "There will be time for information on financial aid, housing, on student life, ROTC, student media, culture areas, Uniting Ministries, and social activities." This information will be provided, along with group activities for entertainment.

The students will have their class schedule set up for them so that they can register and states Mrs. Gillis, "...all they will have to do when they come in the fall is to pay their fees."

Emphasis on personal attention is a major goal of the program, as well as a more leisurely and comprehensive look into NSU.

Students will also take their math and English placement tests and finish with them before the first week of school.

Dr. Galloway explained that the program had already been successfully implemented at other colleges, this seems to be the trend among American universities.

Northwestern students are asked to get involved in the new program by helping introduce the NSU campus to the freshmen. "We want some enthusiastic, motivating NSU students who are willing to contribute some extra time to promote Northwestern. These students will help ease anxieties of incoming freshmen and explain the ins and outs of college life—in other words, presenting Northwestern from the student point of view. "There are several positions open and an honorarium will be paid," said Mrs. Gillis, who added that interested students should contact her in Room 103 Caldwell Hall.

Fees increase, runoff slated

Students voted an increase in fees by one-hundred forth-three votes last week and forced a runoff in four senatorial positions during annual spring elections held in the student union.

Winning Senatorial positions for next year's SGA were Mike Barton, Chip Cole, Jim Hoops, Barbie Jenkins, Becky Johnson, Bob McKellar, and Karen Murphy. Representative winners were Maxine Harrison, Renee Hebert, Charlie Machand, Mairus T. McFarland, Ginger Miller, Mary Beth Nicolle, and Julie Thibodeaux.

A runoff will be held tomorrow to determine the remaining four senatorial positions between Clifton Boliano, Kim Haddon, Tony Hernandez, Cliff, Lopez, John Connally, Mark Rachal, Deah Guley, and Shawnee Remedies. The runoff election will be held in the Student Union from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Voter turnout was higher than usual, according to appointed co-commissioner of elections John McKellar. McKellar stated that six hundred, sixty one students participated in the election.

The Intramural bill passed with sixty-three per cent of the five-hundred seventy votes cast in the fee increase issue. Intramural Director Ginger Parrish, who has worked on the referendum for several months, related that she was

SGA-SUGB members Trey Bradley and Rick Dubois were "creamed" last week as SUGB sponsored the annual "Almost Anything Goes". The shaving contest was just one of many such events at the afternoon party, which was planned in conjunction with Western Week.

McKellar introduces legislation

In a final action of legislation, current SGA president John McKellar introduced three bills in Monday night's Senate meeting which included the formation of a Book Co-op, addition to current Election code procedures, and a safeguarding measure insuring the newly passed Intramural bill. McKellar also proposed an in depth outline of the Executive Branch of the Student Government Association, adding three new cabinet positions to the already added positions of the Executive Cabinet.

SGA Bill No. 52 provides that it be resolved that

"the Student Government Association formally request the Budget Management Team not to lower the amount appropriated in the operating budget for the Intramural Department for a minimum of three years."

McKellar stated that he thought this was important in that

"The money that we just passed goes for improving the facilities. That is why we've asked the school not to reduce their support, so that this student money will go further in improving the Intramural Department."

He added that nothing has been said to indicate this type action

but that the SGA simply took the action "to grant future support."

Bill No. 53 was also presented to clear up past iniciencies of the Election Code that had neglected the supplying of information to candidates.

McKellar proposed that a copy of the Election Code be presented to each candidate filing for office, a mimeographed sheet containing election dates, picture dates, publication of statement dates, and other pertinent election information be presented to each candidate filing for office, and that all information should be available from the date that the filing is opened.

Finally, McKellar introduced Bill No. 54, stating, "Whereas, the increase in inflation has caused a sharp rise in the price of books, and Whereas, the present method of sale and purchase of used books at the bookstore is not economically satisfactory to all Northwestern students, and whereas, book co-ops have been successfully operated for the benefit of students at colleges and universities across the state and the nation, Therefore be it enacted that: 1) The Student Government Association formally to establish a book co-op to

Job offers

Last Tuesday evening, exactly six hours after the CURRENT SAUCE came hotly off the press, I received a phone call at home.

"Person to person for Debbie Page," said a nasal sounding operator.

"This is she," I said curiously.

A male voice answered back. "Miss Page, this is Jody Powell, Press secretary for President Carter calling from Washington. May I have a few minutes of your time?"

I checked my calendar. I had seven and a half minutes to spare. "Certainly, Mr. Powell. Is there something I can do for you?"

"Well, Miss Page, it isn't exactly what you can do for me, but what you can do for your country. We have been closely watching your work as CURRENT SAUCE editor for the past year, and have decided that you would fit right in up here in Washington."

There was a slight pause as he waited for me to pick my teeth up off the floor. "We need you Miss Page. Your flawless journalism, your consistent perfection in appeasing everyone is just what the surgeon general ordered."

My laughter interrupted him. "Is this another crank call?" I asked.

"Oh no," he stated quite profoundly, "I'm very serious."

"But I'm sure, Mr. Powell, that if you talked to some people closer to home they would remind you of my—er—mistakes," I argued.

"Mistakes?" He sounded genuinely astonished.

"Why, yes. Like the one about student apathy I did last summer. Certainly you heard about that one..." I replied.

"Oh, yes ma'am," he said, "That was when we first got wind of your work. A certain Sally Smith wrote us about that. We were quite impressed, actually, with your ability to parade around the subject without ever really getting to the point. Good job, if I may say so myself."

I was appropriately puzzled. "But didn't you hear about my more recent flops? Like, for example, two weeks ago I printed a beer picture that I still get anonymous calls about at three A.M. And what about..."

"Oh, but yes," he interrupted, "That was excellent. Billy was tickled to death about the free publicity—he's a nut about it you know—and Jimmy was so glad that the publicity was positive for a change that he grinned for weeks, except when Anwar was around of course."

"But last week was really unforgivable—not to mention unexcusable. Didn't you hear? We put a big publicity article on front page about an upcoming lecture, only we stated that the lecture had already occurred. First the administration got upset, then I had the students down my back cause the faculty wouldn't let them out of class. I had to go to Leesville for two days and pay people just to have friends."

"Now see, there's my point Miss Page. That just proves how well you would fit in up here." He chuckled softly. "Off the record, payoffs are really chic these days. So what do you say? Will you consider the offer?"

It really did sound good. Unfortunately, I was already considering another offer, and I explained this to him. "You see, Tongsun Park has already offered me a job as leading propagandist for his 'rice company'—and that will be hard to turn down..."

"What if we offered to pay all your expenses to Washington?" Powell tempted.

"Does that include gasoline?" I asked.

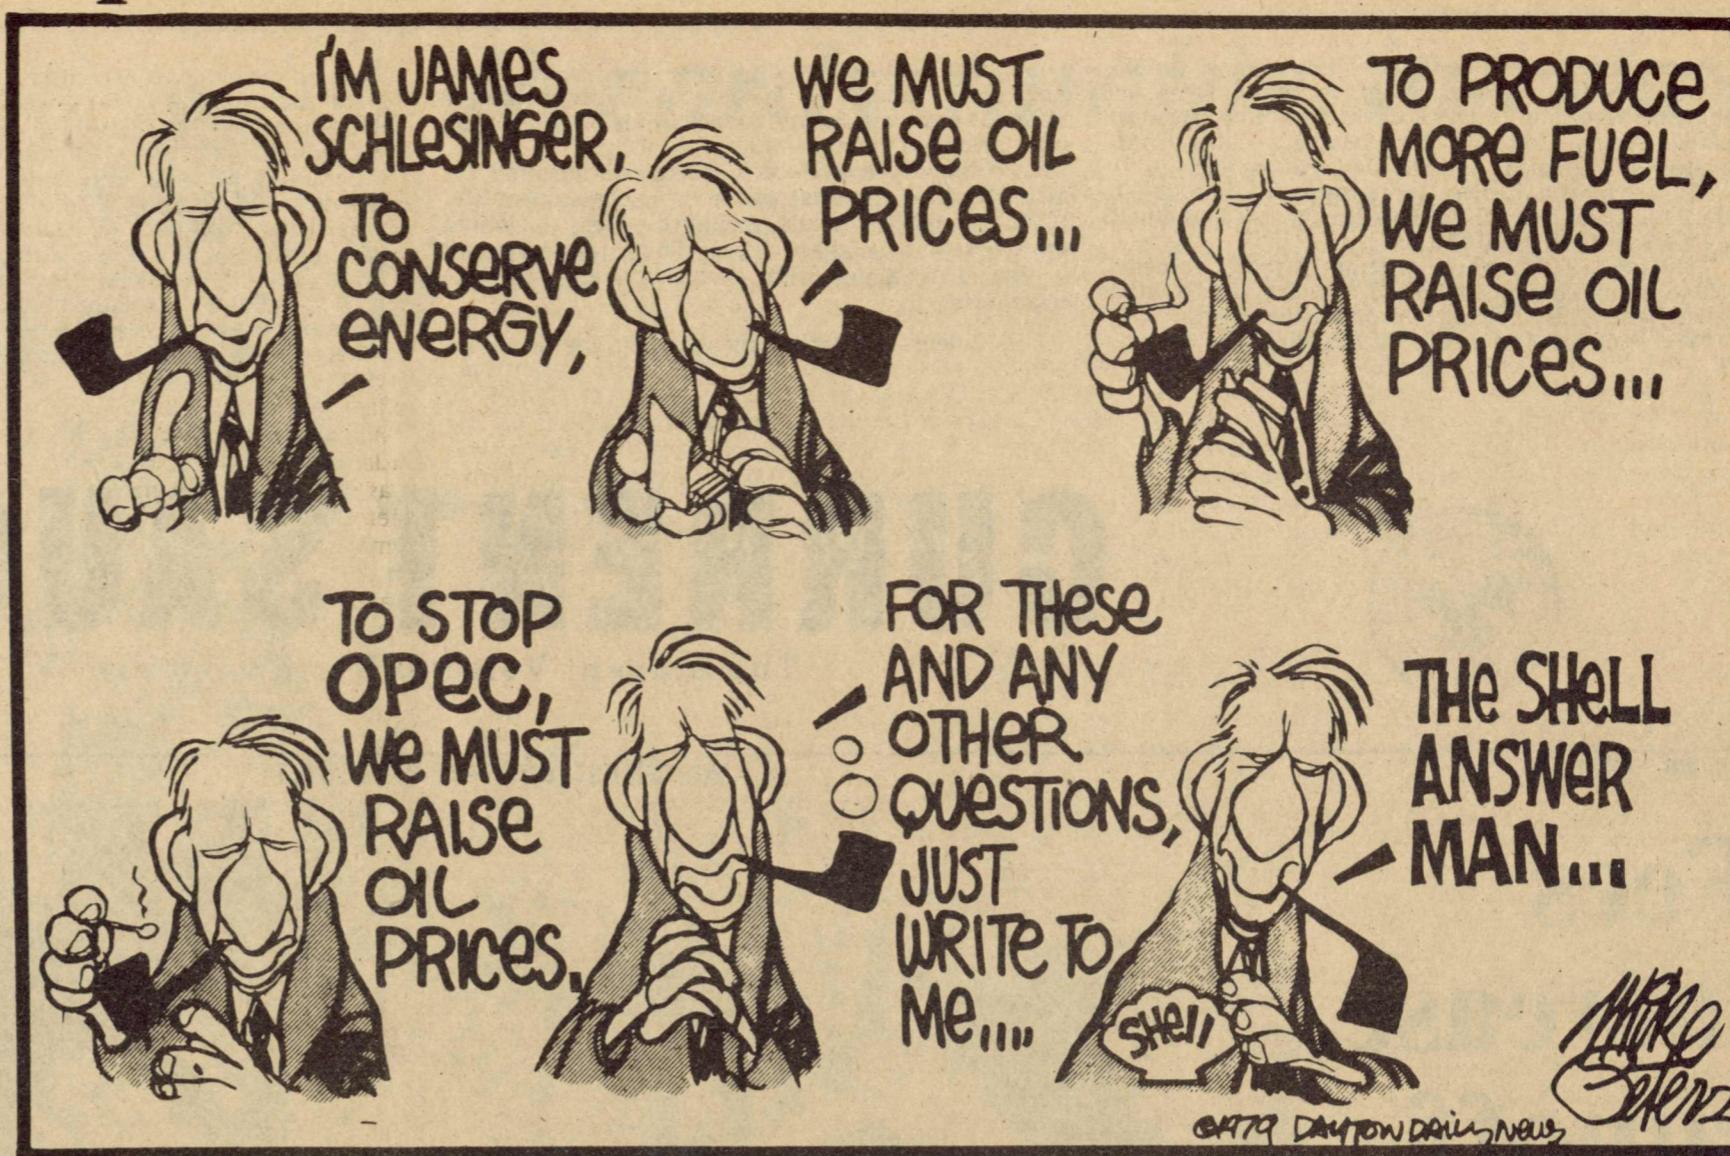

"Certainly," he said enthusiastically, "and we'll even though in a couple of cans of oil...."

How could I refuse? "One more thing and it'll be a deal," I said a little hesitantly.

"Name it."

"Do you think the federal government would be interested in a good deal on some advertising?"

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR WEEKLY SPECIAL

Apollo 1 Fire Hazard Ignored 3 Astronauts Died Needlessly

WASHINGTON — The worst moment for the American space program occurred 12 years ago. A flash fire broke out aboard the Apollo space capsule. Three astronauts — Virgil Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffee — died in less than 20 seconds from the searing heat and dense smoke.

Now, two space scientists have told us that the tragedy could have been averted. Seven weeks before the fire, officials were warned about the danger. A malfunctions investigator named Jesse Copeland warned in writing that fire hazards existed on board the Apollo 1. His report was co-signed by an associate and approved by the laboratory director.

This suppressed report warned explicitly that a highly combustible coolant in the environmental control system had leaked onto a maze of wires in the space capsule. The leakage saturated the wires on four different occasions.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration experts recommended that the wires be removed, the area cleaned with distilled water and new wiring be installed. Otherwise, they warned, there could be a fire.

Other space scientists told our reporter David Henry that the spilled coolant was cleaned, but the soiled wires were not replaced. They agreed that the bundles of wire, saturated with coolant, constituted a fire hazard.

The conclusions were supported by two other unpublicized reports. These were compiled after the fire by Dr. W.R. Downs of the Houston Space Center. Yet the review board investigating the fire virtually ignored the evidence that the coolant leakage caused the fire.

James Webb, who was the director of NASA at the time, told us the fire was too complex to determine any positive explanations. Our reporters also talked to some of the review board members, who continue to insist that the coolant was not a significant cause of the tragedy.

Expensive Treaty: Government officials have been caught in one awkward lie after another until public confidence in the government has been shaken. Yet officials continue to play loose with the truth to make their policies look good.

For example, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance promised last year that the Panama Canal treaties would not "add to the burden of the American taxpayers." That's a direct quote from his Senate testimony.

This promise helped persuade the Senate to ratify the treaties. Yet Pentagon sources now tell us that Vance's statement was false, that the canal turnover will cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

Here are their rough calculations:

It should cost about $30 million to close two Army bases in the Canal Zone. The Defense Department also will begin administering facilities that were being run by the Canal Zone government. These will include hospitals and schools for American dependents. The added costs for the transfers and renovations should amount to about $63 million — $30 million for the hospitals, $33 million for the schools.

The taxpayers will also be stuck with a number of new operating expenditures, administrative fees and logistics costs. These should run about $205 million. Just the cost of moving the remains of deceased Americans out of the Canal Zone is estimated at $1.5 million.

The treaty negotiators assured the Senate last year that all expenses would be financed from canal revenues. Now they are changing their tune. And the public can be excused for wondering occasionally whom and what to believe.

Border Problem: In addition to conflicts over illegal aliens and drug smugglers, another problem has cropped up on the Mexican-American border. Airplanes approaching the airports in Brownsville, Texas and Matamoros, Mexico, keep violating each other's air space. Besides violating international law, the planes are running risks of mid-air collisions. Poor telephone communications between the airport control towers have compounded the problems of trying to control the air traffic.

Gasohol Shortage: While motorists on the East Coast worry about a gasoline shortage, Midwest drivers are concerned about a shortage of gasohol. Demand for this alternative motor fuel — a mixture of gasoline and alcohol — has skyrocketed in the Midwest, where more than 350 service stations market it. The problem is a shortage of alcohol distilleries. Only one company currently produces significant quantities of gasohol. Other distilleries are under construction, but they won't be producing the high-octane no-lead blend for at least another year. The alcohol used in gasohol mixtures can be distilled from sugar cane, sugar beets, wood wastes and even garbage.

Revolving Door: Until recently, the acting director of the Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Foods was Dr. Howard Roberts. While a government bureaucrat, he directed regulation of the food industry and guarded American consumers against unhealthy food additives. Roberts recently left the FDA to become the director of science for the National Soft Drink Association — the soda pop lobby.

Plaque origins rediscovered

by Helen Hubley

Perhaps you've been strolling through campus near Caldwell Hall and noticed various plaques bearing such names as Herculeans, Idealists, Climbers, etc., inscribed into lamp posts.

"What do all these names mean?" you may have wondered. The secret to these inscriptions is that they were left as reminders of the members of the various classes of students at NSU during its early days as the Louisiana Normal College.

In those days, NSU students were classified upon their entrance as members of the fall, spring, and summer class. These different classes chose names and mottoes for themselves and immortalized themselves at NSU by having their separate class names inscribed in various places on campus.

The three classes of 1925 donated the goldfish pond in front of Caldwell Hall. The climbers, Winter 1925 class, chose as their motto, "Not on top, but climbing".

The Pierians, spring class of 1925 followed the motto, "Drink deep or taste not of the Pierian Spring, a little learning is a dangerous thing".

"Launched but not anchored", was the motto of the Herculeans, Summer class of 1925.

SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT RALLY HELD SATURDAY-More than 3,000 students representing 70 high schools were on the NSU campus Saturday to participate in the annual Northwest Louisiana Scholastic Achievement Rally. The event is conducted each year to qualify students for the state rally that will be held later this spring at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge. During the NSU rally, students were administered examinations in such general subject areas as commerce, English, foreign languages, journalism, mathematics, social studies, home economics, vocational agriculture and science.

FELTON BROWN SPEAKING TODAY ON EDUCATION-Felton Brown of the Louisiana Association of Educators will be the guest speaker today for a meeting of NSU's chapter of Phi Delta Kappa professional education fraternity. The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the Teacher Education Center Auditorium. Brown is the director of the Center for the legal protection of teachers and students for the LAE and is a lobbyist in the Louisiana Legislature. He has also served as advisor to the Student Louisiana teachers Association since 1968.

begin operation with the fall semester of 1979. 2) The Student Government Association begin a comprehensive advertising campaign to alert the students of the book co-op and how it will be operated, and 3) The Student Government Association begin plans, under the direction of the vice-president to prepare for the successful operation and management of the SGA book co-op.

The formation of this book co-op has been researched extensively by Nancy Jo Roberts, a student at Northwestern. In a formal report, Miss Roberts stated that the "purpose for organizing a book co-op at Northwestern State University is to provide the students with an alternative market for the selling and buying of used textbooks other than the NSU Bookstore." She further added that students should greatly benefit from the formation of the book co-op, and cited successful programs at several universities in Louisiana (i.e. Louisiana Tech, Nicholls State, and USL). She said that the steps to forming such a co-op would be first to find a room that would provide ample room for the display of books. One that would be easily accessible to students, at the same time providing ample security. Advertising was a factor she noted to be very important in the success of the program.

McKellar, in comment of the bo-op, stated that this area was one "that SGA has been needing to move into for years. Other colleges across the state run similar co-ops with tremendous success. It is interesting to note that these co-ops are supported not only by students but administration and bookstore management."

Continuing, McKellar discussed the Cabinet positions added to the SGA Executive Branch. "What this has done is finally established a cabinet form of executive branch. There are five appointed positions in addition to five elected positions, including Director of Public Relation, Spirit Committee Chairman, (both added previously this year), Director of Student Life, Director of Student Rights, and Secretarial Assistant.

"Our student government has been operating for years with no distinction between Executive and Legislative branches. These additional positions in the Executive will help to strengthen it, and in turn will strengthen the Senate."

Keith Runion of NSU was installed as president of the Louisiana Personnel and Guidance Association during the organization's annual spring convention Thursday and Friday in Alexandria. An assistant professor of counseling and guidance at NSU Runion has served this year as president-elect of the LPGA and is the program chairman for this year's state convention.

JAYCEES ANNOUNCE JR. The events to be considered include the softball throw, the long jump, a sprint race, an agility run, and an intermediate race.

MINI-COLLEGE APPLICATIONS BEING ACCEPTED-NSU has begun accepting applications from high ability students across the state for participation this summer in NSU's annual Mini-College program. The program for students in grades 5, 6 and 7 will be conducted in two sessions, June 4-15 and June 18-29. The program for grades 8 and 9 is scheduled for June 4-15. ## Milsap to appear tomorrow

The biggest country Wednesday night, March 28, when two-time Grammy Prather Coliseum. Natchitoches and at winner and Country Music Northwestern State Association entertainer of University becomes a reality the year Ronnie Milsap music show ever staged in 28, when two-time Grammy Prather Coliseum. The Ronnie Milsap Concert begins at 8 p.m., with the comedy team of Alex Houston and Elmer appearing as the opening act. The Northwestern Student Union Governing Board is sponsoring the country music show, for which general admission tickets are $5.

Ron Thomas, big name entertainment chairman for the SUGB at NSU, said the coliseum's box office and doors will open at 7 p.m. "Our advance ticket sales indicate another sellout audience for a Northwestern concert, so everyone is encouraged to arrive at the coliseum as early as possible," said Thomas.

This is another big year for Milsap. Thus far in 1979, he has been nominated for a Grammy as the best country vocal performer (male) and for "The Hat" award for the Academy of Country Music's album of the year.

Milap's most recent Grammy nomination for "Let's Take the Long Way Around the World" and his ACM nomination was for an album entitled "Almost Like A Song."

The concert appearance at Northwestern will be Milsap's first since performing March 11 in Seattle, Wash. During this interim period, he has been in his personal recording studio in Nashville completing work on an album, entitled "Images," which is to be released in April or May.

Also scheduled for release in April is Milsap's newest single, "Nobody Likes Sad Song." This follows a double-hit single release, "Back On My Mind" and "Santa Barbara," in which both sides of the record have been charted nationally.

Most country music fans will recall that "Only One Love In My Life," released last fall, was Milsap's last album.

Following his concert at Northwestern, Milsap closes his March tour schedule with a free concert March 31 in Cotton Bowl Stadium in Dallas Tex.

Then in April, the blind country music singer is off to Europe for performances in Gothenburg, Sweden; the Wembley Festival in England; Rotterdam, Holland Frankfurt, Germany. He is also scheduled for concerts that month in Corinth, Miss., and at Disneyworld in Orlando Fla.

Besides recording and performing in concerts this year, Milsap appeared on television in the NBC movie "Murder in Music City" and with the Harlem Globetrotters on ABC's "Wide World of Sports."

Milsap's 1978 career highlights included winning the CMA award for album of the year with "It Was Almost Like A Song" and having a gold album awarded to "Only One Love In My Life."

For Milsap, his achievements in country music began in 1974 when he won the Grammy award for best country vocal performance by a male, won Billboard magazine's award for best new male artist and was named the CMA male vocalist of the year.

In 1975, he won his first CMA album of the year award and was the recipient of the Music City news publication award for most promising male artist.

And then, in 1976, things really got hectic for Milsap.

He won a Grammy award for his country vocal performance by a male artist, the CMA's male vocalist of the year award, the Record World magazine's top male vocalist honor and from Billboard magazine won awards for artist of the year, overall singles artist of the year and the Bill Williams Memorial Award for artist of the year.

Milsap's honors in 1977 were entertainer of the year, male vocalist of the year and album of the year from the Country Music Association.

'Fiddler' rehearsals smooth as curtain time draws near

by Karen Sandifer

It may have been a bit difficult, but Jim Ford has learned his lines and once again, has grown his beard...for the second time.

The beard Ford started at the end of December, 1978 did not remain on his face for long. The purpose in growing it was to begin his "image" which he was to portray as Tevye in the NSU University Theatre 1978 spring production of FIDDLER ON THE ROOF. However, due to many conflicting problems in too short a period of time, the FIDDLER production had to be cancelled. When Ford was informed of the cancellation, he says that he just went home and shaved his beard.

One year later, Ford was once again, starting his beard. It is now in just the right shape for this year's University Theatre's spring production of FIDDLER ON THE ROOF.

FIDDLER will be presented in the NSU Fine Arts Auditorium April 4-6 and Ford will be finally portraying the character, Tevye, which University Theatre Director Ray Schexnider asked him to play one year ago.

Rehearsals are now fully underway for the production. The rehearsals are going very well, according to Ford, though he feels the show is a very difficult one to do. The main difficulty, he says is with the timing which is required between the actors and the orchestra; many lines are spoken in conjunction with the orchestra.

His part as Tevye is especially difficult for him for it is a very demanding role-both vocally, and for the acting as well. "The part required a wide range of emotions and the sheer volume of the part is taxing," Ford says.

Despite the few difficulties, Ford can otherwise relate very well to the character. Besides having seen the play a few times in Dallas, Ford feels he relates best to it because he like Tevye, is a mature individual and has children of his own.

Ford has his favorite and his least favorite scenes in the play. His favorite seems to be one of the more touching scenes. He says that it involves during and after one of Tevye's three daughters, Chava, marries a man who is not of the Jewish faith; this causes Tevye to deny her and she ceases to be his daughter. The ordeal makes him very sad and he finds it very hard to accept the fact that she has done such a thing. He finds it difficult to give her up but realizes that he must.

As for his least favorite scenes, Ford says with a chuckle, "There are two or three places in this play that I don't think I'll ever get."

Ford is currently president of E. C. Breedlove Construction Co. He is married and has two children although he has had very little time to be with them here lately; he works 8-5 p.m. daily and has rehearsals 6-9 nightly.

When asked what he foresees in the remaining two weeks of rehearsals, he responded with "a heck of a lot of work." When asked about anticipations of the play, Ford said "I hope will be in the character enough by opening night to not be anticipating anything else or have my mind occupied with anything else than my part." And finally, when asked about his beard after the final performance, Ford said, "I'm going home and shaving it off."

Jim Ford is, indeed prepared for the FIDDLER production; his lines are learned, his voice is ready and his beard is full and quite evident.

Cameras in courtrooms deserves a try-out

NATCHITOCHES-Ninth Judicial District Judge Guy Humphries of Alexandria said at Northwestern State University this week that he will soon ask the Louisiana Supreme Court for an extension of a trial period for allowing news media cameras in his courtroom during trial proceedings.

Appearing on a panel that discussed the merits of cameras in courtrooms, Humphries said the trial period which ended in late February was not as successful as he had hoped.

The State Supreme Court put the restriction on us that we had to have the consent of both the district attorney and the defendant before allowing cameras and broadcasting coverage," Humphries explained. "The district attorney cooperated in every case, but defendants and their attorneys would not."

Humphries, who is preparing a report to the Louisiana Supreme Court on the trial period, said the decision to have cameras in courtrooms during trials "should be left up to the trial judge. I will ask the Supreme Court to permit this."

The district judge added that, during the trial period he was able to allow the videotaping and airing of the closing arguments in one case while still cameras of the press and live radio broadcasting were allowed.

Rapides parish assistant district attorney Ed Roberts, whose office opposes the concept, stated during the panel discussion that he did not agree with the argument that such coverage would "educate the public on courtroom justice."

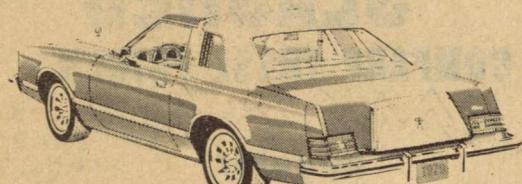

Both Roberts and Judge Humphries said the presence of cameras in the courtroom did not bother them.

Also appearing on the panel was Ed Borne, newsman for KALB-TV in Alexandria. He told the audience that "most attorneys and judges do not want cameras operating in their courtrooms during trials because they fear the unknown."

Judge Humphries, Borne and Alexandria Daily Town Talk photojournalist Leandro Heubner petitioned the State Supreme Court over a year ago for permission to use cameras in Humphries' courtroom.

Barrier does it all for tracksters

Coach Jerry Dyes calls him one of the best decathlon prospects to come along in several years.

Northwestern State University's John Barrier gave good evidence of those prospects last Tuesday afternoon when he put on a one-man show in a five-way meet hosted by La. Tech in Ruston, and again Friday here in a three-way meet with Stephen F. Austin and Delta State.

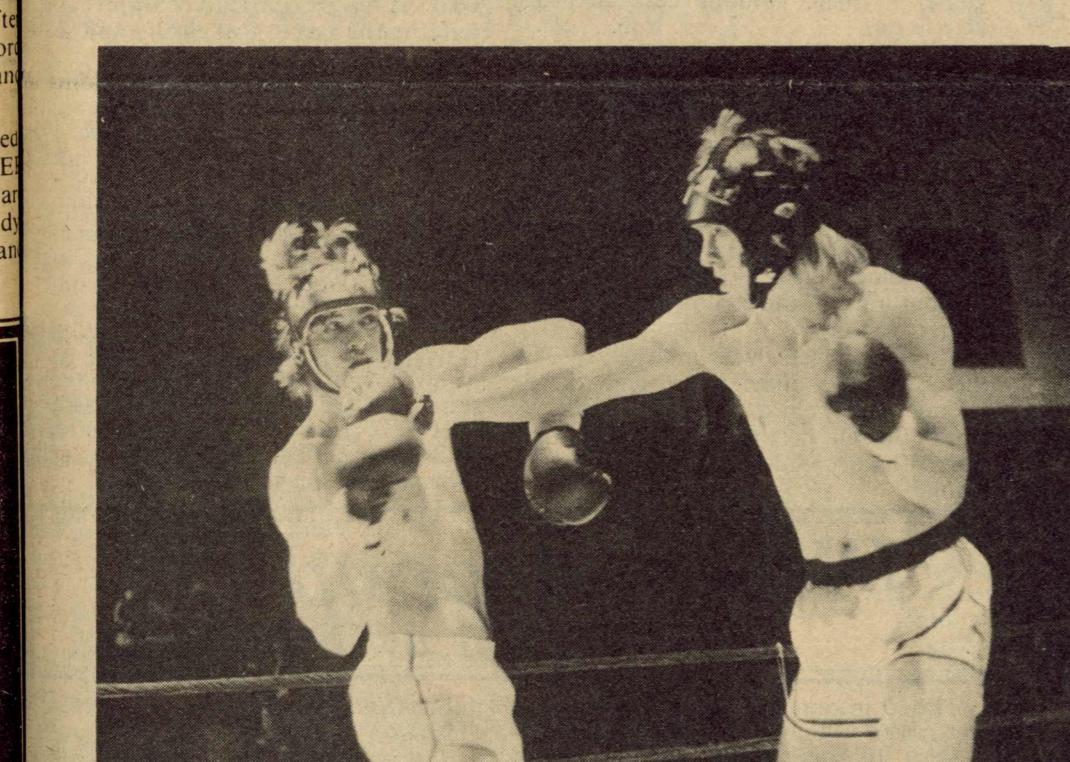

Barrier, a senior from Hull, Tex., set a new school record in the pole vault with a 16-8 effort and won three events during the competition in Ruston. He also won the javelin with a 215-4 throw and captured the high jump with a 6-foot-6 effort.

Friday, Barrier worked his magic act again, taking three more wins. He high jumped 6-foot-

Should there be a 24 or 30 second shot clock in college basketball?

A recent survey by the Sporting News showed that college cage fans are pretty much split down the middle on the question.

Exactly 50 percent of those surveyed wanted a shot clock, 42 percent want the game to stay the way it is and eight percent while opposed to slowdown tactics, aren't certain that a shot clock is the answer.

Much of the blame for the recent widespread use of the slowdown type of play has been targeted at University of North Carolina coach Dean Smith, who really introduced and perfected the four-corner, or slowdown style of play.

I personally think it is ludicrous to blame Dean Smith for ruining college basketball with his patented four-corner offense. Smith has just taken advantage of the very inappropriate rule,

I really don't think slowdown play has ruined college basketball, but I would like to see some sort of shot clock.

Many fans claim the arbitrary installation of a 30 or 40 second clock would be unfair to the team which must lay slowly and deliberately to offset a disadvantage in sheer physical equipment.

Vic Bubas, commissioner of the Sun Belt Conference, argues in favor of a shot clock, "We ask people to contribute toward the scholarship programs to buy tickets. Under those conditions I believe we owe them action." And everyone will agree, the best action you could hope to see would be scoring.

Arguments have arisen for both sides, those who want the shot clock saying that the purpose of basketball is putting the ball in the basket," while those who oppose the basket MORE OFTEN THAN THE OPPONENT, and that the four-corner offense is a legitimate way of doing just that.

One of the most discouraging instances to see in a basketball game is to witness one team allying from a big deficit and then have their efforts go in vain because the opponent stalled the remainder of the game away. Here is where a shot clock should come in play. I think it would be a good measure to employ a 30 or 40 second clock in the final five minutes on the game, this would add a lot more excitement to the game as well as added strategy.

College basketball is enjoying great popularity but the views and attitudes of some of its most loyal fans suggests that not all of those fans are entirely satisfied with the way the game is played.

Acuna grabs Big Gold singles crown

Ricardo Acuna had won just about everything there was to win in tennis in the South, but there was one goal that he had not reached coming into the 1979 season—the singles championship in the Big Gold Invitational Tournament.

Last weekend, he added that goal to the many others he has reached in his distinguished Northwestern State University tennis career as he captured the title in the No. 1 singles division in the prestigious Big Gold Tournament on the campus of the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

Acuna, a senior from Santiago, Chile, knocked off Mississippi State Eluerterio Martin 6-0, 6-2 in the No. 1 final to climax a string of five straight wins for Acuna during the tournament.

"Ricardo played super tennis in the finals," said NSU coach Johnnie Emmons, "and because of him and some good performances by our other players we came within an eyelash of winning the whole thing."

The Demons who were defending champions in the nationally-known meet, ended up tied for third with Kansas and Northeast Louisiana with 50 points. Wichita State had 56 points to take the team title, while Mississippi State finished second one point back.

"We were in a position to win it if we could have won just one more match anywhere," Emmons said, "but our players played very well and I'm very happy with our performance."

Acuna led a charge of three Demons in the singles finals. Freshman Alfredo Trullengue and Alejandro Linares reached the finals in Nos. 5 and 6 singles respectively, and Acuna and Trullengue reached the finals in No. 1 doubles.

Linksters fourth at ACU

JASPER, Tex.—Northwestern State University's golf team finished fourth in a five-team field in the annual Abilene Christian University Invitational Golf Tournament here Friday afternoon.

The first day of the two-day tournament was rained out, so only one 18-hole round was played by each team.

Northwestern turned in a 316 team score in the meet. Mary Hardin Taylor posted an even 300 score to take team honor, while Sam Houston State No. 2 team had a 303 and Sam Houston State No. 1 had a 305 score. Host Abilene Christian was fifth with a 320 score.

Freshman Doyle Anderson was the Demons' medalist with a 78, followed by David Goldstein and David Thompson with 79's. Derek Anderson had an 80 for NSU's other qualifying score, while Doug Sargent had an 83.

prep cagers Hickman signs pact

Shawn Hickman, one of the leaders in Pineville High School's march to the Sweet Sixteen Class AAA finals, has become Northwestern State University's second Lady Demon basketball signee of the 1979 season.

A total of 57 returnees and 14 walk-ons took part in the first spring practice day for the Demons, who will continue spring workouts through the remainder of March and April with three workouts per week.

"We are a long way from being in the type of shape we should be in physically," said Williams. "I'm disappointed in our conditioning, but it's still early in the spring and we'll be in better shape toward the end of our practice, I can promise that."

"Shawn will be a tremendous asset to our program," Nolen said.

"She is exceptionally quick and agile, and I feel she's one of the best big girls in the state."

Hickman averaged 21.0 points and 9.0 rebounds per game during her senior season for the Lady Rebels, who compiled a 23-9 overall record. She also hit on 53 percent of her field goal attempts.

A three-year starter for the Pineville squad of coach Jackie Laborde, Hickman was twice an All-District selection in District 3-AAA.

She had a career high game of 38 points against Jena in a league battle this year, even though missing five minutes with foul trouble.

"She's the quickest and most aggressive big girl in the state," Laborde said. "She would be a help to any college program."

Pineville finished as the runner-up to state champion Jena in District 3-AAA and also lost to the Lady giants in the state AAA finals in the Sweet Sixteen tournament. It was the first playoff appearance ever in the five-year history of the Pineville squad.

Shawn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hickman of Pineville.

Ladies split with LSU

Northwestern State University's Lady Demon softball team, paced by the fifth-pitching of Karen Briggs, knocked LSU's Lady Tigers out of the unbeaten ranks with a 4-3 victory in the second game of their twinbill here Saturday afternoon.

LSU had taken a 7-1 victory in the opener of the doubleheader, behind the two hit and nine-strikeout performance of Renee Shipp.

The Lady Demons now 6-3 with the split, picked up the winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning in the nightcap when Katrina Myers tripled and scored on a field roller by Tammy Curry to break a 3-3 deadlock. Briggs (2-0) set LSU down without a hit in the top of the seventh to secure the win.

The lady Tigers, who moved to 9-1 in the split, had taken a 3-1 lead in the second game on a two-run double by Myra Burrell in the third inning after Burrell had scored to make it 1-1 on the second.

However, the lady Demons picked up run off LSU starter Paula Edwards in the third on a single by Curry and tied the game in the fourth when Sandy Mitchell reached on an error, moved up on Gwalt Holt's single and scored on back-to-back walks to Myers and Curry. Shipp came to retire the side to make it 3-3 and set the stage for NSU's late heroics.

Shipp didn't have much trouble in the first game, as she had a perfect game through the five innings before NSU picked up an unearned run in the bottom of the seventh.

The Lady Demons will be traveling Denton, Tex. this Friday and Saturday to take part in the nation's most highly regarded and prestigious women's collegiate softball tournament when they join the field for the Texas Women's University Tournament. A total of 16 teams are entered in the meet from eight states, including such standout teams as UCLA, Texas A and M, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, and the host TWU squad.

Lady Demons sign two Brown first signee

Sharon Brown, a two-time All-State basketball star for Sibley High School, has become Northwestern State University's first Lady Demon basketball signee of the season.

The signing of the 5-foot-9 standout was made last week by NSU Lady Demon head coach Pat Nolen.

Brown, a four-year letterman and starter for the squad of coach Billy Gray, averaged 22.6 points and 16.0 rebounds during her senior season and scored a total of 994 points during the campaign, missing the 1,000 point mark by only six points.

She was the Most Valuable Player in District 3-B for the past two seasons and was also chosen to the Class B All-State team during her junior and senior campaigns. She was also a three-time All-District selection.

Brown, who will be on the West squad in the annual LHSAA All-star Game in Baton Rouge in August, averaged 25.2 points per game during her junior season and scored almost 3,000 points during her career at Sibley.

The Sibley squad compiled an outstanding 40-4 record during the 1978-79 season and captured the district 3-B championship before being eliminated by state runner-up Downsville in the regional playoffs.

Brown is the daughter of Mrs. Nadine Brown of Sibley.

"Fiddler" opens tomorrow night

by Karen Sandifer

Opening night for "Fiddler on the Roof" will be tomorrow at 7:30 in the NSU Fine Arts Auditorium. The production, the final spring production of University Theatre, is a joint effort of the NSU University Players, the NSU Music Department, and the Natchitoches-Northwestern Symphony Society.

According to Director of "Fiddler" Ray Schexnider, "Enthusiasm is high among cast members; everyone is excited about the production." Schexnider added that rehearsals are progressing very well and very steadily.

The cast started rehearsing with the Natchitoches-Northwestern Symphony Society orchestra on Monday, March 26. Schexnider said that rehearsals with the orchestra have been incredible. "Everything fell into place the first night with them (orchestra), and the momentum has continued in that same direction since that first night."

Schexnider feels that the orchestra is providing excellent support for the singers. He stated that the Natchitoches-Northwestern Symphony Society is a "real fine congregation under the able direction of J. Robert Smith."

According to Schexnider, "I feel that by the time we arrive at the first performance on Wednesday, the production will be on the professional level. I think the production will truly be one of the most prestigious and lavish productions jointly sponsored by University Players and the Natchitoches-Northwestern Symphony Society, and will probably be one of the finest musicals NSU has ever mounted."

"Fiddler" Choreographer Debbie Gray Minturn agrees with Schexnider about the rehearsals going well. Says Minturn, "All the choreography is done. We're at the point where people don't have to break any of the steps down anymore; we are at that stage in rehearsals where they can now add their own personality to the steps. I think that kind of freedom is what allows them to really take off with their performance."

Northwestern State University's new Recreation Complex opens its third season today, and it is equipped with four new tennis courts in addition to the Olympic size swimming pool that has been available for the past two seasons.

According to Bill Hochstetler, Director of the recreation complex, the facility provides a number of activities for NSU students, and it is his hope that the students will take advantage of the facility.

"We encourage everyone to come out and enjoy the complex," Hochstetler said, "because the facility is for the students and we hope that they will make strong efforts to take advantage of the facilities available."

The four plexi-paved tennis courts are the newest addition to the complex. Any of the tennis courts can be reserved from 1 to 9 p.m. daily, but a first come first serve basis will be in effect at all other times.

Full-time NSU students can, of course, use the courts with the presentation of their ID, but they may not infringe on anyone else's right to use the facility.

Reservations can be made by calling 352-6133. The courts are also open any time from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. free of charge on a first come basis. Hochstetler stated that the idea of reservations was employed in an effort to insure fair opportunity for everyone to take advantage of the courts.

The Complex, located on the Highway 1 Bypass across from the new trade school, features the 50 meter Olympic size pool, that has been extremely successful during the past two years. And if things turn out the way they are predicted to, this season should see more widespread use of the swimming facility.

Approximately 80 persons used the pool daily during its initial campaign and that figure doubled during the second season of swimming. The pool has set aside a "lap lane", which allows people who use the pool as a means of exercise the opportunity to do just that. The pool also has one and

Although the Jerome Robbins' adaptation of the choreography for "Fiddler" was anticipated to be used, Minturn said that it would be impossible. She said that the Robbins' adaptation was arranged for professional dancers.

"The concept of the Robbins' adaptation was marvelous. However, when you deal with community theatre, you must realize that you work with people who are not accustomed to professional dancing," Minturn explained.

Since the cast consists of community people with varied skills and personalities, the choreography had to be arranged around their needs. Thus, the choreography of "Fiddler" is more of Minturn's own steps and routines than it is of Robbins'.

"We are now at the point where we can sit back and look at it. I'm pleased with the rehearsals," Minturn said. "The frustrations are now eased a little, the steps are learned and it is now, primarily, polishing up the steps according to each individual's personality."

songs as "Tradition", "Matchmaker", "If I Were A Rich Man"; "Sunrise, Sunset", and "To Life."

Recreation Complex open today

three meter diving boards that provide fun for the experienced and inexperienced divers.

The pool is closed on Mondays and is open Tuesday through Fridays from 1 to 7 p.m., and on Saturday the pool opens at noon. Experienced lifeguards are always on hand to provide safety to everyone who uses the swimming facility.

Hochstetler said the key to the success on the pool has been the increasing attendance of the past season.

"We feel that more and more people will continue to use the facility because more and more are becoming aware of it. The attendance for daily usage for the pool should continue the rise, and this is the key to why the pool has been so successful," he stated.

Also in the future the complex will feature a nine-hole golf course, which is designed for beginning golfers as well as established ones. Construction on the course had begun, but was brought to a sudden halt when the primary contracting company folded. Negotiations are now being made with a new company, and construction should begin within a month.

"I am hoping that we will be able to have golf competition and play by the late fall season," Hochstetler said, "but it will just all revolve around how the construction goes."

Hochstetler, who worked extensively with the NSU intramural program last year, said that the main goal of the facility is "to provide activities for NSU students and also to enhance support of the University from the town." He also would like to maintain a pro-quality golf course, but thinks that this would probably take three to four years.

"We want to work closely with the Student Union Governing Board in providing activities for NSU students and organizations, and we also hope that our outstanding facility will help in recruiting, not only for athletes but for the top-notch students as well. We feel that in time we can provide the University with many different types of services in addition to the recreational aspects," he added.

Also in the plans are a "shuttle system" which would run April 17-20, and bring students to the Complex. This service would involve a bus meeting at the University's main parking lot next to Caddo dorm and transporting students to the facility. The bus would begin picking up at 1 p.m. and would cease taking students to and from the complex at 4 p.m.

Hochstetler also said that a majority of the jobs at the complex are currently being held by students, and that he sees an increase in the number of jobs available.

"We currently have 15 student workers, but with the addition of the new facilities, we will probably have 20 jobs available in the future," the facility's Director commented.

Hochstetler also said that much of the success and development can be attributed to the hard work by many people, particularly Bob Wilson, Director of Student Affairs, Loran Lindsey, Director of Facility Development, Fred Bosarge, Dean of Students, and Dr. Richard Galloway and Dr. Rene Bienvenu for their constant cooperation and leadership.

National News Briefs

CARTER VISITS STRICKEN NUCLEAR PLANT
On Sunday President Jimmy Carter visited the Three Mile Island nuclear reactor, site of a recent accident resulting in the leakage of unknown amounts of radiation. Top nuclear officials said Saturday night they still had "days" to cool the Three Mile Island reactor, but America's top nuclear expert said it might be "prudent" to evacuate people within the five miles of the plant if a hydrogen bubble preventing the cooling cannot be eliminated.

OPEC PRICE HIKE SPURS INCREASES-Economists say the latest nine percent OPEC oil price hike will add almost one-half of 1 percent to the nation's already overheated inflation rate. Gas and oil are expected to increase by 2 to 3 cents a gallon, possibly more in the Northeast. Domestic plane tickets will rise 5 percent. Vacations will cost more, but so will staying home because of higher gas and electric bills.

ZINC FOUND TO CAUSE INSULIN ALLERGIES-Two Duke University doctors say they have developed a type of insulin that's safe for diabetics who are allergic to most versions of the lifesaving hormone. Typical types of insulin contain zinc that causes white blood cells in some diabetics to multiply abnormally, leaving a red itchy sore where the insulin was injected.

State News Briefs

PAY HIKE APPEARS TO BE CHIEF ISSUE-A few weeks ago Gov. Edwards announced a record budget excess of $405 million. Just this week he revealed that another $40 to $100 million could come Louisiana's way if President Jimmy Carter deregulates oil prices. With part of the money, Edwards plans to give all 150,000 state and school employees a 10 percent raise, in defiance of the Presidents' 7 percent voluntary wage increase guidelines. School teachers have accepted the deal, but unionized state employees have rejected Edward's plan and are still seeking annual $1,800 across the board raises which would cost twice as much as the governor's offer.

POPE RECOGNIZES THREE AREA MEN-Pope John Paul II has conferred papal honors on F. Hugh Coughlin and Dr. Robert Freedman both of Alexandria, and Parrish Fuller of Oakdale for their contributions to the Catholic church and St. Frances Cabrini Hospital. The papal recognition of three residents from the same area is a "rarity" according to Bishop Lawrence Graves of the Diocese of Alexandria-Shreveport.

Cheerleader, dance line auditions this weekend

Auditions to select members of Northwestern State University's cheerleaders squad and Cane River Belles dance line will be conducted Saturday, April 7, on the NSU campus.

A squad of 10 full-time cheerleaders who will receive $500 scholarships will be chosen during the cheerleader tryouts that begin at 9 a.m. in the university's Health and Physical Education Majors building.

Additional information on cheerleader auditions may be obtained by calling the NSU Dean of Students at 318-357-5286, and information on the dance line auditions may be obtained from Mrs. Vicki Parrish, at 352-5866 or 257-5126.

Full-time NSU students can, of course, use the courts with the presentation of their ID, but they may not infringe on anyone else's right to use the facility.

Reservations can be made by calling 352-6133. The courts are also open any time from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. free of charge on a first come basis. Hochstetler stated that the idea of reservations was employed in an effort to insure fair opportunity for everyone to take advantage of the courts.

Milsap charms NSU audience

Once in every life someone comes along like whelmed at being accepted as a member." —Ronnie Milsap.

The country music entertainer may have left years before he hit it big. The years of work were Wednesday in the minds of all who saw the performance. Singing his way into the hearts of an estimated crowd of 4500-5-people, Milsap held the audience in the palm of his hand from the opening strains of "What a Difference You've Made in My Life," until the last autograph was signed in Prather Coliseum.

Using many special effects, Milsap continued his performance with impression of Elvis Presley, Fats Domino, Jerry Lee Lewis, and other favorites which left the crowd begging for more.

"I like playing to any audience that I can communicate with," Milsap stated in a post-concert interview in his backstage dressing room. "I can hear people talk to me from the front row."

"You can feel the love and closeness here," he continued, "that's what makes me travel around, the fun and the good times."

The fun and the good times didn't happen overnight for Milsap. "It wasn't like a lot of people thought. I had been trying to get to Nashville for about eight years." I grew up listening to Grand Old Opry...I was over-

Milsap worked at his work for about eight years before he hit it big. The years of work were like going to school for eight years and once it happened, I knew what to do." The great thing is the thousands of people I've gotten to meet."

His work demands a lot of traveling, which he does with his group on a bus. "It's like a family on the bus" like a modern day Huckleberry Finn." He usually spends most of the weekdays with his family, and does most of his performing on weekends. Does he ever get tired or want to go on vacation? "When you are doing what you love to do everyday is a vacation."

Milsap did have some advice for people who would like to be successful. the first thing, he said, is "to know yourself well enough to know what you want to do...to know it'll take a while to make it happen, to be ready to work hard. You have to have a dream, If you have a dream you can see yourself in five to ten years then you need to work to make it happen."

"Nothing happens overnight," he stressed.

Milsap will be leaving this month for an overseas tour in Europe. "we're going to play in Sweden, West Germany, and Holland. I'm really looking forward to it," he said smiling. His family will accompany him on the tour.

"I used to try to do everything and not put all my energy in one thing," Milsap continued. "But I think until you find yourself, you have to do that."

Ronnie Milsap, however, has found himself, and he has nowhere to go but up.

Kung Fu exhibitions tonight in KA Tourney

Johnny Lee of Shreveport will bring members of his White Leopard Kung Fu School to the Northwestern State University campus to highlight the fifth annual Kappa Alpha Boxing Tournament for Muscular Dystrophy.

The NSU social fraternity's amateur boxing tournament to benefit the National Muscular Dystrophy Association has scheduled championship bouts tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the university's Intramural Building (Old Men's Gym).

Lee's White Leopard Kung Fu School, which has staged exhibitions in the Chinese way of self-defense throughout the Ark-La-Tex, will be performing on the Tuesday night program.

General admission tickets for the boxing tournament, which has raised over $4,000 for the national MDA during its short run, including $2,200 last year, are $2.50.

The Hong Kong Chinese Martial Arts Association selected Johnny Kwong Ming Lee as its representative to the United States.

Now a resident of Shreveport, Lee states that his aim is to teach and promote true kung fu in the United States. From Hong Kong he brought with him extensive knowledge and training in both hard and soft forms of kung fu.

The 1975 winter issue of a world-wide karate magazine featured Lee in an article concerning the real meaning of kung fu.

AAU bouts featured

Four AAU bouts will be featured also tonight during the finals of the KA Boxing tournament.

The featured AAU bout in the 147-pound class will be Jerry Stevens, the 1979 Louisiana Golden Gloves Senior Champion, going against Robbin Anderson, a veteran of many fights in the Ark-La-Tex.

In the 165-pound class, the contenders will be Randy Smith, the 1977 Northwest Regional Golden Gloves Champion, and Bo McKneely, the 1978 Southwest Texas AAU Invitational champion and 1979 Northwest Louisiana Golden Gloves champion.

and My Jong Law Horn. In the article, Lee speaks of his other expertise, Pa-Kua. He gives the public a view at its history and its driving concepts. Pa-Kua, in its powerful softness, is said not only to rely on internal force but also to increase it.

Fighting in the 185-pound class will be 1978 Louisiana Junior Olympics AAU champion Shane Stegall and Glenn Brown, the Northwestern Louisiana Golden Gloves Regional champion.

Also scheduled is a heavyweight bout between Walter Dement, the former Louisiana Golden Gloves, Southern AAU and U.S. Air Force champion, and Robert Lavarry, the 1978 Louisiana Golden Gloves champion.

The AAU bouts featured in this year's tournament at Northwestern are last-minute substitutes for the earlier-announced bouts between boxers from the Mississippi State Penitentiary and the Orleans Parish Prison in New Orleans.

Demon tracksters second in NLU Invitational

MONROE-Northwestern State University put on a charge in the final three events and narrowly missed pulling off a huge upset in the Northeast Louisiana Invitational Track and Field meet Saturday.

The Demons won the final running event, the 1600-meter relay, and then took the final two field events that were in progress, the pole vault, and the triple jump, and came within an eye of overtaking highly-regarded Nebraska for the team title.

Nebraska won the event with 71 points, closely followed by the 69 point total compiled by the Demons during the five-team meet. Northeast finished third with 65 points, while McNeese State had 46 and Southwest Missouri 18.

John Barrier did his thing again in the pole vault, securing one of only two meet records set during the day when he soared to a 16-8 effort in the event. That broke the old meet mark of 16-6 set by Tim Johnson of Southern Illinois in 1977 and missed Barrier's personal best by only one-half inch.

The Demons squad will see its next action this Wednesday as they take part in the annual McNeese State All-Comers meet in Lake Charles.

Stipends available to Social Workers

Northwestern's newly accredited Social Work program has available stipends equivalent to $1500.00 for the 1979-80 school term, according to Claudia Triche, director of field work program and assistant professor of social work.

"The focus of these stipends is training human service personnel. A commitment to work for the state is included with the stipend," explained Mrs. Triche, who added that the commitment to the state lasts for as long as a student receives the stipend.

Any student enrolled in the social work program and having 60 hours credit by the end of the summer semester is eligible to apply for the stipends, which will be given by the Louisiana Dept. of Health and Human Resources Title XX and Title IVX Programs.

The Northwestern Social work program was recently awarded National Accreditation from the Council of Social Work Education. It is one of four state programs which has received such recognition.

The accreditation comes after several years of working towards that goal, and entitles students in the program to membership in the National Association of Social Workers, professional liability insurance, professional journals, and other such professional benefits.

In selected progressive graduate schools a student can be awarded one year's advance standing toward the master degree. This also means that the Northwestern's program is tops in the field. "Our faculty has worked diligently in developing the program but we wouldn't have received accreditation without the outstanding support of the administration," stated Mrs. Triche.

Faculty members who have been instrumental in accreditation of the program include Department Head Millard Bienvenu, Co-ordinator of Social work program and Assistant professor Malcolm Braudaway, and Mrs. Triche.

Students wishing to apply for the available stipends may pick up forms in the social work office.

Fifteen girls were selected as members of the Cane River Belles, NSU's dance line, after tryouts Saturday.

According to Vicki Parrish, director of the dance line, "This new squad is smaller than last fall's, but we expect these girls to be better in ability." There are 24 girls on last fall's line.

The girls selected are Paula Webb, Pam Stevens, Susie McShane, Lisa Dixon, and Donna McHaffey, all returning members from last fall's dance line.

New members selected include Annette Nelson, Juli Fleming, Beth McRae, Kim Brown, Carol Cobb,

The Cane River Belles, who receive a $100 scholarship for the fall semester and a uniform expenses allowance, will begin exercising and practicing routines a week before the beginning of the fall semester.

Editorial Endings, Beginnings

I was very proud recently to open the Shreveport Times and read the following article under the daily column, "To Tell the Times":

"Last Wednesday night my family and I were fortunate to be able to attend the Ronnie Milsap concert at Northwestern in Natchitoches. Although I had never been on their campus before, the impression made by the NSU students on me and my family will last a long time. After the concert we were involved in a minor auto accident. While waiting for the university police to arrive to investigate, between 75 and 100 students stopped by to aid and comfort to my family. I just want to say thanks, NSU, and go Demons."

I am to graduate from Northwestern in a few short weeks. While at Northwestern, there have been a lot of changes take place at the university. There have been a lot of good times; and a lot of bad. Many times it would have been easy to transfer to another school because of disappointments with the school, but now in looking back over the past four years, I find it very easy to say, for me, it has been worth it all.

While Northwestern does still have its negatives, I think it is time that we as students begin to honestly look at its positive aspects. First of all, the students at this school are among the finest to be found. Sure we have apathy, and at that point we look at other state universities and look at what may seem to be a more idealistic situation. But the other schools have their problems, too. I recently read with great interest an editorial in the Tech Talk about Louisiana Tech's apathetic students. Northwest, LSU, USL—all the other schools are also victims of this problem. But at Northwestern, I believe we have something that these other schools don't have—a sense of unity, and a sense of friendship. In my opinion this is worth more than anything that any of the other institutions may have to 'balance' out the differences. The students here don't have the opinion that they are better than everyone else as seems to be the case elsewhere, and we can work together as well—if not better—than any other

Northwestern also has some of the finest faculty and administration that can be provided in the United States. Teachers and leaders here genuinely care about our personal problems, as well as academic problems, and in talking to students from other schools, these teachers are rare. Many of these students tell me that the teachers would just as soon flunk you as to look at you.

Finally, we have a common bond of hope that keeps our efforts alive. Looking ahead we can see that Northwestern is just on the brink of having anything and everything within its reach. With the enthusiasm of the new administration and a strong freshman class, the future of the University looks bright with promise, and prospects for another outstanding group of freshmen seem very optimistic.

The student body is currently undergoing its yearly metamorphosis of student leaders. Many of them are young, but all are enthusiastic. They can only remain so with the help of the entire student body. The leaders that have been chosen are all very excellent and capable individuals, with a lot of fresh, young ideas. It is this image that Northwestern is in dire need of. Old issues have been solved and the only place to go is into new areas. They are still, however, on the ground floor of the "New Northwestern," and it will take a lot of work to continue building the solid foundation that is so desperately needed to continue rebuilding OUR university. I have the confidence in them that it can be done.

I am very proud to have had a very tiny part in Northwestern these past few years. They have been very special years, and in them there have been many people who have touched and affected my life. I intend to keep up with the University in the future and I know that everything I hear will be positive. I encourage all Seniors to do the same, for in leaving Northwestern, we must all continue our support of the university in rebuilding another important facet of it—the Alumni.

In every ending, there is a beginning.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR WEEKLY SPECIAL

Waste Makes Army Taxpayers' Enemy

WASHINGTON — People across the country have been helping us keep a watch on government waste. Following their tips, our staff has come up with these latest installments:

• The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration spent $120,000 to design a safer motorcycle. There was only one problem: The added safety features made the motorcycle almost impossible to operate.

• The Army recently developed an adapter for the M-16 rifle so it would use less expensive ammunition. A contractor produced 10,000 conversion kits at a cost of $650,000.

The kits, which were supposed to save 10 cents per bullet, were distributed to training camps throughout the Army. They've been in storage ever since. It seems the Army neglected to test the mechanisms and 40 percent of them apparently don't work. Now the brass hats have ordered 55,000 new kits.

• When the Army's equipment breaks down, the manpower it takes to fix the broken parts often costs more than the parts themselves. Research at two Army depots uncovered more than $18 million in unnecessary labor costs in one year alone.

• Slippery fingers also cost the government hundreds of thousands of dollars. According to one internal survey, 48,000 pieces of government glassware are broken each year. These cost the taxpayers $127,000. Another $100,000 worth of glassware simply vanishes each year.

• The General Services Administration recently spent $110,000 to build a small, prefabricated building on the Canadian-American border near Jackman, Maine. Inside the building is a hydraulic lift, which was designed to enable customs officials to search the undersides of suspicious cars. But today, two years after the building was put up, it still has never been used. One veteran customs officer told us they didn't need the building before it was built, and they don't need it now.

• Among the agencies that the taxpayers subsidize is an 11-member outfit called the Copyright Royalty Tribunal. We checked its budget. Among other items, the taxpayers pay a private firm $2,000 to water plants at the tribunal.

• Anyone who is aware of government extravagance can write to Jack Anderson's Watch on Waste, Box 2300, Washington, D.C. 20013.

• Mob Connection: The profits from pornographic movies, pictures and books are estimated at an incredible $4 billion a year. One film alone, "Deep Throat," has grossed $50 million; it cost only $25,000 to make.

This kind of easy money has attracted the mob. Confidential police files that we have reviewed reveal that the pornography trade is controlled largely by organized crime. Phony names and dummy corporations are used. But behind them, according to police sources, are the crime bosses.

In the New York area, for example, two Mafia families control the pornography market. Police sources identified one as the Colombo family, the other as the DeCavalcante family. One member of the DeCavalcante family, a racketeer known as Robert Dibernardo, distributes most of the X-rated material in New York City.

Pornographic cassettes, to cite just one item, are selling like hot cakes. They are now bringing in so much money that rival mobsters are battling over the business. This could lead to a new outbreak of gangland violence.

• Arty Airports: Commercial airline pilots have complained to us that the federal government is neglecting airport safety while squandering money on beautification projects.

Just a few months ago, for example, some $200,000 of the public's money was spent to purchase art objects and sculpture for the international airport in Atlanta, Ga. The funds were provided by the Transportation Department's Airport Development Aid Program.

According to Transportation Secretary Brock Adams, the goal of the program is to provide a safe and efficient environment for aircraft operations. But the pilots claim that the money is being wasted on decorations while airports all over the country, including the Atlanta facility, are in need of a variety of safety measures.

Pentagon Pipeline: Brass hats at the Little Rock, Ark., Air Force base have a problem. They can't seem to keep bartenders at the officers' and enlisted men's clubs. The resourceful airmen have come up with a solution: They are sending enlisted men to bartender school. One-third of the tuition is being picked up by — who else? — the taxpayers.

• Someone at the Pentagon missed the briefing that announced the arrival of spring. Our reporter Frank Washington discovered that the thermostat one office in the mammoth building was set between 80 and 90 degrees. Some workers complained about the heat and an enterprising bureaucrat came up with the answer. He ordered some fans to blow the hot air around.

ROTC attends training exercises

The Northwestern ROTC Corps of Cadets attended a Field Training Exercise (FTX) at Fort Polk on March 22-25. The purpose of the exercise was to assist MSII cadets in their preparation for Advanced ROTC Camp this summer at Fort Riley, Kansas. During their three days of training, the cadets participated in land navigation, patrolling, troop leading procedures and tactics.

Approximately 250 cadets from schools throughout Louisiana were on hand for the training. Louisiana State University, Tulane, Loyola, Dillard, Xavier, Southern, University of New Orleans, Nicholls State, Southeastern Louisiana, Northeast Louisiana, Northwestern State and McNeese State Universities were all represented.

"Our cadets performed far above average during the exercise," said Major Robert Triplett, Assistant PMS. "They had the chance to improve on basic skills but just as importantly, they had the opportunity to work with different cadets and cadre.

The experience gained will certainly give our cadets additional confidence for the Advance Camp this summer."

Also attending were Mable Cockerham, Wayne Erwin, Donald Jackson, Debra Martin, Roger Rister, David Walker, John Young, Arthur Crowder, James Gibson, Kenneth Cox, Robert May, John Shoptaugh, and Walter Walker.

Cadre members were Maj. Robert L. Triplett, Capt. Robert Bray, Sgt. First Cl. William W. Burkett, Sgt. First Cl. Kenneth W. Short, and Sgt. First Dc. Hoberty E. Turner.

Credit cards and college students: 'Get 'Em While They're Young'

By Patrice Steadmon

Students are paying more attention to establishing credit, and credit card distributors are paying more attention to them.

Melanie Stockdell, director of the Consumer Relations Board at Kansas State University, says that many students seek advice on credit. And Evelyn Fox of Oklahoma State University's Consumer Action Council says her group is preparing a student guide to establishing credit.

Naturally, most companies in the multi-billion dollar industry have noticed this trend. Spokesmen for major firms say there are sound investment reasons for designing credit programs for the college market that ignore youthful finance drawbacks such as no property, no income and no credit history.

"We like the Jesuit concept of 'get 'em while they're young' because the college student of today is the consumer of tomorrow," says Kenneth V. Larkin, senior vice-president of the Bank of America, the country's largest commercial bank.

John Lockwood, director of the International Consumer Credit Association, adds: "Students are more charge card oriented nowadays. They are brought up needing charge cards." The St. Louis-based ICCA is a trade association for credit card companies.

Industry statistics show the entire country is becoming more "credit card oriented." The Nilson Report, a trade newsletter, reports that if every plastic credit card holder was to spend up to his credit limit on each card, the total debt would be over $260 billion. By 1985, figure is expected to reach $500 billion.

But even with this growth, hassles still exist for college credit applicants.

"The problem for students has been being educated enough to know how to go about establishing credit—knowing where to go," says KSU's Stockdell.

Mary Alice Minney, director of education for ICCA, suggests to students that, "The last thing you should go after is a major credit card, because that is the last thing you're going to get."

She suggests starting "small": opening an account at a local department store, returning mailed applications of established companies, and joining a credit union at work.

Taking out a small loan even when it is not necessary and paying it back promptly is also a good start for a credit rating, Minney says.

If an Oklahoma State student is denied credit, Fox suggests he go back and find out why. "The first thing that I emphasize to people is the Fair Credit Reporting Act, passed in 1971. You have to be told the reason why you were turned down for credit—if it's legitimate, that information could help in the future."

It may take some planning and persistence to start getting credit, but some companies are eager to help out. One reason is that a college student is expected to work in a higher salary bracket after graduation and receive pay increases at a faster rate than people without a college education, says Bob Arietta, of Atlantic Richfield Oil Co.

And sometimes, "students exhibit an above-average loyalty to a company if they get their credit card into the student's hands early," says Irwin Penner, chairman of Gracious Lady Services. GLS is the parent company for College Credit Card Corp., which promotes its clients' credit cards on many college campuses.

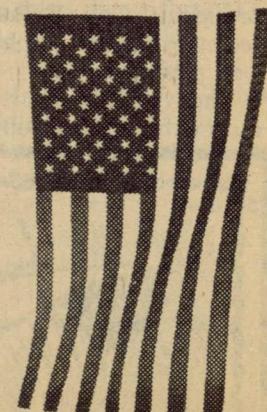

"Students feel that the company who first extended credit gave them a chance when they really didn't have the credit background to go anywhere else."

KA Tourney tremendous success

by Doug Ireland
Current Sauce Sports Editor

Two bruising championship bouts highlighted the fifth annual Kappa Alpha Boxing Tournament for Muscular Dystrophy, held last Monday and Tuesday in the Northwestern Intramural Building.

Paul Ray Stephenson boxed his way to a split decision over Hayes Worley in the featherweight title match, and Tim Scott rallied to upset defending heavyweight champ Kenny Cox in the final championship bout. A record crowd of over 1,000 saw those two fights, along with finals in five other weight classes, four exhibition bouts between AAU boxers, and a fascinating exhibition by the Johnny Lee White Leopard Kung Fu school of Shreveport.

Curtis Shelton (192) of Shreveport goes to the head of Bill Bankston (195) of Baton Rouge in their light heavyweight bout during the fifth annual KA boxing Tourney. Shelton took a unanimous decision in the championship bout held in the NSU Intramural Building. (photo by Major Lytton.)

Tournament officials are calling this year's event the most successful yet. Estimates are that a check for some $3,000 could be presented to the national Muscular Dystrophy Association by Kappa Alpha fraternity after all bills are paid.

There were 10 elimination bouts Monday night, and only one fight of 17 in the tournament failed to go the three-round distance.

"There's little question that these guys didn't come here to slug away this year, and the fact that all but one of the bouts went the distance is proof that they are beginning to train hard for the tourney," said Kevin Chatelain, past-president of Kappa Alpha and director of the tournament.

Featherweight fight

The first fight on the Tuesday night card set the tone for the evening, as Stephenson and Worley staged a battle that drew a standing ovation from the crowd as soon as the third one-minute round had ended.

"Both of those kids went into the ring throwing heart and soul into every punch," exclaimed Chatelain, who should know a good fight when he sees one. He's been involved in all but the first tournament in 1975. "It was one of the most exciting college bouts we've ever seen. It was certainly a tremendous way to start the evening."

Stephenson, a 139-pounder from Shreveport, knocked Worley down and drew blood from his nose early in the second round with a left hook, but Worley a 135-pounder from Shreveport, bounced back to rock Stephenson with a hard right hand. Worley then took a standing eight-count after another Stephenson left, but roared back to floor Stephenson late in the second.

Stephenson sent Worley to the canvas early in the third round, though, and a hard right later in the final round hurt Worley again. The three judges scored it 177-173 for Stephenson.

Brooks wins

Brooks (175, Shreveport) fighting for Phi Beta Sigma, won a split decision over Buddy Jackson in the light middleweight class. Both fighters were cautious throughout, but Brooks' quick combinations made the difference as the judges scored the bout 177-173 for Brooks.

The middleweight championship went to Procell (178, Shreveport) who took a hard-fought unanimous decision over Steve Tatum (180, Alexandria). Tatum took a standing eight-count after a big left hook and a combination by Procell staggered him in the third round.

The light heavyweight crown was claimed by Shelton (192, Shreveport), representing Tau Kappa Epsilon. Bill Bankston (195, Mer Rouge), fighting for Kappa Alpha, hurt Shelton early in the second round with a right hook, but the winner rallied late in the round and regained control.

The final round was a wild exchange of punches, as both fighters tired and the match turned into a crowd-pleasing blow-for-blow brawl. Shelton won the fight by a unanimous decision.

Cox upset

The final championship bout of the night equaled the Stephenson-Worley fight in excitement.

Cox, the defending champion representing Kappa Alpha Psi, dominated the first round with a relentless attack that hurt Scott and caused an eight-count. But as Cox admitted later, the first round was his downfall.

"It was a good fight, but I was just too tired at the end," said the 207-pounder from Coushatta. Cox was noticeably slower in the final two rounds, and some vicious body shots from Scott didn't help any.

Scott, like most onlookers, was surprised at his split decision victory. "I thought after the first round he'd get me in the second, and after the second he'd get me in the third," said the Theta Chi boxer.

"I never felt confident until I heard the bell at the end," said the 211-pounder from Mer Rouge reflected. "I thought I had it won then."

After winning the second round with several body punches, Scott floored Cox in the third after a wild exchange in which Scott lost his mouthpiece. "I really didn't know that I'd knocked him down until somebody told me after the fight," said the champion.

Third key

The third round was the key for Scott. Both judges who awarded him the fight had the bout dead even after the first two rounds, but the final surge gave Scott a 174-173 margin as the judges scored it.

Football Festival slated

Several players, coaches and club officials of the New Orleans Saint will be special guests when Northwestern State University holds its first Spring Football Festival Weekend April 27-28.

The Saints will join with the NSU football squad and coaching staff for a full slate of activities, including the Demons' annual Spring Football Game and a golf tournament sponsored by the NSU Demon Booster Club.

"We are extremely happy to have the New Orleans Saints personnel taking part in all of our activities," said NSU head football coach A. L. Williams, "and football fans in our area will have ample opportunity to meet and talk with the Saints during the weekend."

The highlight of the weekend of activities is the annual spring game, which is scheduled for 5:15 p.m. in Turpin Stadium on the campus. The scrimmage contest will bring the Demons' spring practice to a close and will be open to the public at no charge.

The NSU student body will be taking part in a Demon Rally beginning at 4 p.m. prior to the contest. The NSU Entertainers will be providing musical entertainment, and several contests will be staged before a picnic dinner is served in the stadium.

Following the game, the Booster Club and the Saints will sponsor a crawfish dinner in the VIP Area of Turpin Stadium. Tickets are available to Booster Club members and the general public for $5 each and may be purchased from the NSU Athletic Department.

An informal tour of the new Field House will follow the meal, and the Natchitoches Parish Chamber of Commerce will also be sponsoring a professional wrestling card at 8 p.m. in Prather Coliseum.

The golf tournament will highlight Saturday's activities, which begin at 10 a.m. with a reception at the Natchitoches Country Club clubhouse for the Saints personnel, NSU coaches and golf tournament participants. At 11 a.m., an autograph session will be held for youngsters at the clubhouse with the general public invited.

A meat pie dinner will be served at noon, and the 18-hole tournament will begin at 1 p.m. Awards ceremonies for the tournament at approximately 5 p.m. close out the activities.

The entry fee for the golf tournament is $50, which includes tickets to the crawfish dinner, the morning reception, the meat pie dinner and several Saints souvenirs. Local golfers will be paired with members of the Saints party during the tournament.

Further information about the Spring Football Festival Weekend may be obtained by calling the NSU Athletic Department at (318) 357-5891.

Lady Demons drop three

Northwestern's Lady Demons had a rough time of it last week as they dropped games to McNeese, LSU, and UNO. Errors continued to plague the Lady Softballers as they committed 13 miscues in the three contests.

McNeese took the measure of the Lady Demons with a 4-3 win with the help of a two-run homer by Kim Trahan and the pitching of Trish Robinson. NSU took a early lead in the first inning when Katrina Myers and Tammy Curry walked and Nannette Hawthorne singled to produce a run. McNeese, however, scored two in the bottom of the inning to take the lead.

The Lady Demons added a run in the third frame on an error and singles by Kathy Binning and Helen Dennis and a bases loaded walk by Sandy Mitchell that forced service to force the nine-point tie-breaker.

NSU won the first point of the tie-breaker, but Tech came back to take four of the next five points for a 4-2 lead and held service to take the win.

The Lady Demons were then the victims of a one-hitter thrown by LSU's Renee Shipp and a nine-run first inning by the Lady Tigers in a 14-2 loss. The Lady Demons scored their only two runs in the ninth on four walks that scored Myers and Martin. Karen Briggs started for NSU, but was relieved by Binning in the second inning.

The Lady Demons then dropped a 5-3 decision to the University of New Orleans in a game that saw the Lady Demons outhit UNO 9 to 4. But five errors led to the UNO win.

UNO used to hits, one of them a three-run homer by Ginger Buras, and two NSU errors to score four runs in the fifth inning to secure the win.

Lynn Martin homered for the Lady

Demons in the fourth inning for the first NSU run. Briggs and Martin then slugged back to back doubles producing two runs in the bottom of the seventh, but it was not enough as UNO hung on to win.

The three losses dropped the Lady Demon record to 6-10 going into a contest with LSU-A today in Alexandria.

By Buddy Wood

It's not very often that you see a college athlete make his presence known in more than one sport, let alone three sports. And it is especially rare to find one who EXCELS in more than one sport.

Mike Fyler does both. He not only has lettered in basketball, baseball, and track, but he has been a vital member of each of these respective sports here at NSU. Not only is he one of the most versatile athletes to ever wear the Demon Purple, but he is also one of the most admired and respected persons on campus.

Fyler, a native of Scott City, Kan., came to NSU prior to the '77 season and he hasn't slowed down since. He has been a key member of the Demon basketball squad the past two seasons, and currently is one of the top five hitters on the baseball teams with a .300-plus average. And to top it all off, he even high jumps for the track team on occasion. In one word, Mike could be described as "versatile", which is putting it lightly.

Still, that's not all the 6'4" senior has accomplished. He was an All-State split end in high school, and if that doesn't prove versatility, nothing does.

The most notable accomplishment is his clearing an even seven feet in the high jump, something not many people in amateur track and field can claim. His great jumping ability was the reason he was once urged to concentrate exclusively on high jumping, but Fyler chose differently.

"I felt like I would be cheating myself had I not used my ability to compete in all three sports," Fyler commented. "Not only that, but I enjoy competing in all three, and I'm certainly glad I chose to compete this way."

It goes without saying, but there are plenty of people who are glad Mike chose

Fyler is one of the nicest young men be found anywhere around, and he proves his character by his actions on and off the athletic court.

"I feel that sportsmanship is one of the most important things you should exhibit when competing. If you can't be a gentleman when in action, that really spoils the fun and enjoyment," he stated.

Fyler is diligently involved with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and may he will be a part of "Bold Through Basketball", a group that travel to the Dominican Republic ministering.

"My involvement with FCA has made a great deal to me because you get to know so many people and you can always someone to turn to in a time of need," Fyler reflected.

Mike is majoring in Business Administration and is currently carrying a 3.5 overall grade point average, and noteworthy achievement.

graduating, he hopes to settle down with his wife and hopefully get involved in handling of financial matters professional sports. It is almost inevitable that he will be a success at no matter what he endeavors in the employment field.

Fyler, along with Jerry Lewis of Jefferson Parish, participated in the annual Senior All-American game in Thibodaux yesterday. The game featured the best graduating players from colleges and universities throughout the state. He saw it as an honor to be a part of the game with so many great players.

Lucky for NSU and the people around it, Mike Fyler was able to pass our test. And in passing through, he let his presence be known in a way that will be remembered for quite some time!

Auditions set for May 4-5

Entertainers

The Northwestern State University Entertainers will conduct auditions May 4-5 to select the performers who will tour with the popular musical group during the 1979-80 academic year.

The NSU Entertainers, who have been replicating the music of the recording industry's biggest stars since 1974, have become one of the most popular collegiate musical groups performing in the south.

The musical group from Northwestern presents more than 60 concerts a year. The NSU musicians have performed high schools throughout the Ark-La-Tex, state conventions and a variety of athletic and social functions at Northwestern.

The NSU Entertainers have become regular entertainment attractions at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport and at the Natchitoches Christmas Festival. They have also performed on national television, have been the subject of three television specials and have given a mini-concert for an opening session of the Louisiana Legislature.

Directed by Dr. William A. Hunt, the NSU Entertainers are presently being considered for at least two days of performances at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas and for a United Service Organizations (USO) tour that will be conducted for six weeks in Europe.

Positions which are available for the sixth season of the NSU Entertainers on tour include keyboards (electric piano and string ensemble), lead guitar, bass guitar, drums, horns (trumpets, alto saxophone and trombone) and vocalists (lead and back-up).

Northwestern will award 12 scholarships valued at $600 per year for those students selected to be members of the NSU Entertainers.

From the May 4-5 auditions, only 24 students will be invited back to the NSU campus to attend the NSU Entertainers' rehearsal camp that begins Aug. 13. Scholarship winners will be announced following the group's first concert on Aug. 19.

Additional information concerning the NSU Entertainers; auditions may be obtained by contacting Dr. William A. Hunt in the Department of Music at Northwestern. Applicants may telephone Dr. Hunt at 318-357-4522.

FCA honors three from NSU

Two Northwestern State University students, one NSU coach and two adult leaders from the city of Natchitoches have been honored as recipients of awards from the North Louisiana chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

NSU students Major Lytton and Robert Brown, Lady Demon head basketball coach and coordinator of women's athletics Pat Nolen, Natchitoches-Central High School North Campus principal Dan Poole and First Baptist Church pastor Dr. Larry Fields were honored with awards by the FCA group, according to North Louisiana area director Lynn Mitchell.

Mitchell said that Lytton, a senior from Buras, and Brown, a senior from Natchez, Miss., were honored as co-winners of the FCA Collegiate Athlete of the Year award selected by an awards committee.

Nolen was selected as the Outstanding Women's Collegiate Coach, Poole was a co-winner of the Outstanding High School Coach award and Fields was honored as Outstanding Area Pastor for his work with the organization.

"These awards are presented for more than athletic ability or outstanding coaching leadership," Mitchell said. "All, of course, are outstanding in their fields, but these awards are given also for their involvement in the growth of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the leadership roles they have taken in the organization."

The awards were presented at the annual FCA Recognition Banquet on Monday, April 16, at the Shreveport Convention Center. Shreveport's Terry Bradshaw, an active participant in FCA activities, was the guest speaker for the affair.

Moore, Francis first signees

Gary David Moore, an All-State selection for performer and an All-Pickering High School for the last two seasons, has become Northwestern State University's first basketball signee of the season.

The announcement of the signing of the 6-foot-7, 200-pounder was made last week by NSU coach Tynes Hildebrand.

"We feel that Gary has the potential to be an outstanding college player," Hildebrand said. "He has a great deal of natural ability, and we feel he should continue to improve over the next couple of years."

Moore, who starred for coach Robert Craft's Pickering High squad for three years, was a two-time All-District 9-B pick at center and was the Most Valuable Player in the league during his senior year. In addition, he led his team in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage during the season.

Moore's best game of his career also came during his senior campaign, when he gunned in 42 points against Fenton. The three-year letterman helped lead Pickering to three straight District 9-B titles and to a regional crown this season before being eliminated in the quarterfinals.

Moore, who is also a letterman in track and field for Pickering, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moore of Leesville and will major in advertising design.

Harry Francis, one of the keys to the success of the basketball squad at St. Martinville High School for the past three years, has become Northwestern State University's second basketball recruit of the 1979 season.

Francis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Francis of St. Martinville, is also a member of Who's Who Among American High School Students and the National Honor Society. He plans to major in computer science.

Willis latest Lady Demon signee

Tracy Willis, a four-year All-District performer for East Beauregard High School, has become Northwestern State University's fourth Lady Demon basketball signee of the season.

The announcement of the signing of the 5-foot-8 standout was made this week by Lady Demon head coach and coordinator of women's athletics Pat Nolen. Recently NSU had signed Sharon Brown of Sibley, Shawn Hickman of Pineville and Stephanie Washington of Montgomery to Lady Demon contracts.

"Tracy will fit into our program very well," said Nolen. "She is a very disciplined player and can play either guard or forward, and I'm sure she'll be able to help us out."

Willis averaged over 14 points per game for the Trojans of coach Herman Ray Hill, who also coached Nolen during her high school career at Pitkin. Willis also averaged 9.8 rebounds, 5.1 assists and hit 54 percent from the floor and 73 percent from the free throw line during her senior year.

"I think Tracy will make a fine collegiate player," Hill said. "She has a great deal of talent and she's a very coachable player."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry C. Willis of DeRidder.

As a team, St. Martinville won its district title this season and advanced to the state quarterfinals before being eliminated. In Francis' junior season, St. Martinville advanced all the way to the finals of the Top Twenty Tournament before losing.

The announcement of the signing of the 6-foot-3, 185-pounder was made this week by NSU head basketball coach Tynes Hildebrand. Previously, the Demons had made Pickering's Garry Moore their first recruit of the year.

"Harry is a high-quality basketball player and a high-quality person," said Hildebrand. "He has a great deal of talent, and he should be a great asset to our program."

Francis was an All-State selection this past season after averaging 20.9 points and 8.5 rebounds per game along with handing out 6.4 assists per contest. He served as team captain in his third year to start and letter.

Francis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Francis of St. Martinville, is also a member of Who's Who Among American High School Students and the National Honor Society. He plans to major in computer science.

Marie-Jeanne Huyben became the first Lady Demon Tennis player to ever reach the finals of the LAIAW State Tennis Tournament. Huyben, the No. 5 seed, was scheduled to play top-seeded Cindy Trower of LSU in Saturday's finals, but bad weather forced the match to be rescheduled at a later date.

"We don't know when we'll be playing it or even if we'll need only to win the one more game to reach the regionals," said graduate assistant coach Pam Carey. If no more games are played, however, NSU could finish "The tournament officials are supposed to call us no better than third place because both LSU and McNeese sometime Monday to let us know if we'll be playing or hold better overall records."

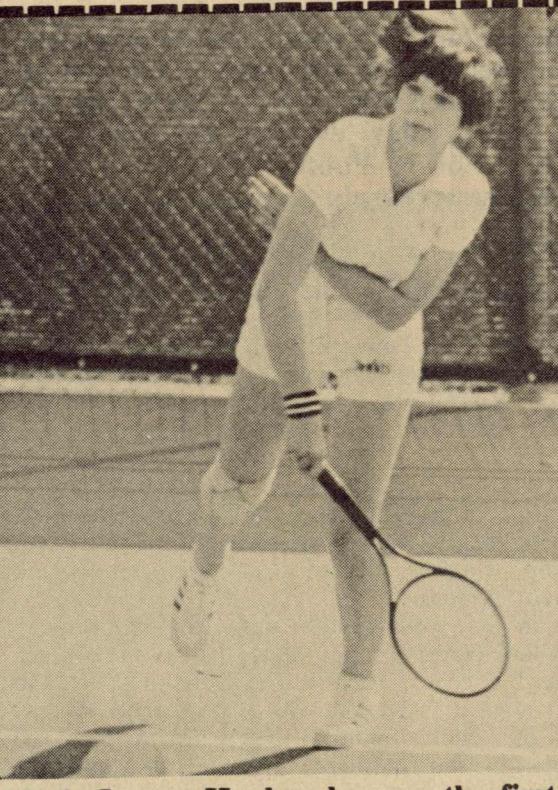

"We've played much better teams out of the state than splitting two games during Friday's play. They fell to McNeese has played are in the state, and LSU hasn't but rallied back to take a 3-1 win over the university of New Orleans in a consolation battle.

LSU, which had defeated UNO 6-1 in the first round, Binning, in the win over UNO while scoring all three of McNeese were locked in a 3-3 tie when darkness forced their runs in the third inning when Michelle Hoggatt, a halt in their contest in the eighth inning Friday before the Katrina Myers and Lynne Martin all scored on errors, rains hit. ## Hot Sauce

June 11, 1979

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

All of us on the Faculty and Staff extend warm greetings to students returning to the Northwestern Campus this summer, and a special welcome to the young men and women who are entering the University for the first time.

We are honored that you have chosen to continue your education with us, and the Administration, Faculty and Staff will strive to provide not only challenging and rewarding academic programs, but also other activities that afford the greatest opportunity for growth and development.

Northwestern is recognized as a pioneer in higher education in Louisiana, and we are proud of our reputation for academic excellence. We are equally proud of our beautiful Campus and our atmosphere of warmth and friendliness.

It is my sincere hope that your experience at Northwestern will be rewarding and enriching, not only for you personally, but for the whole of society.

Please feel free to call upon me if there is any way that I can assist you during your career at Northwestern.

Sincerely,
RENE J. BIENVENU
President

(eds. note--No, Hot Sauce is not going to be a letter from the President every week. Pretty soon, we hope that it will be a conversation with the President--or somebody--who can answer your questions and investigate your complaints. But we're getting ahead of ourselves, so let us explain before we confuse you any more.)

Hot Sauce was a column in the Current Sauce back in the mid-70's that, well, answered student questions and investigated complaints. Students wrote their questions out and turned them in the the Sauce office, where reporters tried to answer them as best they could. More often than not, the process was slowed down because to get answers, the Sauce had to go through several different offices to find the answer. Sometimes it got pretty interesting, when, for example, the band got mad at the sports editor of the paper for not allowing a band member to be the guest selector on the weekly football picking panel, and sometimes it got pretty funny, too.

We want to resurrect Hot Sauce. However, instead of dealing with the paper, which will try to find the answer, we hope to make Hot Sauce a column which the students can use to ask the President about anything--a problem the student is having, a problem the student knows about, or what the President thinks about something.

How is it going to work? Well, for now Hot Sauce will work like this: you write your question, comment, or complaint on a sheet of paper and turn it in to the Sauce in the office (Room 225, Keyser Hall). We'll relay it to Dr. Bienvenu. Why isn't underway already? We haven't had any questions yet.)

McKellar says

"Still an identity crisis"

by Doug Ireland
Sauce Editor

they're forming an opinion of the school. They think that because the school had a losing record in football the whole university is bad...and that's not right. Winning teams generate better public relations and improve student morale, but a great football team--or basketball or track--does not guarantee that the university is a good one."

"It's an easy thing to say and a hard thing to do, but we must rebuild pride in NSU," McKellar said. "This school is a great university, but among the students we still have an identity crisis. We don't show enough pride in what we have."

McKellar acknowledged that when people evaluate a school probably too much emphasis is placed on the more visible aspects of the institution like the athletic program. "In Louisiana, the athletic program seems to be the major consideration of most people while know how to say 'no' to the university, but I think there really is virtually no support from the large majority of the alumni. They leave here and forget about NSU. It's not easy for the average person to be an active alumni supporter but still there is room for improvement."

He called for the recent graduates to begin a tradition of active alumni. "We seniors need to make a commitment to support NSU in later years."

McKellar, who knowledgeable observers called "one of the best SGA presidents in recent years," said he was bittersweet about his year as Northwestern's student leader. "I'm sad, but happy," he laughed. "It got frustrating near the end of the semester when I saw that we wouldn't accomplish everything I'd hoped to, but still I'm satisfied that we did a good job."

The one thing that McKellar wanted to accomplish that he didn't during his term in office was the rewriting of the SGA constitution. "It's too long and bulky and it is not clear in some areas," he said.

The major accomplishment of his administration, said McKellar, was the reorganization of the SGA and the establishment of a cabinet. "People don't notice it now, because they can't see it, but it will probably be the major accomplishment for this year as people look back in later years."

"When I came to school here I had three basic goals," McKellar said. "I wanted to make my grades, be a Kappa Sigma and have fun. I've done all three, but the thing which pleased me most was getting involved in SGA. It was a lot of work but a lot of fun too, he smiled. "But I've never regretted it."

New Inside View for freshmen

A new summer orientation program called Inside View begins this month at Northwestern to offer first-time freshmen an opportunity to become acquainted with university life and to participate in advance registration for the fall semester.

Graduating high school senior$ who have been accepted for admission and have submitted American College Testing scores to Northwestern may choose from three session dates for participation in Inside View.

Each session of Inside View is scheduled for three days. Sessions are set for June 27-29, July 11-13, and July 22-24.

"This new orientation program will combine lectures, individual counseling sessions, campus tours and the personal attention of a Northwestern student as the freshman's host, guide and friend," said Barbara Gillis, coordinator of orientation at NSU.

Mrs. Gillis added, "The most important part of Inside View comes at the end of each session when the first-time freshman will be registered for the fall semester. When the student returns to the campus in August for the fall semester, he will not have to wait in long lines at registration, and he will already be familiar with university facilities. Inside View will put the entering freshman a step ahead of all other new students."

Inside View is designed to allow freshmen not only to select fall classes and pre-register but also to examine educational and vocational interests and goals, to become acquainted with Northwestern's academic programs and extracurricular activities and to become familiar with the physical arrangements on the university's historic campus.

The program for each session will include placement testing, a parents' program, social activities, campus tours, academic information, registration for the fall semester, the purchasing of texts and an introduction to residence hall life.

"Inside View could prove to be a challenging and exciting educational and social experience for the student who is about to enter Northwestern for the first time," said Miss Gillis. "This new program offers the unusual opportunity for the first-time freshman to 'try on' college life before the beginning of the fall semester."

Camps, clinics, workshops scheduled

Eight workshops slated

Eight workshops and short courses offering non-traditional study will be conducted this summer by Northwestern State University under the coordination of NSU's Center for Continuing Education and Public Services.

Topics for the summer programs range from operating a school cafeteria to helping industry better understand metric measurements.

A two-day facility maintenance course for all maintenance, custodial and plant supervisory personnel will be conducted June 28-29 at NSU Prather Coliseum. Energy conservation and cost consciousness will be emphasized, and new machinery and techniques will be displayed.

Scheduled June 11-29 is the food service managers training workshop for

Dance Line Camp July 29

The 1979 NSU Dance Line Camp is scheduled for July 29-Aug. 2 on the university campus.

The five-day camp is being directed by Mrs. Vicki Parrish and will be conducted under the sponsorship of Northwestern's Cane River Belles dance line.

NOTEBOOK

Getting it together

Back in February of this year, while I was trying to decide whether or not to apply for the Sauce editorship, I asked for (and received) a lot of advice. One of those whom I consulted, a former Current Sauce editor himself, told me the job would be a lot of work, that it would take most of my free time, and that it would have its "rewards." Well, two out of three ain't bad, I heard in a song once. It is a whole lot of work and it took most of my free time, but as for those "rewards" he told me about...I wonder.

With a limited staff, and a very limited budget, and just three days to put this issue together, I had my doubts about this job as I arrived here last Tuesday. After a few hours of surveying the situation, considering that everything needed to be finished by Friday afternoon, my doubts soon vanished. Fear set in.

But like my mother told me when I was seven years old and my cat ran away from home, things aren't always as bad as they seem. Slowly it began to fall together, and by Friday morning most of the work was finished. Some things that I had hoped to have ready for this issue aren't—Hot Sauce, for example—but for the most part I am pleased with what we have done. If there is one thing that I don't like about this paper more than anything else, it is the size. Four page papers are not what I had in mind when I took this job...but then again, when I took this job I didn't foresee the financial troubles that we've run into. Somehow, over the past year the paper has lost money, so the situation we face this summer basically gets down to this: if we happen to fall short on advertising revenue, we don't have anything in the bank to tide us over until next time. As a matter of fact, if we overspend, there might not be a next time. This isn't a plea for a fee increase, although if SGA President Terry McCarty parted Chaplain's Lake and the Sauce got an increase I would have to smile. It is just an explanation of why the Current Sauce is currently short.

Now that we've put away our crying towels, let's go on a quick tour of the first of our four summer issues. We have changed the layout of the paper because we think the primary purpose of the Sauce is to serve you--to keep you informed as much as possible on what has and will be happening around NSU. That's the reasoning behind "What's goin' on", which is intended as a calendar for the week—or in this case, the next couple of weeks. Some of you "career students" may recognize the old "Hot Sauce" column, which ran in the paper for several years until about 1976. Back then, a Sauce staff member answered questions and investigated complaints by students. Now, if things work out right, you'll be able to go straight to the top. We hope to set up a sort of telephone "hot line" to Dr. Bienvenu's office which students can use to ask questions about almost anything concerning NSU.

We'll cross our fingers and hope that works out as planned in the next issue or two.

Right next door, "SauceSurvey" is intended to become a sort of sample of how you feel concerning certain issues. It will not be a scientific poll, but just a general look at student opinion of, for example, this week's summer school topic. Hopefully we can find out how you feel about the new fieldhouse, the SGA, the freshman orientation program "Inside View", or any other campus issue. "ExtraSauce" is simply letters to the editor (or anybody else on the staff). The same rules apply—all letters must be signed, and should be less than term paper length. If you don't want to stand up and have your name printed with your letter, just say so, but still sign the letter.

Page three this week is a kind of catch-all, which happens with a four-page paper. There are a couple of interesting features and some news, too. The back page, full of sports, has our 1979 nine-game football schedule, among other stuff.

As I said earlier, I'm pleased for the most part with this week's paper, but I sure hope that it gets a lot better before the end of the summer session. But as I look this issue over, I think I'm beginning to understand what my friend the ex-editor meant by this job having its rewards. I can sit back and look at this and know we worked as hard as possible to make it enjoyable and informative for you. It's also nice to know we've got another chance to get it right on June 24. But if you like something in this issue, or find it interesting or useful (even for peeling crawfish on), well, that's our reward.

Oh, yeah, speaking of rewards...back to when I was seven years old. That old cat came back a week or so later, and she brought five little kittens with her. I was one happy kid, I'll tell you.

Camping on Campus

To some of us, they're an annoyance. To most of us, they are a curiosity--after all, some of them don't look old enough to be in junior high school. Who they are, of course, is the small army that has set up camp...or workshop...or clinic on our campus. Most of them are high schoolers, and we've got to expect that more than a few of them will act like they're on some kind of thrilling, exciting, or at least interesting trip for a little while.

Why? Because they are. For most of the campers on the campus in the next few weeks, it will be the experience they've looked forward to for months, or even years—a chance to get away from home, be with hundreds of kids their age, and to see how they would fare at college, with the college girls (or guys). It's a big thing to them, a very exciting experience that will be remembered for a long time.

There's no way to begin to guess what they expect to find, but if the new NSU is the same old NSU they should find friendly people, willing to answer a seemingly silly question like "Where's the cafeteria?" They should find tolerant people, who remember that they are high schoolers when they pull some stupid stunt. They should find a beautiful campus, filled with nice people.

These high school "kids" are here to enjoy themselves. They came not only to learn how to do a cheer, or how to march, or how to lead, but to learn what Northwestern is really like. Let's send them home happy, and increase NSU's reputation as "the friendliest university around."

Why are we here?

Why would anyone WANT to come to summer school? Some people consider it worse than eating spinach or liver; worse than poison ivy; worse than a visit to the dentist.

In place of summer school, the youth of America could be filling their summers with various activities more fun than pushing books five days a week. They could swim, water ski, camp, hike, or a number of other activities enjoyed by vacationers across America. Instead they choose to attend Wigley, come to gain school and lock themselves sophomore status for the into daily classes and fall.

Usually, for those who do come, there are very sound reasons for making the big sacrifice:

Colleen Claire Cook, a junior from Kenner, has chosen to attend summer school "to gain senior status for the fall semester."

Walter Snider, a senior from East Texas, is taking courses "so I can graduate Christmas."

A freshman from Natchitoches, Cindy they attend summer school to "get my Master's in Ho graduate." Ee this August."

Jan Daiy, a senior from Natchitoches, Barbara Nugent, came to school this summer in order to pick up hours in her graduate work.

Cathy Lemoine, a Many freshman, came "to get ahead of everyone else and look at the guys."

Pollie Sepulvado, a freshman from Ebarb, attended to "not break the continuity and to watch the guys."

Carolyn Pentecost, from Many, came "to finish school as soon as possible."

Dianne White, from Alexandria, has chosen to question, "Why did come to summer school?"

We're glad we're not...

Who is the heck is stupid enough to go to summer school? Not everyone, as SauceSurvey found out this past week while on the pursuit of the answer to this week's question "Why are you in summer school?"

While over 1,000 NSU students will spend either part or all of their summer in school, 6,000 others are out and enjoying themselves. Most of those who talked to SauceSurvey said they were tired of school and needed to rest...all of those said they needed money.

David Stamey, of Natchitoches, who is holding down two jobs this summer, said he wasn't in school because "I was too tired, and I needed money. So now I'm working so hard that I hope I'm around to spend my money when I get it."

Jase Brock from Baton Rouge, said, "Me in summer school? Never...I'm not that gung-ho. Summer is for skiing and partying and making money, not studying."

"Summer is suppose to be a vacation," Sheila Thompson of Jonesboro smiled, "and isn't it supposed to be summer?"

"Summer school is for the birds!" exclaimed Mike Gallien of Dry Creek. "The only way I would want to go to summer school is if I couldn't find a job...boy, I hope I find a job."

"I would hate myself if I went to summer school," predicted Paul Dufrene of New Orleans. "It would be a big waste of time and money and it's too hot on the fourth floor of Arts and Sciences. Besides, I graduated this spring."

Mary Beth Walls, who lives in Hessmer, said she planned to travel this summer. "I'm going to Rome, Paris, London and Hawaii. Of course, I won't get any farther than Cottonport. Really, I just want to stay at home and be with the family." "As soon as it hits 90 degrees, they'll shut off the air conditioning in the dorm, or it will break down," predicted Paul Dufrene of New Orleans. "I don't know why anyone would want to go...I know I wouldn't. Besides, I graduated from high school in May. It's not the me though...I'm not man enough to buy a pair of tennis shoes yet. It's just principle of the thing."

While those of us enrolled in summer school seem to have mixed feelings about it, all of those SauceSurvey talked who weren't in school.

"Summer school wouldn't be that bad," claimed Don Hudson, a Shreveport resident. "But I am glad that they weren't need to spend some time home and I surely need make some money spend."

Andy Perot of Natchitoches had no plans for summer school. "I don't know why anyone would want to go...I know I wouldn't. Besides, I graduated from high school in May. It's not the me though...I'm not man enough to buy a pair of tennis shoes yet. It's just principle of the thing."

While those of us enrolled in summer school seem to have mixed feelings about it, all of those SauceSurvey talked who weren't in school.

ExtraSauce

Dear Editor:

How are incoming freshmen made acquainted with life on the campus, before enrollment, and thus eased into college life smoothly upon their actual enrollment?

This question, which has perplexed minds on many campuses for years, has led to a new program here at NSU, the Insiders Program. Designed to allow prospective freshmen to look at Northwestern life by actual experience (the participating student actually lives on campus for a few days, meets the faculty and students and joins in certain orientation activities during their stay), this program has the goal of creating an interest in college life which will remain with these new students over their entire college career.

Noble as the plan is, as I see it, it has one major shortcoming—it is cheating the freshmen who are unable to participate in the program. One of the points of the Insiders Program is to allow these select students to register during the time they are visiting, with only the actual payment of fees remaining upon their arrival, in the fall.

But what about the freshman who is unable to come up here for one of these sessions? Some are working this summer for funds to come in the fall, some are too far to travel for a few days, some are already enrolled as a beginning freshman this summer...whatever the reason, are these students to be registered with less favor in the registration process because of their non-participation in the Insiders Program?

Registration is probably the single most important event in the semester—and it is really frustrating (as all of us who have experienced it know) to find out we cannot have the schedule we want because the class is closed. I imagine how it is going to be when perhaps as many as two-thirds of the prime time freshmen English and math classmates are already taken—and it isn't even August yet! What is it going to be like then, August 23, when six, eight, or ten of those chairs turn up vacant because the early registrations failed to show up and claim their places?

Perhaps the reason no one has made any comments about this injustice is because it is mainly a freshman problem. I doubt if many of those students are going to sign up for my Journalism 401 class this fall. We upperclassmen can turn our backs from the problem. It is the underclassmen, the freshmen, who are being hurt by this. And it is they, as fate would have it go, who are not here to even utter a feeble cry in protest to this.

And so the early registration process goes as scheduled. I'm sorry, frosh, wherever you may be. But don't despair, maybe things can be changed next year.

Sincerely,

Colleen Claire Cook

(eds. note—The new summer orientation program—called Inside View—not "The Insiders Program"—will certainly have its problems, like any new, innovative program. We tried to talk with Barbara Gillis, NSU's coordinator of orientation on Friday but she was out of town.

Dr. Richard Galloway Dean of the University College, acknowledged that incoming freshmen who did not participate in Inside View would have to register with the rest of the students in August. "It would certainly be to the student's advantage to participate in the new program," Dr. Galloway said, "we know that not everyone will be able to, but we hope that they will try to make the little extra effort to attend one of the sessions since it would be a tremendous head start for them. See the story on Inside View on page one.

Equine science is great asset

By Jim R. Johnson
Special to the Sauce

Northwestern's equine science program provides invaluable training for young people with aspirations of working professionally in one of the many horse-related occupational fields.

Recognized nationally for its comprehensive educational coverage of the different aspects of America's horse industry, the equine science program at NSU has proven to be a great asset to its many graduates.

The unique program has even opened new areas of interest for some students like Joan "Doll" Harrington of Shreveport.

Miss Harrington received a bachelor's degree in general studies with emphasis in equine science from NSU in December of 1978, and immediately following graduation she reported to Bridgewater, Conn., to begin her employment as stud manager for Nichols DeLongpre Arabians.

"I had never considered going into management until I had taken the breeding management course last summer (1978)", said Miss Harrington, who has some 250 Arabian horses under her care. "That one course at NSU opened a whole new field for me."

"The program at Northwestern is a great asset, especially to people like me," she said. "Without that program, I certainly wouldn't be up here. I would probably be somewhere doing something that I wouldn't be very happy doing. I'm happier than I've ever been because of this new job, which the program at Northwestern made possible for me."

As Nichols-DeLongpre's stud manager, Miss Harrington has many responsibilities including the medication, teasing, breeding, foaling out of mares and halter-breaking of all foals.

Miss Harrington said she recommends Northwestern's equine science program to young people "who have aspirations in the training and management fields or would rather be involved in a paperwork program for a major farm or for the national registry."

Miss Harrington is one of several Northwestern graduates who have gained employment in the horse industry. Two recent graduates are now serving as instructors in the equine programs such as the one at Nichols State University in Thibodaux. Among other graduates are two students who have recently been employed in management and training positions for Arabian horse farms in Texas and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Cecile K. Hetzel, director of the Northwestern equine science program, said she receives communications each week with major farms across the country wanting NSU graduates to fill key positions on their staffs.

"Many excellent job opportunities are being opened each week by large farms to take care of our students," said Mrs. Hetzel, who is a licensed American Horse Show Association judge in five divisions and an AHSA award. "These large farms want our students because they have a well-rounded education in almost every aspect of the horse industry."

The director of Northwestern's equine science program is not only known nationally but internationally as well. Besides being a judge and steward for the AHSA, she serves on the board of directors of the Louisiana Arabian Horse Show Association and the Arabian Horse Club of Texas. Mrs. Hetzel also was a recent member of the judges seminar panel for the International Arabian Horse Association.

Northwestern began planning and researching for the development of its equine science program in 1975, and in 1976 six students enrolled in the program's first class. For the fall semester of 1979, at least 29 equine science majors are expected to be among the more than 70 students enrolling in horse-related courses at Northwestern.

The nucleus of the equine science program at Northwestern is the university's horse population, which now consists of some 30 Arabians donated to the NSU foundation by the Arabian breeders and owners from all over the United States. These Arabian horses are utilized by Northwestern in its breeding, training and horsemanship program.

Mrs. Hetzel said, "If it were not for the cooperation we have received from the Arabian owners and breeders, the equine science program at Northwestern would probably still be in the basement. So many people from all over the United States have helped us, and the care they have shown for this program is one of the reasons that, in less than four years, we have gained a favorable reputation that is nationwide."

As an added feature of the equine science program, the university provides modern stable facilities for the boarding of student-owned horses. To supplement the existing facilities a farm center featuring a large indoor riding arena, stalls and offices will be constructed at Northwestern in the very near future.

Heintz in program

COVINGTON

COVINGTON--A former Northwestern student has been selected as one of 30 persons in the Physical Therapy curriculum at the LSU Medical Center in New Orleans.

Susan M. Heintz, who currently works as assistant physical therapist at Covington's Highland Park Hospital, received the honor in late May. She attended NSU in 1976 and 1977 on an academic scholarship after graduating from St. Scholastica Academy in Covington.

In August 1976, Susan began her college career at Northwestern, where she became very busy. During her time there she was a member of the Sigma Sigma Sorority of which she was secretary of the Pledge Class of '76. For Susan, this brought on more fraternity involvement and was selected as a Rose for the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity. She worked as a Resident Assistant for two years at which time she continued to work on a minor in psychology, become a very active member of the Northwestern Association of Resident Assistants (NARA) and was sent from NSU as a representative to the National Conference of Resident Assistants and Counselors in Macomb, Ill.

Susan also worked as a Student Instructor in canoeing, water skiing, sailing and swimming, and taught some of these activities on both college and special education level.

Susan's interest in physical therapy grew over the years with her first experience in a Physical Therapy department during her Christmas break in 1976. It was from this date forward Susan strove to make the grades and gain the experience necessary to be accepted to Physical Therapy School. She gained knowledge of Physical Therapy by working with therapists in the Covington area in Hospitals, Nursing homes and with home health. Susan gained more valuable experience in sports medicine as Athletic Trainer for Northwestern's Varsity teams.

NSU's Acuna earns highest honor

Just making the field and having the opportunity to compete in the NCAA National Tennis Championships would be honor enough for most players.

However, Northwestern Ricardo Acuna did much more than that recently when he became the school's first-ever major-college first-team All-American selection after his performance in the meet held at the University of Georgia in Athens.

Acuna, a senior from Santiago, Chile, won two matches in the tournament against some of the nation's top players before losing out in the round of 16. He was seeded 14th in the event out of the country's 128 top collegiate players.

According to the guidelines for All-American selection, a player can make the All-American team by being seeded among the top 16 players in the event or may earn All-American honors by making it to the round of 16 in the NCAA Championships.

"That means he made All-American two different ways," said NSU tennis coach Johnnie Emmons, who accompanied Acuna to the NCAA meet. "After the way he's played this year, he richly deserves this All-American honor."

Acuna, who was ranked 13th in the nation among all collegiate singles players entering the meet, downed Paul Batten of San Jose State 6-3, 6-4 last Friday in the first round of the event, but ran into trouble in the second round when he had to fight to take a 3-6, 6-3, 7-6 win over Tim Mayotte of Stanford.

In that match, Acuna had to break serve in the final set and then hold his own serve to force the tiebreaker, and he then trailed 4-2 in the nine-point tiebreaker before winning the final three points and the match.

However, that match might have taken too much out of Acuna as he fell to national Division II singles champion Armand Fernando of Southern Illinois 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 in the round of 16.

Texas' Kevin Curren captured the NCAA singles crown, downing Erick Iskersky of Trinity in straight sets in the finals. Acuna had earlier this season lost to Iskersky in a close four-set final in the ITCA National Indoor Championships in Houston.

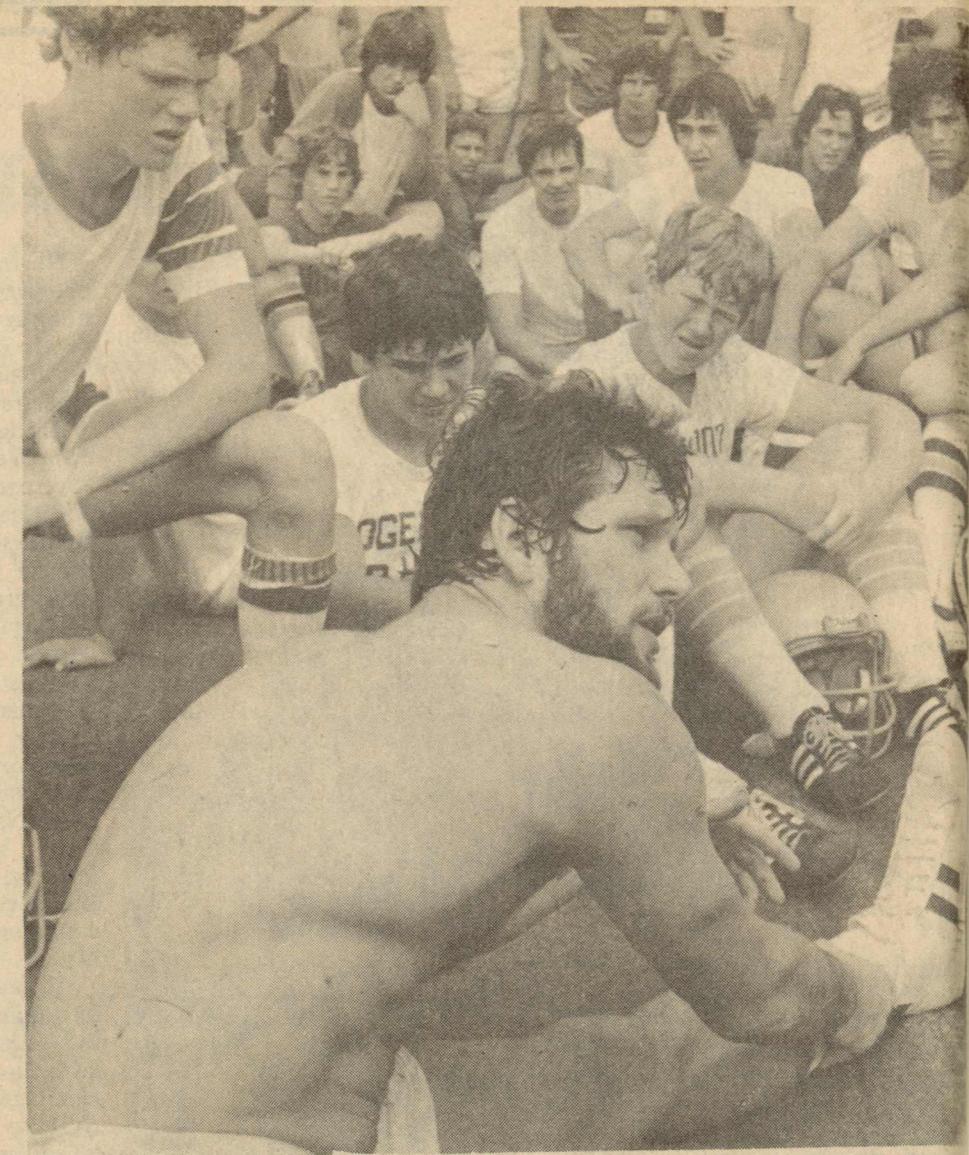

Acuna, Northwestern's first-ever entrant in the NCAA Division I national Championships, went into the meet as the highest-seeded player in the event who did not come off one of the teams involved in the chase for the team championship held earlier in the week.

"Ricardo didn't quite play as well as he's capable in the tournament," Emmons said. "You've got to remember that these are the best college tennis players in the nation, and there isn't much difference in ability once you get on this level. If he had been right at the top of his game, he might have gone further, but he's done a lot more than he or I had hoped."

Acuna built up a total of 164 rating points this season in the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association Poll sponsored by Michelob Light, mostly due to his 22-3 overall record and to his success in major tournaments such as the ITCA Indoor meet, the Big Gold Tournament in Hattiesburg, Miss., where he captured the No. 1 singles crown, and the Michelob Light All-American Classic at the Lakeway World of Tennis in Austin, Tex., where he won the consolation singles crown.

NSU has had one other tennis All-American in Gregg Manning of Richardson, Tex., who received All-American honors from the NAIA in 1975 after reaching the quarterfinals of the NAIA National Outdoor Championships.

Three home games for gridders

One new opponent, Central Michigan University, and the renewal of rivalries with eight other foes highlights a nine-game schedule for Northwestern State University's 1979 football season.

The schedule was announced this week by NSU head football coach and athletic director A. L. Williams after approval by the NSU Athletic Council and contains three home games to be played in Harry "Rags" Turpin Stadium on the campus. Those home dates begin on Sept. 15 when the Demons play host to Stephen F. Austin's Lumberjacks in their season opener and in the renewal of the "Battle for Chief Caddo".

Other home dates are Sept. 29 against Northeast Louisiana in the Demons' annual Homecoming celebration, and on Nov. 17 against Central Michigan of Mount Pleasant, Mich., which will be meeting Northwestern for the first time ever in athletic competition.

In addition to those home dates, Northwestern is the designated home team this year for the annual State Fair Classic against Louisiana Tech in Shreveport's 52,000-seat State Fair Stadium.

"We are, of course, not happy with the shortage of home games," Williams said, "but practically all of our games are within easy driving distance this season and we are hoping our fans will follow us as often as possible. We feel that we are playing some very strong teams both at home and on the road."

The Demons hit the road for the first time on Sept. 22 when they journey to face Texas-Arlington.

"Practically every team on our schedule is supposed to be improved this season," Williams said,

Other road dates are Oct. 13 against Southeastern La. in Hammond, Oct. 27 against Nicholls State in Thibodaux, Nov. 3 against McNeese State in Lake Charles and Nov. 10 against Lamar University in Beaumont, Tex. All nine games have a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

"Practically every team on our schedule is supposed to be improved this season," Williams said,

"and with all the players we lost to graduation it will be tough for us to improve on last season. We feel we'll be strong in some areas, though, and if we get some good breaks and keep everybody healthy we should have a good season."

The Demons, coming off a 5-6 season, in 1978, lost 17 four-year lettermen and 12 four-year starters off last year's squad and have only four starters back off last season's offensive unit and six on the defensive side.

However, Williams, who is entering his fifth season as head coach, has a strong suit in the offensive backfield where three starters return including one of the South's top running backs in junior Joe Delaney. Delaney rushed for 945 yards and nine touchdowns last season.

Pineville aces sign with NSU

Northwestern State University has begun its baseball recruiting in grand style with the signing of a pair of outstanding pitchers from state Class AAA runnerup Pineville High School, according to head baseball coach Herbie Smith.

Smith said that Jay Lavespere and Trey McCollum, the duo that led the Rebels of coach Ronnie Kaiser to the District 3-AAA title and all the way to the state finals, have become the first two signees for the Demons during the 1979 season.

"We are thrilled that Jay and Trey will be with us," Smith said. "I feel that both have the potential to become outstanding collegiate pitchers, and both are truly quality individuals. Both should help us immediately."

Pineville compiled an 18-2 record during the season and a 9-1 league record, losing only to Menard in a league game and to Eunice in the state finals by a 4-3 score on four unearned runs. Both Lavespere and McCollum compiled 8-1 records during the season.

Lavespere, a four-year starter and letterman, was recently named the "Outstanding Player" in the state on the Class AAA All-State unit after his performances, which also included a .500 batting average, 23 runs batted in, three triples and five doubles during the year.

McCollum, who missed by one vote also being named to the Class AAA All-State unit for the second time, also saw action in 57 innings and had an outstanding 0.98 earned run average during the year.

"Both of them would be an asset to any college program," said Kaiser. "Both can pitch well enough to be outstanding in college and both can also hit the ball well."

John Barrier's collegiate track and field career didn't end on quite as happy a note as he would have hoped, but one disappointing outing can't come close to overshadowing the many accomplishments of the senior standout produced during the 1979 season.

Barrier, a senior from Hull, Texas, became the first NSU athlete to compete in the NCAA Division I National Outdoor Championships since the Demons stepped into the major college ranks when he took part in both the pole vault and the grueling decathlon competition.

The 6-foot-1, 170-pounder finished 11th in the field in the ten-event decathlon with a total of 7,233 points, almost 250 points off his career best set just two weeks ago, and he missed out on the opening height of 16-1 in the pole vault during the qualifying round.

"John was physically and emotionally drained," said NSU track and field coach Jerry Dyes.

"He had competed so hard just a week ago to qualify for the NCAA decathlon that he didn't have much left for the ten events this week. After the decathlon, he was just too tired to do anything in the vault."

Barrier turned in a 7,469-point performance in the decathlon in the Track and Field Association National Championships in Wichita, Kan., two weeks ago, which was good enough for a third place finish and qualified him to take part in the NCAA meet. That mark also set a new NSU school record for the exhausting event.

"The decathlon is the utmost test of an athlete," Dyes said. "It takes every bit of strength and stamina a person can muster, and it's almost impossible to come up with good efforts back-to-back like that."

Barrier, who was forced to sit out during the 1978 season because of a hand injury suffered in a freak accident when he was working on an automobile, had earlier this season set a new school record in the pole part in the TFA meet.
